COMING OUT OF THE WOODS IN SCORES :-The Greaner says :-- Mr. T Lynch's men and teams on the Clearwater came out of the woods the first of this week on account of the depth of snow. Other operators on the Miramichi are also coming out. This will propably throw a large number of men out of employment for the remainder of the winter. THE SHELBURNE BOOM -A party of ge tlemen were dining together at the Quoen hotel yesterday when the conversation turned upon the benefits that Shelburnand Queens counties would derive from the completion of the Nova Scotia Southern railway. Mr Hervey, the president of th. railway company, claimed that the town of Shelburne would certainly have over 5.000 population within five years, a statement that was challenged by one of the gentlemen present, who offered to wager a hundred dollars, which was instautly covered by Mr. He vey, who further offere to lay two more wagers of an equal amount, one that Liverpool and Milton, and the other that Caledonia, would each double in population within the same period .- [Halifax Herald.

THE DELINEATOR:-The issue of The Delineator for MARCH is the great "Spring Announcement Number," and in its artistic display of New Styles and general attractiveness it is superior to any former number of this popular magazine. The Housekeeper is specially considered in Some Dainty Cookery, Hints to Housewives, and the article on Household Renovation which treats of the Repairing and Polishing of the Woodwork of Furniture; while the mother of marriageable daughters will find food for serious thought in the concluding chapter of Child Life.

Messrs. Clark, Skillings & Co., of Newcastle have now in operation a new spool factory, erected on the old site. The firm employ from 20 to 25 hands. The Advocate says: It is expected the mill will be run steadily winter and summer. Extra ma chines will probably be put in in the summer for sawing other kinds of lumber. BLOWN DOWN:-A large section of snow | About 25 cords of birch is cut up per day. The mill is equipped throughout with saw dust conveyors, carrying the sawdust to the front of the furnace or elsewhere where required. Sme t Fishing A Reasonable Request.

It is generally admitted that the present season has been the poorest we have had for years for smelt fishing in Miramichi waters, and it unfortunately happens that the full tides will just begin to come on with the expiry of the season for bag net fishing -15th inst. If the Minister would extend the season for one week it would be a great benefit to many deserving people who largely depend on this fisherp for a living. It is probable that someone will claim that overfishing is the cause of the present season being a poor one, but such is not the case, as it is simply what we know as an "off" season here and it is probable that next year will be a pleutiful one for these valuable little fish in Miramichi waters.

The Cypress Club Dance.

The Cypress Club's annual dance, which was postponed on Tuesday of last week on count of the storm, came off last Thursday light. The big public room of Masonic Hall was very tastefully decorated for the occasion with bunting, carpetings and other textures and the stage also presented a very ttractive appearance. The attendance, although not quite so large as that at last season's dance, was good, and quite sufficient to fill the floor when the more popular dances were on, about 150 being present. Excellent music was furnished by McEachran's orchestra, and Mrs. Leonard of the Torryburn House provided the supper which was a good one. Members of the Club exerted themselves in a very commendable way in welcoming their guests and looking after their interests in the dancing room and, on the whole, the dance was an enjoyable and successful affair.

New Hotel at Newcastle.

We are glad to hear that a joint stock company is being formed to build a large hotel at Newcastle, on the old Waverly site. Ten thousand dollars have been subscribed to the stock list. The ground floor of the new structure fronting the square is to be occupied by stores each side of the main entrance to the hotel, all that part fronting on the square being built vassing the councillors for their votes for upon. The gentlemen at the head of the enterprise are well able to carry it to successful completion, and the undertaking will to much towards promoting the general nterests of the community. Since the old Waverly was destroyed Newcastle seemed o have lost much of its interest to visitors. It had been a kind of "merchants' exchange" -the centre of general attraction-although there were many things wanted in its make up to render it a hotel in the true sense the word. We believe the new establishnent will be the best of its class on th North Shore and we heartily wish its promoters every success.

The Royal Hotel.

The Royal Hotel is now in fall blas under its new management. Although change of proprietors has taken place, omparatively few patrons of this well known hostelry would know it. The office ooks just the same as it always did, and a the guest arriving is thirsty, he will find no lifference in the bar, either in the quality of the liquors or the service. Neither will the lining room strike him as having materially changed since his last visit. The same lesire to supply all that is best in the market prevails. The attendants are as polite quite another matter. Mr. Anslow is a by the Windsor foundry, and the main as ever and everything about the house is printer and not, and never could be a kept in the neatest possible manner. there has been a change. The death of the late proprietor and founder of the hotel made this change necessary. But after all the change does not affect the outside public because the office of the hotel is still charge of Mr. Harry Doherty who has filled he position for the past twenty-five years and Mr. William E. Raymond who has been for the past eighteen years the steward of the hotel still fills that position. The only difference in the Royal is that Messrs Raymond and Doherty are now the proprietors and as such they intend to maintain the reputation enjoyed by this hotel throughout Canada while it was under the management of the late Thomss F. Raymond. Both are first class hotel men and are horoughly acquainted with the business in this city. Then the public need have no fear that the Royal will not continue to be fully as good as it has always been, under the management of those two gentlemen

The ADVANCE has received the annual palance sheet statements of the Bank Nova Scotia and the Merchants' Bank of Halifax, agencies of both of which are doing

The Bank of Nova Scotia has a capital $1,500,000 and a reserve fund of $1,200,000. no less than $150,000 of the latter having peen added during the past year besides the payment of the usual 8 per cent. dividend, atter deducting all bad debts and losses. The Bank of Nova Scotia notes in circulation amount to $1,163,713, and deposits are $4,553,487. Its notes and bills discounted at the close of last year amounted to $5,760, 187, and the total of its assets was $10,-441,650, against liabilities to the public of less than 73 millions, This bank has agencies in Montreal, Chicago, Kingston, (Jamaica), Chatham, Newcastle and twentyfour other points in the maritime provinces in addition to the head office. The board of directors is composed of John Doull, Adam Burns, Jairus Hart, John T. Payzant, and R. B. Seaton; Thomas Fyshe cashier. #### An 'Open Letter.'

Mr Donald Morrison, one of the Municipal Councillors for Newcastle, appears to have heard of prominent public men writing 'open letters" on important subjects and has himself written one to the World, addressed to Mr. D. G. Smith, thereby neatly securing a personal advertisement of two columns. reminding us all of the saving about barking at the moon. have been rather too busy to read the whole of it, but a glance over it shows that the writer evidently intends it as a reply to what the ADVANCE said on 25th alt. in a paragraph respecting Mr. Morrison's efforts to prejudice Chatham in his capacity of Councillor during the late session of the Municipal Council. Mr. Morrison does not seem to have learned enough of "open letter" ethics to know that the party addressed is entitled to a copy, and that it is considered bad form not to furnish him with one as soon, at least, as it is furnished to the newspaper chosen as the vehicle t which it is given to the public. But too much ought not to be expected of Mr. Morrison. Another thing Mr. Morrison seems not to have learned is, to remember what he is discussing, for he appears to have gone into quite a number of things out side of the matter over which he is evidently particularly perturbed. The World, while publishing his letter took occasion to remind him of things he had forgotten, and which were developed in discussion in council. This lets Mr. Morrison down badly, for he evidently thought his open letter was good thing. As the published official report of Municipal Council proceedings shows the course Mr. Morrison took in matters affecting Chatham, Mr. Smith desires us to say that there is nothing of sufficient importance Mr. Morrison's letter on that subject to merit notice from him. As to the personal and other extraneous matters which so largely make up the open letter, Mr. Smith has neither the time nor inclination for that class of discussion, especially with a gentleman who seems unable to keep his subject in view, or adhere to facts, which are always essential in intelligent public controversy.

The Municipal Council Reporting.

The editors of the World and Advocate have been carrying on a controversy over the official report of the late proceedings of the Municipal Council, which was made by Mr. Stewart, editor of the World. It began by Mr. Anslow of the Advocate stating in effect that the copy furnished by Mr. Stewart was not decipherable and, therefore, could not be published in that paper. Mr. Stewart replied to this, intimating that Mr. Anslow "disgruntled because wasa't chosen reporter." And to this Mr. Anslow replies:-"As to being disgruntled because Mr Siewart was cuosen reporter it was not considered a matter of such great importance or Mr. Anslow might have descended to the same means as Mr. Scewart did, by cauthe position of official reporter. 'Inere are three news papers in Miramichi, and it has always been supposed that by publishing fair reports repre sentatives of each would in turn be each appointed official reporter and thus be paid something once every three years for the large space taken up with the reports of the Council. But for several years past the proprietors of the Chatham papers have canvassed the councillors for their votes, received their promises, obtained the position, and pocketed the large pay attached thereto, apparently merely for reporting when a portion thereof is certainly earned by the papers devoting so large a space to the proceedings of the council. If it is right and proper that representatives of the three papers should alternately receive the appoint ment, then let it be understood, and do away with the method employed by the representatives of the Chatham papers of begging for votes to enable them to place in their pockets $10 for each day the Council sits,"

With the taste he usually displays it matters of this kind Mr. Anslow strikes wildly about him and like the little ragmuffins who throw stones at each other, hits those who have no part in the quarrel. And we may remark, en passant, that it is worth quite ten dellars a day to properly report the proceedings of the Council and mrnish copies of the report to each of the three papers, The cost of publication is porter. Therefore, he is not in a position to speak on the subject. A report made him, eyen at a dollar a day, would not be worth the money, is true that Mr. Stewart furnishes the worst copy we ever saw from a reporter. We complained of it last year, but it was evident that little could be secured in the way of improvement by taking that course, we accepted what he sent, corrected naccuracies and said nothing. As to Mr Anslow's statement respecting the proprietors of the Chatham papers canvassing councillors and receiving their promises, etc. it is untrue, so far as the proprietor of this paper is concerned, and if Mr. Anslow had a proper respect for imself and his paper he would not make

As to appointing representatives of the three papers, in turn, to report the proceedings of the council, no such arrangement ever was or ever ought to be recognized. The first and only consideration ought to be to get the best possible value for the money spent on the official report, and it is one of | married the discouraging things connected with reporting at the Council that a person of Mr. Anslow's inexperience and poor qualiti cations for the position should aspire to be considered at at all competent to do the work. The present official reporter has had considerable experience, and can make a sufficiently good report if he will take the trouble to do so, but he is oftentimes careless and his "copy" is simply execrable. Mr. Anslow is not competent to make a report

reporting its proceedings and publishing its accounts to have the work done in a more regular way and in such a manner as to form a more satisfactory and enduring record for reference. The matter of arranging for the work should be placed in the hands of a good committee and not left to the whole Conneil. for the reason that too many of the councillors, very improperly, permit themselves to be canvassed, and pledge their votes before they appear at the Council board at all. In doing this considerations of competence or of getting the best value for the money they spend are little thought of. They simply lack the firmness to realise that they are officer. members of a deliberative body and ought not to decide upon any matter concerning its affairs without giving it consideration in view. of all the realative circumstances and conlitions The newspapers will always be ready to publish sufficiently full reports of Council proceedings, as the ADVANCE did before the present system of official reporting was entered upon, and had become an abuse,

A Little Town's Water System.

The little town of Canning in Nova Scotia has been supplied with water for fire and lomestic purposes by an enterprising compauy, whose works were designed and Butler civil engineer, who is quite well married the youngest daughter of Hon. Judge Wilkinson, of Bushville. The Halifax

"The system is one of gravitation, the head works being situated upon what is known as the Percy Brook, which discharges water collected upon the upper plateau of the North Mountain range possible as regards purity, &c. The head work consists of a reservoir of a capacity of 1,600,000 imperial gallons, which is capable of easy enlargement, the sources of supply being capable of extension also. At the reservoir site is a brick valve well, with the usual screens and regulating and scouring apparatus; this and the waste weir are both founded in undisturbed materials and are situated clear of the embankments. The reservoir is formed by earthern dam, with puddled core, which latter had to be carried to very considerable depth to obtain a watertight foundation.

"An eight inch main conveys the water o the town, a distance of two miles. The sub-mains aggregate another 14,000 lineal feet of 8 6 and 4 inch pipe, and 29 hydrants are distributed over the entire fire district. The main is capable of delivering at the central part of the town a quantity of 600 mperial gallons per minute under atmospheric pressure, and of supplying at the same point two efficient hose streams at a static pressure of over 50 lbs. to the square inch; the normal pressure upon pipes and fittings nowhere exceeds 781bs. per square

"The service is giving universal satisfaction, both to its promoters and to the townspeople generally. Mr. S. Sheffield, of Canning (who held the same position in the railway company), is president of the water company, with Mr. J. W. Borden as secretary, and Mr. R. W. Kinsman as managing director. The design and execution of the works were under the direction of Mr. W. R. Butler, A. M. I. C. E, professor of civil engineering at Kings college, who has carried out similar works in other towns, and who was also chief engiueer in the construction of the C. V. railway. The pipes were furnished by the Londonderry Iron Co., the hydrants valves, or gates, were manufactured at

"Over 60 separate house connections had been made when the work was barely off the contractor's hands. The contract for pipe laying was let to Mr. George Brown, of Windsor, the work of which contract was very satisfactorily performed and was tested in sections by the engineer as it proceeded. The reservoir and head works were executed by days' labor."

He unloaded the revolver, as he thought, and laid it on the table.
