Serious Fire.

A few minutes after midnight on last

Thusrday night fire was discovered issuing from the locomotive shed at Chatham Station nearest the station building. The efforts of those present were not equal to the work of extinguishing the flames and they were, therefore, employed in saring as much as possible of the property in the buildings. The engine that stood in the burning building had some steam on and was run out and saved. Cars standing on the track between the burning building and the station offices were a little scorched and the paint spoiled on one side of first-class passenger car. These were. however, removed as soon as possible and saved. Meantime, the fire spread to the TENDERS for a new schoolhouse of brick | blacksmith shop and two other locomotive sheds and the greatest loss, perhaps, was had, only the day before, been on a trial run, after extensive and thorough repairs, was standing, and could not be moved. When the building had burned from around and over this valuable item of property, it stood defiantly up, but very much damaged. The woodwork of the tender and its top were destroyed, and everything about the engine that could be consumed by ordinary heat was gone, leaving only the iron and some parts of the brasswork, Even the bell had begun to melt. In the locomotive sheds there were some good tools, including a vertical drill, destroyed, while the Mechanical Superintendent, Mr. Alcorn, lost his entire outfit of tools, which were of considerable value. Mr. Robert Mather also lost his kit of car-alarm was given in town promptly and Me Moreis with his double team soon had the steam fire engine at the station, but, of course, not in time to save the buildings mentioned, for they burned quickly. Engineer Dick placed the steamer at the tank-well and two streams were put on-one to assist in saving the large storage barn, a short distance POTATOES .- The first up train this from the blacks mith shop, and the other to keep down the heat, which for a time some two or three car loads of potatoes, threatened the station building. This is held out finely with two streams, until said to be the first time potato puyers only one was needed, and this was kept going as long as the firemen require l it. It was the Carrquet Railroad that opened | By 4.30 all danger was over. One of the principal losses was in dry pine lumber, which was in different piles in rear of the locomotive sheds. Fifty thousand feet of this was totally destroyed. It was uninsured. The engine, locomotive sheds and blacksmith shops were fairly coverel by insurance, the risks being in the Greenwich Fire Insurance Co. of New York and the Sun Fire Insurance Co. of London,

> We understand that a new roundhouse of brick will take the place of the locomotive sheds destroyed.

braced within the coal mines of Queens and Sunbury is 40 miles in length with a breadth of 15 miles. It seems to be pretty well settled that over the greater part of this district the surface vein of coal extends and, if this is so, the quan-' tity of coal contained in it cannot be far short of 500,000,000 tons. The total output of coal in Canada is less than 1,500,000 tons a year, so that the surface vein contains more than enough 'coal to supply the requirements of Cana 'da, at the present rate of consumption, for over 300 years. Whether any deep, er veins exist is not known. In a memorandum made by Dr Gesner some years 'ago he speaks of bituminous shale and coal "eight feet thick at a depth of 250 feet," but he omits to mention the locality where it was found. Without further particularizing or attempting to give ac-'curate data, where much must be left to conjecture, it is safe to assume it as 'satisfactorily established that these coal mines contain a supply of coal practically 'inexhaustible. The quality is good. It is quite equal to other varieties in common use as a steam coal. For black. 'smiths' use it is said to be particularly good, and for coking no coal is superior to it. The coking of bituminous coal is 'now an important industry in various parts of the United States. [Our correspondent verities statements already made by the Advance respecting the startling increase of Canada's net debt, which has risen from $196,407,692 on 30th June 1885 to $223,159,107 on the same date last year -- an increase of 26,751,417 -that is, more than five dollars per head, or $25 for each and every family in the Dominion. A Costly Measure. A return brought down in the House of Commons shows that the total sum of $352. 378 was, last year, paid for expenses connected with the new franchise law. Indeed it is doubtful if any of the revising barristers have been fully paid for their services, and there are many persons who estimate that the whole bill will foot up to between $400,000 and $500,000. As matter af interest we subjoin a statement of the expense in each division in New Brunswick. As compared with Westmorland, St. John county appears to bave been very cheaply handled:
