CHRISTMAS TRADE is reported by our storekeepers as having been excellent.

MRS. SINCLAIR received, as usual, a very handsome Christmas present from her boarders, which she highly appreciates.

WATCH NIGHT SERVICE:- There will be a watch night service in St. Luke's Sunday evening, beginning at 11. The collection will be for the poor.

were bound for the States, undeterred by with the bright surroundings was a fitting Mitchell, who survives him. She also bore the cry of hard times there.

THE HOTEL DIEU Christmas Fair, which closed last Thursday, was a great success in every way. It was much enjoyed by all who visited it and netted over $900 for the promoters, a very handsome sum indeed considering the unpretentious way in which the affair was organised. It shows that the work of these good ladies is much appreciated in the community.

PRESENTATIONS:-St. Andrew's church admirers of the choir leader, Mrs. Pallen, presented her with a purse of $25, in consideration of her valuable services towards the advancement of that service.

donated to Miss Edgar, the organist, $15 towards paying her assistant during her ten weeks illness with the typhoid fever.

SAD ACCIDENT: -Mrs. John Lawlor met with a sad accident last week, She slipped on the ice at the back door of her residence and fell sustaining a compound fracture of the thigh. She is doing as well as can be expected under the circumstances. Much sympathy is felt for Mrs. Lawlor, as this is the second accident she has sustained in the same way, having broken her arm last winter. -[Advocate.

MARRIED IN ST. JOHN:-Mr. Richard and Hutchison of Douglastown, Katharine Benson, daughter of Dr. J. S. Benson of Chatham, were married in St, John on Tuesday evening. The young people have been engaged for some time, but their friends did not anticipate their slipping off an l getting married so quietly. Among those present at the ceremony from the Miramichi were Mr. and Mrs. E. Hutchisou, father and mother of the groom, and Mr. Jack and Miss Nina Benson, brother and sister of the bride. A host of friends follow the young pair with best wishes for their happiness.

CHRISTMAS AT THE ALMS HOUSE :- The inmates of the Almshouse had their usua Christmas dinner of turkeys, geese and plum puddings with candies, nuts and apples for dessert; after which the keeper presented some choice smoking tobacco and a new pip to those win indulged in the weed. The house is a credit to the people of the county and a happy retreat for the poor in their declining years. The water system is a great improvement, giving a continuous flow. The keeper and his excellent wife have the good will of the poor, who are loud in their praise of them, and hope they may be long spared to occupy their present positions.

And Now it is the Review.

We beg to suggest to the Richibuck Review that it is bad manners and a sign o a weak position for it to go as far as the Telegraph at St, John for the purpose of giving its readers an idea of what the editor of the ADVANCE has to say in reference to the value of the Richibucto smelt-fishery. The ADVANCE itself has dealt with the question and the fair way would be to take what it says as the views of its editor. Giving a personal complexion to discussions or entirely impersonal subject is an old trick of the country newspaper writer which ought to be avoided in this day of better things. The Review assumes that the item copied in the Telegraph from the ADVANCE placed a certain value on the catch of smelts in the whole of Kent County, when it merely showed the absurdity of a Sun correspondent's estimate of the Richibucto catch. If the Review wishes to discuss the matter in the interest of the Sun it ought to make a new start by stating the subject of controversy fairly. We may suggest to the Review that all smelts shipped at Richibocto railway station are not Richibucto smelts, any more than those shipped at Chatham station are Chatham smelts. Not one half of the latter are Chatham smelts, for they come from Burnt Church, Tabusintac, Bay du Vin, Black River and Napan. When the Review has given proper attention to the question it will, doubtless, be in a better position to discuss it. Meantime, if it must refer to the editor of the ADVANCE, we prefer it should do so in connection with what this paper states, as he is not responsible beyond that, although the Telegraph's Chatham correspondent has correctly represented the facts which were misstated by the Sun's Richibucto correspondent.

Band Disbanded.

There is great indignation in Fredericto over the fact that an order has been sent from Ottawa for the discontinuance of the well known band of the Infantry School Corps, whose headquarters is in that city. The band was an excellent one and as the men belonging to it had little to do but play their everal instruments, there does not seem to have been sufficient cause for sending the iustruments to the military store at St. John and retaining the men of the band, who will, perhaps, largely be the worse for the NEWCASTLE, Dec. 22. SIR: A question of pork was propound ed on the Intercolonial railway the other day by a correspondent of the Advocate. Like nearly every other writer for that estimable paper he has his hobby and one of its most pronounced features is the equalization of all mundane affairs, and, on this particular fares that troubled him.

"The railway fare problem," said he, "is one to the reforming of which people should address yourselves. I can Maria McCallum, 1st prize for General Ex. | send a dead pig from Newcastle to Boston for say three dollars. Is there any justice or equity in that ?"

"Yes," said a listener, who was taking an insane person to the asylum at St. John and had been observing the Advocate man closely, in a professional way, "the dead pig goes along quietly and don't keep up squealing that annoys the passengers. He don't get off at every station and run the risk of getting hurt, nor when he is taken to Boston, a dead pig, he don't come to life again and return and try to make people

"That's just it," said the great correspondent. "The expression of advanced ideas, calculated to benefit the masses, is only met by contumacious and garrulous drivel from the clods that are content to live in this country, and who never study the sublime science of human progress. Mr. Steel. in absence of the president, Rev. Mr McKay. was appointed ohairman. Minutes of last quarterly meeting were read and approved. The following schools handed in their reports-Central Napan; Black Brook; St. Luke's, St. John's and St. Andrew's, Chatham; all of which showed an increase in attendance, finances, and regularity in school work during the year.

The need of organizing a S. School in Douglasfield was discussed and a committee Newcastle. was appointed to look into the matter and report to the association. Mr. Ford spoke of the need of religious training for a certain class of children in the town, who had not been reached by the S. Schools and suggested that the work be taken up by the association. This was favorably received and the matter was laid over for further consideration. Then followed a conference on Honse to House visitation, opened by Rev. Mc favoring this branch of association work. and it was moved by Rev. A Desperate Chathamite in Kansas Chatham has, usually, no reason to be ashamed of hearing from its young men who go abroad, but an exception must be made in the case of Thos. B. Bernard, or Barnett who has ended his criminal career in Kansas in the "Times" of that place under date of 18th inst. The Times says:-

Made reckless and desperate by hunger, an ex-convict calling himself Thomas B. Barnett, started out last night to play the part of a street robber. He robbed Isaac Thompson, a negro, of a five cent piece, at the corner of Sixth avenue and Wyandotte Barner, night clerk at the Home Signal company's office, a half block away, and John Burton, a hack driver, who was in the Home Signal office, went to the negro's assistance, and when the highwayman turned on them, pistol in hand, and demanded money, Barner shot and probably fatally wounded him and the robber sent a bullet into the hackman's thigh.

Barnett, the robber, began his brief career in this city in James Keenan's saloon, at the corner of Third street and Main street, at exactly fourteen minutes past midnight.

'I'm hungry and I'm going to have blood 'Go over by the stove and take a nap.

"No, I've got work to do to-night. want one of these things" and the man motioned with his hand as though ringing an imaginary cash register hanging at his neck. "What time does the lest car go by here?" "It has already passed," was the reply, as the saloon man glanced at the clock.

"Well, I'll go down and pull Curtain's leg; he's got a saloon on this block. Will you go with me ?" said the fellow, address-"No, I don't want to go to jail," was the

The robber passed out through the swing-

"I guess that fellow's got wheels in his head. He's crazy, but I don't like the look of his gun," was the remark of the bartender to the half dozen men who had heard the man's bold talk. The robber, "who had work to do," walked over to the corner of Sixth and Wyandotte streets, and there accosted Isaac and every part thereof. Thompson, a negro porter, who formerly worked at Frank Jones's saloon, and who was walking with two colored women, Minnie Cameron and Alice Stewart, who lived at 316 W. Sixth street The ready pistol was drawn and Thompson handed over Charles Coleman, 2nd prize for General occasion, it was the inequality of railway a single nickel, all the money he had. One of the woman ran down Sixth street to the Home Signal office, 100 feet away. and opening the door cried :

"They're robbing a man on the corner." Jacob Barner, the night clerk, 18 years of age, picked up a pistol and came from behind his desk and Jack Burton, a hack driver for Eugene Carlat, who was waiting a driver for Eugene Carlat, who was waiting a Alexander McDonald decease 1. For particulars possible call, took another pistol, and to apply to gether they ran up the street, the woman with them. Barnett was trying to unscrew a stud from the negro's shirt bosom when the woman pointed him out to the two men. "What's the trouble, Bud?" said Borton addressing the negro.

"He's robbing me," was the reply.
"Well, why don't you give him you stuff?" was the half laughing answer of the The robber held a pistol in his right hand' at his side and the two men had not noticed He made no effort to run but turning to
