Mr Dickson's defence.

NAPAN, June 2nd, 1888. To the Editor of the Advance. DEAR SIR: Having read a communication in the ADVANCE from Mr. Arch. Forrest, in which he states I insisted on butchering a colt belonging to him, I asnme that he intends to do me all the injury he can, as the ADVANCE has a large number of readers. If the letter was read only by those acquainted with Mr. Forrest I would not take any notice of it. In justice to myself, however, I shall simply state the facts: His brother, John Forrest, asked me in Chatham, if I would come and perform the "simple surgical operation" of the World. I told him it was time enough for a week or two. About a week later he came to Chatham and asked if I was going to at tend to his colt, as he wanted to put him away to pasture and Mr. Macgowan had been there and he let him go away. went out to Mr. Forrest's and told him distinctly if he wanted Macgowan to get him. He replied he wanted me. These are the facts. I have been performing simi ar operations during the last thirteen years and this is the only animal of any kind I have lost, while Mr. Macgowan has lost more than that during less time, and I would not have lost that had my directions been followed. Instead, however, he applied to two yeterinaries, one of whom prescribed water which was liberally applied It might do well enough for a strain but was simply poison in this case. I saw a news item in the World headed, "bled death," which is simply untrue. I suppose Arch. was so near bleeding to death by the performance of a surgical operation a few years since on himself that he thinks every other animal must necessarily go the same way.

Thanking you Mr. Editor for the space I am respectfully. taken. JOHN DICKSON.
