

MIRAMICHI ADVANCE

VOL. 17. CHATHAM, NEW BRUNSWICK, JANUARY 1, 1891.

Hotels.

REVERE HOUSE.

Near Railway Station, Campbellton, N. B.

Sample Rooms.

GOOD STABLING on the premises.

ADAMS HOUSE.

ADJOINING BANK OF MONTREAL.

Canada House.

Corner Water and St. John Streets, CHATHAM.

Wanted.

RELIABLE PUSHING MEN to sell...

NOTICE.

Queen Insurance Company CAPITAL $10,000,000.

White Beans.

In Store—30 Barrels White Beans.

PIANOS.

THE SUBSCRIBER HAVING TAKEN THE AGENCY...

J. N. GARDNER & CO.

Wholesale Commission Dealers In...

THOS. FITZPATRICK.

HAS REMOVED HIS Boarding & Livery Stable...

B. R. BOUTHILLIER.

MERCHANT TAILOR.

Torryburn Corner.

CHATHAM.

GENTLEMEN'S GARMENTS.

of all kinds cut and made to order...

LADIES' COATS & SACQUES.

cut to order.

W. A. Wilson, M. D.

PHYSICIAN & SURGEON.

General Business.

A BAD FACE HUMOR.

Covering the Face with Disfiguring Painful Blisters Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

Old Folks' Pains.

Put of comfort for all Pains, Inflammation, and Weakness...

Notice to Trespassers.

All persons taking wood of others...

Notice.

The Annual Meeting of the Miramichi Steam Navigation Co.

Unprecedented Attraction!

OVER A MILLION DISTRIBUTED.

Louisiana State Lottery Company.

Incorporated by the Legislature for Educational and Charitable purposes...

20,000 SUP. FT. Hemlock Boards.

pled on N. B. Trading Co's wharf, Chatham, for sale.

Closing Out Sale!

AT THE GOGGIN BUILDING.

Hardware Cheap.

At all the Stock must be disposed of this fall.

Joiners' Tools.

AND ALL KINDS OF BUILDERS' MATERIALS.

Hardware Stores.

which are too numerous to mention.

Call Early.

TERMS CASH.

Burdock Pills.

A SURE CURE FOR BILIOUSNESS, CONSTIPATION, INDIGESTION, DIZZINESS, RICK HEADACHE, AND DISEASES OF THE STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.

FOR SALE.

The two dwelling houses situate on Canal Street, Chatham, at present occupied by Capt. Melville and a child of the name of...

Miramichi Advance.

CHATHAM, N. B. - JANUARY 1, 1891.

News and Notes.

The Rathbun Co. of Deseronto, are going to make a large exhibit at the Jamaica Exhibition.

Edison's Pretty Wife.

Mr. Edison is quite a fine musician, and she and her step-children constantly practice together...

Canada's Forest Wealth.

Canada's forest wealth is to be well illustrated at the forthcoming exhibition at Jamaica, V. L. Adam Brown, the commissioner appointed by the Dominion Government...

That Scheme.

LONDON, Dec. 27.—The Times to-day publishes a three-column article severely criticizing Gen. Booth's social regeneration scheme...

Bad For Canadian Fishermen.

TORONTO, Dec. 27.—A Washington special says the treasury department has construed the provision of the new tariff ad relative to the free entry of fish to mean that fish caught by Canadian fishermen, even if brought in by United States fishermen or fish buyers who have supplied tackle, etc., shall not be entitled to free entry.

Six Remarkable Poker Hands.

The Boston Herald says:—At a social game of poker, last night, in one deal, with six playing, the first man drew two cards and got a full hand of three queens and two aces. The second man drew one card, and got a flush of hearts. The third man drew one card and filled a straight of king high. The fourth man drew two cards and got the four aces. The fifth man drew three cards and got four eights. The sixth and last man drew two cards and got a straight flush of spades with seven high. Then there was some betting.

They Cheated.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—A Herald special from Washington says the frauds by which the government had been deprived of over a million dollars has been exposed by the treasury officials, and a searching investigation is in progress.

Good Deeds Done.

The good deeds done by that unequalled family liniment, Hagar's Yellow Oil, during the thirty years it has been held in ever increasing esteem by the public, will fill volumes.

Income and Outlook.

The three important outlets of disease are the skin, bowels and kidneys. See that the perform their functions properly and use Barcock Blood Bitters to insure this proper action.

Fifteen Months Free.

FIFTEEN months ago I had a heaving cough. I tried many remedies but got no relief, I then tried Hagar's Yellow Oil, which gave me instant ease.

Powder Mill Explosion.

A powder mill explosion affects the country for miles around, but dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, headache, loss of appetite and debility, affect humanity all over the world.

Bad, Worse, Worst.

Colds, cough, consumption, to cure the first and second and prevent the third use Hagar's Pectoral Balm, the never-failing family medicine for all diseases of the throat, lungs and chest.

Senators' Board.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—A Washington dispatch says: The greatest joke of the season on the United States Senate has just leaked out.

Grand Monthly Drawing.

WILL TAKE PLACE AT the Academy of Music, New Orleans, Tuesday, January 13, 1891.

Capital Price, $300,000.

100,000 Numbers in the Wheel.

Price of Tickets.

Whole Tickets Twenty Dollars; Halves $10; Quarters $5; Tenth $2 Twentieths $1

MAKE ALL REMITTANCES BY EXPRESS.

The Company will pay charges on all packages containing not less than Five Dollars.

A NEW MOUNTED REGIMENT.

The constitution of the regiment of mounted infantry now being organized in London has been fixed. It will consist of 1,080 of all ranks, with 1,079 horses.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Mr. Meeson's Will.

CHAPTER XIII. RUSTACE BUYS A PAPER.

In due course the train that bore Augusta and her fortunes, tumbled to reach Waterloo at 5:04 p. m., rolled into the station. The train was a fast one, but the telegram had been faster. All the evening papers had come out with accounts, more or less accurate, of their escape, and most of them had added that the two survivors would reach Waterloo by the 5:04 train.

However, the guard was holding the door open, so there was nothing for it but to get out, which she did, taking Dick by the hand, a proceeding that necessarily put her identity beyond a doubt. The moment she got her foot on the platform the crowd saw her, and there arose such a tremendous shout of welcome that the very nearly took refuge again in the carriage. For a moment she stood hesitating, and the crowd, seeing how sweet and beautiful she was (for the three months of sea air had made her stouter and even more lovely), cheered again with that peculiar enthusiasm which a discerning public always shows for a pretty face. But even while she stood bewildered on the platform she heard a loud "Make way—make way there!" and saw the multitude being divided by a little knot of officials, who were escorting somebody dressed in widow's weeds.

In another second there was a cry of joy, and a sweet, pale-faced little lady had run at the child Dick, and was hugging him against her heart, and sobbing and laughing both at once.

"Oh! my boy! my boy!" cried Lady Holmhurst, for it was she, "I thought you were dead—long ago dead!"

And then she turned, and, before all the people there, clung about Augusta's neck and kissed her and blessed her, because she had saved her only child, and half removed the dead weight of her desolation. Wheat the crowd cheered, and wept, and yelled, and swore with excitement and blessed their stars that they were there to see.

And then, in a haze of noise and excitement, they were led through the cheering mob to where a carriage and pair were standing, and were helped into it, Mrs. Thoms being placed on the front seat and Lady Holmhurst and Augusta on the back, the former with the gasping Dick upon her knee.

And now little Dick is out of the story.

They must go back a little way to explain. When Eustace Meeson had come to town, after being formally disinherited, he had managed to get a billet as Latin, French and Old English teacher in a publishing house of repute. As it happened, on this very afternoon he was strolling down the Strand, having finished a rather stiff day's work, and with a mind filled with those idle and somewhat confused odds and ends of speculation with which most brain-workers will be acquainted. He looked older and paler than when he last met her, for sorrow and misfortune had laid their heavy hands upon him. When Augusta had departed he had discovered that he was head over heels in love with her in that unfortunate way—forty-nine times out of a hundred, it is unfortunate—in which many men of susceptibility do occasionally fall in love in their youth—a way that brands the heart for life in a fashion that can no more be effaced than the stamp of a hot iron can be effaced from the physical body. Such an affection—which is not altogether of the earth—will, when it overcomes a man, prove either the greatest blessing of his life or one of the heaviest, most enduring curses that a malignant fate can heap upon his head. For if he achieves his desire, even though he serve his seven years, surely for him life will be robbed of half its evil. But if he lose her, either through misfortune or because he gave all this to one who did not understand the gift, or one who looked at love and on herself as a currency wherewith to buy her place and the luxury of days then he will be of all men among the most miserable. For nothing can give him back that which has gone from him.

Eustace had never seen Augusta but twice in his life; but then passion does not necessarily depend upon constant previous intercourse with its object. He proved at first sight in common with most, and in this instance Eustace was not altogether dependent upon the spoken word of his adored, or on his recollection of her very palpable beauty, for he had her books. To those who know something of the writer—sufficient to let us say, to enable him to put an approximate value on his or her sentiments, so as to form a more or less accurate guess as to when he is speaking from his own mind, when he is speaking from the mind of the puppet in hand, and when he is merely putting a case—a person's books are full of information, and bring that person into closer and more intimate contact with the reader than any amount of personal intercourse. For whatever is best and whatever is worst in an individual will be reflected in his pages, seeing that, unless he is the poorest of hack authors, he must of necessity set down therein the images that pass across the mirrors of his heart.

"Thus it seemed to Eustace, who knew 'Jemima's' story, and also her previous abortive work almost by heart, that he was very intimately acquainted with Augusta, and as he was walking home that May evening he was reflecting sadly enough of all that he had lost through that cruel shipwreck. He had lost Augusta, and what was more, he had lost his uncle and his uncle's vast fortune. For he, too, had seen the report of the application of Meeson in the 'Times,' and though he knew that he was disinherited, it was a little curious. He had lost the fortune for Augusta's sake, and now he had lost Augusta also; and he had reflected, not without dismay, on the long dreary existence that stretched away before him.

He had seen the report of the application of Meeson in the 'Times,' and though he knew that he was disinherited, it was a little curious. He had lost the fortune for Augusta's sake, and now he had lost Augusta also; and he had reflected, not without dismay, on the long dreary existence that stretched away before him.

He had seen the report of the application of Meeson in the 'Times,' and though he knew that he was disinherited, it was a little curious. He had lost the fortune for Augusta's sake, and now he had lost Augusta also; and he had reflected, not without dismay, on the long dreary existence that stretched away before him.

He had seen the report of the application of Meeson in the 'Times,' and though he knew that he was disinherited, it was a little curious. He had lost the fortune for Augusta's sake, and now he had lost Augusta also; and he had reflected, not without dismay, on the long dreary existence that stretched away before him.

He had seen the report of the application of Meeson in the 'Times,' and though he knew that he was disinherited, it was a little curious. He had lost the fortune for Augusta's sake, and now he had lost Augusta also; and he had reflected, not without dismay, on the long dreary existence that stretched away before him.

He had seen the report of the application of Meeson in the 'Times,' and though he knew that he was disinherited, it was a little curious. He had lost the fortune for Augusta's sake, and now he had lost Augusta also; and he had reflected, not without dismay, on the long dreary existence that stretched away before him.

He had seen the report of the application of Meeson in the 'Times,' and though he knew that he was disinherited, it was a little curious. He had lost the fortune for Augusta's sake, and now he had lost Augusta also; and he had reflected, not without dismay, on the long dreary existence that stretched away before him.

He had seen the report of the application of Meeson in the 'Times,' and though he knew that he was disinherited, it was a little curious. He had lost the fortune for Augusta's sake, and now he had lost Augusta also; and he had reflected, not without dismay, on the long dreary existence that stretched away before him.

He had seen the report of the application of Meeson in the 'Times,' and though he knew that he was disinherited, it was a little curious. He had lost the fortune for Augusta's sake, and now he had lost Augusta also; and he had reflected, not without dismay, on the long dreary existence that stretched away before him.

He had seen the report of the application of Meeson in the 'Times,' and though he knew that he was disinherited, it was a little curious. He had lost the fortune for Augusta's sake, and now he had lost Augusta also; and he had reflected, not without dismay, on the long dreary existence that stretched away before him.

He had seen the report of the application of Meeson in the 'Times,' and though he knew that he was disinherited, it was a little curious. He had lost the fortune for Augusta's sake, and now he had lost Augusta also; and he had reflected, not without dismay, on the long dreary existence that stretched away before him.

He had seen the report of the application of Meeson in the 'Times,' and though he knew that he was disinherited, it was a little curious. He had lost the fortune for Augusta's sake, and now he had lost Augusta also; and he had reflected, not without dismay, on the long dreary existence that stretched away before him.

He had seen the report of the application of Meeson in the 'Times,' and though he knew that he was disinherited, it was a little curious. He had lost the fortune for Augusta's sake, and now he had lost Augusta also; and he had reflected, not without dismay, on the long dreary existence that stretched away before him.

He had seen the report of the application of Meeson in the 'Times,' and though he knew that he was disinherited, it was a little curious. He had lost the fortune for Augusta's sake, and now he had lost Augusta also; and he had reflected, not without dismay, on the long dreary existence that stretched away before him.

He had seen the report of the application of Meeson in the 'Times,' and though he knew that he was disinherited, it was a little curious. He had lost the fortune for Augusta's sake, and now he had lost Augusta also; and he had reflected, not without dismay, on the long dreary existence that stretched away before him.

He had seen the report of the application of Meeson in the 'Times,' and though he knew that he was disinherited, it was a little curious. He had lost the fortune for Augusta's sake, and now he had lost Augusta also; and he had reflected, not without dismay, on the long dreary existence that stretched away before him.

He had seen the report of the application of Meeson in the 'Times,' and though he knew that he was disinherited, it was a little curious. He had lost the fortune for Augusta's sake, and now he had lost Augusta also; and he had reflected, not without dismay, on the long dreary existence that stretched away before him.

He had seen the report of the application of Meeson in the 'Times,' and though he knew that he was disinherited, it was a little curious. He had lost the fortune for Augusta's sake, and now he had lost Augusta also; and he had reflected, not without dismay, on the long dreary existence that stretched away before him.

He had seen the report of the application of Meeson in the 'Times,' and though he knew that he was disinherited, it was a little curious. He had lost the fortune for Augusta's sake, and now he had lost Augusta also; and he had reflected, not without dismay, on the long dreary existence that stretched away before him.

He had seen the report of the application of Meeson in the 'Times,' and though he knew that he was disinherited, it was a little curious. He had lost the fortune for Augusta's sake, and now he had lost Augusta also; and he had reflected, not without dismay, on the long dreary existence that stretched away before him.

FOR DYSPESIA, Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Is an effective remedy, as numerous testimonials conclusively prove. "For two years I was a constant sufferer from dyspepsia and liver complaint. I doctored a long time and the medicines prescribed, in nearly every case, only aggravated the disease. An apothecary advised me to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I did so, and was cured in a few days. Since that time I have been my family medicine, and sickness has become a stranger to our household. I believe it to be the best medicine on earth."—P. F. McNulty, Hackensack, 29 Summer St., Lowell, Mass.

FOR DEBILITY, Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Is a certain cure, when the complaint originates in impure blood. "I was a great sufferer from a low condition of the blood and general debility, becoming finally, so reduced that I was unable to work. Nothing that I did for the complaint helped me so much as Ayer's Sarsaparilla, a few bottles of which restored me to health and strength. I take every opportunity to recommend this medicine in similar cases."—C. E. Wick, 14 E. Main St., Chillicothe, Ohio.

FOR ERUPTIONS, Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

And all disorders originating in impurity of the blood, such as boils, carbuncles, pimples, blotches, salt-rheum, scurf, scrofulous sores, and the like, take only

DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass. One bottle, 25 cents. A six bottle, $1.50.

Provisions and Groceries.

JUST ARRIVED

ONE CAR OF FLOUR.

Choicest Brands, also in Stock, Choice

Family Groceries.

Teas, Coffees, Spices, Flavoring Extracts, Raisins, Currants, Citrus and Apples, Lamps, etc., all of which I will sell at bottom prices.

ALEX. MCKINNON.

Commercial Building, Water St. Dec. 2nd, 1890.

Z. TINGLEY, HAIRDRESSER, ETC.

HAS REMOVED

SHAVING PARLOR.

Person Building, Water Street, Chatham.

He will also keep a first-class stock of Cigars, Tobaccos, Pipes, and Smokers' Goods generally.

BUTTER & CHEESE.

IN STORE AND BOUGHT

1000 Tubs Butter.

1200 Boxes Cheese.

FOR SALE LOW BY—

C. M. BOSTWICK & CO.

ST. JOHN

WESTERN CANADA!

WHERE IS IT? WHAT IS IT? THE COLONIST DESCRIBES IT ALL.

A MONTHLY ILLUSTRATED MAGAZINE 82 PAGES. 25 SAMPLE COPIES 25 CENTS. TRIAL BARGAIN! HASTEN! SEND WRITING TODAY TO SEVENTY SEVEN SUBSCRIBER. Address—THE COLONIST, Winnipeg, Can.

GEO. W. CUTLER,

GENERAL INSURANCE AGENT FOR

FIRE, LIFE AND ACCIDENT COMPANIES.

REPRESENTING: Travelers' Life and Accident, of Hartford, Conn. Norwich Union, of England. Royal Canadian, of Montreal. London and Lancashire Life Assurance Company, of London. English and Montreal, of Montreal. OFFICE—CORNER STREET OPPOSITE E. A. STRANG CHATHAM, N. B.

ATTENTION!

Great Reduction in prices of Dry Goods & Groceries LOWER THAN EVER.

at F. W. RUSSELL'S BLACK BROOK

NEW GOODS.

Just arrived and on Sale at

FLANAGAN'S

Upper and East End Stores.

Dry Goods, Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishings, Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes &c. &c. Also a choice lot of GROCERIES & PROVISIONS. Best to sell Cheap for Cash.

ROGER FLANAGAN.

NOTICE.

Persons holding claims against the estate of the late Albert E. Flanagan are requested to file the same daily attended, with Mr. B. A. Lewis, attorney, Chatham, and all persons interested in the said estate are requested to make themselves known to said attorney.

MARY STUBBART, Dec. 11th, 1890.

TIN SHOP.

As I have now on hand a larger and better assortment of goods than ever before, comprising will invite those about to purchase, to call and inspect my buying where, as I can sell below former prices for cash.

Japanned, Stamped and Plain Tinware.

The Peerless Creamer, ROCHESTER LAMP, The Success OIL STOVE!

—Also a nice selection of Parlor and Cooking Stoves with PATENT TELESCOPIIC OVEN—The fitting of which can be taken out of cleaning thereby doing away with the other stoves.

A. C. McLean.

FOR DEBILITY, Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Is an effective remedy, as numerous testimonials conclusively prove. "For two years I was a constant sufferer from dyspepsia and liver complaint. I doctored a long time and the medicines prescribed, in nearly every case, only aggravated the disease. An apothecary advised me to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I did so, and was cured in a few days. Since that time I have been my family medicine, and sickness has become a stranger to our household. I believe it to be the best medicine on earth."—P. F. McNulty, Hackensack, 29 Summer St., Lowell, Mass.

FOR DEBILITY, Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Is a certain cure, when the complaint originates in impure blood. "I was a great sufferer from a low condition of the blood and general debility, becoming finally, so reduced that I was unable to work. Nothing that I did for the complaint helped me so much as Ayer's Sarsaparilla, a few bottles of which restored me to health and strength. I take every opportunity to recommend this medicine in similar cases."—C. E. Wick, 14 E. Main St., Chillicothe, Ohio.

FOR ERUPTIONS, Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

And all disorders originating in impurity of the blood, such as boils, carbuncles, pimples, blotches, salt-rheum, scurf, scrofulous sores, and the like, take only

DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass. One bottle, 25 cents. A six bottle, $1.50.

Provisions and Groceries.

JUST ARRIVED

ONE CAR OF FLOUR.

Choicest Brands, also in Stock, Choice

Family Groceries.

Teas, Coffees, Spices, Flavoring Extracts, Raisins, Currants, Citrus and Apples, Lamps, etc., all of which I will sell at bottom prices.

ALEX. MCKINNON.

Commercial Building, Water St. Dec. 2nd, 1890.

Z. TINGLEY, HAIRDRESSER, ETC.

HAS REMOVED

SHAVING PARLOR.

Person Building, Water Street, Chatham.

He will also keep a first-class stock of Cigars, Tobaccos, Pipes, and Smokers' Goods generally.

BUTTER & CHEESE.

IN STORE AND BOUGHT

1000 Tubs Butter.

1200 Boxes Cheese.

FOR SALE LOW BY—

C. M. BOSTWICK & CO.

ST. JOHN

WESTERN CANADA!

WHERE IS IT? WHAT IS IT? THE COLONIST DESCRIBES IT ALL.

A MONTHLY ILLUSTRATED MAGAZINE 82 PAGES. 25 SAMPLE COPIES 25 CENTS. TRIAL BARGAIN! HASTEN! SEND WRITING TODAY TO SEVENTY SEVEN SUBSCRIBER. Address—THE COLONIST, Winnipeg, Can.

GEO. W. CUTLER,

GENERAL INSURANCE AGENT FOR

FIRE, LIFE AND ACCIDENT COMPANIES.

REPRESENTING: Travelers' Life and Accident, of Hartford, Conn. Norwich Union, of England. Royal Canadian, of Montreal. London and Lancashire Life Assurance Company, of London. English and Montreal, of Montreal. OFFICE—CORNER STREET OPPOSITE E. A. STRANG CHATHAM, N. B.

ATTENTION!

Great Reduction in prices of Dry Goods & Groceries LOWER THAN EVER.

at F. W. RUSSELL'S BLACK BROOK

NEW GOODS.

Just arrived and on Sale at

FLANAGAN'S

Upper and East End Stores.

Dry Goods, Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishings, Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes &c. &c. Also a choice lot of GROCERIES & PROVISIONS. Best to sell Cheap for Cash.

ROGER FLANAGAN.

NOTICE.

Persons holding claims against the estate of the late Albert E. Flanagan are requested to file the same daily attended, with Mr. B. A. Lewis, attorney, Chatham, and all persons interested in the said estate are requested to make themselves known to said attorney.

MARY STUBBART, Dec. 11th, 1890.

TIN SHOP.

As I have now on hand a larger and better assortment of goods than ever before, comprising will invite those about to purchase, to call and inspect my buying where, as I can sell below former prices for cash.

Japanned, Stamped and Plain Tinware.

The Peerless Creamer, ROCHESTER LAMP, The Success OIL STOVE!

—Also a nice selection of Parlor and Cooking Stoves with PATENT TELESCOPIIC OVEN—The fitting of which can be taken out of cleaning thereby doing away with the other stoves.

A. C. McLean.