"Gleaner" Hysterics.

The Gleaner is out against the ADVANCE and its editor in most excited fashion, and accuses both of about all the outrageous things a public journal or journalist can be guilty of. The reason is because we have expressed a preference for the election of Mr. Legere in the pending Kent election, just as the Gleaner has for that of Mr. Gogain. It does not follow that capital. our mos ves for having and expressing our prefere ca merit execuation any more than those of he papers which take an opposite view in this matter, and when the Genner's slearned better manners than it see as to be acquainted with just now, it wil re dise that its present uncultivated and hysterical ravings on the subject are only calculated to invite piry and regret that Fre lericton should have no better exponent of the culture and tastes of its people in its only daily paper.

The Gleaner's references to a business change which the editor of the ADVANCE has under consideration is in wretchedly bad form and quite unwarrantable, as is also its intimation that this paper moribund. It may not be welcome news to the Gleane; but we be; to assure it that the ADVANCE was never in a better position, or had better prospects of a long and useful life than it has at present. and however much any proposed extension of its editor's usefulness or influence may disturb the equanimity or excite the vulgarity of the Gleaner, the ADVANCE will continue to assist its friends in Kent or anywhere else whenever such assistance is agreeable to them. If the Gleaner would only do likewise, and refrain from impertinently interfering with the liberty of other papers, it would not occupy the contemptible position it does to-day in the County of York.

About Crops.

Dublin, Sept. 5.—The Freeman's Journal to-day says the wheat crops in some of the western districts of Ireland are, owing to recent rainy weather, "only fit for litter." Potatoes are getting black and the blight is general. Barley and

OTTAWA, Sept. 5. - Minister of Agriculture Carling stated to-day that, basing his estimate upon the latest telegraphic reports of the government's agents, the Province of Manitoba would have twenty million bushels of wheat for export, onethird of which has been affected more or less by frost slightly shriveling it, although n t destroying the germ, which will render it good for seed, while its value for market porposes has been affected from the fact that, being slightly shrivelled, it would be thrown out o grade. The grain crop of the Northwest Territories has not been affected by frost They will have about five million bushels for export. Five-sixths of the total crop

How do Thow Like It?

The Moneton Tines' reputation for in decency in its treatment of political opponents is well known. In its reference to a meeting held at Weldford in the interest of opening remarks paid a high tribute to Hon. the opposition can lidate, Mr. Gogain, it says what is found in the left hand column provincial Premier who had ever considered below, and to square the matter and put that Kent county was worthy of an official truth against fiction we fill the right hand

The Times and the other opposition forces can make little out of the whiskey cry. Their reputation in that line is too well established. Why do they not let such matters alone and fight the campaign in a sober and respectable way?

O, ye Tears !

The Moncton Times is still in a tearful mood over the Belledune farce. It says the candidate, Mr. J. A. McQueen, M. P. P. for that a murder was not committed. The Westmorland, Mr. C. J. The fact that the young men, who it endeavored to make the public believe were fiendish assassins, were only found to have indulged in a kind of little yellow valise hilarity, almost breaks the Times' heart, and it wails as follows :-

Where is Williams? Is there any credible evidence that he was ever seen after that Mr. Goguen, posing as an independent can- gratulate themselves that he, a foreigner under the British flig, was duly protected by that flag? Shame to us if it was not so. Was it so? And if not so, why? Where is

We once heard of a dipsomaniac who had assisted a companion to exhaust the fluid contents of a bottle labelled "Henessey,"the companion having thrown the bottle out of an open window after its "usefulness was gone."
