

A Cardinal Sin.

A man, unless he has very serious matters on his mind, cannot walk up and down in front of an attractive girl...

"You are happy; but I dare say you don't know your own happiness. You must be all alone in the world to realize what they are to you."

"Yes, but remember, when you have relatives you love, you have other people's troubles to bear."

"Bear them, and think yourself fortunate to have those who will help you in return."

"You are a happy man, and yet you do not seem to be so. You are not so satisfied with her as you are with your own company."

"There is no happier lot I can imagine," she continued with her eyes fixed on the sea...

"Your ideal is correct, but reality never comes up to it. There is always the disturbing element of marriages to be considered."

"I scarcely understand you."

"Well, as we are strangers, I may speak more plainly. Three years ago, my sister, the pet of the house, married in secret a man she had only known a few weeks—

"Is he poor or unworthy of her?"

"Both. Poverty would have mattered so much. We are rich, and my father could have provided for them."

"But she was not quite alone. By and by another woman, a lady's maid, probably, came to her. She was utterly undone by the sea; she looked as limp as an old kid glove—

"The young man was close by as she spoke, and he could not help the twinkle of merriment in his eyes as he looked at the poor, wretched, dishevelled maid, with the resolution of a martyr, proffering her assistance to her young mistress."

"The girl caught his eye—the absurdity of the situation must have struck her also. She turned her head away to conceal a smile which made her face look more attractive than ever."

"The young man was growing more and more interested. He was beginning to argue with himself, and carry conviction by his argument, that it would be but the act of a gentleman to ask her if he could do anything towards her comfort. But she was so happy and contented that his special pleading was futile."

"He was growing very curious as to his companion's station in life. 'Do you live in London?' he could not help asking."

"I have no home in England, I told you; but I suppose I shall be obliged to live in London the greater part of my time."

"He would have given much to have brought himself to the impertinence of asking her name, but he could not—he dared not. He could only declare to himself that she was the fairest woman he had ever seen."

"The passage, although above the average duration, seemed unusually short to him. At Newhaven he did what he could to be of use to her; but her requirements were very modest. She had a great deal of luggage, which was, of course, in the hold; he could carry her cloak and hand-bag ashore, and give a Samaritan's aid to her wretched maid—that was all. Then he saw her greet a middle-aged gentleman who awaited her arrival; he saw them enter the train together, but was not ill-bred enough to choose the same carriage. When they reached London he looked for them, but did not happen to see them. So he went away disconsolately, wondering if fate would ever bring them face to face again, and it need hardly be said, praying fate to be kind and obliging in the matter."

voice, "and a mother and sisters, perhaps?"

"You are happy; but I dare say you don't know your own happiness. You must be all alone in the world to realize what they are to you."

"Yes, but remember, when you have relatives you love, you have other people's troubles to bear."

"Bear them, and think yourself fortunate to have those who will help you in return."

"You are a happy man, and yet you do not seem to be so. You are not so satisfied with her as you are with your own company."

"There is no happier lot I can imagine," she continued with her eyes fixed on the sea...

"Your ideal is correct, but reality never comes up to it. There is always the disturbing element of marriages to be considered."

"I scarcely understand you."

"Well, as we are strangers, I may speak more plainly. Three years ago, my sister, the pet of the house, married in secret a man she had only known a few weeks—

"Is he poor or unworthy of her?"

"Both. Poverty would have mattered so much. We are rich, and my father could have provided for them."

"But she was not quite alone. By and by another woman, a lady's maid, probably, came to her. She was utterly undone by the sea; she looked as limp as an old kid glove—

"The young man was close by as she spoke, and he could not help the twinkle of merriment in his eyes as he looked at the poor, wretched, dishevelled maid, with the resolution of a martyr, proffering her assistance to her young mistress."

"The girl caught his eye—the absurdity of the situation must have struck her also. She turned her head away to conceal a smile which made her face look more attractive than ever."

"The young man was growing more and more interested. He was beginning to argue with himself, and carry conviction by his argument, that it would be but the act of a gentleman to ask her if he could do anything towards her comfort. But she was so happy and contented that his special pleading was futile."

"He was growing very curious as to his companion's station in life. 'Do you live in London?' he could not help asking."

"I have no home in England, I told you; but I suppose I shall be obliged to live in London the greater part of my time."

"He would have given much to have brought himself to the impertinence of asking her name, but he could not—he dared not. He could only declare to himself that she was the fairest woman he had ever seen."

"The passage, although above the average duration, seemed unusually short to him. At Newhaven he did what he could to be of use to her; but her requirements were very modest. She had a great deal of luggage, which was, of course, in the hold; he could carry her cloak and hand-bag ashore, and give a Samaritan's aid to her wretched maid—that was all. Then he saw her greet a middle-aged gentleman who awaited her arrival; he saw them enter the train together, but was not ill-bred enough to choose the same carriage. When they reached London he looked for them, but did not happen to see them. So he went away disconsolately, wondering if fate would ever bring them face to face again, and it need hardly be said, praying fate to be kind and obliging in the matter."

General News and Notes.

In a note to the Powers the Porte says Russia broke no treaty in the recent passage of one of her vessels through the Dardanelles.

At Bradford, Pa., a few evenings ago, Saddy Perry and Jas. Darling, while blasting stumps with dynamite, were instantly killed by a premature discharge of the explosive.

In our family faithful work has been done by Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry as a sure and quick cure for diarrhoea, dysentery and all summer complaints. I can recommend it to all as a family friend, always true and faithful.

The Chicago Exhibition Grounds and Buildings Committee have decided to advertise for the construction of a building to accommodate four saw-mill plants. The structure will be located south of the Agricultural Annex, on piles driven in what is now a natural lagoon. The building will be 130x200 feet and will cost $25,000.

Mrs. Geo. Rendle. Mrg. Geo. Rendle, of Galt, Ont., writes: "I can recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for it is a sure cure for all summer complaints. We are never without it in the house."

England and Germany, through their Government representatives, asked Director-General Davies, on Friday last, to give them 200,000 square feet of floor space for exhibits at the World's Fair.

Rev. Dr. Barnard, the celebrated divine of Saratoga, who helped to defame James Blaine by his "dem. Romanism and Rebellion" faux pas, died last Friday morning.

Dr. Kendrick's White Lignum cure and relieves Rheumatism. General Booth, of the Salvation Army, is meeting with great success in his Australian tour.

Six persons were killed and 20 injured by the explosion of a bomb at an Italian celebration at Newark, N. J., last Friday night.

A Wonderful Cough Remedy. This is the title given to Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil by many thousands who have taken it. It not only gives strength by virtue of its nutritious properties, but creates an appetite for food. Use it and try your weight.

Manchesters House, SPRING --- 1891. No more cheap tintypes, after Saturday, June 13th.

J. N. Gardner & Co., Wholesale Commission Dealers in Fresh Fish, Lobsters, Country Produce & NO. 16 T WHARF, BOSTON, MASS.

K. F. Burns & Co., Bathurst, N. B. Joseph Read & Co., Stonehaven, N. B.

STOP THAT CHRONIC COUGH NOW! For if you do not it may become a habit, and injure your system. It is caused by irritation of the throat and lungs. It is cured by Scott's Emulsion.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF PURE COD LIVER OIL AND HYPOPHOSPHITES OF LIME AND SODA. It is almost as palatable as milk. Far better than other so-called Emulsions. A wonderful flesh producer.

COFFINS & CASKETS. Rosewood Walnut, etc. Coffin Endings and Roles supplied at the very lowest rates.

GENERAL BUSINESS.

CASTORIA for Infants and Children.

Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any preparation known to me. H. A. CROSBY, M. D., 111 So. Ontario St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Miramichi Foundry and Machine Works, CHATHAM, MIRAMICHI, N. B.

Mallards Iron, Steam and Water Pipe, Ties, Bolts, Reducers, Union and other Couplings, Globe and Check Valves, Ball and Roller Bearings, Shafting, Pulleys, Fans, Blowers, and all other machinery and tools made and repaired.

General Iron and Brass Founders, Mill and Steamboat Builders. Manufacturers of Steam Engines and Boilers, Gang and Rotary Saw Mills, Gang Edgers, Shingle and Lath Machines, and Well-Robbing Machines for Horse and Steam Power.

Miramichi Advance.

Beginning with the issue of November 6th, 1890, when the ADVANCE entered upon its Seventeenth Year of Publication! The publisher made an important change in the terms on which the paper is furnished to subscribers. These include: 1st. Strict adherence to the system of cash in advance for all subscriptions.

One Dollar a Year!

It is to be particularly understood that all outstanding subscription accounts due after November 6th, 1890, are to be settled on the old terms, viz, $2 per year, the advertised credit rate.

WEEKLY TELEGRAPH OF ST JOHN AND THE FAMILY HERALD AND WEEKLY STAR of Montreal by which I will furnish either of those papers and the "ADVANCE" TOGETHER AT One Dollar and Sixty Cents a Year!

I have made the foregoing changes in the business of the ADVANCE for two reasons. The first is because many patrons who have been given credit, have abused the privilege to such an extent as to make the business of publishing the paper a non-paying one, and it is necessary, in my own interest and that of those who do pay, that I should no longer continue to furnish the ADVANCE to those non-paying subscribers.

The second reason is that I wish to meet the competition of the city weeklies, which are made up from the type of the dailies and, therefore, cost little for production in comparison with a local paper like the ADVANCE, the type of which must be set up especially for it.

Chatham Foundry

Iron and Brass Castings a specialty for Mills, Steamboats, Railways, etc. Slaves, Iron Milling, Plough and general Agricultural Castings. Babbits, Metal, etc. Machinery Made and Repaired with quick despatch.

GRAND DISPLAY of SPRING AND SUMMER DRY GOODS, Sutherland & Creaghan, Chatham.

Men's Clothing, Hats, Collars, Braces, Silk Handkerchiefs, Scarfs, Rubber Coats, & Sutherland & Creaghan, DIRECT IMPORTERS.

Legal Notices.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

To be sold at Public Auction, on Thursday, the 17th day of December, next, in front of the Court Office, in Newcastle, between the hours of 12 noon and 4 o'clock, p. m. All the right, title and interest of John Saller in and to the following lands, to-wit:—

Also, all the right, title and interest of John Saller in and to the following lands, to-wit:—

Also, all the right, title and interest of John Saller in and to the following lands, to-wit:—

Also, all the right, title and interest of John Saller in and to the following lands, to-wit:—

Also, all the right, title and interest of John Saller in and to the following lands, to-wit:—

Also, all the right, title and interest of John Saller in and to the following lands, to-wit:—

Also, all the right, title and interest of John Saller in and to the following lands, to-wit:—

Also, all the right, title and interest of John Saller in and to the following lands, to-wit:—

Also, all the right, title and interest of John Saller in and to the following lands, to-wit:—

SHERIFF'S SALE.

To be sold at Public Auction, on Thursday, the 23rd day of July, 1891, in front of the Court Office, in Newcastle, between the hours of 12 noon and 4 o'clock, p. m. All the right, title and interest of John Saller in and to the following lands, to-wit:—

Also, all the right, title and interest of John Saller in and to the following lands, to-wit:—

Also, all the right, title and interest of John Saller in and to the following lands, to-wit:—

Also, all the right, title and interest of John Saller in and to the following lands, to-wit:—

Also, all the right, title and interest of John Saller in and to the following lands, to-wit:—

Also, all the right, title and interest of John Saller in and to the following lands, to-wit:—

Also, all the right, title and interest of John Saller in and to the following lands, to-wit:—

Also, all the right, title and interest of John Saller in and to the following lands, to-wit:—

Also, all the right, title and interest of John Saller in and to the following lands, to-wit:—

Also, all the right, title and interest of John Saller in and to the following lands, to-wit:—

SHERIFF'S SALE.

To be sold at Public Auction, on Thursday, the 23rd day of July, 1891, in front of the Court Office, in Newcastle, between the hours of 12 noon and 4 o'clock, p. m. All the right, title and interest of John Saller in and to the following lands, to-wit:—

SHERIFF'S SALE.

To be sold at Public Auction, on Thursday, the 23rd day of July, 1891, in front of the Court Office, in Newcastle, between the hours of 12 noon and 4 o'clock, p. m. All the right, title and interest of John Saller in and to the following lands, to-wit:—

GENERAL BUSINESS.

CANADA'S INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION, OPENS SEPT. 23. CLOSES OCT. 2ND.

Industrial and Agricultural Fair, ST. JOHN, N. B. September 23rd, to October 2nd, 1891. COMPETITION OPEN TO THE WORLD. SPACE AND POWER FREE.

The largest array of Special Attractions ever collected together in the Maritime Provinces. Balloon Ascensions with Parachute Drops, Splendid Firework Displays. Electrical and Mechanical Novelties in great variety.

Mammoth Concerts with up to 250 voices. One of the best Minstrel Troupes on the Continent. LIVE ROOSTER ORCHESTRA (DAILY). "LINUS." A SALLION WITH MANE 14 FEET AND TAIL 12 FEET LONG.

Promenade Concerts, daily (two military and four additional bands, already engaged). Magical, Conjuring and Punch & Judy shows (daily). Trained Dogs, Birds &c. Numerous variety entertainments of novel character.