Cured by Cuticura.

Our oldest child, now six years of age, when an lent, malignant skin disease. All ordinary remedies failing, we called our family physician, who vised to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES. The effect was simply marvellous. In three or four weeks a complete curs was wrought, leaving the little fellow's person as thite and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion, your valuable remedies saved his life, and to-day he is a strong, healthy child, perfectly well, no repetition of the disease having ever occ rred. GEO. B. SMITH, Att'y at Law and Ex-Pros. Att'y, Ashland, O. Boy Covered with Scabs.

My boy, aged nine years, has been troubled all his life with a very bad humor, which appeared all over his body in small red blotches, with a dry white scab on them. Last year he was worse than ever, being covered with scabs from the top of his head to his feet, and continually growing worse, although, he had been treated by two phy sicians. As a last resort, I determined to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and am happy to say they did all that I could wish. Using them according to directions, the humor raidly disappeared leaving the skin fair and smooth, and performing a thorough cure. The CUTICURA REMEDIES are all you claim for them. > This is not the Season for Taffy. In an article on the relative po-

We maintain that the question is not one which affects the North Shore lumber business alone; and let us hope that the time approaches when it will not be possible for the professional politicians to much longer blind the people to the fact. ## Death of Jefferson Davis.

Jefferson Davis, who headed the great rebellion of the Southern States in 1860, died at New Orleans last Friday morning in his 82nd year. A malarial congestive chill carried him off. History must place upon him much of the responsibility of the greatest war of modern times-a war in which more than 3,000,000 men were engaged and more than 600,000 lives were lost, involving also incalculable destruction of property and immense drafts on the resources and credit of the country. The struggle maintained under Davis' leadership for the success of the rebellion challenged the sympathy of half th world because of its plucky desperaa great many St. John conservatives | tion against overwhelming odds, but its failure was deserved because it was identified with the perpetuation

A Difference. The Chatham Advance is astray in its facts regarding what it calls Conservative family jars in Ontario. Says the Advance, in speaking of the recent West Lambton election, "Mr. McCrae was a Liberal of twenty-five years' standing, and the Tories thought they would have a walk-over by his being induced to enter the field against the regular Liberal nominee, Mr. Mackenz'e, while they ran a straight Tory." We prefer as authority on the subject the Montreal Witness, another Grit paper, which in its Toronto correspondence says:

-"Mr. McCrae is a highly respectable man, and has always been a Conservative. He split the Conservative vote, and took some Liberals."

Deaths at Sackville.

A despatch of Friday last gives particulars of the deaths of two students of Mount Allison as follows :- W. M. Lock. hart of Avonport, N. S., the member of the freshman class at the university who had several weeks ago an attack of hemorthage which prostrated him, died early this morning in Principal Borden's apartments in the Ladies' college. His mother and sister had been with him for some time, and his brother, a physiciau in Boston, arrived a few days ago and remained to the end. His fellow students were untiring in their attention, and some of them have watched by him every night cf his illness. A funeral service, attended by all the members of the institution, was held at 8.30 in the parlors of the ladies college, after which the professors and local government, holding meetings students formed in procession and accomin Albert- the county he represents | panied the body to the morning express from Quebec. The group of skaters was some distance away, and before they could respond to the alarm Hamilton had disappeared, chilled and numbed by the icy water. Carey swam vigorously and struggled gallantly, but was about to go down for the last time, when Rice of Fairville succeeded in grasping him by the collar early in the evening. They became indebted to the plaintiffs, a Canadian company, the debt being incurred in Canada. They became subject to the English bankruptcy laws, and a trustee in bankruptcy was appointed. The plaintiffs became insolvent and liquidators were appointed under the Canadian Act to wind up its affairs. These actions were brought in Ontario by the liquidators by the leave of the court which ap pointed them. On 17th September, 1887, the liquidators with the plaintiffs presented by the trustee in bankruptcy of the defendants their claim against the defendants' estate, amounting to $351,-311.16, This claim included the amount which is the subject of these actions. Of 3rd March, 1888, the trustees applied in England to a judge presiding in bankruptcy and obtained from him an restraining the liquidators from further presecuting these actions, and the order of the Master in Chambers was made in furtherance of this order of the English court. The Divisional Court now holds (affirming Rose, J., and the Master in Chambers) that the liquidators of the plaintiffs have submitted themselves to the English court; that the English court thereby acquired, if it had not before, the right to require them to desist from any other mode of enforcing payment of their claim; and that the order of the Master in Chambers making our court ancillary to the English court was a most proper order under the circumstances. It was urged that a good deal of expense had been in curred in taking evidence under commission in England with a view to the trial of the actions, and that it would be more convenient that they should be tried, and that the plaintiffs should be allowed to establish their debt by means of these proceedings. The court points out that these are arguments which might properly be addressed to the English court; and if leave to proceed should be given in England, an application might then be made
