A SUCCESSFUL SHOOTING TRIP.—Messrs. George E. Parker, Charles E. Troop and Thos. P. Robertson have returned from a two days' shooting trip to the mouth of the Tabernacle river. They had a most enjoyable time and were very successful, as they succeeded in bagging thirty-six brant and geese in the few hours they were shooting. They left for home at noon on Saturday. The weather, they report, was fine and clear, but very cold. Thousands of birds were seen, but they were very wild, as the number of hunters has been much larger than usual.—Globe.

PROBABLY A FATAL ACCIDENT.—The Richibucto Regist says: Last Monday Mrs. (Little) Joe Richard, aged 86 years, fell into a cellar and received injuries which will prove fatal. Mrs. Richard's family was one of the first to settle on the Richibucto Cape, having come there in 1818, when the country was an unbroken wilderness. In the days gone by, when the "Cape" was a fashionable watering resort, Mrs. Richard kept a boarding house for the accommodation of invalids and others who sought the sea shore either for health or recreation, and in this capacity she had become well-known to the general public.

FIRE AT CAMPBELLTON.—There was a destructive fire at Campbellton on Friday night. Two large buildings on Moffatt's wharf were completely destroyed with their contents. One of the buildings, a dwelling and warehouse, was owned by Mr. J. F. Moffatt and the other, a large warehouse, was the property of Mr. George Moffatt. Mr. Henry O'Leary lost 1500 bushels of oats stored in one of the warehouses. He had a large pile of lumber on the wharf outside that was burned. Mr. O'Leary had no insurance. Messrs. Moffatt and Moffatt had their buildings insured in one of Mr. J. M. Grant's offices.

A VISIT FROM.—Mr. E. Phenix, the well-known advertising agent of the Toronto Globe was in town on Tuesday. He has been making a business tour in the maritime provinces and reports favorably from almost all quarters. He has made arrangements with Mr. Edward Johnson, of the Miramichi Bookstore, to place as many as possible of the Globe's forthcoming Christmas number in Chatham and vicinity. The greatest Canadian journal proposes to eclipse all former efforts by itself or competitors in the proposed holiday number, which ought to be readily subscribed for by our people generally.

DEATH OF AN OLD DORCHESTER RESIDENT.—A Dorchester despatch to the Globe says: "Samuel Gay Gilbert, one of the oldest and most experienced magistrates of this county, died Sunday evening at the old Gilbert homestead, Willow Farm, Squire Gilbert, as he was familiarly known, was in his eightieth year, and in his death Dorchester loses another of its galaxy of residents who have done so much to make the place known all over the province. The Minister's Reply.

CHATHAM, Nov. 12th, 1889.
To the Editor of the Advance.
Dear Sir:—The following telegram is the answer to the request by our fishermen, for fifteen days fishing "first of season" above Middle Island.

OTTAWA, Nov. 11th 1889.
Geo. Watt and T. W. Crocker, Chatham.
After careful consideration of your "representations regarding smelt fishery," and full reports from my officers, I have decided that the smelt regulations as "proposed for the present season, must be adhered to. No fishing will be permitted above Middle Island."

(Signed) CHARLES H. TUPPER, M. M. & F.
It is most unfortunate that the local officers of the Fishery department will persist in misrepresenting the matter; the fishermen are anxious to know the reasons for such reports. They believe that facts would not warrant any report from which the Minister's decision could be fairly deduced. In order that all misunderstanding may be avoided, the fishermen have invited the Inspector of Fisheries for this section, and his local officers—Messrs. Adams, Wyse and Hogan—to a public meeting in Chatham, on Friday evening, 15th inst. It is to be hoped that these gentlemen may be present. I am yours respectfully,
GEORGE WATT.

Skating and Curling.

The community will be pleased to learn that the Skating Rink is to be opened for the winter under very favorable auspices. It has been leased by the Chatham Curling Club, and is to be put in repair. There will be the usual number of skating nights and Saturday skating for the children, the evening skating for the adults. As it does not injure the ice in the least to use it for curling, the arrangements under the new management will, no doubt, be very satisfactory. The arrangements for the season will be made in a few days and announced by the managing committee.

The Tracadie Mail.

We can hardly credit it, but there seems some reason for the belief that the postal authorities have, for some time, been devising a scheme for the lessening of mail accommodation between Chatham and Tracadie and intermediate points. A correspondent in Lower Gloucester says that the present result of the late visit of the Post Office Inspector to that locality is a change by which the lying over at Pokenouché of the mail that comes via Bathurst is obviated. "But," says our correspondent, "even this change does not remedy the matter. It is understood in well-informed quarters here that it was contemplated by the Inspector to do away altogether with our Chatham and Carleton mail drive, forcing all mail-matter for these parishes to be taken around 120 or 130 miles, carrying it some sixty miles north of us and dumping it at Bathurst—a point distant 77 miles by rail from Chatham. It would be just as reasonable to send the Rothsay mail-matter from St. John across Goudoula Point to Kingston for distribution, as to send our northern correspondence to that (to us) out-of-the-way place. All our interests in these lower parishes tend Chathamward, rather than up the Bay Chaleur. They seem to forget that Bathurst is at the upper end of this large County. While it is eighty-three miles from Bathurst to the Northumberland boundary, which latter is about six miles from this place, it is only twenty-five to that of Restigouche, at Armstrong's brook. The largest part of the population of the county is from forty to eighty-three miles from the shiretown. When Bathurst was named the shiretown, Gloucester included what is now the County of Restigouche, and it was then central enough, but now it is entirely misplaced as a shiretown. Were it not for the expense of a change of location, the public opinion of the large parishes held it would decidedly favor either Carleton or Hippogean as the more central localities of the present County.

The Bathurst Burglary.

The Telegraph says:—"A very interesting criminal case was tried on Wednesday and Thursday last, at Bathurst, before Judge Wilkinson and a jury. About a year ago a store at Bathurst, kept by Sutherland Bros., was broken into and goods to the value of about $300 stolen. A man named Michael Condon was sworn in as a special constable for the purpose of working up the case, and he prosecuted quite a vigorous search both in the town and the adjacent country, but no trace of the goods was found. A short time ago a note was found at Sutherland's gate, stating that the goods might be found in Condon's own house and implicating another man in the burglary with Condon. The suggestion was acted upon and Condon, on being arrested, confessed his guilt and accused one James Holland of being a principal in the crime. Holland was not the man mentioned in the note. Condon was tried and sentenced to two years imprisonment in the penitentiary. Holland was also arrested and put on trial, the chief witnesses against him being Condon and his wife, the former being brought from the penitentiary to give evidence. These witnesses described the whole plot and its execution very minutely but differed on some important particulars. The defence was an alibi proved by a young woman who swore that Holland was at the house where she worked, on the night of the burglary; that he was in the habit of working at that house; that sometimes when the train was late, instead of going home he would pass the night there; that on this particular occasion he came in a half drunk and was going to sleep in a chair, and that she took him to a bedroom and locked him in, where he remained all night. Public feeling was very strongly against the prisoner and a conviction was at first generally expected, but through the efforts of his counsel, Mr. Geo. B. Seely of St. John, the probability of his innocence was shown to be so strong that a verdict of acquittal was rendered."

The Great Catholic Congress.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 11.—No event in the history of the Roman Catholic Church in North America has attracted attention more widespread than the continental of the establishment of the first diocesan body, now being celebrated in Baltimore. This great concourse of people is something more than a monster gathering with the sole purpose of celebrating a centennial. It is really a congress composed of the Catholic people of every state and territory in the United States, and that congress, like every other well-organized representative body, has work to perform and objects to accomplish. It will be the aim of the congress, and particular pains will be taken to show that the Catholics of the United States are in hearty accord with their brethren in faith all over the world in supporting the pope so firmly taken by their spiritual head, touching his temporal power, believing that the time had come for a public expression of disapproval of the course pursued by the Italian government toward the Holy See.

Another object of the congress will be to demonstrate the unity of the entire Catholic body. Still another achievement looked for is the correction of the misapprehension in a part of the public mind that the relations between the hierarchy of the church—the bishops—and certain orders of the regular clergy are not as amicable as might be desired. There is one chief topic that may be taken up and discussed; that is, the question of the education of the young and the public schools and other school systems. The position of the congress upon this question will be that of strong, vigorous advocacy of religious education for the masses.

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 11.—The twelve hundred delegates to the first congress of Catholic laymen of the United States were called to order shortly before noon today by the Hon. W. J. O'Nahan of Chicago. Archbishop Ireland, briefly invoked the divine blessing. O'Nahan, as temporary chairman, the mention of the name of Pope Leo was received with a tumult of enthusiasm. O'Nahan's suggestion that he hoped in the not far distant future to see an international congress of lay Catholics also met with hearty approval. Ex-Governor Carroll spoke briefly and a cablegram from Rome was read bestowing the pope's blessing on the members of the congress. Daniel Dougherty of New York then delivered the opening address.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 11.—At the Catholic congress, today Father Nugent, a distinguished clergyman of Liverpool, England, Hon. Eugene Mercier, prime minister of Quebec, and ex-United States Senator Francis A. Kieran of New York made brief addresses, congratulating the congress on its successful inauguration. Cardinal Gibbons addressed the delegates welcoming them in his own name and that of the people of Baltimore, irrefragable of creed. The temporary organization was made permanent and then a recess was taken. A committee of twelve was appointed to wait on the president of the United States.

The regular work of the congress began by reading a paper on Catholic Congresses by historian John Gilmary Shea of New York. No discussion followed.

A paper by Major Henry F. Brownson, of Detroit, on Lay Action in the Church followed, and Charles Bonaparte eloquently discussed The Independence of the Holy See, the necessity for which he enthusiastically upheld.

The congress then adjourned until tomorrow.

The papers to follow are: The New Social Order, Peter L. Foy of St. Louis; The Right of the State in Education, Ed. Dunn of Florida; Religion in Education, W. L. Kelly of St. Paul; Catholic Journalism, George D. Wolf of Philadelphia; Societies, H. S. Spaanhorst of St. Louis; Catholic-American Literature, C. B. Pallin of St. Louis; Cleveland Observance, Manly B. Tello of Cleveland; Temperance, John E. Campbell of St. Louis; Labor and Capital, William Richards, and Church Music, Helen Allen Chicago.

Marriage of New Brunswickers in Winnipeg.
On the 30th October, in Christ Church, Winnipeg, Miss Maude L. Jones, granddaughter of Oliver Jones Esq., of Moncton, was married to Arthur

M. Storr, accountant with Oler, Hammond & Nanton, brokers and financial agents, of Toronto and Winnipeg. The service was choral and the church was crowded to its utmost capacity. The service was conducted by the Rev. E. S. W. Pentreath, B. D., uncle of the bride, assisted by the Rev. E. P. Flewelling, of Brandon, and the Rev. F. R. Hole. The bridesmaids were Gwendoline and Mildred Pentreath, Ida M. Bliss, cousins of the bride, and Eleanor C. Byers, her half sister. Mr. Earnest Jarvis was best man. Immediately after the ceremony there was a reception at Christ church rectory, which was attended by a large number of friends. The bride was the recipient of nearly one hundred presents, including a cheque for five hundred dollars from her grandfather, and one hundred dollars from the firm with which Mr. Storr is connected. The bride and groom were immediately after the reception to their home on Princess street.

The following day Miss Emily F. Sayre, sister of Mrs. Pentreath, was joyfully married in Christ Church to Mr. Joseph Carman, wholesale produce and commission merchant of Winnipeg. Mr. Carman was formerly of Halifax, and is a brother of Charles H. Carman of that city, and nephew of the late Wm. Carman, Esq., of Fredericton.—Vancouver World.

Opening of Newcastle Trotting Park.

Our representative at the races being one of the Judges, we make use of the Advocate's report, as follows:—
Owing to various causes the opening of the trotting park was delayed to a much later period than contemplated. It is situated on what was formerly known as "Strawberry marsh," only a short distance from town, is fenced around with a high board fence, the entrance being from the marsh road. The track is half mile long, sixty feet wide at the starting point. The trotting park was opened in a most successful manner on Thursday last, about 400 persons being present. The track was rather heavy owing to the steady rain of the Sunday previous. The following races were on the programme:—For three year olds, best two in three heats, first prize $15, 2nd $10, 3rd $5; a green race, best three out of five heats, first prize $20, 2nd $12, 3rd $8; a three minute race, best three out of five heats, first prize $40, 2nd $20, 3rd $10. The judges on Thursday were Mr. Geo. A. Vyde, of Moncton, Dr. McDonald and Mr. D. G. Smith, of Chatham. The following were the entries:

THREE YEAR OLDS,
Whalebone, Herby McKen,
Boomerang, Chas. Sargeant, J.
Royal Dean, James Stothart,
Doll, Allan Tozer.

GREEN RACE,
Topsy, R. H. Grenley,
Birdie, Saml. Carruthers,
Adirondack, Saml. Carruthers,
Indianwhopper, J. Jardine,
Abdallah Messenger, Stephen Duthie,
Nelson Boy, E. Hayes.

THREE MINUTE RACE,
Frank F., John Ferguson,
Excelsior Chief, John Russell,
Topsy, R. H. Grenley,
Bessie Saunders, R. H. Armstrong,
Birdie, J. P. Delaney.

The call for the first race for three year olds was rung about 2.30, and no time was lost in getting ready for the heat. After two false starts and being called back by the ringing of the bell, at the third they got off well together. The fast even trotting of Royal Dean soon gave him the lead which he kept, winning the heat in 3.40. Whalebone 2nd, Boomerang 3rd. In the second heat they came in in the same order as in the first, time 3.45.

In the Green Race, after making four false starts, in the fifth they were sent off, Birdie having the pole. This was a well contested heat, Topsy coming in the winner in time 3.11, with Birdie a close 2nd, Adirondack 3rd, and Nelson Boy and the Whopper a close 4th and 5th. The 2nd heat was also a closely contested one, the Birdie and Topsy neck and neck. Birdie won the heat in 3.40, Topsy 2nd, Adirondack 3rd, Nelson Boy 4th, Topsy 5th. Topsy winning the race in three straight heats.

In the three minute race, Topsy drew the pole. After three false starts at the fourth the horses were sent off. On the back stretch, White the driver of Bessie Saunders met with an accident. In endeavoring to pass another team he drew too close to the edge of the track and his sulky was upset and he was dragged some distance before his horse stopped. He Birdie and Topsy alone and Topsy brought up the rear. One of the shafts was broken and White had a narrow escape from receiving severe injuries. The race was close and the horses were F. and Excelsior Chief, the former winning the heat in 3.05. Exc. Chief being a close 2nd, Topsy 3rd, Birdie 4th, Bessie Saunders 5th. In the 3rd heat, Birdie came in slightly ahead, time 3.00, but owing to his breaking badly he was put to second place, and the heat given to Excelsior Chief, Birdie being a close 2nd. Birdie had been drawn before this heat was started.

It was by this time getting pretty dark, and it was decided to run one more heat in three minutes race and then postpone the concluding heats until tomorrow morning. At the second start they were let go and made the heat in 3.05. Frank F. and Topsy were the winners, Birdie being drawn before this heat was started.

The fourth and final heat was started on Friday morning about 11 o'clock. The track had hardened up by the frost during the night.

The Judges were Messrs. D. G. Smith, Chas. Sargeant and George Hilderbrand. Excelsior Chief had the pole, Frank F. No. 2, Topsy No. 3, Bessie Saunders No. 4. This heat was closely contested, and resulted in a victory for Excelsior Chief, time 3.01, Frank F. second, Topsy third, Bessie Saunders fourth.

The Cronin Trial.

Andrew J. Monatt, a printer who works for Stanton, who printed the business cards of O'Sullivan, was the first witness at the afternoon session. He testified that on April 27th O'Sullivan called before all the cards were printed and took some away with him.

Policeman Paul Hoesig, desk sergeant of the East Chatham avenue station, where Detective Dan Coughlin was stationed previous to his arrest, testified that in April he received a telegram from O'Sullivan, who wanted to see Coughlin at his house that evening. On the first or second of May he received the same message.

Joseph Hunkeler, an ex-police officer of Lake View, testified that on the night of May 12, about half past 12 o'clock, he saw two men standing on the sidewalk near the Carlson cottage and drove them away. The witness walked past the Carlson cottage. A bright light was burning within. Ten minutes later the cottage was in darkness.

Policeman Isaac Robinson testified that Hunkeler called his attention to the Carlson cottage. About one o'clock in the morning of the night of May 12, between the time of going past it to the north end and returning, the position of one of the blinds was changed. The lower sashes were opened.

An adjournment was then taken till tomorrow morning.

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—Mrs. Mandie Morgan, said to be an important witness for the prosecution in the Cronin case, was sand-bagged last night on the street about 9.30 o'clock by a person whom she described as a man, dressed in woman's clothes who was unconscious an hour and would have been killed outright but for the roll of hair on her head.

Alexander Sullivan was to-day released from bail of $25,000, in which he had been held pending the action of the grand jury on his alleged complicity in the Cronin case. The state did not contest the motion.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—For some time the sewer at the intersection of Evanston avenue and Buena avenue has been flush and running over. Today the sewer cleaners removed the cover from a man-hole and prodded among the rubbish beneath the water. Two valves were unearthed—one of leather, the other only remnants of a paper one.

The paper one dropped to pieces, and from it rolled a mass of tattered clothing that bore evidence of having been cut in strips with a sharp knife.

The only item in the garment was a vest which was in the center and encircled the doctor's case of surgical instruments. The surgical case and prescription book bore the doctor's name.

Every article of outward clothing was recognized by Conklin and a dozen other friends as the property of the murdered doctor.

All these things were found only one block from the spot where the bloody trunk was discovered. The paper valve is supposed to have been the one purchased by S. B. Simmonds from A. H. Revell & Co.

In the leather valve was found Dr. Cronin's prescription book, with several prescriptions bearing his signature.
