The Currie-Crisp Scandal.

It was announced some weeks ago that the special committee of the New Brunswick ference had offered D. D. Currie the opportunity for which he asked through the public press, and had decide I to invite him concerning Rev. Robert Crisp of Woodstock. Since that time Mr. Currie has writsubject. But it is learned that he has written to the conference committee expressing his willingness to appear, and his readiness to produce the evidence at his disposal when alled upon to do so. The members of the conference committee do not give information, so that the reason for the delay is not known, but it was at first expected that the inquiry would take place early this month if a favorable response were received from in this city, and rumor says that one of the St. John ministers will be called upon to preside. - St. John Sun. True Christmas Charity.

There is a tendency at each Christmastide for writers to urge too strongly, I think the beauty of Christmas-giving, by donation or distribution among the lowly and the very poor, writes Edward W. Bok in the Christmas number of The Ladies' Home Journal. No charity can be more beautiful, more typical of the Christ-spirit than for those who can afford to do so to senda glimmer of light into the lives of thousands in our great cities who can only eke out a bare existence. And it speaks volumes for the generosity of our wealthy classes, and the heroic work done by our charitable organizations, that in no other nation on the globe are those who live in poverty and want so well remembered on Christmas as are the poor classes of America. But there is a class which is not reached by the donations of the wealthy, or by the work of country, thousands of homes into which reverses of fortune come each year, where death or business failures cause the keenest heart-anguish and the severest self-denial. which shrink from the outstretched hand of charity. Poor and proud is the name the world has for them. Perhaps; but let me tell you, my friend, it is not easy to receive charity when all your life you have dispensed it. A reversal of fortune is the hardest thing in this world to bear. The poor know not its tortures. It is the keenest kind of poverty. Into such homes would I direct, at Christmas-tide, some loving kindness. In this country where one is up to-day and down to-morrow, there is not one of us but who, in his or her acquaintance, knows of an instance of reversed fortunes. Let some. thing from you go into such a home. The born poor will be remembered by others; the newly made poor may be forgotten.

Mr. Swett is now the highest salaried hotel manager in Canada. Mr. Swett began his career as a hotel manager in St. John. He was an express agent on either the International steamers or the trains running between St. John and Banger, when the old Victoria hotel company engaged him to manage their establishment, which he did successfully.

Signed on behalf of White Birch Lodge, I.

E. J. WATLING,

To the Editor of the Globe: SIR.-I have been interested in your temperate article, in issue of the 12th of the I. C. R. You say, as a whole, the a license is that they are gathering up all | country will be glad to get rid of the I. C. R. Is not that statement a rather bold tax of any kind. They live in the most one? Of course you noticed in the recent meagre way and are no benefit to the election how anxious the candidates were country but rather the reverse. They also to appear on record as opposed to the sale damage the stores and those peddlers who or transfer of the road on any terms, and belong to York and it is the duty of the these astute business men know pretty council to guard the interests of their consti- | well how the wind blows. The I. C. R. is one of the best roads in America, and said to be about one of the worst managed. With some exceptions it has an excellent working staff, but badly directed. A party passing through the yard at Moncton lately noticed one man boring a hole very leisurely and four others looking on. Tons of good iron in the scrap heap is rusting out, and there is pinching meanness often in dealing with the poor laborer. What the road wants is a good business head, and he should live at Moncton. Dr. Weldon's (M. P.) idea of a commission of three is the most practical he published anything in his own paper, the solution; but a commission would be no im-Shelburne Budget, with reference to the provement unless allowed a free hand and composed of honest, able men. If the I. C. R. was run by business men, a commission or otherwise, they would secure a government guarantee of interest and put on a fast mail line from Halifax to Britain and a fast freight equal to the present mail line from St. John direct to Britain. Fast boats can be built at a moderate cost equal to all the requirements of Canadian trade. Better steerage accommodations; the best Mr. Curne. The court will probably meet machinery, with less of rosewood and gilding; more of comfort for the masses and less of luxury for the classes. The public would be better served if the one-horse roads known as the Central, Petiteodiac, Moncton and Buctouche, Caraquet and the Sackville, and P. E. Island were tacked on to the I. C. R. With such a consolidation and connections the l. C. R. would have all the business the road could handle. If the Dominion government parts with the I. C. R. to the C. P. R., it will be a tacit admission that they lack the ability to run ithumiliating in face of the fact that the slowgrowing European nations are clamoring for government control of telegraph, telephone and railroad lines. You very properly point continued success and an extended sale, out that if the road passes into the hands of the C. P. R., advances in rates would follow. A comparison of the rates at present prevailing might be in order. Goods for Charlottetown, P. E. I., have to be trans. shiped three times-rail to Point du Chene, steamer to Summerside, rail thence to Charlottetown. Yet there is but two cents per 100 lbs., between the rate to Charlottetown and the rate from St. Andrews to St. John. Drummers and other poor people can buy second class tickets locally over the I. C. R. against first-class rates over the C. P. R. The difference is one-third, a material saving. And I boldly make the assertion that if the freight and passenger rates on portions of the I. C. R. were reduced the receipts would increase. In parts of Europe the zone system, a low rate, something like the long-distance trips on horse cars, has bsen tried and the traffic has grown enormously, besides being a boon to the public. St. Stephen and Woodstock via C. P. R. are about equal distances from St. John. The rates are one-third higher to Woodstock than to St. Stephen. Again, on the I. C. R. the rate to and from any given point is, I believe, the same. A merchant at St. Andrews recently declined a bill of goods from St. John. The shipper had to pay double rates on the same goods for the return trip. Some years ago, I believe at the instance of the C. P. R., the railroads of Canada agreed on a joint classification. effect was to increase the freight rates on the I. C. R. materially. On this joint classification mats (wool) are first class, but wool dusters made of strips of sheepskin tacked on to blocks of hardwood are not on the classification. They are relatively of less value than mats of wool and weigh heavier.
