Снатнам, 26th June, 1888. Editor of the Advance-DEAR SIR: - Can you inform me through our valuable paper it there is any reason why the mail matter in the Chatham Post Office is not delivered in proper time Last Wednesday I sest a postal card from Montreal to my friends in Chatham which was not delivered until to-day, although it was sent for daily. The Montreal postmark of the 20th is quite plain but there is no Chatham postmark. However, I have no doubt that it was in the office when called for on Friday, as I left Montreal on Thursday night and arrived here in due time, and I do not suppose that the mail did not arrive till to-day I would suggest that a subscription be started to provide spectacles for the employees ef the Post-office to enable them to see letters and read the addresses. A Disturbance. On Monday evening considerabl excitement was caused by a fractious hors becoming frightened by the beating of the Salvation Army drum. The army had just left their barracks to parade and were marching towards the Square. buggy was coming down the hill contain ing Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morrison. The horse was turned towards the marching army but the horse becoming frightened at the noisy beating of the drum bolted, and running against the lamp post at th Waverly corner wrecked the buggy badly, Mrs. Morrison being thrown out and Mr Morrison becoming entangled in the rein was dragged about by the struggling horse. The army turned round the corner and up the hill, the drum and tambourines beating as lively a fusilade as possible and seeming to rejoice at the destruction and danger they had caused .- A striking exemplication, certainly, of christian sympathy. The army marched on, and came down Street's hill turning the corner at McKeen's towards the Square, Coming along they were met by several persons who requested them to stop beating and the policeman made the request to the lieutenant in command who he thought agreed to do so and he stepped back when a rush was made to capture the drum and for a short time there was quite a tussle but no one was hurt and by the efforts of some of the bystanders the army wa cleared and marched back to the hall.

Mrs. Morrison was bruised and badly shaken up, but received no serious injury The general opinion is that the army should discontinue the beating of the drum when frightened horses are near at hand and not persist in a more vigorou beating as if they would like to see runaway and raise an excitement thereby The beating of the drum is a nuisance at any time and if damage to property and persons is caused thereby it will have to be stopped. - Advocate.

The Tabusintac Fishing Club.

McLeod, lumber merchant all of Saint John, in the City and County of Saint John; Thomas H. McMillan. barrister; David McLellan, lumber merchant; James C. Robertson, manufacturer, all of Portland, and Thomas G. Loggie, draughtsman, of Fredericton, have been incorporated as the "Tabusintac Fishing Club," with a total capital of three thousand dollars, divided into fifteen shares of two hundred dollars each.

This Club has taken possession of the river under its lease from the Provincial Government, and its first work has been to place large stones in all the principal pools for the purpose of preventing poachers from dragging them with nets. It is feared that the excessive netting for trout indulged in on the Bartibog of late years, has injured it very much as a fishing stream, anglers, this year, reporting poorer luck than usual. The Tabusintac, being more difficult of access, has not been netted so persistently and, now that it has become a private river, the through protection it is to receive will, no doubt, preserve it and even restore it to its former position as the best of our North Shore trout streams. When the next pool be low Eskedell oc and that at Pollard's land ing have the obstructing stones placed in them, which will be done this week, it will be impossible to sweep any of them with nets and when to this is added the fact that a guardian is all the time patrolling the stream, from 1st June until about 1st November, its protection is quite well assured. The club intends to establish its headquarters on the river near the mouth of Eskedelloc, where a permanent camp account of failing health, to ask for rill be built including a house for the anglers, sleeping quarters, cabin for the guardian, horse hovels, ice house, etc. Several members of the club are expected on the river about the latter part of the present week to begin the fishing season. the trout having already put in an appear

His sworn statement was to the effect that Mr. Connell, who is government Supervisor of roads-a position formerly occupied by Mr. Fox-was going from his house to one of his fields one day last week, when seeing Supervisor Connell in the act of letting a contract to restore a culvert on the road where one had been & few years ago, he told him that he must not put a culvert there as it would make trouble if he did. He swore that Connell said that he (Fox) had made trouble for him once before and now he would pay him off; that on his denying this Connell called him a liar and took off his coat and endeavored to strike him, whereupon he (Fox) threw him down and held him until those who were looking on promised to take Connell away, which a young man named Lloyd did. Afterwards, and without any provocation on his part, Connell got away from Lloyd and struck him a blow on the forehead with a large stick which necessitated his having Dr. Benson stitch up the four inch cut inflicted, and which kept him in his bed for two days. Mr. Lawlor, who appeared for Mr. Connell asked Mr. Fox if he remembered striking Mr. Connell with a stick, also striking Mr. Connell's old father with a
