HARRY CARVELL son of Lewis Carvell, died at Charlottetown on Sunday, 26th ult.

SMELT FISHING with bag nets begun on Friday last and the season will continue until 15th February.

SHOCKING!—A boy of 13 years died from exposure while drunk in Charlottetown, P. E. Island, last Thursday night.

PREPARING—Mr. Wm. Lyons piloted the Treadwell mail carrier over the Miramichi to Chatham yesterday morning.

FISH SHIPPERS and DEALERS are supplied at the ADVANCE office with all kinds of blanks used in their business, such as Receipts, Invoices of Fish, Free Certificates, Entries Outwards, Fish Receipts, etc., at lowest rates and in any quantity required, from one to thousands.

LOGS LOST.—The Campbellton Enterprise says that on Tuesday night 26th, ult. the river broke Wm. Glover's boom, causing the loss of about 3,000 logs, a few of which are being recovered at a great expense.

PERSONAL.—The Telegraph says that Mr. Edward Hickox and wife, of Bathurst, are staying at the Kaol, Sussex where they are visiting Mrs. Hickox's sister.

DEAD ABROAD.—Word has been received of the death of John Agate, a former resident of Campbellton. He died of fever, Nov. 4th, at Cartagena, Republic of Columbia.

TRAGEDY.—An Ottawa despatch of Tuesday says:—"Rev. Father Babineau, chaplain of the Treadwell Lazzaretto, arrived in the city yesterday. He visited the department of public works, where plans are being prepared for the leprosy hospital, tenders for the construction of which will shortly be invited by the department. The new building will give ample accommodation, and in point of comfort and convenience also be a vast improvement upon the old hospital building."

PRICE WEBBER IS COMING with his dramatic company, and they are to appear in Masonic Hall, Chatham, on Monday evening next. The entertainment-loving public will be glad to welcome the old favorites back. Mr. Webber is one of the most reliable managers travelling and he always gives his patrons good value for their money, and clean performances.

DO YOU COUGH? Hawker's Tolu and Wild Cherry Balsam is a sure Cough cure.

THE SIDEWALKS.—If the Street and Fire Commissioners cannot force the citizens with a better service than they now have for cleaning the sidewalks of snow, they had better get out of the business altogether.

THE CHATHAM FOUNDRY has passed into the hands of Mr. James G. Miller, who is a son of Mr. James Miller, late of Montreal. Mr. Miller, jr. has had considerable experience in the business in Portland and other places, and is a practical machinist. He will take charge of the Foundry and machine shop personally and will no doubt receive a fair share of public patronage.

A REMARKABLE COINCIDENCE.—On Tuesday morning Mrs. Joseph Rigby, of Glenelg—whose home was on the Rigby farm, part of which is in Kent and part in Northumberland counties—died at the age of 81 years. An hour and half after her brother, Mr. John Hackett, also of Glenelg, died aged 83 years. These two we also married on the same day 51 years ago. The coincidence of their marriages and deaths is a remarkable one. Mr. Hackett was the father of Mr. Jas. Hackett of Chatham. The funeral will take place at 11 a. m. to day.

KEGGED TO A PLACE OF SAFETY.—It was not Mr. St. Nicholas that saved the schooner by bringing her from Tyrer's Point, but Joseph Curry and Thomas McFarlane. The St. Nicholas could not be got for the work, on account of the ice in the river Monday morning, and Messrs. Curry and McFarlane kedged the schooner all the way, grounding her in a safe position near the ferry wharf and getting out her cargo of oysters. They had only a short call to work with, but brought the waterlogged craft up in good time with the flood tide.—[World.]

WEDDING AT HARDWICK.—Mr. Joseph Savoy had his marriage celebrated at his home in the Village with a good old fashioned wedding, where music and dancing were the prominent features of the evening's amusement. It was a jolly howdown, where all hands present seemed to be making merry over the fact that their friend Joe had taken to himself a wife. His large residence was thronged with happy ones, all bent on making it merry. Joe and the happy bride. He was married at the R. C. Chapel, Point St. Pierre, to Mary Robichau, daughter of LAZARUS Robichau. [World.]

"THE LEADER" is the latest addition to New Brunswick journalism. We have received a copy, but it does not appear to be the first issue, as there is a portion of one of Mr. T. G. Macgill's stories in it, evidently continued, although there is nothing in it to indicate that there has been some of it in a former number. The paper is evidently a juvenile production, but nevertheless, a creditable one, as it is new, well printed and unobjectionable in tone. The publisher writes us where his office is or what are his terms of subscription or advertising. We wish him success anyhow. Its interesting editorial on St. Andrew's Day is reasonable and well written.

ASSIGNED.—The Montreal Journal of Commerce says:—Bryce & Alexander, shingle mill, Chatham, N. B., have assigned. Liabilities $1,500. They went there in the spring of '82 from Marysville, N. B., and have been doing but little since that last. Last season they practically did nothing and went behind.

This firm fitted up, at considerable expense, the old Lamoit mill below Douglas-sho, on the Newcastle side of the Miramichi. Their capital was considered sufficient at first, but the non-paying prices offered for shingles in the United States market rendered it impossible for them to meet their bills. They despaired to succeed but trade was against them almost from the start.

THE WHALE FISHERY.—The whaling steamer Eclipse, says the St. John's (Nfld.) Herald, which arrived at Dundee a few days ago from Davis Straits, had on board the largest catch of whales that has been received for years. Eight whales were caught, equal to one hundred and twenty five tons of oil, and six and a half tons of bone. The Eclipse reports that the catches of the Dundee vessels were: Aurora, 10 whales, equal to eighty tons of oil, and four tons of bone; Esquimaux, one whale, equal to twenty tons of oil and one ton of bone; Nova Zemba, clean. The price of bone, is £1,700 per ton and of oil, £20 per ton. It is estimated that the value of fishing oil is £4,500, and of bone £29,000.

UNITED WORKMEN.—Mr. John Milne, of Toronto, organized a Lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen in Chatham on Monday evening. Twenty five good citizens signed the roll. They are liable to assessments, which have averaged less than $14 a year in Canada in the past, and are insured for $2,000, payable at death. No one over forty-five is eligible for membership. The Lodge was instituted in Old Fellows Hall.

The following officers were installed:—Wm. Alex. Robinson, Past Master Workman; R. B. Adams, Master Workman; Robt. Murray, Jr., Foreman; W. R. Gould, Overseer; Geo. Watt, Recorder; E. W. Johnston, Treasurer; W. T. Harris, Receiver; M. S. Hocken, Guide; C. A. Brown, Secretary; Watchman: John Rundle, Outside Watchman; Trustees, H. A. Muirhead, G. J. Suroal, and Robt Murray, Jr.

A Grand Lodge with 2,000 members and 43 Lodges, is to be formed for Quebec and the Maritime Province.—[World.]

STILL THEY COME.—The St. John Globe says:—"A little son of Mr. Michael Donovan, butcher, King street, Carleton, had a providential escape from death. While playing in one of the rooms of the house he was struck in the head by a revolver shot accidentally discharged by his brother. Fortunately the bullet did not reach any vital part, so the lad is all right". The injured child is hardly three years of age and the brother who fired the shot not more than ten.

HE HAD IN HIS WARDrobe a small 22 calibre revolver, and was working with it, when the hammer fell, exploding a cartridge. The bullet struck his brother just above the eye and lodged in the forehead. Dr. Kenney was summoned and examination showed the wound was not dangerous. The bullet was removed and this afternoon the child was all right. Had the bullet entered the eye, it would have penetrated the brain, causing instant death. The child's escape was a very narrow one.

BAD FOR THE PAINTERS.—The wife of Alex. McDougall, caretaker of Camp Hill cemetery, was surprised, early yesterday morning, to find several painters placing their ladders against her house on Göttingen street, and proceeding to do up in a very artistic manner. She remonstrated with them, telling them that they had certainly made a mistake but they felt quite positive they had the right house, and proceeded to change its sombre hue into a resplendent cary color. They remained in blissful ignorance of the fact that they were painting the wrong house until the owner of the property arrived home for dinner, and even then it took considerable argument to convince them of their mistake. It is said that the firm whose men were sent to do the work will be compelled to paint the unpainted portion of the house.—Halifax Mail.

A WOOD WHICH DOES NOT SHRINK.—The quality of shrinking in dry air and swelling under the influence of moisture is so intimately connected with our ideas of all kinds of wood that it is very difficult to accept suddenly the idea of a timber that is unaffected by water, as far as dimensions are concerned, either when absorbing or evaporating it, says the Indian Textile Journal. Such, however, is the case with a description of the timber known as "giltian", which grows plentifully in Borneo, and is famous for its strength and durability, both on sea and on land. Without being the heaviest known wood, for it weighs sixty pounds per cubic foot, against lignum-vite eighty-three pounds, bwood eighty pounds seventy-four pounds, and Africa oak fifty-two pounds, it has a breaking strain 1.52 times that of English oak, while its weight is only five per cent. greater. Compared with Burmese teak, it is sixty-two per cent. stronger transversely, and eleven per cent. heavier. Bilian, or Borneo iron-wood, is a hard durable wood of a dark brown color. When seasoned, it turns to a deep red, and with long exposure becomes black as ebony. It resists the Teredo worm (so destructive to timber in salt water) and the white ant, and is almost indestructible. Its breaking strain is the highest of any known wood.—Family Herald.

Holiday Advertisers. We are inconvenienced nearly every year, at this season, by our holiday advertising patrons sending in their favors on Tuesdays or Wednesdays, when they might just as well do so on the Saturdays or Mondays preceding the day of publication. We always endeavor to get the paper to press on Wednesday afternoon, so that the mails may be made up in time for the early closing at the Chatham post office, but our friends who bring in their advertisements, and other favors on Wednesdays prevent us, and frequently cause the delay in the delivery of the paper for twenty four hours in the mails going both north and south. We hope, therefore, that our holiday advertisers will make an effort to be more prompt than they have usually been heretofore.

A Complaint. To the Editor of the Advance. SIR:—Can you inform me why it is that the snow-plough used for taking the snow off the sidewalks cannot get along Wellington Street as far as the school until late in the afternoon, or perhaps the next day after a snow storm. It is too bad that three or four hundred children who attend this school, half of whom are girls, are thus compelled to wade four times through the deep snow which, on a fine morning, could easily be melted and cleared off before the opening of school. After the sidewalk of the business portion of the town are cleared off, this street should surely come next. It seems very strange why such is not the case. Would the individual having charge of such work in the town, please explain why he neglected to go on Wellington street as far as the school is located until late in the afternoon although he got up the same street as far as the Snowhill corner early in the forenoon. Yours, etc. A SUBSCRIBER.

Death of Sheriff Phillips. William Phillips, Esq., High Sheriff of the County of Restigouche, died at his home in Dalhousie on Friday last, aged 50 years. Mr. Phillips was the son of the late John Phillips, who represented Restigouche in the House of Assembly from 1874 to 1878. He had been sheriff of the county for nearly twenty years and was a genial and popular man. He had been ill for more than a year and his death was, therefore, not a surprise. He leaves a widow and five children. The funeral took place on Sunday and was very largely attended, many residents of remote parts of the county being present. Deceased was a brother of Mrs. W. T. Connors of Chatham.

The Smelt Fishery. Smelts are a comparative failure, so far as the fishing off Chatham is concerned, this season, up to date. The nets take three tons and give very small catches, and a sample lot in a pecking house on Tuesday, of forty barrels, ten of which were smelts the rest being tomcods, with small proportions of flounders and eels, was a fair average. To make matters worse we had a heavy fall of snow, for the time of year, on Sunday, which submerged the ice and made fishing from it both dangerous and difficult. On Tuesday night 15 ins. of snow fell, which made fishing almost impossible, as the underlying ice is only from one to two inches thick and is wasting away under the slash which now covers it, so that many fishermen will be glad if they save their nets, which cannot now be quite so readily reached.

Quite a number of persons have broken through the ice. Messrs Patrick, James and Fred Nowlan had a narrow escape on Monday night. Capt. Robert McLean tried soundings and got a good ducking, and even Mr. W. S. Loggie, who was close to the shore superintending the landing of a load were through and was glad he had been sufficiently cautious not to venture out of soundings. Mr. Wm. Walls took a plunge also and Mr. Alex. Barr stepped from a snow-covered over-hole and got a ducking, while Mr. Elrod, Barry is was numbered amongst those who have had narrow escapes.

Hotel Dieu Xmas Fair. The Fair under the auspices of the Ladies of the Hotel Dieu, Chatham, reference to which we made a few weeks since, is to be held on the Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday immediately preceding Christmas week, the first day being the 19th inst, when the opening will be at 2 p. m. The opening on the last two days will be at 5 p. m. A tea will be served on Tuesday and Thursday and refreshments, useful and fancy articles etc., will be offered during the whole period of the fair. This is the first time the good ladies of the Hotel Dieu have given the local public an opportunity to patronize them by means of an affair of this kind, and as their well-to-do habits of the community generally, they ought to receive the encouragement of a large attendance and substantial marks of appreciation from liberal patrons.

Oyster Supper and Sa's. A very pleasant evening was had in the Temperance Hall, Chatham, on last Thursday evening—"St. Andrew's Night"—when the Oyster Supper and Fancy Sale of St. Andrew's S. S. Sewing Circle was held. The oysters were first-class and the pleasing strains of music by Prof. Smythe on the organ and Mr. Campbell Johnson on the harmonica mingled in harmonious union with the click of the oyster spoons and the animated conversation of the large company present. During the evening the sweet and old Scotch song "Wa' Better Bide a Wee" was sung by Miss Clara Loggie, and Mrs. H. H. Pallen sang "Within a Mile of Edinburgh" in her usual good style. Much credit is due to the energetic president of the Circle, Miss M. Sutherland, and her band of willing workers, for the success that has attended the work of the Circle since organized. As a result of their efforts the interior of St. Andrew's S. Hall has been tastefully painted and decorated, and furnished with new window shades, etc. The receipts on Thursday evening were about $80.

A "Sun" Fish Story. The ignorance and recklessness of some persons who send telegrams to the press, and the lack of editorial care exercised in the publication of alleged facts respecting even business matters, are afforded in the Kent county notes published in the Sun of Monday last. Similar about an examination was seriously published by the same paper last year, and we direct attention to it at the time, but the old story "bohs up severely" in the same paper this year under an editorial heading. The Sun's readers are gravely informed that from $40,000 to $50,000 in cash is "emptied out" within a radius of ten miles of Richibucto in about two months as a result of the smelt fishing. The character of the statement will be apparent when it is known that very little more than thirty thousand dollars will pay for the total season's catch of smelts in the whole county of Kent, and it will be admitted that while Richibucto is a very important place, it does not yet embrace the entire county. The Sun ought to overhaul its statistics before publishing its fish stories from Richibucto. General "blow" goes very well at times but it is dangerous to reduce it to figures.

Fatal Fire. ST. STEPHEN, Dec. 4.—About 2 o'clock yesterday morning fire broke out in the rear of the Pettogrove house, a three story building on Main St., Calais, Me., conducted as a boarding house by Mrs. Frank Pettogrove. The alarm was given and at once both departments from Calais and St. Stephen were on the scene.

Soon the inmates began to seek means of escape and several jumped from the windows. John James leaped from a third-story window and injured his shoulder. James Hooper, of Plymouth, England, leaped from a third-story and cut his head badly, and injured his hips. Wm. Armstrong, a native of Cornwall, England, sustained injuries, believed to include a broken back, and will probably result fatally. Peter Kennedy, of Aberdeen, Scotland, and John Moore, of St. George, N. B., did not succeed in escaping, but lost their lives in the flames. The charred remains of their bodies were found yesterday some distance from where their rooms were located, showing that they had each awakened and made an effort for their lives. They were between twenty and twenty-five years of age, and like all the men injured were employed at the New Brunswick and Maine Real Estate Works. All the eight clothes who escaped were attired in their night clothes. The building was totally destroyed including the furniture. The adjoining house occupied by Stephen Berry was also burned. The snow on the other structures in the immediate neighborhood was instrumental in preventing the spread of the flames.

Elevation to the Privy Council. TORONTO, Dec. 4.—The following special cable appears in the Empire from London: The Canadian Gazette in a leading article commends Sir John Thompson's elevation to the imperial privy council, and says his presence in London would be of the highest advantage to the members of the judicial committee by increasing their usefulness in dealing with any Canadian question that comes for decision. The Gazette hopes that this advantage, which will be in the interests of Canada, will not be denied. It says that Sir John will best honor the privy council in serving his native country, where men of such high principle, keen insight and sound judgment are needed.

Coming From Boston. The Boston and Maine notes in the Railroad Traction contains the following:—"What a large number of railroad tramps there are! Where there was one a year ago there are now 25. Tramps of all kinds, tramps of all ages, all dirty, dusty, ragged, lame, tired, weary, and worn out. A long pitiless winter is closing in about them. What suffering these poor, unfortunate human beings must pass through before the warm spring time comes back again. All come from the direction of Boston and go east."

The report of the supreme secretary stated that the membership is gradually increasing and that three new assemblies have organized during the year in Boston, Attleboro and Concord, N. Y.

A plan for the establishment of a benevolent fund under the auspices of the order was presented and discussed, and various amendments to the constitution were enacted.

At the afternoon session the supreme officers were elected as follows:—W. R. Wenzel, Concord, N. H., supreme pres.; W. W. Beck, Fall River, supreme vice pres.; Archibald Dakin, Brockton, supreme secy.; Jas. N. Murray, Boston, supreme treas.; Miss May Gillis, Brockton, supreme chaplain; A. R. McDonald, Brockton, N. H., asst. supreme marshal, and trustee for three years; Oscar Smith, Brockton, supreme inside guard; John McLean, Brockton, supreme outside guard.

These officers were afterward formally installed.

The Sea Serpent. The everlasting "Sea Serpent" is again the topic of conversation. Mr. Wm. Whyacht saw it on Tuesday morning in the back harbor. Capt. Reuben Heisher of the S. S. Lunenburg and passengers saw it the same day while on their way to Halifax. The captain was interviewed regarding the matter and said:—"On Monday I saw it and on Thursday while steaming between Little and Big Duck we observed it. The animal, sea serpent, sea horse, or whatever it is, resembles a whale in some respects. There was about ten feet of neck and head out of water. Its head was about the size of a horse's, and its eyes as large as desert plates. It had two enormous wings or fins, by which it propelled itself along. I have been sailing a number of years and seen some very funny things on the seas, but nothing to equal this." Twenty odd passengers on the boat corroborated the captain's story, among them being Mayor Oxner, who, with a pair of opera glasses and not thirty yards away, observed the movements of the monster.—Lunenburg Argus.

A Remarkable Family. The challenge issued by Thos. F. Sutherland, the Union street boot and shoe manufacturer, offering to match for a tag-of-war contest six or eight brothers, who are in his neighborhood, against any one family in the city, has created a small amount of talk. The fact that any man had in his employ eight brothers was of itself a rather surprising thing, but that they should be men fitted for a tag-of-war was even more so. A Sun reporter saw a couple of these men yesterday and learned the ages and weights of the eight men, which are as follows: Amos Wood, 44 years of age, 180 lbs; James Wood, 42 years of age, 220 lbs; William Wood, 40 years of age, 200 lbs; Harry Wood, 38 years of age, 250 lbs; Chas. J. Wood, 36 years of age, 180 lbs; Peter Wood, 33 years of age, 170 lbs; Samuel Wood, 29 years of age, 168 lbs; George Wood, 20 years of age, 130 lbs.—Sun

Exit Lieut. MacGowan. The Halifax correspondent of Progress gives the following particulars respecting the disappearance of Lieut. MacGowan, who has been, for some time, a visitor to the Tabernacle goose-shooting grounds and is, therefore, quite well known to many of our readers:—Lieutenant MacGowan of the royal artillery was "in society" and he was in everything else as well, and society seems to like him more the worse for it. If there was a cock-fight, MacGowan was sure to be there, and one of his more recent acts was to contribute a fine to the county for being one of the number whom the S. P. C. pounced upon at a hard fought cock-fight. If there was anything approaching a prize fight this officer was on hand if he knew about it, and he generally did, for he was in his sharp eyes upon him for cruelty in baiting other dogs with dogs which he set upon them where there was no chance to escape for the poor feline. He imported a set of bounds which were to be used in hunting wild cats. The wanted animal was not so sufficiently plentiful, and was hard to get at, so as a sort of variation the domestic animal was made to answer the purpose, till measures were taken to put an end to the "sport". These are only a few of the distinguished traits of Lieutenant MacGowan, for a score of others could be mentioned. Yet "society" delighted in the presence of this officer. He was in the garrison for seven years and became one of the institutions of Halifax, as it were.

When it was announced, not very long ago, that Lieutenant MacGowan was going on a hunting expedition, it was taken as a matter of course that he would early return with the spoils of the chase, and that he would soon be back, for it was known that at last time in this garrison had almost expired, and that he had been ordered home to England. Before his general face was seen, however, a second announcement was made that the lieutenant's happy hunting ground was not the forest, primal, but it was the broad Atlantic, and before people had time to realize the position of affairs "society" had one member less. There was mourning and lamentation, but the regret was most poignant in the hearts of the people who never had an invitation to one of the "well dances" where he figured, not to speak of the larger "functions". The most genuine mourners were the shop-keepers, whose bills were unpaid; the men who, in these hard times could ill afford the loss of a good round account. Lieutenant MacGowan's indebtedness in this city, when he took to his wings and fled, can only be approximated, but it is estimated at from $1,000 to $1,500, probably midway between the two amounts. The shop-keepers who thus lose their money have the sympathy of honest people, for they were deceived, but "society" which makes a hero of a man who acts all through as Mr. MacGowan did, and which thus so readily loses a shining light, receives no sympathy but a considerable degree of scorn and contempt.

Young Men's Christian Association of Chatham. Meetings held every week in their rooms upstairs, Barry's Building, as follows:—Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, for Prayer and Praise. Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, for Bible Study. Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, for Training classes. All young men are most cordially invited to all of these meetings.
