Scott Act Cases.

A case was tried on Monday last after several adjournments, against Mrs. Hays of Nelson, for selling liquor contrary to the Scott Act. A witness testified to giving another the money and saw him go in, get liquor, the motions made as if he was paying for it and then come out with the bottle full of gin. very amicably with the Advocate and its friends, but it seems we were mistaken, as it is out in full war paint again this week, saying unkind things about the editor of the ADVANCE, simply because we endeavored to emphasise public sentiment in Newcastle on the subject of its street lights. It has been a matter of common report, that because the proprietor of the gas works was "out of joint" with the Liberal Conservative Club of the Shiretown, the managers of that organization had succeeded in inflnencing the police committee-the majority of whom were also amongst such managers-to cancel the arrangement for lighting the streets and, thus, leave the town in darkness. When we first heard of this condition o things, we could not credit it, but the evidence in support accumulated until it was confirmed by the Advocate itself, which, in its issue of last week, contained two paragraphs stating that the clergymen of the town were getting up a peti verdict for plaintiff $93-C. J. Sayre for tion praying the Police Committee to re. store the street lights, on the ground that the darkness caused profanity to be indulged in by citizens-and that a counter petition was to be got up by the Liberal Conservative Club. - Now, we knew that the editor of the Advocate, although he is president of the Liberal Conservative Club, is also-like other editors-a good man at heart, and we concluded that his piety had overcome his politics and he had decided that the profanity business settled the matter as between his mora and political duties-his decision rightly being on the moral side of the question It may be that he didn't write the para graphs concerning the two alleged petitions. but, after a struggle with himself-know ing all about the Conservative Club's attitude in respect of the street lights-he decided to allow his paper to be the medium through which the club and pub lic should learn that the "political spite," of which we have all heard, had been carried too far. Believing from the evidence of the Advocate that the rumor referred to was, after all correct, and that even the president of the Club had been convinced of the error and wrong committed by those under his political direction, we took occasion last week to assist him on the road to reform, and in doing so referred in our usual mild and truthful manner to the circumstances under which week. It says --"If there is any meaner or more contemptible business than that of bearing false witness against your neighbors then no doubt the editor of the Advance will soon discover it and put it into practice, but without making that discovery he "takes the cake" as the most unscrupulous perverter of the truth known in the profession, and the paragraph above is bristling with falsehood, inuendoes and the petty spite he cannot conceal when he writes anything about political opponents.'

That's pretty hard, when what we said was based on the Advocate's paragraphs referred to, as a confirmation of current rumors, and we thought the club president's paper ought to be competent authority on the organization's doings. But the Advocate now says that the paragraphs in question were written by a correspondent in a jocular vein and had "had no foundation in fact." Hereafter the Advocate ought to take the precaution of adding a foot note to such paragraphs, saying "the above is a joke," or something to that effect, so that the innocent she had needs showed that God was and unfortunate editor of the Advance may know when his confrere of the shire town is in a funny mood, for we don't the D. C. S. found, last year that the like to think the Advocate is serious when it if only joking and then be called hard names, because of our simplicity. But there seems to be a suggestion of more "joking" in the Advocate's explanations, for other "rumors" that were affoat a while ago are now, seemingly, confirmed. It was said, at the time that the street light business was under consideration, a suggestion was made that if the lights alone were discontinued, the fact that the Club "was after" the proprietor of the gas works would be too apparent: | ing the progress made by the Church in and that it would be better to discharge the town policeman, also, and say the whole thing was done for economy's sake, that direction. Some said instead of askit being understood that as soon as the policeman then in office was got rid of and the lights effectually put out, a member of the Club management and Pelice Committee should become policeman. In confirmation of this the Advocate now

"When Mr. Donald Morrison looked he found that fund in debt to the amount of over $500 and as the assessment allowed by law is only $800 in any one year, there would be less than $300 to pay expenses in 1888. It was then decided to do without a policeman for a few months and gas light as well until the debt was paid. A month's notice was given the policeman then engaged and when the month was up he was discharged, A pe tition was then presented to the police committee pointing out that the petitioners considered the necessity of a policeman being appointed and they gave way and appointed another. Consequently, there has been no saving in the police. man's salary, and only some $75 saved in gas, and in consequence the police fund at the end of the year will present almost as bad a showing as it did at the end of last year. Missionary Meeting. A Missionary meeting under the auspices of the Diocesan Church Society We imagined that we were getting along was held in St. Mary's school rcom, on Monday evening last, Rev. Dean Forsyth, Rector of Chatham, presiding. The deputation present included Rev. Canon Brigstocke, of Trinity Church, St. John; Rev. D. V. Gwilym, of Richibucto; and Rev, J. H, S. Sweet, of St. Andrew's, Newcastle. After the hymn, "Come, Holy Ghost, our souls inspire" was sung, prayer was offered by the Chairman. In stating the object of the meeting, which was to hear a presentation of the claims of the D. C. S. for aid in its work, the Chairman emphasised the fact that Chatham, which is one of the self-support ing parishes of the Diocese, had, in the last year, doubled its contributions of the previous one, to the Society. The first speaker of the evening, Rev Mr. Gwilym, was then introduced, and delivered an eloquent and instructive address on the historical claims of the Church of England. He argued from historical data, that it was the British Church that had made England what it is to-day -- foremost amongst the nations of the world. He traced British history in its relationship to Christianity, from the time of Claudius Cæsar to the Reformation, she ag that the British Church was founded by the direct authority of St. Paul, and maintained itself in its three-fold order of the ministry until the time of St. Augustine whose mission wa only to one kingdom of the Heptarchyhat of Kent-the other six kingdoms having been converted by Celtic mission. aries independent of and antecedent to the efforts of the Italian Church. It was not until 1066-at the time of the Norman conquest-that the British Church recognised the authority of the Pope, nor was it aught but the desire of the people for a return to the ancient and scriptural usages sanctioned by the Church's founders in Britain, that led to the Reformation. Mr. Gwilym closed his interesting address by an eloquent statement of the church's distinctive doctrines and claims upon the

After the hymn, "Speed, Oh Speed, Thou mighty Word" was sung, Rev. J. H. Church of England in this Province, showing, amongst other things, that, at the time New Brunswick was made a separate diocese-in 1845 -under Bishop Medley, there were only 28 clergymen in it and 12 missions were vacant. In 1847, there were only 22 missions, while in 1887, there were 69 missions or parishes, of the summer's darkness would not, in the increase being at the rate of a mission a year, in the 40 years. The clergy had increased in the same period from 28 to 70. There are 147 churches now in the Diocese and more are needed. In the old days the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel almost entirely supported the clergy; now, a majority of the parishes pay all their own expenses. In 1869 the S. P. G. gave $13,976 to the churches of the Discese; now it gives only $6 009. In 1846 the Parish of Chatham was able to give only $100 towards the work of the church in the Diocese, although its clergy. man's salary was paid by the S. P. G. But, now, it not only pays its own parochial expenses, but also contributes to the D. C. S. for its mission work. This year out of $29,656 devoted to the work of the D. C. S. $22,984 were contributed by the members of the Church in the Diocese, while last year out of $26,214 so devoted, only $17,828 came from the This showed the increasing interest felt by the people of the Church in her home work. The increase in persons confirmed and also in the number of communicants added to the Church was encouraging. In 1877 there were 477 confirmations and 3,600 communicants. Ir 1887 there were 680 confirmations and 6.308 communicants-besides the communicants in twelve parishes from which no returns were yet received. It was the acrease of the Church's work that led to the people of the Church being asked to contribute more largely and generally to the funds of the D. C. S. Rev. Canon Brigstocke was the next speaker. He said he was present to tell of the Church's needs. The fact that providing her with work and that was an appeal to her people to provide means to support her undertakings. The officers of Millinery! needs were the more increased, because while there were new fields of missionary work opened the grant heretofore received from the S. P. G. was being gradually lessened. This led to the necessity of assessing the parishes of the Diocese to a greater extent. The officers of the society found that the only effective way of getting the people of the church to respond to their calls, was to go amongst them and place the requirements of the Diocese before them-to enlist their hearts in the work-and when their sympathies were secured their money was readily contributed. Notwithstand the province since 1845-a progress for which we thanked God-he did not think as much as was possible had been done in ing for increased contributions, the Society's endowments, amounting to $126,000 might be drawn upon, but these are already applied and are, therefore, not available for the current expenses of the Diocese. The S. P. G. grant is really more than we should expect to receive, in view of the ability of our own people to help themselves, and the claims of Africa and other missionary fields for aid. Those into the accounts of the Police Committee | who were the principal contributors to the funds of that Society were less able, on the average, to help Canadians than the latter were to help themselves and, that being so, the church in New Brnnswick should not longer require outside aid. To fill all the missions of the Diocese required $10,000 of voluntary subscriptions. If the 40,000, or more, members of the church in the province gave an average of 25 cents each, it would furnish over $10,000. which would be more than was now contributed by them, while $1.50 each from the Church's 5,000 communicants would be ample. The people of the Church should better understand their privileges and learn to consecrate more of their increase to God's work. More cooperation on the part of the laity was required. Every member of the church should feel their responsibility and recognise that its work depended on the united efforts of all on the laity as well as the Bishops and clergy. Generals and other officers need. the army of men behind them and their work could not be carried on without their co-operation. So it was in the great work of the church, Unless the Bishops and The Advocate doesn't say that the clergy were helped and until they got the > heir best efforts must fail. A matter of importance requiring the earnest consideration of Church people was the position of their incapacitated clergymen. Men who had done their full allotment of work in the ministry of the Church of the Diocese, were obliged to remain in charge of churches when their age and growing infirmities, as well as that they should retire. The government gave pensions to its aged servants and the hurch should do no less. The Dioces in gether inadequate and it should be considerably augmented, Another need of the Church arose out of the fact that this was a maritime diocese. Its prosperity depended largely on its Nov. 5th, 1888 shipping business, and a mission for seamen ought to be established. There are sometimes 600 sailers in port at St. John and, no doubt, large numbers at Chatham and other ports. Our obligations to this class of men ought to be recognised by a Diocesan effort. A mission might easily be maintained in St. John, but the work should be a general one in the interest of the church. He had thus briefly referred to some of the needs of the Diocese and would close, as it was growing late. He was glad to see the children present. When Joshua went up against Jericho, it was not only the men of the army who took the city, but also the priests, women and children, so the whole host of the church should combine to promote her work, The wisdom, courage, hope, faith, love and prayer of all should be engaged in the carrying on the work and then the church would go forward, fair as the moon, bright as the sun and terrible as an army with
