PERSONAL:—Professor R. C. Leicester entered on his duties at St. Luke's Church, on last Sunday. We understand he is now prepared for pupils in voice culture, piano or organ.

Safe and pleasant to take, sure to cure, Hawker's Balm of Gilead and white cherry.

POCKET BOOK LOST.—Lost at the performance at Masonic Hall on Tuesday night a Pocket Book containing money and valuable papers. The person returning the same to the Custom House or Mr. George Watts will be liberally rewarded for their trouble.

"He's bilious," your friends say when you are irritable. Take Hawker's liver pills, they cure biliousness.

A GREAT COLT.—At the stable of Mr. James Conway, Kingston, Kent Co., stands the finest colt that is known throughout New Brunswick. Its age is only six months, it stands 12 hands high, weighs 650 lbs., and is of a black color. This colt captured the first prize at the Kent county exhibition held at Kingston recently.

FIREMAN MACDONALD who was so badly injured in the late Moosehead disaster, is able to be around again. He is lame yet, and will probably never fully recover. He told a friend a few days ago that he knew very little about the wrecking of the train. The driver cried out to him to jump; he did so and that was all he knew of the matter.

If you want a reliable dye that will color an even brown or black, and will please and satisfy you every time, use Buckingham's Dye for the Whiskers.

THE WINSLOW BLOCK.—Mr. Warren C. Winslow, who, a few years ago purchased the brick building on Water St. erected by the late George Kerr has a number of men busily engaged repairing and improving it. A portion of the brick work of the front of the building has been torn down for the purpose of carrying it up higher and replacing the present pitch roof by a modern flat one.

DEATH OF A. W. Y. DESBRISAY.—Mr. A. W. Y. Desbrisay, of Peter Kochoer, Gloucester Co., died on Sunday last, after a short but painful illness. Mr. Desbrisay was one of the most prominent and active politicians of the County and for many years was one of the representatives of Gloucester in the local legislature of the province. He was also well and favorably known in commercial circles being an active, enterprising business man, and, at the time of his death he carried on a large and extensive fish business in the parish in which he resided. He was in the fifty ninth year of his age.

THE HARKENS ACADEMY.—On the afternoon of Monday last there was a large gathering of the most prominent and influential citizens of Newcastle at the new handsome brick structure recently erected in that town and known as the Harkens Academy. The cause of the meeting was the formal opening of the building for educational purposes and yesterday's Advocate has a lengthy account of the speeches made by the citizens who took a prominent and active part in the opening. We regret that having no information of the intended opening, the ADVANCE was not represented on the occasion.

The Capenurst

"The Liverpool Courier of 22nd ult. has the following particulars relating to proceedings in connection with the loss of the barque Capenurst:—

"On Wednesday, at the Police-buildings, Liverpool, judgment was given in the matter of the abandonment of the Liverpool barque Capenurst, an inquiry into the circumstances of which was held the previous day before Mr. W. J. Stewart, stipendiary magistrate, who was assisted by Captain Knox, B. N. Parfitt, and Cunningham. The court found that the vessel leaving Miramichi was in a good seaworthy condition, as regards her hull and equipment. Her cargo was properly stowed and secured, and the amount of her deck cargo was not excessive. There is no evidence to show that the vessel leaked before she lated over to port, and the court is of opinion that though there may have been some water in the lower hold the list was principally due to the pressure of the wind and the weight of water on her decks. The court is of opinion that the vessel was not prematurely abandoned, as under the circumstances nothing could have been done to save her. Charles Luker, A. B., lost his life by being washed away from the wheel when the vessel was in her beam-ends. The master is not in default in regard to any of the above matters."

"Do you know who's here, Mr. Bear?"

Wm. Fish, Esq., C. E., who was surveying lines on Crown Lands for several weeks past, was running a connecting line one day last week from his base line to the Forks of the Little Baribogue. He had the veteran hunter James Connell with him as one of his chaperons, besides another chairman three axemen and a flagman. They were in the good, but being early in the season, it did not occur to any of them to save, perhaps, Connell—to look anywhere but on top of the ground for traps. That was why Mr. Fish as well as Messrs. Wm. Oldfield, Wm. O'Shea, Tennis Bryan, Henry Biggs and John Butler all passed by a certain old tree without observing anything unusual about it. Connell, however, who was in the rear of the rest of the party thought he saw signs of game and after a moment's investigation, he laid his chain down and sang out in a loud voice, "Come here, the axemen!" Mr. Fish passed the word to the axemen who were several hundred feet ahead of him and as Will Shea came running back with his axe Connell got it from him, and Oldfield also followed closely, while Bryan also drew very near. Now, Connell lives close quarters in a bear fight. Some bear-slayers catch them with fish-hooks and in traps, shoot them with rifles or slaughter them with poison or even harrow their lives out with saws, but Connell wants to get within reaching distance of the bear. On this occasion, however, as he got O'Shea's axe he went to the base of the old tree where there was a very snug den and it had a mighty big bear in it. He gave a poke to with the axe and cried out: "Do you know who's here, Mr. Bear?" It was evident that the bear did not know, for he began to come out when the bright blade of the axe descended and buried itself in his skull which was cleft fairly across between the eyes—as Connell said, so as not to spoil his beautiful skin. The subsequent proceedings indicated the bear no more, and he didn't seem to feel the two or three extra taps he received from the poll of the axe. The party had quite a big tug of it getting the animal out of the mouth of the den, where they left him. He weighed about 450 lbs. Next day James Connell, Jr., and his brother, Martin, went to the scene of the slaughter and brought home the skin and 75 lbs. of fat. It is not usual for bears to den so early but this fellow being very large and fat seems to have concluded that he ought to begin his hibernation as soon as the blue-berried season closed.

A youthful contributor of the St. John Globe furnishes that paper with the following account of a new industry recently started in that county:—Mr. Dumas, a resident of Upper Grand Ance, Gloucester county, is building a starch factory. It is situated in Lower Grand Ance, on the east side of a small stream flowing into the Bay Chaleur, about a mile and a half from the proprietor's residence in Upper Grand Ance. The building fronting the street, which is called the potato shed, is about 28x26. The potato shed, before mentioned, is the place where the potatoes are first put, from there to the cellar, where they are washed, then grated and sent up to the starch rooms. They are then pumped up to the cylinders, where, after settling for twenty-four hours, the water is pumped off them; the grains are sent to the grainery. The starch is then broken into fine pieces and taken in barrels to the dry-house, where it is put on the kilns to dry. After it is bagged up and sent to market. It is used principally in cotton factories. Each bag contains two hundred pounds. They use from ten to fifteen hundred bushels of potatoes a day.

St. Luke's Sunday School.

Sunday evening St. Luke's Methodist Sunday School celebrated their anniversary. There was a large attendance and the exercises of the children received most favorable comment. Service opened by a hymn by the children, followed by prayer by the pastor. Then, scripture reading led by Mr. Ford, superintendent of the school. The secretary submitted a short report of the school work since entering the new church of which the following is an extract:—

"In 1885, when we came into the new building the average attendance at the school was from 50 to 55, in 1887 it increased to 73 with 106 names on the roll, and in 1888 it was 85, and in 1889 100 and 122 on the roll. In 1890 it was 116, and the increase was gradual from that till 1893, when the average attendance of scholars alone was 118, teachers 15. For the first nine months of 1894 the average attendance of scholars was 156, teachers 17, visitors 10, total average 185, which is quite a marked improvement on any previous year. "The number of names on the roll in January 1894 was 202 and the last Sunday in September there were 289 on the roll. In 1893 the school raised $222.30. So far this year the school has raised $131.41. "The school circulates during the year, 1884 Banners "6500 Bearer or lesson leaves "1500 Sunbeams. "2900 Pleasant Hours. "3120 Outwards. "There are 600 volumes in the library and the book-case is on the most approved system." Mr. Ford supplemented the remarks contained in the secretary's report and said the success of the school was due to the assistance given by the parents, but that still they would further assist by seeing that the children attended even more regularly. The increase in attendance made more work and he asked those who could help to come forward and assist. Mr. Bennett made a very nice address on the responsibility of the Sunday school teachers and pointed out that the great social and moral questions would be solved through the Sunday school influence. Classes of girls and boys gave scripture readings on the "Gospel" of the Old and New Testament and "Swords" of the New Testament, and "The Indispensable Thing." The party had quite a big tug of it getting the animal out of the mouth of the den, where they left him. He weighed about 450 lbs. Next day James Connell, Jr., and his brother, Martin, went to the scene of the slaughter and brought home the skin and 75 lbs. of fat. It is not usual for bears to den so early but this fellow being very large and fat seems to have concluded that he ought to begin his hibernation as soon as the blue-berried season closed.

Northumberland Agricultural Society's Exhibition.

The exhibition of Northumberland Agricultural Society, held at Woodburn Farm—Mr. Geo. E. Fisher (on Thursday last, was one of the best that has ever taken place here in the number of exhibits as well as their variety and quality. The farm of Mr. Fisher is well adapted for the purpose and the committee, on preparation of the grounds, Messrs. Fisher, W. C. Stothard and Louis Dick, had very satisfactory arrangements made for all-comers.
