THE APPOINTMENT of Pierre A. Landry to the county court Judgeship rendered vacant by the death of Judge Botsford, is very gratifying to his many friends here, and is worthy of special remark as it is the first instance of an Acadian receiving a judicial appointment in this province.

GREEN—Sylvester Daigle, of St. Charles, the builder of the celebrated racing yacht, "Smuggler," that distanced all competitors a few years ago, was at New Kent Hotel on Tuesday. Mr. D. procured the lumber green from the woods and turned the boat out ready for the water in four days without assistance.

THE REVIEW must be greener than Mr. Daigle's lumber if it believes such a yarn as that.

INSURED AT OCEAN—Mr. Warren C. Winslow has been authorized by the British America Assurance Company to accept all classes of fire risks, issue policies and make endorsements, without delay or reference to the head office.

THIS PROVINCE is just now going through a spasm of political virtue. To hear the howl that some people are making because St. John sent $1500 to York, one would think that no one had ever heard of using money at an election.

THE REVUE must be greener than Mr. Daigle's lumber if it believes such a yarn as that.

DEAR SIR—The writer was shown to-day a letter received by Prof. Smythe from one of his former pupils in St. John's N.B., asking him to select and send her a piano duet, and I accept her description of the kind wanted, which I think too good to be lost.

ADDRESS TO REV. P. W. DIXON, P. P.

PREVIOUS to his departure to the Bermudas for the benefit of his health, a number of his parishioners waited on Father Dixon, at his residence, Newcastle, on Friday evening 11th inst., and presented him with a well filled purse, and the following address which was read by John D. Creaghan, Esq.

ADDRESS. REV. P. W. DIXON. Dear and dear Father—With deep regret you parishioners learn of your intention to withdraw for a few months from active duty, and their sorrow is the greater that this step is rendered necessary by failing health, the result of overwork and zeal in the arduous and more than successful administration of your priestly office among them for the past eighteen years.

You have, gentlemen, made reference to my stay among you. A priest should periodically build up—build on the foundations of virtue and tear away the roots of vice. Of my many imperfections I feel quite sensible;—none more so, but I have had the good fortune to live among an indulgent, charitable people who make allowance for human infirmities. I came among you a mere youngster. That my path has never been beset with difficulties,—that your co-operation and good advice have never been wanting me, I attribute to your indulgence;—ungrateful people are not easily satisfied. They watch and criticize in private and public. How far removed you have been, and how opposed to the adoption of my views, I do not know. It has, therefore, occurred to me not unrequently that my lot has been thrown in pleasant places, and that a just Providence, will demand much. Be assured, gentlemen, that such continual kindness I cannot, will not forget. Although I anticipate, amid these ocean islands, a pleasant sojourn, and look forward to renewed strength, an increasing useful experience, I can assure you that my return to familiar scenes and valued friends, will be for me a source of great happiness, for it is ever true that there is no place like home.

During my absence, the mission will be attended to by the Rev. Fathers Power and O'Brien. Both of them you know well and favorably. Their presence removes from me all anxiety; and I feel quite confident that the result will satisfy your highest expectations.

Gentlemen, I appreciate your presence here this evening, representative as you are of the best elements in the several parishes. I fully appreciate the well-plunged, and with the utmost sincerity thank you and all those whom you represent.

For the splendid donation, the practical expression of your good will, I am most grateful.

The company then adjourned to the dining room, where refreshments were spread out in tempting order, and spent half an hour pleasantly in discussing the good things and in lively conversation. After many feeling "good byes" the party broke up.

Father Dixon left by Saturday morning's express for Halifax, where he will take the steamer direct for Bermuda.

DOAKTOWN NOTES. DOAKTOWN, April 19th, 1890. The ice is out of the river. There is high wind and cold weather now.

The driving of logs in Cain's River has commenced.

Hay is being looked up pretty sharply about here.

There were three burials one day last week in this place. The first was Mrs. Holmes, of the late Mrs. J. M. D. The second was Mrs. James D. D., and the third was a very unusual thing in this place.

On Friday, 11th inst., Mrs. Betts, wife of Jared Betts, jr., fell from a sled while going home and broke her leg. She is lying at home in a critical stage.

Log-driving has begun on Bartholomew River.

A Model Modern Musical Composition. To the Editor of the Advance.

DEAR SIR—The writer was shown to-day a letter received by Prof. Smythe from one of his former pupils in St. John's N.B., asking him to select and send her a piano duet, and I accept her description of the kind wanted, which I think too good to be lost.

"I want something beginning with a mad plunge, followed by various rushes, up and down, two or three lines of little trills and warbles in treble, succeeded by loud chords, with the shape chromatic, skitter, rough and tumble,—I'll be in first! No you won't! Bang! Whizz! Cat out of skin, rush again, leap, jump, gallop, dip! Fast, fast—till at last, with one final bang that does for the poor much abused instrument both performers rise and exit faint and exhausted amid a deafening shower of applause, ivory and billows of wood."

A LOVER OF MUSIC.

Presbytery of Miramichi. The Presbytery of Miramichi met in the Hall of St. John Church, Chatham, on Tuesday last at 10 o'clock. There were present Revs. W. Hamilton, Moderator, pro tempore, T. G. Johnston, N. McKay, W. Aitken, F. Thompson, Joseph McCoy, W. McLeod, ministers, and Geo. Haddow, Esq., ruling elder.

A commission in favor of Mr. John Lo Grande as representative elder for New Carlisle was read and sustained and his name was added to the roll.

Minutes of meetings of Jan. 14th, Feb. 4th and 5th and March 26th, 27th and 28th were read and approved.

Rev. Lewis Jack was cordially invited to sit as a corresponding member.

The Clerk submitted the Presbytery certificate of Rev. A. H. Cameron, under the hand of Rev. J. C. Herdman, Calgary. The certificate was read and found satisfactory. Letters from Rev. A. F. Carr were read intimating that the Metepedia mission field is prepared to welcome Mr. Cameron and to provide for his support to the amount of $400 per annum, which with the grant from the H. M. Board will amount to $700.

Mr. Cameron was then appointed to take charge of the field as ordained missionary for two years from the date of his provisional appointment—March 28th, 1890.

Read a report of labor at Kouchibouguac by Mr. W. J. Fowler. The Presbytery deeply sympathize with Mr. Fowler in his prolonged illness, regret the consequent interruptions of his labor, and hope his health will soon be completely restored. His report was received and approved, and in view of the material weakening of the field by the removal of an important industry, and the consequent emigration of a number of families, the Presbytery agreed to supply the field during the summer by a Catechist.

Read a report of Missionary labor at Metepedia by Mr. Greenleaf, during the Christmas holidays. The report was received and the Home Mission Board was requested to pay the small balance due.

The Clerk reported in reference to arrears due Mr. Geo. Anderson for services, at New Richmond. That congregation had remitted $26.50 additional, and the H. M. Board have paid the balance of $62.50.

Presbytery then adjourned to meet at 2.30 in the same place.

Presbytery reassembled at 2.30 on Wednesday. The report was attended together with Rev. J. H. Cameron, moderator, and Rev. I. Baird.

Presbytery proceeded to the appointment of Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

ment of Catechists, as follows—New Brandon and Jameville, Mr. J. D. Logan. Kouchibouguac, Joseph Greenleaf. Port Daniel, J. A. McGlaben. Carriquet and Miscon, R. A. Finlayson. Haddow, J. F. Polly.

Boardstone, Doaktown and Hayville, W. McNicholl. The matter of supplements was then taken up, when, after considering every one severally, the following were agreed upon.

New Carlisle, $200. Blackville, $100, the local support having come up so as to make that amount sufficient.

Tabusintac, $180, the local support having been increased $30. Black River, $150, the congregation being expected to advance $50.

Red Bank, $150. Wellford, after the termination of the first year, $120.

W. Hamilton was appointed moderator of the Session of Kouchibouguac.

Read a petition from the Derby Session of Mr. Johnston's congregation, asking for additional services, at Upper Nelson and Millerton, and submitting a plan of such services. The proposed change will require that the pastor take three services once a month.

It was agreed, in view of the facility for supplying Doaktown in connection with Boardstone and Hayville, and in view of this demand for increase of service at Derby and Upper Nelson, that Mr. Johnston's services be given wholly to Blackville and Derby, and it was left with the session to arrange the services within the field at to them may appear to be the best advantage.

James Haddow, Esq., Dalhousie, James Gibson, Esq., Ottawa, and Andrew Dunn, Esq., Wellford, were appointed additional commissioners to the General Assembly.

Presbytery then adjourned to meet at 7.30 p. m.

The Presbytery met accordingly, and read the same, with absence of Rev. T. G. Johnston and addition of Alex. McKinnon.

An application was submitted on behalf of the Trustees of St. Andrew's Church, New Richmond, for leave to sell the Glebe lot and with the proceeds to purchase land and build a manse near the church. Leave was granted with the understanding that the Trustees carefully comply with the legal conditions provided in such cases by the laws of Quebec and secure the authority of the congregation by resolution of a congregational meeting.

Rev. A. F. Thompson submitted a carefully prepared report on systematic giving, and a lively conference followed on methods of church finance. Much valuable information was elicited as to the very successful working in several congregations, of the plan of voluntary weekly givings. The report was received and approved and the thanks of Presbytery given to the convener.

Mr. McKay submitted the annual report on statistics. Returns have been obtained from all congregations, and appended were two tables, one presenting the figures for 1890 in comparison with those for the previous year, and the other showing the rate of contribution per family, for stipends, and for all purposes in the several congregations. In all the more important items there is an advance on the previous year.

The principal totals are as follows:—Number of families, 2,133. Communicants, 3,205. Total amount of stipends, $14,036. Payment for missions, 2,900. For all purposes, 25,128.

The reports were received and adopted. A committee consisting of the Clerk, Rev. Joseph McCoy and Rev. A. F. Thompson, was appointed to prepare a statement based on the facts and figures brought out in the reports on systematic giving and statistics, for circulation among our people.

Mr. McKay also submitted the report on Sabbath Schools. Complete returns have been obtained from all congregations, except one. Fifty-eight schools were reported. This report also was received and adopted.

Rev. Mr. Hamilton submitted the annual report on the State of Religion, which was very satisfactory. It was adopted and thanks were tendered to the convener for his diligence.

Rev. Mr. Cameron submitted the report on temperance. There is but little drinking among the members and adherents in the church. But much drinking exists in the community in many places, and the liquor laws, whether license or prohibitory, are but very imperfectly enforced. These reports were read and adopted.

These reports were read and adopted. After some routine business the Presbytery adjourned to meet at Dalhousie on the 8th day of July at 10 o'clock (standard time).

N. McKay, Clerk.

Woods in Jail. MONTELEONE, VI., April 17.—James S. Caswell, who was convicted of the murder of George Gould, Sept. 5, 1889, was married yesterday to Mrs. Laura Gould, wife of the murdered man. The marriage took place through the bars of Caswell's cell at the jail here. This remarkable proceeding has caused a genuine sensation here. The case, from the beginning to its present stage, has been tragic and sensational in the extreme. Jealousy was the cause of the murder which took place on the morning following the day of the marriage. It is an unsavory story.

Laura Cutler, who is now 38 years old, had lived with her parents on a farm in East Montpelier some 20 or more years ago. Caswell came to work on the farm for her father. He became infatuated with Laura, and, as the latter admitted in court during the trial, for 20 years they had sustained the relations of man and wife. Caswell frequently urged her to marry him, but she as persistently refused, alleging that her father opposed the union. Mr. Cutler had no antipathy to Caswell, but he wished his daughter to remain unmarried. Mrs. Cutler, her mother, died a year ago, last February, and her father died about five years ago. But still she refused to marry her devoted lover. About the time of her mother's death George Gould came to the farm to assist in the work. He seems to have eloped with Caswell, as regards the good will affection of Laura, for he finally gained the latter's consent to marry, which occurred on Sept. 4 last, Rev. J. Edward Wright of this place, performing the ceremony. The couple passed the night at Putnamville, and on the morning of the 5th returned home to East Montpelier. They had been at home about half an hour when Gould, with some fire wood in his arms, approached the house, Caswell, from an upper window, pointed a gun at him and fired. Gould died within half an hour.

The murderer immediately requested a neighbor to take him to Montpelier, that he might surrender himself to an officer. He was arrested soon after reaching here and was immediately lodged in jail. To those with whom he talked, he admitted that his original intention was to kill Laura also, and then commit suicide. His courage evidently fled when he saw Gould writing in death.

Now comes the strange part of the case. No sooner had the murder been committed than Mrs. Gould's affections for Caswell seemed to return. She visited him at the jail, and a closer sympathy rapidly developed. Just previous to the trial, which occurred three weeks ago, rumor had it that the two had been quietly married. It was supposed that the new relationship which Mrs. Gould would thus have to Caswell would relieve her from giving testimony, important if not essential to his conviction. This was a canard, but it would have less strange than the marriage at the present time. On the morning of March 28 the jury which heard the case returned a verdict of murder in the second degree, which is punishable by imprisonment for life. The counsel for Caswell regarded this as a victory, for some premeditation was certain. Caswell had threatened that if Gould brought his wife back to the old home, there would be bloodshed, yet the peculiar circumstances and provocation weighed sufficiently to secure a verdict in the second degree. Caswell was taken at once to the county jail, and has been awaiting sentence, which is expected in a day or two.

Since the conviction Mrs. Gould had visited him once or twice, and in those visits the marriage was talked over and finally planned. H. A. Huse, one of the counsel for Caswell, was present at the interview between the two on Tuesday morning, at about 11.15 o'clock, Mr. Huse who is a justice of the peace, with Frank Martin, a student in his office, accompanied Mrs. Gould to the jail, and there the ceremony was performed, with hands clasped through the bars. This was the old home, there would be bloodshed, yet the peculiar circumstances and provocation weighed sufficiently to secure a verdict in the second degree. Caswell was taken at once to the county jail, and has been awaiting sentence, which is expected in a day or two.

Mr. Martin was only a spectator. In an adjoining cell three unlucky fellows, who had committed some petty crimes, were playing cards, but the game was so interesting to them that they were unaware of the wedding. Caswell and Mrs. Gould were not affected in the least. They seemed to be sensible of the seriousness and stangeness of the situation, but their conduct was not different from that of any couple during a marriage ceremony. After talking for a few minutes Mrs. Caswell left the jail with Mr. Huse, and went to the office of the latter. Some after she set out for her home. Intimations had been made that the marriage had as its object the securing of pension money for Mrs. Caswell. Caswell was a soldier and has pension on account of a wound. Counsel for Caswell scouted the idea, however. They say both felt that they ought to be married and so they were married.

News and Notes. BERLIN, April 21.—Sixteen thousand Berlin shoemakers have struck. They demand a working day of 10 hours and wages of not less than 18 marks per hour. Seven hundred shoemakers at Frankfurt have struck for higher wages and a general strike of shoemakers has been declared upon.

PORTLAND, Me., April 21.—The fishing schooner Hattie, of Gloucester, Mass., arrived at Yarmouth from Lunenburg. She reports the loss of Joseph Gillant, of Prince Edward Island, who was washed overboard.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 20.—Pretty 16 year old Mary Stuart, of McKeesport, is under arrest. On Friday the girl did cooking for dinner, paying special attention to a very fine soup. All the family but herself ate heartily of the soup and at once were seized with violent pains. The physicians pronounced the case arsenical poisoning. A four year old boy died yesterday and three others of the family are in a serious condition. The girl evades all questions and stoutly declares her innocence of any attempt at poisoning.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 21.—A telephone message was received last night, about 7.30, from Harrodsburg saying that a fire was raging which threatened to destroy the business portion of the town. It is supposed to have been set fire by small boys. The total loss will reach $100,000 or $150,000. At 1.45 this morning word was received that the fire was under control.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.—Late advices from Yokohama state that March 25th and 26th, 860 houses were burned at Aomai, Noshiro and Minoro.

W. C. McDonald, a director of the Bank of Montreal and well known tobacco manufacturer, has declared Sir Donald Smith contemplates in the near future to add to his already fine gifts to the university.

Everybody knows that the mending of broken limbs is an important feature of the work at all accident hospitals; but it is not generally known, says the New York Sun, that a great many patients are admitted to Bellevue for the purpose of having their legs broken by the surgeons. It is an almost daily operation in one of the wards for the surgeon to break a patient's leg by a blow with a mallet upon a sharp chisel, which has been pushed through the flesh to the bone. This is the modern remedy for bowlegs and other deformities of the extremities, and it is almost invariably successful. Scores of children of poor parents are sent to Bellevue to be thus treated, and they are well restored straight-limbed and well to their families. It is usually necessary to break both bones of the leg between the knee and the ankle. After the operation the leg is set in a straight splint in the position in which it is desired that it should heal. The fracture is a clean and simple one, and there has been no bruising of the flesh, so that recovery is more rapid and attended with less pain than that following an accidental fracture. When it is necessary to reshape both legs, it is usually the custom to treat but one at a time, in order not to impose too great suffering. The modern method of curing deformities of this sort by fracture is far more merciful than the old one of straightening crooked knees by bending them under long pressure.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she clung to Castoria. When she became Miss, she tried to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Fortunate Chicagoans. In the Feb. 11th drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery two citizens drew cash prizes which have made them wealthy. H. A. Hubbard, 33 Metropolitan Block, is one of the lucky citizens. To a Traveler representative Mr. Hubbard said: "I held one-quarter of ticket No. 49,919 which drew the third capital prize of $50,000. The cash $12,500, was promptly received by me through the American Express Co. Messrs.
