

Miramichi and the North Shore etc.,

DOO LOST.—See advt.

DEARBY.—A meeting of the Deacons of Chatham is being held this week at Bathurst under the direction of Canon Forsyth, Rural Dean.

OYSTER SUPPER.—The ladies of St. Andrew's Guild, Newcastle, will hold an oyster supper in the Masonic Hall this evening, commencing at 8 o'clock.

CUSTOMS TROUBLES.—Collector of Customs O'Brien of Bathurst is suspended from the duties of his office by the Minister, on account of irregularities and neglect in the matter of making returns to the department.

A FILLY THAT ATTRACTS considerable attention from admirers of draft horses is a yearling owned by Wm. Kerr, Esq., by Miss Field Daughman, that weighs 1070 lbs. She is one of the most sturdy looking animals on the Miramichi.

A GREAT SUCCESS.—The ladies of the "Golden Circle" of St. John's church, Chatham gave an oyster supper in Temperance Hall on Tuesday evening, which was well patronised, as it deserved to be, for it was well managed affair very creditable indeed to the committee in charge and their efficient assistants.

NEW MILL.—The ground is being prepared for the new wood saw mill for Messrs. Clark, Killings & Co. It is not being built where it was first intended, Mr. Manney having exchanged the site for a larger one on which the Newcastle Spool Factory formerly stood. Men are at work preparing the frame under the direction of Mr. Geo. Brown. [Advocate.]

BLACKVILLE ELECTIONS.—At the municipal election for the parish of Blackville, which was held on Tuesday, and in which the candidates were councilors B. N. T. Underhill and David G. Schofield and ex-councilor Dennis P. Sullivan, Messrs. Schofield and Sullivan were elected. We have not yet the figures representing the vote polled for each candidate.

CAPT. EMMA ALLEN AND LIEUT. JONES and a number of soldiers from Newcastle, and the Chatham warriors shall give Brigadier Jacobs and wife, a grand welcome to Chatham on Saturday night next Nov. 11th. The Brigadier and wife will be with us for Saturday night and on Sunday. Silver collection Saturday night. H. K.

AFTER RAILWAY TIES.—A Moncton despatch of 3rd inst. says:—George Hubbell, lumber buyer for the New York Central railway, and George Keeler, member of a New York lumber firm, are in this locality on a business trip, and were registered at the Commercial hotel yesterday. Mr. Hubbell is contracting for railway ties, to be delivered next season.

BARB RUBY.—The bark Ruby, Capt. Ferguson, left Dundrum, Down, Ireland, on the 19th or 20th October on her fourth trip here for this season. If she gets here and loads before the ice makes, it will be the best trip ever made and will be the best trip here made before the best record ever made before, and the Ruby has beaten the records on four even if she does not succeed in effecting her fourth trip. [Advocate.]

BASKET SOCIAL.—The ladies of Newcastle, Division 3, of T. held a basket social in the Temperance Hall, on Friday evening, Nov. 3rd, which was largely attended. After a programme consisting of choruses, solos and recitations, the baskets were auctioned by Mr. Benj. Forsyth, the joint deputy of Whiteville Division. Coffee was then passed around by the ladies. The sum of $20 was realized, which goes towards improving the hall.

NOR SO.—An advertisement in last Saturday's World read "Angus Ullock Livery Stable, Duke Street, married." Now, friends of the popular gentlemen named hardly knew what to make of it, and Mr. Ullock himself, was equally puzzled; as he is reported to have paid up his mind, long ago, to evade the darts of Cupid. It is understood that it was intended by the paper as one of the alleged jokes that are sometimes generated in a mind that is never any too clear on that or any other subject in which propriety is involved.

BARTHOLOME POACHING CASE.—In reference to the recent poaching case on the Bartibogue, Overseer Abbott says that Alex. Stewart, one of the poachers who was caught spearing fish by Mr. John Doyle, the gardener, was brought before Police Magistrate McCulley, confessed his guilt and was fined $10 and costs. John Wallace who was with Stewart was also taken to the woods. This will not, however, release him from the consequences of his offence, for when he returns the Overseer intends to deal with his case with no less leniency than that of Stewart who came forward and confessed his guilt. This will be a warning to others who are guilty of like offences.

ANTICIPATION.—The youth approached the father with more or less trepidation. "So," said the old gentleman, after the case had been stated, "you want to marry that daughter?"

"No," said the young man, "I want to marry her," he replied, hedging. "She" hasn't said anything to me about it, "No," he said, "she's afraid to."

"Are't you afraid, sir, more than she is?" said the father sternly.

"Well, perhaps I am," he said, "but as the head of our family I've got to face it and set the pegs," and the old man smiled and gave his consent. —Detroit Free Press.

GLAD TO GET HOME.—These veteran goose hunters, T. Carleton Allen, James S. Neill and D. Lee Bahall, reached home yesterday, after two weeks of the festive fowl on Misoua island. They had poor luck, and the weather was too fine, and the geese know especially the fatal precision of Mr. Bahall's rifle, gave the party a wide berth.

And to add to the disagreeableness of the situation, the gentlemen were all very cold, and the schooner trip from the mainland to the island, a distance of a few miles. It is a pretty tough experience, goose shooting on the Misoua, and no doubt the party was very glad to be in their comfortable homes again. Goose feather beds are much more pleasant than goose shooting. But the trip had its bright spots. It furnished a fund of narrative, records of hair breadth escapes, by sea and land, which will brighten many winter evenings. —Fredrickton Herald.

PERSONALS.—The Transcript of last Thursday says that Col. McShane, who arrived in Moncton two weeks ago, en route to the World's Fair, but who had to remain in the city owing to ill health, returned home to Halifax.

Rev. Herbert F. E. Whalley, recently rector of King's Lynn, Norfolk, England, with his family arrived at Halifax Wednesday morning, and will probably reach here by train this evening. Rev. Mr. Whalley has come over by request of the Bishop of Fredericton and intends settling in this Province. —Globe of 2nd.

Chatham, and who made many friends here during the comparatively short period of his residence, is a welcome visitor of this week. He is accompanied by two Boston friends and we hope the party who are here chiefly as sportsmen, will have the good luck that Mr. MacKenzie's experience ought to secure.

Mr. Wm. Smith, deputy Minister of Marine and Fisheries, who has been visiting St. John in connection with the protests of interested parties in that port against the enforcement of the law relating to safety in Steam navigation and kindred subjects, was a passenger by the Canada Eastern train from Fredericton on Tuesday and proceeded that evening to Newcastle.

H. A. Johnson, Esq. Postmaster of Dalhousie was in town yesterday and was heartily greeted by his many old Chatham friends.

Mr. Wm. Murray, formerly of Newcastle, but now of Boston was amongst the visitors of the week to Chatham.

Mr. G. E. Powers, representing the Deaf and Dumb school, Fredericton, is visiting the North Shore on his annual collecting tour for that praiseworthy institution.

Worthless Bank Bills in Circulation.

Notes of the Bank of Prince Edward Island, which failed a good many years ago, still crop up occasionally. It appears that a number of them are in circulation in this vicinity. On Saturday no less than three were offered by different parties at Chapman's grocery store on St. George street. People should be on their guard against these bills. [Moncton Times.]

Nothing Wrong at Chatham.

The Chatham World was worrying, the other day, because Mr. W. C. Whittaker, of the Inspector's office, made an official visit to the Chatham post office, though he had been in Miramichi a short time before and had not then inspected it. So far as Progress can learn the Chatham post office is all right. Mr. Whittaker went to Miramichi the first time to attend a funeral. The next time he went he was a delegate to the Grand Division of the Sons of Temperance. In connection with the latter trip he made the regulation annual inspection of both Newcastle and Chatham offices. That is all there was about it. —Progress.

The Late Theophilus DesBrisay.

The death of the late Theophilus DesBrisay, of Bathurst, removes an element in Gloucester affairs which belonged rather to a past than the present generation, and leaves a vacancy in the social and legal life of that county which will not again be filled. Mr. DesBrisay was a Queen's Counsel, Judge of Probate, Clerk of the Courts and Clerk of the Peace, besides filling other county offices. He gained such prestige as he had by attention to business and the lack of effective competition, always preserved his integrity and an exclusiveness which amounted to eccentricity. His death, following quite closely upon that of his son, the late Theo. S. DesBrisay, who was his law partner, leaves Gloucester county as an inviting field for one or more of the ambitious and able barristers from places where mortality has not so effectively disposed of the leaders of the local bar.

Confirmation Services.

The Bishop of Fredericton has just finished a series of confirmations in the Miramichi district of Northumberland county. At Bathurst, Rev. W. J. Wilkinson presented twenty-one candidates; at Chatham, Canon Forsyth presented twenty-eight; at Newcastle, Rev. J. H. S. West had prepared eighteen; at Dalry and Blackville, thirty-one were presented by Rev. C. O. D. Bayle; at Doaktown and Ludlow, Rev. H. Montgomery presented eighteen; at Welford, ten were confirmed; and at Bathurst, Rev. R. Simonds presented twenty-one. At Bathurst the church folk are expecting their rector, Rev. A. J. Reid, who was a short time ago assistant to Canon DeVeber at St. Paul's in this city, and having had experience of other parts, is glad to return to New Brunswick. —Sun.

The Negro Wharf.

Negro advice is to the effect that the belief of those who feared the non completion of the Dominion wharf there, in the time stipulated in the amended contract, were well founded. It is apparent that the contractor will not be able to complete the job, and that parties interested in supplying him, or the government, will have to step in and finish it. The failure of the contractor to complete the work in time is not so much a reason for the prospect of a change in the rector as it is the fact that there are arrears of wages due employees with no immediate prospect of settlement as matters have been going, together with a lack of the material necessary for completion, and which can only be made right under changed conditions. The Inspector of the work was in town this week and it is to be hoped that arrangements are or will be made by which all private interests involved will be reasonably protected, while the public interest, which is paramount, will be first cared for so that the wharf will be finished forthwith.

Restigouche Municipal Elections.

The following Councilors have been elected by acclamation from the different parishes in this county.

Addition:—Jas. E. Miller & Wm. McRae.

Dalhousie:—A. J. LeBlanc & Neil Shaw. Colborne:—Wm. Mawhinney & Donald Kerr.

Durham:—Thos. Hayes & John Culligan. Coun. Mawhinney is the only new man at the board, all the others having served for some years previously.

Coun. Hayes has represented his parish for thirteen years in succession, and has been warden of the county for the last three years.

Coun. Culligan takes his seat for the fifteenth time, being the oldest councillor at the board.

Came for Rest and Found a Wife.

Mr. Daniel Bell, a Miramichi man, after a residence of seven years in New York came back to Chatham for a rest. The Methodist had a picnic at Bay du Vin soon after he came, and, of course, he went with the crowd. Miss Maggie B. McLean, the charming daughter of Mr. George McLean, of Nap, happened to be there also, and she and Mr. Bell "met by chance, the usual way, and were introduced. Mr. Bell fell in love at sight. He was the lady's shadow at the picnic, and the next day he went to Nap to visit his relatives and found an opportunity of seeing the young lady also. He is an athlete possessing medals won in swimming and other sports, and he urged his suit with so much vim and force that he captured the maiden's heart and won her consent in a few days. They were bound in matrimonial bonds Wednesday morning, by Rev. N. McKay, at the residence of the bride's father, and, after the wedding breakfast had been eaten, took the train for New York amid showers of rice and congratulations. —World.

The ADVANCE received a favor of the happy event in the form of a neat package tied with the customary white satin ribbon, for which we return our best thanks.

The Bass Fishery—Boundaries.

An Ottawa despatch of last Friday to the Sun says:

"The new regulations governing the base fishery in New Brunswick will be gazetted tomorrow. The close season is from March 1st to October 1st, and at no time shall there be less than two pounds weight of fish in the province of New Brunswick. Bass shall not be fished for, caught or killed by means of any kind of net having meshes of a less size than five inches extension measure, nor by means of seines. The owner of nets used for the purpose of taking bass must take out a license.

"Section 2 of the regulations governing the payment of fishing bounties having been found to be too restrictive upon bona fide deep sea fishermen, the section in question has been repealed by order in council and the following substituted: No bounty shall be paid upon fish caught in trap nets, pound nets or weir nets, nor upon fish caught in gill nets fished by persons who are pursuing other occupations than fishing, and who devote merely an hour or two daily to fishing these nets and are not fishermen steadily engaged in fishing."

Scott Act Work.

On Thursday last week, Scott Act Inspector Menzies, assisted by policemen Rainsbottom and Rankin visited the Conway place on Henderson Street, now said to be in charge of John Lyons, and effected an unobstructed entrance through the back door. They found a jar of whiskey and three bottles of gin, which the Inspector confiscated.

Mrs. Conway, of the notorious Central House on St. John Street, was arrested on Thursday last and placed in the lockup, in default of paying Scott Act fines due by her and for which her note or promise had been accepted. After a time she paid one fine and some costs and was liberated.

It is gratifying to those who wish to have the law honestly administered to find efforts being now made to collect Scott Act fines, instead of allowing them to stand, to be paid or not as the convicted parties might wish. There has, heretofore, been far too much litigation and too little collection of fines, and it is a significant thing that some of the most notorious and persistent violators of the Act have been the objects of the greatest clemency and forbearance. There are people who are sufficiently plain-spoken to say that these characters were used as principal factors in the arrangement of the last two years by which law expenses have been so piled up as to alarm even the most virulent of blinded supporters of those who were working the Scott Act for their own advantage.

If these persistent but pretentiously impious violators of the Act were sent to jail, for too much violation, it is no more and to cease to furnish new cases and their accompanying fees, but they were prosecuted and thus made the means of creating fees for the combination and their fines allowed to stand. A story is told of a poor fisherman having been drowned while pursuing his calling. When his body was recovered a few days after by his wife and others they found it fairly full of eels, whereupon the business instincts of the widow so overmastered her grief that she exclaimed "Set him again!" In like manner, the business instincts of the Scott Act combination led them to lose sight of the public duty and instead of making violations of their fines or to pay them they let them off on their promises to pay. They practically "set them again" so that they might bring them "eels" in the form of fees, for they knew the taxpayers were in the gap to make up for any delinquencies on the part of the fine defaulters. It is believed that under the new Municipal Council that kind of game will be stopped and that the Inspector will be made to learn that the object of engaging and paying him a salary is in order that he may stop the discharge of his duties and stop the violation of the Act, rather than encourage the repetition of offences against it for the purpose of multiplying court and counsel fees. Those who violate the Scott Act, as well as those who willfully break other laws, in which the penalty is to pay fines or go to jail, should be required to do one or the other. The practice of neither securing the money penalty nor sending the offender to jail, as the law plainly provides, but allowing the fine to stand as a weak-kneed device, which, in nine cases out of ten, proclaims that the convicting magistrate is afraid to do his duty or interested in not doing it.

A complaint of the Scott Act Inspector against James Hickey, who is one of the licensed vendors under the Scott Act, was taken to the court yesterday. The magistrate reserved his decision until Monday next, when a case against Michael Hickey is also to be heard.

John Lyons was fined $50 and $525 costs, yesterday, in connection with the liquor seized on Thursday last on the premises actually occupied by James Conway.

Record-Makers and Their Grievances.

The World appears to have become impressed with the idea that a newspaper reporter or correspondent is bound, in reporting the perpetration of crimes, to suppress facts connected therewith, unless they are stated in court and form a part of the record. That may also be the opinion of certain lawyers and courts, but we do not think it is sound one.

Referring to the recent Fraser-Desmond assault upon William O'Brien of Tabusintac the World indulges in some of its characteristic comment, over a statement in the Telegraph—and one of similar import in the ADVANCE—that the man's assailants demanded money from him as a condition of releasing him. The World says "the case of the record." Neither the Telegraph nor the ADVANCE made any accusation of robbery, but referred to the fact, as stated by O'Brien, himself, that Fraser and Desmond demanded money before they assaulted him. There are many things, at times, connected with these cases, which do not come out in evidence, but so long as they are true, a newspaper ought not to be expected to suppress them, when their being known may lead to a better understanding of the nature of the crime committed.

It is not difficult to read between the lines the reason why this matter is again stirred up, and as it is undertaken in the spirit manifested by the World, we may say that a good many people wonder why the record did not contain more than was on it in connection with the trial of Fraser and Desmond. Under the questions of their counsel, which really amounted to suggestions, they were made to say that they had been drinking considerably all day, and were so drunk under the influence of liquor that they did not remember anything that took place at the time of the assault—in fact, were so drunk that memory was a blank. Under a proper examination by the court it would be reasonable for the record to show that the magistrate had evinced a desire to ascertain how much of truth there was in their plea of drunken insensibility. It would have been reasonable to enquire as to the time of day when they were drinking, how often they had drunk before being assaulted, whether they were alone or not, etc. It might have turned out that they had not been drinking at all; that they were not assisting in violating the Scott Act; but it might have turned out otherwise. At all events if even the slightest attempt had been made to throw light on this branch of the subject, people would have less reason than they have to believe that it makes all the difference in the world in the Chatham police court whether a certain lawyer appears for the prosecution or the defense. He has been for the prosecution, on that occasion, there would, doubtless, have been a perfect fusillade of questions on the subject of the drinking admitted by the prisoners, followed by somebody being prosecuted under the Scott Act, but as he was for the defense, there was a paralysis of tongues and the dear, good young men who were made so drunk by somebody that they nearly killed an inoffensive person, were told to go and take a month in looking for $22.50—and the court added with dramatic severity that the sentence would be a warning to them and all like them, etc., etc.

There are other suggestive phases of this matter which might be discussed, and if they were, additional light might be thrown upon it, for the information of the public. Because a racial is a certain lawyer's client it seems to be sacrilege to touch him beyond the record of the Chatham police court, but as the ADVANCE is not bound by the restrictions which seem to hamper that court in the pursuit of its enquiries and the scope of its functions, we feel quite free to go beyond the record, so long as we state the facts.

Geo. F. Baird, M. P. for Queens County, N. B., says I have used Hawker's Catarrh Cure for violent cold in the head and found it a perfect cure for attacks of this kind.

One of the best Educational Aids.

THE SHORT CUT TO THE HIGHER PLANE OF STUDY.

Of course, we must educate the young folks, for education is the foundation of all progress, national and social. The new generation is born to higher attainments than the old. Our children should prove greater than we for they enjoy greater privileges. Our grandfathers had to study by candle-light and walk five miles to school. Fifty years ago the student of twenty would average with the student of fifteen to-day. The three R's—"Reading, 'Rit'n' and 'Rith'metic'" are no longer enough. The scholar must early master these important rudiments to prepare for the greater development.

With the many educational aids now within reach this is not difficult. And of all the educational aids yet introduced the type-writer stands pre-eminently at the head. It is the short cut to the higher plane of study. As a relief from the monotony of books; as a means of fixing in the mind the accurate spelling of words and punctuation; as an incentive to free and graceful composition, as well as a promoter of a healthy literary taste, the Type-writer is unrivalled. The acquiring of hard abstract rules and forms it converts into an easy and interesting venture. It is, in fact, the King's organ of business, and professional life. It makes a pleasure of learning, and at the same time promptly launches the youth into the modern way of doing things.

The children, therefore, who have the advantage of this greatest of educational aids will get a start early in life that will make them, perhaps, better fathers and mothers, better farmers and housewives, better merchants, lawyers—aye, even better Christians and better citizens which is the highest honor of all.

Knowing that it is or should be the desire of all parents to provide their children with the best they can for the children, Mr. Fred Benson's principals have striven to produce a perfect, practical writing machine for a price which anyone can afford. And in all earnestness we ask, where can a $8 bill be better spent than in providing one of these beautiful and useful little educators?

The Bicycle Club Sports at Campbellton.

CAMPBELLTON, Nov. 1.—The bicycle sports came off last night and were a grand success. A large number of ladies were present.
