Doaktown Notes.

DOAKTOWN, JAN. 25, 1889. What's the matter with the Doak-No notes from here since the 18 h Dec. last! A whole month elapsed since anything has been heard of him through the press, and lots of interesting events have transpired that should have been in print before this, such as the return of our popular school teachers Miss S. as the writer of 18th Dec. prophesied. Miss E E. Estey counted among the absent ones. Miss Maud Fisher, who formerly taught in the Destrict just vacated by Miss E tey, remained a day in Doaktown visiting her friends on her return to Derby, where she is now Mr. Crocker is now teaching in the District known as the Archibald District. It is said he has upwards of forty scholars. Fortunately for the District. they have secured the services of a teacher who is capable of controlling such a large number in an ungraded school. He's the right man in the right place, for while bis disposition is to lead, yet he has backbone and determination enough to drive where leading Ano her Doaktown correspo ing under date of 22nd sends the following: Roads and fields have been very icy. Everybody has been skating and sleighdriving that could get out. Operations in the woods are progressing finely, as it is a good time for picking up scattering trees. The season is more favorable for lumber operations than it looked in the fall. About six inches snow fell, accompanied by heavy east wind, yesterday, which will cover up the icy roads and make the hauling better.

Trade is quiet just now. Our two stores are doing a moderata business. Mr R. Crocker-Messrs, R. Swim Son's late clerk-is now teaching school in the Archibald school house. He thinks he can do better teaching school and attending to his farm. The Temperance Council is doing good work and every body is quite sober and attending to their work.

Our Sabbath School is well attended and seems to be doing good work. Miss Annie Robinson, daughter of Mr. R. D. Robinson, is quite unwell and confined to the house with lung trouble. Rev. Mr. Montgomery preached here Sunday evening to a crowded house. Miss Jacobs presiding at the organ. Mrs. Harvey Doak has presented to her husband a fine, bouncing baby girl, weighing about 10 lbs. Mother and child are looking well.
