

Miramichi and the North Shore, etc.

A PHONOGRAPH CONCERT is to be given in Masonic Hall this Thursday evening.

MOURNING.—The Canada Lumbermen says that Geo. Cassidy & Co., of Vancouver have received a shipment of about 25,000 ft. of redwood of which they will make moldings.

THE YOUNG MEN.—At the political meeting in Bouchette a few nights ago Attorney General Blair pointed to Messrs. Laflotte, McQueen and Legere who were on the platform behind him and called attention to the way in which the young men were supporting him.

NORMAL SCHOOL.—The result of the written examinations for Normal school shows that out of 217 who underwent the examination only 16 failed.

SPORTS.—Two ship-captains of sporting prowess—an Italian and an Austrian—were looking for game a mile or two from Chatham the other day, and a lady who was getting over a fence occupied of a lad who they were what they were doing.

A PECULIAR ACCIDENT happened at the covered bridge on the Nashwaak a few days since. It appears that two men, Bennett and Fraser, were cutting wood, when Bennett's axe glanced, striking Fraser on the throat under the chin, inflicting an ugly wound.

SHINGLES.—One of the most lively industries in the vicinity of Fredericton is the lumber business at Morrison's mills.

MORNING'S STREETS.—Mrs. George Wilson, of Berry's Mills who is in the city met with a painful accident last night. She was walking along Main street near the I. C. R. offices when she tripped on a spike which was sticking up from a plank, fell forward, falling heavily on another spike which penetrated her hand from the palm to the back, making a ragged and painful wound.

A MODEL ENGINE.—That exhibited by Mr. Joseph H. Rudlock of Chatham, at the St. John Exhibition last fall—was sold, last week to Mr. Fredk. Richardson of Deer Island, Bay of Fundy, who is to put it into a steamer which he will run in connection with his business there.

MONTEON Y. M. C. A.—The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. was held last night.

THE PEOPLE OF KENT are experiencing an election of more than ordinary interest.

ON FRIDAY the 13th at Bathurst to-day, there is an excellent programme.

ON FRIDAY the 13th at Bathurst to-day, there is an excellent programme.

ON FRIDAY the 13th at Bathurst to-day, there is an excellent programme.

ON FRIDAY the 13th at Bathurst to-day, there is an excellent programme.

ON FRIDAY the 13th at Bathurst to-day, there is an excellent programme.

ON FRIDAY the 13th at Bathurst to-day, there is an excellent programme.

ON FRIDAY the 13th at Bathurst to-day, there is an excellent programme.

ON FRIDAY the 13th at Bathurst to-day, there is an excellent programme.

ON FRIDAY the 13th at Bathurst to-day, there is an excellent programme.

ON FRIDAY the 13th at Bathurst to-day, there is an excellent programme.

ON FRIDAY the 13th at Bathurst to-day, there is an excellent programme.

ON FRIDAY the 13th at Bathurst to-day, there is an excellent programme.

ON FRIDAY the 13th at Bathurst to-day, there is an excellent programme.

ON FRIDAY the 13th at Bathurst to-day, there is an excellent programme.

was advised to get a search warrant and did so, the document being issued by Police Justice Niven, of Newcastle and placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Irvine, who accompanied by policeman Ellis, proceeded to the house of Wm. Brown, Jr., senior, Napan, where they found three pairs of pants, a coat and a vest. Brown stated that John Cable had sold him the pants for one dollar a pair and that Jack Brown had traded off an old coat and vest for the new coat and vest, giving a receipt to both. The same day, Irvine obtained a warrant to search the house of Wm. Brown, Jr., and John Cable, in Nelson, where he found quite a variety of goods—some of which were not Miss Monaghan's, but were found to have been stolen from the store of Charles Sargent, Esq., Upper Chatham. Irvine arrested Wm. Brown, Jr., and John Cable and took them to jail. When he went to Brown's to make the arrest he discovered that the man who was in the house, on being asked by him who he was, said he was trying to find some of his stray chickens.

The Sargent store was robbed in June last. It seems that Patrick O'Hearn, Samuel Cable, John Blakely and others had bought some of the stolen goods from the accused.

At the preliminary hearing before Justice Niven, Brown and Cable elected to be tried before Hon. Mr. Justice Wilkinson under the Speedy Trials Act, and the case will come on Monday at Newcastle Court House.

Circuit Court.—The Northumberland Circuit Court, His Honor, Mr. Justice Fraser, presiding, met at Newcastle, on Tuesday. The following grand jurors were sworn:—

John D. Creighton, foreman, Wm. Terry, John H. Cable, John H. Cable, in Nelson, where he found quite a variety of goods—some of which were not Miss Monaghan's, but were found to have been stolen from the store of Charles Sargent, Esq., Upper Chatham. Irvine arrested Wm. Brown, Jr., and John Cable and took them to jail.

At the afternoon session of the first case on the docket was called, but as Mr. Gregory, who was associated with counsel for the defence, was unavoidably detained, the court was further adjourned until Wednesday morning.

Young Men's Christian Association of Chatham.—Meetings held every week in their rooms, two-upstairs, Barry's Building, as follows:—

Monday evening at 8 o'clock, for Prayer and Praise. Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, for Training Class.

All young men are most cordially invited to any or all of these meetings.

St. Luke's Excursion.—Between six and seven hundred excursionists went from Chatham and Newcastle and intermediate points to Fredericton and returned on Tuesday. The run both ways was made in good time. There was a stay of four hours in Fredericton, which was spent by the excursionists in visiting points of interest in and about the political capital, many visiting friends there and all appearing to enjoy the occasion very much.

Three of the rowdy class who happened to slip in amongst the rest, made some disturbances and assaulted some of their fellow excursionists on the return trip. They were soon brought under discipline, however, although not adequately punished for their blackguardism. Few persons in the party were aware at the time of the disturbance made, and the excursion was so the car accommodation of the road thoroughly.

The local papers have been referring to encounters that were prevented between the Scott Act Inspector and a Chatham carriage maker, in such a way as to lead the public to enquire as to the cause and circumstances of these disturbances.

The carriage-maker in question is Mr. Alex. Robinson of Chatham, and the Inspector is Mr. W. S. Brown. Mr. Robinson is not over-pleased with the notoriety the paragraphs referred to have given him, as he claims to mind his own business and leave it to others to mind theirs. It happened however, that he was summoned by the sheriff for grand jury duty at the last session of the County court and that boy having found a true bill against Inspector Brown in the Hayes liquor case, the Inspector seemed to think a wrong had been done to him by the members of the jury who favored that finding. Mr. Robinson says that Mr. Brown charged him on the street in Newcastle with having, as a grand jurymen, endeavored to send him to jail, with having been anxious to get a summons from the sheriff as a grand jurymen and also with having perjured himself.

At the time these offensive things were said to Mr. Robinson by Mr. Brown the former had a horse which he was holding in order to keep it from running away, and Brown intimated that if Robinson would not prosecute him he Brown would threaten Robinson. The latter intimated that there would be no law in case Brown would attempt to carry his threat into effect and that he, Robinson, would in that case, even risk the horse for the sake of punishing him as he deserved. Mr. Brown however, did not seem to be rather formidable at his own occasion and the matter ended for that day.

Soon after, Mr. Robinson, while in the express office, Chatham, saw Mr. Brown near Pallen's corner and the sheriff being near, Robinson brought up the subject of his summons to serve on the grand jury, and the sheriff said to Mr. Brown that not only had Mr. Robinson not made any effort to get on the grand jury but he had endeavored to induce him, the sheriff, not to summon him. Mr. Robinson says Brown was still as insolent and abusive as before, and that but for the sheriff preventing it he would have punished him for his insults. He regrets that the papers have referred to the subject but thinks the conduct of the Inspector should be properly understood, as he is a County officer and should not insult citizens whose only offence is the conscientious discharge of duties required of them as such.

An Exposure.—The Advocate appears to be one of the most indiscreet papers in existence, the lessons of experience being wasted upon it. Because the ADVANCE is giving the news in reference to the Kent election and favoring the Democratic candidate, that paper explains the fact by saying:—

"The ADVANCE has joined in the crusade and its editor (who has been hired by Mr. Blair to do his dirty work for him) is now engaged in striving to hoodwink the electors of Kent into voting for the government candidate. But his efforts will be in vain, his endorsement of any man or party or principle only tends to render others more suspicious of him, as they know that no matter how disreputable a cause he is but paid enough to support it."

By generally the ADVANCE has consistently supported the Blair government, from its formation up to the present time, there is nothing unusual in its doing so in the contest now going on in Kent. It is only one of the calibre of Mr. Phinney, M. P. P. and those controlling the Advocate who would seek to commend their cause by attributing to us the motives they do in the matter. As to the endorsement of the editor of this paper, we have generally been successful, and when given is not a purchasable commodity. On the other hand, we have positive proof—and are prepared to produce it,—that the editorial columns of the Advocate have been sold for money to promote the election of a certain man—a thing which we do not think can be truthfully said of any other paper in New Brunswick.

When Mr. Anslow was willing to take money for his editorial columns at a certain rate, we were astonished. Having the proof of the fact we are not, however, surprised that the Advocate imagines other publishers as venal and ready to prostitute their papers as he is. We do not state this fact willingly, and would never have referred to it, but for the Advocate and Mr. Phinney's characteristic assertion about the motives of the ADVANCE for supporting Mr. Legere in the coming Kent election. The ADVANCE is a self-respecting paper, and its greatest regret is that it is obliged to take any notice of a journal which it knows to have resorted to the contemptible way of obtaining money to which we refer. It is, however, a worthy champion of Mr. J. D. Phinney, who confessed in his place in the Legislature that he voted against his former express conviction because he had received instructions to do so from a gentleman who was known to be a paying client of his.

Juvvenile Thieves.—Three juvenile thieves, named Wilcox, Walsh and McMillan, stole three Sunday school contributions from St. Luke's church last week, the contents of which were some seven or eight dollars. They patronised a number of stores and feasted for a while, but were, at last, caught and put in the lockup, from which they were after a time liberated, the magistrate believing it might make them morally worse to send them to jail or to the penitentiary. The subject of the punishment and care of such offenders was referred to in the Circuit Court on Tuesday and is worthy of general attention.

Boys and Guns.—Clair Jardine and his little brother, Jack—both keen sportsmen, but rather young to be trusted with firearms—were gunning on the marsh above Newcastle, last Saturday, when Clair, who was custodian of the gun, fired at a marsh hen and shot Jack. Clair says that just as he fired at the hen Jack stepped in front of the gun, only about ten feet from the muzzle. The weapon was a small caliber, and the charge not a heavy one, but it penetrated Jack's right eye, and towards the back at the lower rib and went out of sight, and beyond reach of probe through some parts of his internal economy. Dr. Paulin, who was summoned, met some boys carrying Jack to town, and after taking him home—to the Waverly Hotel—rendered proper aid. Our reporter visited the young lad on Tuesday, and he appeared to be taking the matter philosophically and perfectly happy. He will pull through, all right. Clair says the marsh hen was a narrow escape and that he isn't going gunning again for several days. In fact there is a perceptible diminution of juvenile sportsmen on the Newcastle marsh since the event.

The Taylor Picnic and Excursion.—The picnic, excursion and dance at Taylor's, Bay In, on Tuesday, is reported as being the pugilist world's grand wild fight. Everything went well until some of the dancers claimed that favoritism was being shown in the matter of the charge made for dancing, the dissatisfaction culminating at 11.30 in a general row, which, if charged was commenced by Mr. Taylor striking one of his patrons on the head with a bill of wood. The girls who were present will pull through, all right. Clair says the marsh hen was a narrow escape and that he isn't going gunning again for several days.

Richibucto Rhyme.—"It will crush Mr. Phinney, A Phinneyite cried— He'll Legere should 'bance to get in; He'll Legere should 'bance to get in; And it's plain as can be 'T would be a deplorable sin."

One of the "Whoppers"!—The local opposition organ at Fredericton appears to devote itself largely to the publication of all the unfounded "rumors" that the peculiar characters who furnish its political matter are capable of making. In the hope, no doubt, that some of them will be believed. Here is one of them:—

An interesting rumor has been passing from lip to lip within the past few weeks which shows a want of harmony between the government and the members of the cabinet and the matter ended for that day.

Soon after, Mr. Robinson, while in the express office, Chatham, saw Mr. Brown near Pallen's corner and the sheriff being near, Robinson brought up the subject of his summons to serve on the grand jury, and the sheriff said to Mr. Brown that not only had Mr. Robinson not made any effort to get on the grand jury but he had endeavored to induce him, the sheriff, not to summon him.

Mr. Robinson says Brown was still as insolent and abusive as before, and that but for the sheriff preventing it he would have punished him for his insults. He regrets that the papers have referred to the subject but thinks the conduct of the Inspector should be properly understood, as he is a County officer and should not insult citizens whose only offence is the conscientious discharge of duties required of them as such.

An Exposure.—The Advocate appears to be one of the most indiscreet papers in existence, the lessons of experience being wasted upon it. Because the ADVANCE is giving the news in reference to the Kent election and favoring the Democratic candidate, that paper explains the fact by saying:—

"The ADVANCE has joined in the crusade and its editor (who has been hired by Mr. Blair to do his dirty work for him) is now engaged in striving to hoodwink the electors of Kent into voting for the government candidate. But his efforts will be in vain, his endorsement of any man or party or principle only tends to render others more suspicious of him, as they know that no matter how disreputable a cause he is but paid enough to support it."

By generally the ADVANCE has consistently supported the Blair government, from its formation up to the present time, there is nothing unusual in its doing so in the contest now going on in Kent. It is only one of the calibre of Mr. Phinney, M. P. P. and those controlling the Advocate who would seek to commend their cause by attributing to us the motives they do in the matter. As to the endorsement of the editor of this paper, we have generally been successful, and when given is not a purchasable commodity. On the other hand, we have positive proof—and are prepared to produce it,—that the editorial columns of the Advocate have been sold for money to promote the election of a certain man—a thing which we do not think can be truthfully said of any other paper in New Brunswick.

When Mr. Anslow was willing to take money for his editorial columns at a certain rate, we were astonished. Having the proof of the fact we are not, however, surprised that the Advocate imagines other publishers as venal and ready to prostitute their papers as he is. We do not state this fact willingly, and would never have referred to it, but for the Advocate and Mr. Phinney's characteristic assertion about the motives of the ADVANCE for supporting Mr. Legere in the coming Kent election. The ADVANCE is a self-respecting paper, and its greatest regret is that it is obliged to take any notice of a journal which it knows to have resorted to the contemptible way of obtaining money to which we refer. It is, however, a worthy champion of Mr. J. D. Phinney, who confessed in his place in the Legislature that he voted against his former express conviction because he had received instructions to do so from a gentleman who was known to be a paying client of his.

Juvvenile Thieves.—Three juvenile thieves, named Wilcox, Walsh and McMillan, stole three Sunday school contributions from St. Luke's church last week, the contents of which were some seven or eight dollars. They patronised a number of stores and feasted for a while, but were, at last, caught and put in the lockup, from which they were after a time liberated, the magistrate believing it might make them morally worse to send them to jail or to the penitentiary.

The subject of the punishment and care of such offenders was referred to in the Circuit Court on Tuesday and is worthy of general attention.

Boys and Guns.—Clair Jardine and his little brother, Jack—both keen sportsmen, but rather young to be trusted with firearms—were gunning on the marsh above Newcastle, last Saturday, when Clair, who was custodian of the gun, fired at a marsh hen and shot Jack. Clair says that just as he fired at the hen Jack stepped in front of the gun, only about ten feet from the muzzle.

The weapon was a small caliber, and the charge not a heavy one, but it penetrated Jack's right eye, and towards the back at the lower rib and went out of sight, and beyond reach of probe through some parts of his internal economy. Dr. Paulin, who was summoned, met some boys carrying Jack to town, and after taking him home—to the Waverly Hotel—rendered proper aid.

Our reporter visited the young lad on Tuesday, and he appeared to be taking the matter philosophically and perfectly happy. He will pull through, all right. Clair says the marsh hen was a narrow escape and that he isn't going gunning again for several days.

The Taylor Picnic and Excursion.—The picnic, excursion and dance at Taylor's, Bay In, on Tuesday, is reported as being the pugilist world's grand wild fight. Everything went well until some of the dancers claimed that favoritism was being shown in the matter of the charge made for dancing, the dissatisfaction culminating at 11.30 in a general row, which, if charged was commenced by Mr. Taylor striking one of his patrons on the head with a bill of wood.

The girls who were present will pull through, all right. Clair says the marsh hen was a narrow escape and that he isn't going gunning again for several days.

Richibucto Rhyme.—"It will crush Mr. Phinney, A Phinneyite cried— He'll Legere should 'bance to get in; He'll Legere should 'bance to get in; And it's plain as can be 'T would be a deplorable sin."

One of the "Whoppers"!—The local opposition organ at Fredericton appears to devote itself largely to the publication of all the unfounded "rumors" that the peculiar characters who furnish its political matter are capable of making. In the hope, no doubt, that some of them will be believed. Here is one of them:—

An interesting rumor has been passing from lip to lip within the past few weeks which shows a want of harmony between the government and the members of the cabinet and the matter ended for that day.

Soon after, Mr. Robinson, while in the express office, Chatham, saw Mr. Brown near Pallen's corner and the sheriff being near, Robinson brought up the subject of his summons to serve on the grand jury, and the sheriff said to Mr. Brown that not only had Mr. Robinson not made any effort to get on the grand jury but he had endeavored to induce him, the sheriff, not to summon him.

Mr. Robinson says Brown was still as insolent and abusive as before, and that but for the sheriff preventing it he would have punished him for his insults. He regrets that the papers have referred to the subject but thinks the conduct of the Inspector should be properly understood, as he is a County officer and should not insult citizens whose only offence is the conscientious discharge of duties required of them as such.

was advised to get a search warrant and did so, the document being issued by Police Justice Niven, of Newcastle and placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Irvine, who accompanied by policeman Ellis, proceeded to the house of Wm. Brown, Jr., senior, Napan, where they found three pairs of pants, a coat and a vest. Brown stated that John Cable had sold him the pants for one dollar a pair and that Jack Brown had traded off an old coat and vest for the new coat and vest, giving a receipt to both. The same day, Irvine obtained a warrant to search the house of Wm. Brown, Jr., and John Cable, in Nelson, where he found quite a variety of goods—some of which were not Miss Monaghan's, but were found to have been stolen from the store of Charles Sargent, Esq., Upper Chatham. Irvine arrested Wm. Brown, Jr., and John Cable and took them to jail.

At the preliminary hearing before Justice Niven, Brown and Cable elected to be tried before Hon. Mr. Justice Wilkinson under the Speedy Trials Act, and the case will come on Monday at Newcastle Court House.

Circuit Court.—The Northumberland Circuit Court, His Honor, Mr. Justice Fraser, presiding, met at Newcastle, on Tuesday. The following grand jurors were sworn:—

John D. Creighton, foreman, Wm. Terry, John H. Cable, John H. Cable, in Nelson, where he found quite a variety of goods—some of which were not Miss Monaghan's, but were found to have been stolen from the store of Charles Sargent, Esq., Upper Chatham. Irvine arrested Wm. Brown, Jr., and John Cable and took them to jail.

At the afternoon session of the first case on the docket was called, but as Mr. Gregory, who was associated with counsel for the defence, was unavoidably detained, the court was further adjourned until Wednesday morning.

Young Men's Christian Association of Chatham.—Meetings held every week in their rooms, two-upstairs, Barry's Building, as follows:—

Monday evening at 8 o'clock, for Prayer and Praise. Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, for Training Class.

All young men are most cordially invited to any or all of these meetings.

St. Luke's Excursion.—Between six and seven hundred excursionists went from Chatham and Newcastle and intermediate points to Fredericton and returned on Tuesday. The run both ways was made in good time. There was a stay of four hours in Fredericton, which was spent by the excursionists in visiting points of interest in and about the political capital, many visiting friends there and all appearing to enjoy the occasion very much.

Three of the rowdy class who happened to slip in amongst the rest, made some disturbances and assaulted some of their fellow excursionists on the return trip. They were soon brought under discipline, however, although not adequately punished for their blackguardism. Few persons in the party were aware at the time of the disturbance made, and the excursion was so the car accommodation of the road thoroughly.

The local papers have been referring to encounters that were prevented between the Scott Act Inspector and a Chatham carriage maker, in such a way as to lead the public to enquire as to the cause and circumstances of these disturbances.

The carriage-maker in question is Mr. Alex. Robinson of Chatham, and the Inspector is Mr. W. S. Brown. Mr. Robinson is not over-pleased with the notoriety the paragraphs referred to have given him, as he claims to mind his own business and leave it to others to mind theirs. It happened however, that he was summoned by the sheriff for grand jury duty at the last session of the County court and that boy having found a true bill against Inspector Brown in the Hayes liquor case, the Inspector seemed to think a wrong had been done to him by the members of the jury who favored that finding. Mr. Robinson says that Mr. Brown charged him on the street in Newcastle with having, as a grand jurymen, endeavored to send him to jail, with having been anxious to get a summons from the sheriff as a grand jurymen and also with having perjured himself.

At the time these offensive things were said to Mr. Robinson by Mr. Brown the former had a horse which he was holding in order to keep it from running away, and Brown intimated that if Robinson would not prosecute him he Brown would threaten Robinson. The latter intimated that there would be no law in case Brown would attempt to carry his threat into effect and that he, Robinson, would in that case, even risk the horse for the sake of punishing him as he deserved. Mr. Brown however, did not seem to be rather formidable at his own occasion and the matter ended for that day.

Soon after, Mr. Robinson, while in the express office, Chatham, saw Mr. Brown near Pallen's corner and the sheriff being near, Robinson brought up the subject of his summons to serve on the grand jury, and the sheriff said to Mr. Brown that not only had Mr. Robinson not made any effort to get on the grand jury but he had endeavored to induce him, the sheriff, not to summon him.

Mr. Robinson says Brown was still as insolent and abusive as before, and that but for the sheriff preventing it he would have punished him for his insults. He regrets that the papers have referred to the subject but thinks the conduct of the Inspector should be properly understood, as he is a County officer and should not insult citizens whose only offence is the conscientious discharge of duties required of them as such.

An Exposure.—The Advocate appears to be one of the most indiscreet papers in existence, the lessons of experience being wasted upon it. Because the ADVANCE is giving the news in reference to the Kent election and favoring the Democratic candidate, that paper explains the fact by saying:—

"The ADVANCE has joined in the crusade and its editor (who has been hired by Mr. Blair to do his dirty work for him) is now engaged in striving to hoodwink the electors of Kent into voting for the government candidate. But his efforts will be in vain, his endorsement of any man or party or principle only tends to render others more suspicious of him, as they know that no matter how disreputable a cause he is but paid enough to support it."

By generally the ADVANCE has consistently supported the Blair government, from its formation up to the present time, there is nothing unusual in its doing so in the contest now going on in Kent. It is only one of the calibre of Mr. Phinney, M. P. P. and those controlling the Advocate who would seek to commend their cause by attributing to us the motives they do in the matter. As to the endorsement of the editor of this paper, we have generally been successful, and when given is not a purchasable commodity. On the other hand, we have positive proof—and are prepared to produce it,—that the editorial columns of the Advocate have been sold for money to promote the election of a certain man—a thing which we do not think can be truthfully said of any other paper in New Brunswick.

When Mr. Anslow was willing to take money for his editorial columns at a certain rate, we were astonished. Having the proof of the fact we are not, however, surprised that the Advocate imagines other publishers as venal and ready to prostitute their papers as he is. We do not state this fact willingly, and would never have referred to it, but for the Advocate and Mr. Phinney's characteristic assertion about the motives of the ADVANCE for supporting Mr. Legere in the coming Kent election. The ADVANCE is a self-respecting paper, and its greatest regret is that it is obliged to take any notice of a journal which it knows to have resorted to the contemptible way of obtaining money to which we refer. It is, however, a worthy champion of Mr. J. D. Phinney, who confessed in his place in the Legislature that he voted against his former express conviction because he had received instructions to do so from a gentleman who was known to be a paying client of his.

Juvvenile Thieves.—Three juvenile thieves, named Wilcox, Walsh and McMillan, stole three Sunday school contributions from St. Luke's church last week, the contents of which were some seven or eight dollars. They patronised a number of stores and feasted for a while, but were, at last, caught and put in the lockup, from which they were after a time liberated, the magistrate believing it might make them morally worse to send them to jail or to the penitentiary.

The subject of the punishment and care of such offenders was referred to in the Circuit Court on Tuesday and is worthy of general attention.

Boys and Guns.—Clair Jardine and his little brother, Jack—both keen sportsmen, but rather young to be trusted with firearms—were gunning on the marsh above Newcastle, last Saturday, when Clair, who was custodian of the gun, fired at a marsh hen and shot Jack. Clair says that just as he fired at the hen Jack stepped in front of the gun, only about ten feet from the muzzle.

The weapon was a small caliber, and the charge not a heavy one, but it penetrated Jack's right eye, and towards the back at the lower rib and went out of sight, and beyond reach of probe through some parts of his internal economy. Dr. Paulin, who was summoned, met some boys carrying Jack to town, and after taking him home—to the Waverly Hotel—rendered proper aid.

Our reporter visited the young lad on Tuesday, and he appeared to be taking the matter philosophically and perfectly happy. He will pull through, all right. Clair says the marsh hen was a narrow escape and that he isn't going gunning again for several days.

Advertisement for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, dated Nov 17 1890. The advertisement includes a testimonial from a man who was cured of a long illness by the pills. The text describes the symptoms he suffered from, such as weakness, loss of appetite, and general debility, and how the pills restored his health. The advertisement also mentions that the pills are sold by druggists and are available in various sizes and quantities.

THE HAMILTON MIRACLE.

The Case Investigated by a Globe Reporter. THE FACTS FULLY VERIFIED. One of the Most Remarkable Cases on Record.

A MAN PROUDLY BY EMINENT PHYSICIANS AS A CASE OF COMPLETELY DISABLED FULLY RECOVERED—FAMOUS FOR THE CURE OF HIS OWN PAID BY ROYAL TEMPLARS OF TEMPERANCE FOR TOTAL DISABILITY—HUNDREDS OF VISITORS.

TORONTO DAILY GLOBE, July 25.—This is an age of doubt, especially in regard to cures by patent medicines, and not without reason for too often have the sick and their near and dear loved ones been deceived by highly recommended nostrums that were swallowed by a little, but were, at last, caught and put in the lockup, from which they were after a time liberated, the magistrate believing it might make them morally worse to send them to jail or to the penitentiary.

The subject of the punishment and care of such offenders was referred to in the Circuit Court on Tuesday and is worthy of general attention.

Boys and Guns.—Clair Jardine and his little brother, Jack—both keen sportsmen, but rather young to be trusted with firearms—were gunning on the marsh above Newcastle, last Saturday, when Clair, who was custodian of the gun, fired at a marsh hen and shot Jack. Clair says that just as he fired at the hen Jack stepped in front of the gun, only about ten feet from the muzzle.

The weapon was a small caliber, and the charge not a heavy one, but it penetrated Jack's right eye, and towards the back at the lower rib and went out of sight, and beyond reach of probe through some parts of his internal economy. Dr. Paulin, who was summoned, met some boys carrying Jack to town, and after taking him home—to the Waverly Hotel—rendered proper aid.

Our reporter visited the young lad on Tuesday, and he appeared to be taking the matter philosophically and perfectly happy. He will pull through, all right. Clair says the marsh hen was a narrow escape and that he isn't going gunning again for several days.

The Taylor Picnic and Excursion.—The picnic, excursion and dance at Taylor's, Bay In, on Tuesday, is reported as being the pugilist world's grand wild fight. Everything went well until some of the dancers claimed that favoritism was being shown in the matter of the charge made for dancing, the dissatisfaction culminating at 11.30 in a general row, which, if charged was commenced by Mr. Taylor striking one of his patrons on the head with a bill of wood.

The girls who were present will pull through, all right. Clair says the marsh hen was a narrow escape and that he isn't going gunning again for several days.

Richibucto Rhyme.—"It will crush Mr. Phinney, A Phinneyite cried— He'll Legere should 'bance to get in; He'll Legere should 'bance to get in; And it's plain as can be 'T would be a deplorable sin."

One of the "Whoppers"!—The local opposition organ at Fredericton appears to devote itself largely to the publication of all the unfounded "rumors" that the peculiar characters who furnish its political matter are capable of making. In the hope, no doubt, that some of them will be believed. Here is one of them:—

An interesting rumor has been passing from lip to lip within the past few weeks which shows a want of harmony between the government and the members of the cabinet and the matter ended for that day.

Soon after, Mr. Robinson, while in the express office, Chatham, saw Mr. Brown near Pallen's corner and the sheriff being near, Robinson brought up the subject of his summons to serve on the grand jury, and the sheriff said to Mr. Brown that not only had Mr. Robinson not made any effort to get on the grand jury but he had endeavored to induce him, the sheriff, not to summon him.

Mr. Robinson says Brown was still as insolent and abusive as before, and that but for the sheriff preventing it he would have punished him for his insults. He regrets that the papers have referred to the subject but thinks the conduct of the Inspector should be properly understood, as he is a County officer and should not insult citizens whose only offence is the conscientious discharge of duties required of them as such.

An Exposure.—The Advocate appears to be one of the most indiscreet papers in existence, the lessons of experience being wasted upon it. Because the ADVANCE is giving the news in reference to the Kent election and favoring the Democratic candidate, that paper explains the fact by saying:—

"The ADVANCE has joined in the crusade and its editor (who has been hired by Mr. Blair to do his dirty work for him) is now engaged in striving to hoodwink the electors of Kent into voting for the government candidate. But his efforts will be in vain, his endorsement of any man or party or principle only tends to render others more suspicious of him, as they know that no matter how disreputable a cause he is but paid enough to support it."

By generally the ADVANCE has consistently supported the Blair government, from its formation up to the present time, there is nothing unusual in its doing so in the contest now going on in Kent. It is only one of the calibre of Mr. Phinney, M. P. P. and those controlling the Advocate who would seek to commend their cause by attributing to us the motives they do in the matter. As to the endorsement of the editor of this paper, we have generally been successful, and when given is not a purchasable commodity. On the other hand, we have positive proof—and are prepared to produce it,—that the editorial columns of the Advocate have been sold for money to promote the election of a certain man—a thing which we do not think can be truthfully said of any other paper in New Brunswick.

When Mr. Anslow was willing to take money for his editorial columns at a certain rate, we were astonished. Having the proof of the fact we are not, however, surprised that the Advocate imagines other publishers as venal and ready to prostitute their papers as he is. We do not state this fact willingly, and would never have referred to it, but for the Advocate and Mr. Phinney's characteristic assertion about the motives of the ADVANCE for supporting Mr. Legere in the coming Kent election. The ADVANCE is a self-respecting paper, and its greatest regret is that it is obliged to take any notice of a journal which it knows to have resorted to the contemptible way of obtaining money to which we refer. It is, however, a worthy champion of Mr. J. D. Phinney, who confessed in his place in the Legislature that he voted against his former express conviction because he had received instructions to do so from a gentleman who was known to be a paying client of his.

Juvvenile Thieves.—Three juvenile thieves, named Wilcox, Walsh and McMillan, stole three Sunday school contributions from St. Luke's church last week, the contents of which were some seven or eight dollars. They patronised a number of stores and feasted for a while, but were, at last, caught and put in the lockup, from which they