The Most Astonishing Medical Discovery of the Last One Hundred Years. It is Pleasant to the Taste as the Sweetest Nectar. It is Safe and Harmless as the Purest Milk.

This wonderful Nerve Tonic has only recently been introduced into this country by the proprietors and manufacturers of the Great South American Nerve Tonic, and yet its great value as a curative agent has long been known by a few of the most learned physicians, who have not brought its merits and value to the knowledge of the general public.

This medicine has completely solved the problem of the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia, and diseases of the general nervous system. It is also of the greatest value in the cure of all forms of failing health from whatever cause. It performs this by the great nerve tonic qualities which it possesses, and by its great curative powers upon the digestive organs, the stomach, the liver and the bowels. No remedy compares with this wonderful valuable Nerve Tonic as a builder and strengthener of the life forces of the human body, and as a great renovator of a broken-down constitution. It is also of more real permanent value in the treatment and cure of diseases of the lungs than any consumption remedy ever used on this continent. It is a marvelous cure for nervousness of females of all ages. Ladies who are approaching the critical period known as change in life, should not fail to use this Great Nerve Tonic, almost constantly, for the space of two or three years. It will carry them safely over the danger. This great strengthener and curative is of inestimable value to the aged and infirm, because its energizing properties will give them a new hold on life. It will add ten or fifteen years to the lives of many of those who will use a half dozen bottles of the remedy each year.

IT IS A GREAT REMEDY FOR THE CURE OF Nervous Prostration, Nervous Headache, Sick Headache, Female Weakness, Nervous Chills, Paralysis, Numbness and Tingling in the Ears, Weakness of Extremities and Fainting, Impure and Impoverished Blood, Boils and Carbuncles, Scrofula, Scrofulous Swellings and Ulcers, Consumption of the Lungs, Catarrh of the Lungs, Neuralgia, Bronchitis and Chronic Cough, Liver Complaint, Chronic Diarrhea, Delicate and Scrofulous Children, Broken Constitution, Debility of Old Age, Indigestion and Dyspepsia, Heartburn and Sour Stomach, Weight and Tenderness in Stomach, Loss of Appetite, Frightful Dreams, Numbness and Tingling in the Ears, Weakness of Extremities and Fainting, Impure and Impoverished Blood, Boils and Carbuncles, Scrofula, Scrofulous Swellings and Ulcers, Consumption of the Lungs, Catarrh of the Lungs, Neuralgia, Bronchitis and Chronic Cough, Liver Complaint, Chronic Diarrhea, Delicate and Scrofulous Children.

All these and many other complaints cured by this wonderful Nerve Tonic.

NERVOUS DISEASES.

As a cure for every class of Nervous Diseases, no remedy has been able to compare with the Nerve Tonic, which is very pleasant and harmless in all its effects upon the youngest child or the oldest and most delicate individual. Nine-tenths of all the ailments to which the human family is heir are dependent on nervous exhaustion and impaired digestion. When there is an insufficient supply of nerve food in the blood, a general state of debility of the brain, spinal marrow, and nerves is the result. Starved nerves, like starved muscles, become strong when the right kind of food is supplied; and a thousand weaknesses and ailments disappear as the nerves recover. As the nervous system must supply all the power by which the vital forces of the body are carried on, it is the first to suffer for want of perfect nutrition. Ordinary food does not contain a sufficient quantity of the kind of nutriment necessary to repair the wear our present mode of living and labor imposes upon the nerves. For this reason it becomes necessary that a nerve food be supplied. This South American Nerve has been found by analysis to contain the essential elements out of which nerve tissue is formed. This accounts for its universal adaptability to the cure of all forms of nervous derangement.

CRAWFORDVILLE, IND., Aug. 20, 1887. REBECCA WILKINSON, of Brownsville, Ind., says: "I had been in a distressed condition for three years from Nervousness, weakness of the Stomach, Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, until my health was gone. I had been doctoring constantly, with no relief. I bought one bottle of South American Nerve Tonic, and after using several bottles of it, I was cured. I have never since had any of the symptoms which I suffered from. I would advise every nervous person to use this valuable medicine. I have never seen a better remedy for nervous stomach and indigestion." J. H. HARRIS, Dr. Trans. Montgomery Co.

A SWORN CURE FOR ST. VITUS' DANCE OR CHOREA.

CRAWFORDVILLE, IND., June 22, 1887. My daughter, eleven years old, was severely afflicted with St. Vitus' Dance or Chorea. We gave her three and one-half bottles of South American Nerve Tonic and she is completely restored. I believe it will cure every case of St. Vitus' Dance. I have kept it in my family for two years, and am sure it is the greatest remedy in the world for Indigestion and Dyspepsia, and for all forms of Nervous Disorders and Failing Health, from whatever cause. There is no case of unalloyed disease of the stomach which can resist the wonderful curative powers of the South American Nerve Tonic.

HARRIS E. HALL, of Fayetteville, Ind., says: "I owe my life to the Great South American Nerve Tonic. I had been in bed for five months from the effects of an exhausted stomach. Indigestion, Nervous Prostration, and a general shattered condition of my whole system, had rendered all hope of getting well. I had tried three doctors, and had spent more money than I could count. I bought one bottle of the Nerve Tonic, and after using several bottles of it, I was cured. I have never since had any of the symptoms which I suffered from. I would advise every nervous person to use this valuable medicine. I have never seen a better remedy for nervous stomach and indigestion." HARRIS E. HALL, Fayetteville, Ind.

"BY AND BY."

"Mamma, take me on your knee." The baby teased with pleading eye. "Mamma, won't you kiss me?" But mamma answered "By and by."

"Mamma, ain't it most by now?" Came with a pouting baby sign. "Mamma, won't you kiss me?" But mamma answered "By and by."

Mamma, busy with her book. Read the lovely twilight book. "Mamma, won't you kiss me?" But mamma answered "By and by."

Lo, the night had settled down. And baby's cheek was all so dry. The doctor stood with thoughtful frown. "Mamma, won't you kiss me?" But mamma answered "By and by."

Next day, just as the sun had set. The small voice said with a tired smile: "Mamma, dear, is it by now yet?" "I've waited such a long, long while."

The stars that dreamed the night away. In benediction beamed on high. "Mamma, won't you kiss me?" But mamma answered "By and by."

Mamma sighed in her troubled nap. Her thoughts gloomed in the drowsy gloom. She woke with a start, and saw the dawn. "Mamma, won't you kiss me?" But mamma answered "By and by."

THE CHEST OF GOLD.

One of the places where Captain Kidd is locally reported to have buried his treasure is a certain spot on an island in the Connecticut river, in Northfield, Mass. The country up to the Connecticut river was emphatically the dark and bloody ground of New England from the time of the settlement of the valley up to the middle of the eighteenth century. Its early inhabitants fought about half their time with Indians, and devoted the rest to gaining their livelihood and planting a town.

A community which is at this day famous for its thrift and peaceable and godliness was set up in long years of toil and strife and blood.

The pretty island in the river where Kidd was reported to have buried his wealth has sometimes been called Field's Island, sometimes Stratton's island, sometimes Clark's island, and now is called Kidd's island. Names do not seem to stick to it any better than its shifting soil.

In order to bury his chest of gold here, Kidd and his pirates had to get it up over three falls in the Connecticut, and over a distance of more than 100 miles. This fact alone is sufficient to show the impossibility of the pirates having buried their treasures here.

Nevertheless, the legend declares that when they had done this, they buried the chest in the hole they had made for it, they drew logs to see which pirate of them should be put to death by the rest, in order that his body might be laid above the treasure, and his ghost thus be always on hand to defend it.

The legend tells us nothing about the pirate who was chosen, except that his uncoined body was duly laid directly upon the chest of gold. When all was done the pirates, and the crew gilded noblesly down the river.

The story which I started to tell was not of the burial of the treasure, but of the manner in which it was found. Nathan Alexander and Eldad Chamberlain dug it up or tried to dig it up, many years afterward.

Aber Field was probably the most respectable man, as he certainly was the eldest man, of this trio, and Chamberlain was probably the least respectable and most reckless, and the youngest. He had already proved himself a daring Indian fighter and hunter, and it was partly because their hearts misgave them, and they wanted a fellow with them, and partly because they felt that there was luck in the number three, that they made a partner took young Chamberlain into a partnership.

Aber Field himself, though respectable and bold, had no supernatural powers. He had come under the influence of a certain conjurer in a neighboring town, who told him to go to the exact corner of the road at a certain night when the full moon was highest in the heavens at midnight, and then dig.

If any one of those who were digging, the soothsayer said, should utter a word, the spell would be broken, and the treasure would sink into the earth and the ghost appear. But if they went at the time commanded, and maintained perfect silence to the end, the treasure should be theirs.

Of course the conjurer demanded a fee from Field, well in advance of the attempt, as reward for this valuable information, and they wanted it.

Field first confided the fact to his brother-in-law, Nathan Alexander, who was a tall, powerful and active man. The two waited until the night of the full moon, and then they went to the spot where the treasure was hidden.

BOOKS AND AUTHORS.

A volume of purely literary essays by the late Phillips Brooks is announced for autumn publication.

It is reported that Mr. Barrie, the author of "The Little Minister" and "A Window in Thrum" is seriously ill from lung trouble in London.

Mr. Henry Fuller, the author of "The Cavalier of Pensieri-Vani" and "The Cliff Dwellers," who has sailed for Europe, has just finished another novel concerning Chicago.

Like Mr. Austin Dobson, who, as Henry A. Dobson, receives pay as a clerk of the board of trade, the late Edmund Yates, the editor of the London World, had a business as well as a pen name. For a long time he was chief of the lost letter department at the London post office, and was known in the service as E. Hodgson Yates.

It seems that there is really a labor journal
