CRANDFATHER'S

SWEETHEART.

One morning in June Ben Clayton acked his trunk, locked his studio door, left the key with the janitor, hailed a cab, and drove to the Grand Central depot. He bought a ticket for Poughkeepsie. There his old college friend, Dick Hamilton, was to meet him and take him to his home in the pretty village of D—, where, since his marriage, he had often urged Clayton to visit him. Clayton was one of those men who think there is no place on earth like New York; but an unusually hot day, which promised to be the forerunner of many such during the summer, reminded him of his friend's invitation.

Notwithstanding his love for New York, in whose streets, he said, he found the world's life in miniature, he breathed a sigh of relief as his eyes fell on the restful greens of the foliage along the river bank. He even resolved that he would devote the summer to landscape painting. He had made this resolution perhaps a dozen times before, but somehow he always returned to portraiture.

Lost in thought of his plans for the summer, the time passed unnoted, and he was startled when he heard the call "Poughkeepsie."

Looking out of the window he saw his friend seated in his dog-cart. "You can't imagine my surprise and delight when I received the dispatch," said Hamilton; "there is a frightful cearth of young men—that is, those who are available for beaux—but the girls are here in full force.' "I hope you don't propose to carry me off to parties and picnics," said Clayton. "If you do I shall take the next train back to New York. I have come for a oniet visit with you and Bessie, and to do a little sketching."

'You can have your way in most things, but Bessie will never forgive you if you don't go to the fancy dress ball to-morrow night. They want an organ for the church, and there seems to be no way to get it except for people ... dance for it, and Bessie and some of the other ladies of the church decided to give a ball while so many are here

"A ball to morrow night; a picnic, I ou are the same old fellow as ever. said Hamilton. 'Pretty women have no charm for you. Are you never going to fall in love?"

"Your first love! Who is she?" "Why, don't you remember? My great grandfather's sweetheart.' "What," said Hamilton. laughing; "not the old picture you used to rave

"Yes. It is mine now, and hangs in my studio. Really, Hamilton, with all due admiration for your wife, I must say there are no such beauties nowadays."

"Well!" exclaimed Hamilton. "You in love with his great grandmother." "She was not my great-grandmother." replied Clayton; "she was only my great grandfather's sweetheart, and, as he did not marry her, I feel privileged to fall in love with her if I choose. "Why didn't he marry her?"

"Because he was a Tory and her father a Revolutionist. You know he was an artist, and he fell in love with her while painting her portrait. The war separated them, as her father would not consent to her marriage with a e old man refuse to take the "Oh, no," answered Clayton, "he was not so bad as that.'

"Well, you are a queer stick," said Hamilton, as he turned up a drive bordered with a cedar hedge, leading to a pretty Gothic house. "Here we are at last and there's Bessie waiting to receive

"Why, Bessie, you grow younger every day!" exclaimed Clayton, jumping from the dog cart as they drew up at the perch, and taking the plump white hand that was extended to him. "Oh. Ben, I am so glad you have much going on, and-" "Oh, yes, I know," interrupted Clayton, "I'm in for the ball, but it stops there. You know I'm not a lady's man, and I have Dick's promise that if I come out of my shell for to-morrow night, I may be a mollusk during the rest of my

"I'll risk you're wanting to be a mollusk after you've seen some of our pretty girls. We really are going to have a delightful party. Every one is interested in our little church. Mrs. Irving has oriered us her house for the evening, and we are going to have her large dining room for a dancing-hall. The ball is sure to be a success.

The Hamilton's was not the only house in the village in which the ball was the al-absorbing topic of conversation. evening, while strolling through the grounds, she missed the little bag from of for the week past among the fair part her arm, and said, "Oh, I must find it—it of the population. Many had sent to belonged to my greatgrand mother, whose New York for costumes; garrets had dress I am wearing to night," Claxton been ransacked for ancient finery; and could not resist the impulse to ask the

Mrs. Irving had dressed early, in order to be ready to receive her guests, but sweetheart, Phœbe Markham, and adher neice Phoebe Lee, was still in the ded: "I am named for her, Phoebe hands of her grandmother, who had undertaken the charge of her toilet. Al though a girl of 18, Phobe already looked as if she belonged to another century. Her golden hair had been powdered and arranged a la Pompadour. Her feet were in high heeled slippers, and her grandmother was fastening her dress of the latter explained to his friend the gold and white brocade, which fitted her mysterious relation that existed bemade for her.

"Why, grandma!" exclaimed Phoebe, "you must have been just about my size when you were young. I thought you were much larger, but this dress fits me "That dress was not mine, dear. It quite young, I remember her very well, and you are not unlike her. I have heard my father say she was a great belle before her marriage. She wore that dress on the night he first saw her. It was a grand military, ball, and she made all her rivals jealous by dancing no less than three times that night with the Marquis de Lafayette." "How you must prize this dress, grandma!" said Phœbe, as she looked her hand. "How you must prize it. I delightful time.

wonder you are willing to let me wear it. "I would not be willing, my dear, to let every one wear it," said the grandmother; "but I have been so struck with your resemblance to my mother that, when I heard you say you wished you had an old fashioned costume for the ball, I thought of this dress; and the desire to see you in it was so great that I offered to provide the costame and dress you myself, and I am more than satisfied with the result." "Shall I wear my pearls, grandma?" said Phœbe, as she put her hand to her neck that was whiter than the silk of her dress, which, indeed, could be said without exaggeration, as the dress had grown somewhat yellow with age.

"Oh, no; I intend to have you wear my mother's necklace. See, here it is," said the old lady, as she drew from a jewel-box a necklace composed of quaintly-fashioned patines of gold. "How odd and beautiful?" exclaimed

Phœbe. "Why have you never shown me these lovely things before?" "Because, darling, I have seen so little of you, and you have always seemed but a child till now; and then, too, it self. Do you, Bessie?" always makes me sad to bring out my dear mother's dresses and ornaments, said the grandmother, as she fastened the necklace around Phœbe's neck, at the same time brushing a tear from her eye. "I have intended they should be yours some day, as you are named for

"Oh, grandma, there is nothing you above all things." could give me I would prize more! How beautiful they are!" said the girl, as she surveyed herself in the glass. "Now, dear, get your bag and draw on your mits. It is time you joined your aunt in the parlor. Hark! I hear carriages; the greats are already arriving." the guests are already arriving."

"Be sure to come down soon," said
Phoebe, as she kissed her grandmother

As she

As she

was her constant snadow the entire day, and when after their return home, Hamilton asked to see the sketches, he had to admit that he had not taken his penand turned toward the door. As she stood on the threshold she looked back | to admit that he had not take stood on the threshold she looked back | From that time on no development of the stood of the and exclaimed: "Oh, I am almost afraid

Lafayette should walk up and lead me out for a minuette.'

room, looking pale and startled, and beckoned Hamilton aside.

"Why, what's the matter with you, man?" exclaimed Hamilton. "Are you ill? Let me call a doctor at once. How fortunate that Dr. Bush is here!"
"I am not ill. Wait a moment and I'll tell you.'

Then, whispering mysteriously to Hamilton, he said: "She is here!-my great-grandfather's sweetheart." Hamilton burst into a fit of laughter, and when he could control his voice,

"Why, Clayton, you need a doctor more than I thought you did. Your mind is certainly disordered. Don't you know, my dear fellow, that you are at a fancy dress ball? I have no doubt there are women of all centuries here. So, after all, it is the style of dress, and not the woman in the picture, you are in love with."

"This is no subject for jest, Hamilton; I tell you it is she. I would have known I tell you it is she. I would have known that face in any costume; but she wore the very same dress as in the portrait—the white and gold brocade of that odd pattern. And not only that. You remember the quaint necklace? It is around her neck. There can be no other like it."

your ramny.

Phoebe heard with amazement Clayton's story of the woman he had loved from his boyish days, and then he told her how, on the night of the ball, he portrait. He added, taking her hand which she did not attempt to withdraw: "Phoebe can you not guess what I want

"Well, I suppose it is the proper thing for Hamlet to see ghosts," said Hamilfor Hamlet to see ghosts," said Hamilton. "Come; if we go to the ball room we shall find your spirit materialized and denoting the reconst. I hear the music dancing the racquet. I hear the music a very happy man. for it now. Shall we go and look for A few days aft suppose, the next day. I see my plans for a quiet visit are doomed to failure."

"Of course not. Who would expect an letter. On opening the envelope she angel to dance the racquet? I tell you it found a sheet of paper, which contained as a vision I have seen.' They went from room to room in a vain search until about half the evening "Perhaps now," said Clayton, as they reached the art gallery, "you will admit that it was really a vision I saw. A woman of flesh and blood could not elude us as she has done. Go down to Bessie. She will wonder what has become of you. I will sit here for a while and then follow you."

"No," answered Hamilton. "Let us go to the supper room: a cup of coffee or a glass of wine will set you all right. On the stairs they met Bessie, who had been so engaged in dancing and gossiping that she had only just missed her husband and his friend "Have you been in the smoking room all this time?" she asked. "I declare you are two of the most unsociable men ever knew. Clayton gave Hamilton a quick glance as he answered "Oh, no, not all the time. We have visited the flowers and the art gallery. Mrs. Irving has cause to be proud of her pictures. "The idea of spending one's time over pictures of dead men and women, when there are so many beautiful women to be seen in the dancing room!" said Mrs.

"Hasn't Dick taken pains to introduce you to any of our pretty girls?"
"Oh, yes," replied Clayton. "I have been presented to a number." "Was Phobe Lee one of the number?" "Was she, Dick? I don't remember,"

"Of course she was not, or you would emember," broke in Bessie, before her husband could reply. "She is the prettiest girl here. Come, give me your arm and we will find her. I just met her going to the supper-room."
Hamilton followed his wife and Clayton to the door of the supper-room. come!" she said. "You couldn't have They were about to enter when Clayton dropped Bessie's arm, and turning to Hamilton with a startled look, said:

"There she is!" "Where?" said Hamilton, expecting the answer would be that she had vanshed again. "There! there at the end of the room!

Don't you see her in white and gold?" excitedly answered Clayton Bessie was thoroughly mystified, and Hamilton could not explain; he was so overcome with laughter. At last he found voice to say: "Bessie, hurry and introduce Clayton to Miss Lee before she vanishes." Clayton felt that he was in a trance when he was presented to Phobe, and the rest of the evening seemed to pass in a dream. It was most wonderful to hear this sweet picture speak—for such she seemed to him. When, later in the on the evening of the ball every house name of its original owner. The mystery was explained when she mentioned the name of his greatgrandfather's

Markham Lee; and grandma says I am like her as she appeared at my age."
"Like her, but a hundred times more beautiful!" said Clayton to himself.
That night, after they had reached home, and Bessie had retired, as Hamilton and Clayton sat smoking together, tween Poœbe Lee and the lady of the portrait. He added: "Miss Lee is the loveliest woman I ever met."

"She is certainly very pretty," said Hamilton, adding slylv: "But really, Clayton, with all due admiration for Miss Phœbe, there is no such beauties was my mother's. She was about your nowadays as her great-grandmother

The next morning, as the Hamiltons and their guest sat at breakfast, a note was brought in for Bessie. She opened it, and read aloud: "Dear Bessie-A small party of us, the Gordons, Mrs. Irving and her niece, and ourselves, are going to West Point to-morrow to spend the day and have a regular old-fashioned basket picnic. down in admiration on the rich brocade | Can't you and Mr. Hamilton and Mr. and tenderly smoothed the folds with Clayton join us? We expect to have a "What a success our ball was! We shall have the organ now." Yours as ever. SADIE ELWOOD. "You see you were right, Clayton," said Hamilton. "They are going to try to get you off to a picnic the first thing; but never fear. You shall not be forced into going. Bessie shall write that we have an engagement for the day, and I will drive you around to that lovely spot I spoke of last night, and you shall spend the day sketching. Clayton seemed anything but grateful for Dick's kindness. If his face told the truth, and, after a moment's hesitation, replied: "No, indeed; I shall not spoil Bessie's and your pleasure by my selfishness. "A promise is a promise, old fellow, and you have my word that you shall not be martyred by things of this sort." said Hamilton, who had noticed that Clayton's face brightened up wonderfully during the reading of the note, and could not resist the temptation of teasing him a little. "I know how stupid a trip of this kind is to a man of your tastes, and I really don't care to go my Bessie, who began to see how the land lay, and was enjoying the fun, replied that she did not care in the least to go. "But the views around West Point are charming, and it is just the place for sketching." insisted Clayton. "By all means accept the invitation, Bessie. I shall enjoy a day spent in that way above all things."

The undermentioned non-residents of the Parish of Chatham, County of Northumberland, are hereby requested to pay to the subscriber at his office, the amounts of County and Parish tax and school tax, as set opposite their respective names, together with the cost of this advertisement, (thirty-seven cents each) within two months of this date, as set opposite their respective names, together with the cost of this advertisement, (thirty-seven cents each) within two months of this date, as set opposite their respective names, together with the cost of this advertisement, (thirty-seven cents each) within two months of the Parish of Chatham, County of Northumberland, are hereby requested to pay to the subscriber at his office, the amounts of County and Parish tax and school tax, as set opposite their respective names, together with the cost of this advertisement, other parish tax and school tax, as set opposite their respective names, together with the cost of this advertisement, the cost of this advertisement, the cost of this advertisement, the cost of the parish tax and school tax, as set opposite their respective names, together with the cost of this advertisement, the cost of this advertisement, the cost of the parish tax and school tax, as set opposite their respective names, together with the cost of this advertisement, the cost of the parish tax and school tax.

And so the invitation was accepted. and Clayton evidently found his great-grandfather's sweetheart's double as charming in modern dress as she had been the night before. At any rate, he David Connell From that time on no devotee of society could look more eagerly for invitato go down in this costume. I would not be surprised even if the ghost of ladies could be included than did Clayton. His visit which was to have been a month at the longest, lengthened into When Phœbe entered the parlor she found that a number of the guests had already arrived and the rooms began to wear a very gay appearance.

A Spanish gypsy asked her hand for the waltz and they went to the ballroom.

A moment later Hamilton and Clayton face showed plainly that he felt himself a martyr and suited well with the costume of the "Melancholy Dane," which he wore. He wandered from room to room. Bessie and Dickswere wondering where he was, when he entered the room, looking pale and startled, and six weeks. Almost every evening found had never told Phœbe the story of his great grandfather's sweetheart, but on the last evening of his stay he called at Mrs. Irving's, intending to learn his

He found Phœbe alone. Mrs. Irving and her mother had gone to drive. At Clayton's request she went to the art gallery with him. He seemed more than unusually interested in the family portraits, and, suddenly turning to

"Miss Lee, I have a picture which should belong to your family. I feel that it is time it was restored to you." "Why, what do you mean, Mr. Clayton?" exclaimed Phœbe. "How did a

"It is the portrait of my first love," answered Clayton; and his heart gave a joyful bound as he saw the sad look which came into Phœbe's face. "Let me tell you the story, and then, on one condition, I will restore the picture to

"Phœbe, can you not guess what I want A few days afterwards an express

"Your symphony in white and gold is evidently not here," said Hamilton.
"Of course not When the said Hamilton."

"Of course not When the said Hamilton." simply the following lines:

"From year-long poring on thy pictured eyes, The organ was in the church by October, and was first used at the wedding of Ben Clayton and Phoebe Lee. To the surprise of all, instead of being arrayed in the conventional wedding dress, the bride wore an old fashioned white and gold brocade, her only ornament being a quaint gold neeklace. Phœbe says she was jealous but once. and then of her great grandmother .- 1. M. Haven, in New York Ledger.

MISSING LINKS.

Sicilian sulphur deposits employ 18,000 Cucumbers were originally tropical vege-

There are 180,000 suicides yearly and Palm leaves on the Amazon grow thirty The giraffe has a tongue almost eighteen, Ninety-one per cent. of the farmers in Utah own their farms. Thirty two thousand varieties of goods. are made from wool. The thread of silkworm is one onethousandth of an inch in diameter. Worth recently made for a Parisian belle a gown which cost the wearer $30-

An entomologist estimates that there are 240,000 varieties of insects in the Shigaken, Osaka, claims to have a dwarf 36 years old who is only 17 inches in

THE COUNTESS OF ESSEX.

Miss Adele Grant of New York recently in London became Mrs. George Devereaux de Vere Capell, countess of Essex. And oh, girls, is not that just too aristocratically lovely a name?-Pittsburg Times. Another American girl was married to an English count recently. Uncle Sam can supply the entire nobility of the British isles with lovely wives if necessary and then have enough left to insure the fondest hopes of this nation.-Pittsburg Dispatch. Another fair American has joined the ranks of the nobility. At this rate it will soon be as appropriate in Europe as in America to speak of the "foreign peerage." In the meantime, perhaps an infution of brisk American blood will put more life into that languishing institution.-Baltimore American."

What lends a peculiar interest to the latest international marriage is the fact that the young American woman in the case who has become the Countess of Essex is not rich. Her income is said to be only $4,000 a year. It is safe to infer, therefore that she was wooed and won for her beauty and loveliness. She possesses these in profusion. All happiness to the fair!-Boston

DON'TS FOR WHIST PLAYERS. Don't ask "What's trumps?" Don't find fault with your partner. Don't forget that you have a partner. Don't exult or chuckle when you win. Don't bang winning cards on the table. Don't fail to study the best authorities. Don't look the picture of despair when Don't hold your cards so they can be seen by others. Don't say, "That's the best card" or "You can't take that." Don't play with players inferior to yourself if you can help it.

Don't fail to keep your attention on the table instead of your hand. Don't hesitate in playing. Your uncertainty conveys information to your opponents.—San Francisco Chronicle.

GASTRIC JUICE.

Paris killed last year 11,862 old horses for roasts and soups. The best edible frogs dressed for table at Paris come from Alsace packed in large In economical cookery flavor soups and gravies with vinegar instead of sherry. Very little difference will be detected. Meat boiled quickly is always hard and tasteless, and it should be remembered that a very large quantity of water takes the goodness out of the meat. A new way to serve raw oysters is in tall handled tumblers. A dressing of pepper sauce goes with them, and they are picked out with the long oyster fork.

and salt, lemon juice and Worcestershire

ARCHITECTURAL. The largest stone bridge is at Tagarig, China. It is six miles long and has 300 arches, each 70 feet high. The longest wooden bridge in the world is a trestle work over Lake Ponchartrain. It is of cypress piles and 22 miles long. The largest theater in the world is the Grand Opera House of Paris. It covers more than three acres of ground and cost 3,000,000 francs. The largest movable dome in the world constructed so as to revolve on a circular track and thus facilitate astronomical observations) is that on the Paris observatory, which is 20 meters (over 60 feet) in diameter.

NOTICE.

The undermentioned non-residents of the Parish erwise the real estate of such persons will be sold, or other proceedings taken for the recovery of the rates.

School tax County & Parish tax 1892 1893 1894 1892 1893 1894 1.32 1 20 1.40 2.52 2.80 2.60 12.00 I4.00 28.00 26.00 1.65 1.50 2.10 3.15 3.50 3.90 David Connell 2.52 280 2.60 George Dick Enoch Flett 12.00 5.00 4.50 26 80 7.00 6.50 5.28 3.00 10.08 7.00 1,59 1.80 1.95 2.75 2.50 2.50 JOHN FOTHERINGHAM,

Dated at Chatham N. B. this 6th day of September

Beneral Business.

We Respectively Invite You

TO CALL AND SEE OUR VERY LARGE STOCK OF MOST ELEGANT

Boots & Shoes

REQUIRED FOR SPRING AND SUMMER. For Style, Easy Fit and Serviceability picture belonging to us come into your you will find it decidedly advantageous to look over tour display of There's case and comfort as well as style for every dainty foot our shoes encase and that makes it a case of perfect satisfaction every time. Quality unsurpassed for the price and the price below the lowest. The experience of all our customers justifies their confidence.

W.T. HARRIS, CHATHAM.

Teachers and Students

OUR annual summer feature, which has been taken advantage of by so many Teachers and College Students, during the summer vacation, will be continued this year as usual. This is an excellent opportunity to become familiar with the principles of Shorthand, to improve in writing, or to study any or all of the commercial branches. A discount of 20 PER CENT. is allowed from the usual rates. For further particulars address KERR & PRINGLE, St. John, N

Special Course!

The subscriber offers for sale his farm at Napan, well known as the late John Bremner farm, which centains 100 acres more or less of land under cultivation and well watered, besides about 100 acres additional well wooded with pulp wood, cedar The farm is seven miles from Chatham which coffers a fine market for its products. The land under cultivation is in splendid condition and the portion under grass will cut about fifty tons of hay this season, besides the usual mixed crops, for which it is well suited. It has a fine new two-storey dwelling, commodious barn and other outbuildings.

The district school is located on the property, and there is a church and also a blacksmith shop within a mile. There is a cedar bog on the farm and mussel mud in the river in front of it, which offer an exceptional privilege for obtaining fer-tilizing matter. Apply to THOMAS TRAER.

The balance of stock in my lower store not dis posed of at the auction sales, is now offered at REDUCED PRICES. RANGING FROM 15 TO 50 PER CENT.

Bargains May be Expected. as the stock will be sold without reserve, as I intend closing that business for the winter. THE STOCK CONSISTS OF

Boots, Shoes' Ready Made Clothing. Furniture, Tea, Tobacco, Oil, Molasses: Dress Goods in Merino, Cashmere, Alpaca; All Wool Flannel, White and Blue; Flannellets, Grey Cotton, White and Grey Blankets, Hats, Caps
Homespun in White and Grey, AND SEVERAL OTHER ARTICLES, SUCH AS Stoves, Seales, Ceal, Oil Tank, etc., too numerous to mention.

This is an unusually good chance for householders and country buyers to secure goods for the winter.

ROGER FLANAGAN. INSURANCE.

The Insurance business heretofore carried on by he late. Thomas F. Gillespie, deceased is continued by the undersigned who represents the following NATIONAL. IMPERIAL, LONDON, & LANCASHIRE.

ÆTNA, HARTFORD NORWICH UNION PHŒNIX OF LONDON FRANCES A. GILLESPIE Chatham, 29th Nov. 1993.

DERAVIN & CO. COMMISSION MERCHANTS.

ST. KITTS, W. I. Cable Address: Deravin

LEON. DERAVIN, Consular Agent for France.

Miramichi Advance, THE CILLESPIE CHATHAM

CHATHAM, N. B.

THE LEADING NORTH SHORE NEWSPAPER.

PRINTED EVERY WEDNESDAY EVENING.

TERMS ONE DOLLAR A YEAR PAYABLE IN ADVANCE. D.G. SMITHEDITOR & PROPRIETOR

JOB PRINTING

PRICES AND THE SHORTEST NOTICE! AT LOW

ALWAYS ON HAND:-RAILWAY BILLS. CUSTOM HOUSE FORMS, FISH INVOICES. BILLS OF EXCHANGE, MAGISTRATES' BLANKS.

NOTES OF HAND, MORTGAGES & DEEDS, JOINT NOTES, BILLS OF SALE, DRAFTS,

SCHOOL DISTRICT SECRETBRYS' BILLS FOR RATEPAYERS, TEACHERS' AGREEMENTS WITH TRUSTEES,-DISTRICT ASSESSMENT LISTS.

and other requisite plant constantly running. Equipment equal to that of any Job-Printing office in the Province.

Splendid Farm for Sale. The only Job-Printing office outside of St. John that was awarded

MEDAL AND DIPLOMA

-AT THE-

AND CENTENNIAL AT ST JOHN IN 1883

Orders by Mail promptly filled & Satisfaction Guaranteed

ASK FOR

BULL DOG

THEY NEVER LET GO, AND TAKE NO OTHERS.

Orders filled at Factory Price, and a Freight Allowance made on lots of 10 kegs and upwards at one shipment.

KERR & ROBERTSON, SAINT JOHN, N. B.

N. B.—IN STOCK AND TO ARRIVE 100 DOZEN K. & R. AXES. CANADA EASTERN RAILWAY

FALL 1894. ON and AFTER MONDAY, SEPT. 3, until further notice, trains will rup on the above Railway, daily (Sundays' excepted) as follows:

Between Fredericton and Chatham. Connecting with the I. C. R. FOR CHATHAM GOING NORTH. (read down) (read up) ar. 3 00 p m Lv. Chatham, .Fredericton,... 1 30 p. m. 2.00 " 2.20 " 2.50 " 9 30 p. m.Gibson, Ar. Chatham Junc., ... Marysville, ... 2 45 .. Cross Creek, . 1 20 Ar. Chatham, 10.40 " .. Boiestown, ... 12 10 § 11 20 § 11 00 ... Doaktown,.. ...Blackville,... GOING SOUTH .. Chatham Jet ... 8 45 Chatham 8 00 EXPRESS. 2.30 a. m. 10.00 a. m FOR INDIANTOWN BRANCH. FOR BLK'VLE Ar. Chatham Junction, 11 00 11

The above Table is made up on Eastern standard time, The trains between Chatham and Fredericton will also stop wnea signalled at the following flag Station—Nelson, Oerby Siding, Upper Nelson Boom, Chelmsford, Grey Rapirls, Upper Blackville, Blissfield Carrol's, McNamee's, Ludlow, Astle Crossing, Clearwater, Portage Road, Forbes' Siding, Upper Cross Creek, Covered Bridge, Zionville, Durham, Nashwaak, Manzer's Siding, Penniac.

Express Trains on I. C. R. run through to destinations on Sunday. Express trains run Sunday mornings CONNECTIONS are made at Chatham Junction with the I, C. RAILWAY for all points East and West, and at Fredericton with the C.P. RAILWAY for Montreal and all points in the upper provinces and with the C. P. RAILWAY for St John and all points West, and at Gibson for Woodstock, Houlton, Grand Falls, Edmundston and Presque Isle, and at Cross Creek with Stage for Stanley. THOS. HOBEN, Supt. ALEX. GIBSON. Gen'l Manager.

CANADA.

A Superb Collection of Photographic Scenes of

The Land -We Live In.

Now Ready. Remit 10 CENTS to this office, together with Coupon, which will be found in another part of this paper, and secure this valuable and handsome work.

It surpasses anything of the kind yet issued, and will insure the possessor a thorough knowledge of our country.

Issued Weekly. One part per week for twenty-six consecutive weeks.

Mailed to any part of Canada on receipt of price.

Order through MIRAMICH! ADVANCE,

CHATHAM, N. B.

[ESTABLISHED 1852.]

N.B. The subscriber having leased the above

FOUNDRY AND MACHINE SHOP. is prepared to meet the requirements of Railway, Mill and Steamboat owners and other users of Machinery, for all work and materials in his line.

IRON AND BRASS CASTINGS

will be made a specialty. Stoves, Plow-castings, etc., always in stock ORDERS IN PERSON, OR BY MAIL PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO. Estimates for work furnished on application.

JAS. G. MILLER.

Established 1866.

Dunlap Bros. & Co., AMHERST, N. S.

Dunlap, McKim & Downs, WALLACE, N. S. DUNLAP, COOKE & CO.,

AMHERST, N. S.

DUNLAP COOKE & CO. MERCHANT TAILORS,

GENTLEMEN'S OUTFITTERS, AMHERST.

N. S.

-AND-

This firm carries one of the finest selections of Cloths including all the different makes suitable for fine trace. Their cutters and staff of workmen employed are the best obtainable, and the clothing from his establishment has a superior tone and finish. All inspection of the samples will convince you that the Last One Hundred Years.

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN

AND

Stomach Liver Cure The Most Astonishing Medical Discovery of

It is Pleasant to the Taste as the Sweetest Nectar. It is Safe and Harmless as the Purest Milk. This wonderful Nervine Tonic has only recently been introduced into this country by the proprietors and manufacturers of the Great South American Nervine Tonic, and yet its great value as a curative agent has long been known by a few of the most learned physicians, who have not brought its merits and value to the knowledge of the This medicine has completely solved the problem of the cure of indigestion. dyspepsia, and diseases of the general nervous system. It is also of the greatest value in the cure of all forms of failing health from whatever cause. It performs this by the great nervine tonic qualities which it possesses, and by its great curative powers upon the digestive organs, the stomach, the liver and the bowels. No remedy compares with this wonderfully valuable Nervine Tonic as a builder and strengthener of the life forces of the human body, and as a great renewer of a broken-down constitution. It is also of more real permanent value in the treatment and cure of diseases of the lungs than any consumption. remedy ever used on this continent. It is a marvelous cure for pervousness of females of all ages. Ladies who are approaching the critical period known as change in life, should not fail to use this great Nervine Tonic, almost constantly, for the space of two or three years. It will carry them safely over the danger. This great strengthener and curative is of inestimable value to the aged and infirm, because its great energizing properties will give them a new hold on life. It will add ten or fifteen years to the lives of many of those who will use a half dozen bottles of the remedy each year. IT IS A GREAT REMEDY FOR THE CURE OF

Nervous Prostration, Nervous Headache. Sick Headache. Female Weakness. . Nervous Chills, Paralysis, Nervous Paroxysms and Nervous Choking, Hot Flashes, Palpitation of the Heart, Mental Despondency, Nervousness of Females,

Nervousness of Old Age,

Sleeplessness,

Neuralgia,

St. Vitus' Dance,

Pains in the Heart,

Pains in the Back,

Debility of Old Age, Indigestion and Dyspepsia, Heartburn and Sour Stomach, Weight and Tenderness in Stomach. Loss of Appetite, Frightful Dreams, Dizziness and Ringing in the Ears. Weakness of Extremities and

Fainting, Impure and Impoverished Blood, Boils and Carbuncles. Scrofula, Scrofulous Swellings and Ulcers, Consumption of the Lungs, Broken Constitution.

Catarrh of the Lungs. Bronchitis and Chronic Cough, Liver Complaint, Chronic Diarrhoa, Delicate and Scrofulous Children, Failing Health, Common From 1. 1 at of Infanta.

All these and many other companied caree by this wonderful Nervine Tonic.

WERVOUS DISEASES. As a cure for every class of Nervous Diseases, no remedy has been able to compare with the Nervine Tonic, which is very pleasant and harmless in all its effects upon the youngest child or the oldest and most delicate individual. Nine-tenths of all the ailments to which the human family is heir are dependent on nervous exhaustion and impaired digestion. When there is an insufficient supply of nerve food in the blood, a general state of debility of the brain, spinal marrow, and nerves is the result. Starved nerves, like starved muscles, become strong when the right kind of food is supplied; and a thousand weaknesses and ailments disappear as the nerves recover. As the nervous system must supply all the power by which the vital forces of the body are carried on, it is the first to suffer for want of perfect nutrition. Ordinary food does not contain a sufficient quantity of the kind of nutriment necessary to repair the wear our present mode of living and labor imposes upon the nervest For this reason it becomes necessary that a nerve food be supplied.

essential elements out of which nerve tissue is formed. This accounts for its universal adaptability to the cure of all forms of nervous de-CRAWFORDSVILLE. IND., Aug. 20, '86. REBECCA WILKINSON, C. Brownsvalley, Ind., To the Great South American Medicine Co.: says: "I had been in a distressed condition for the Gents:—I desire to say to you that I have suffered for many years with a very serious disease of the stomach and nerves. I tried every Stomach, Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, until my medicine I could hear of, but nothing done me health was gone. I had been dectoring conany appreciable good until I was advised to try your Great South American Nervine Tonic and Stomach and Liver Cure, and since using south American Nervine, which done me more several bottles of it I must say that I am sur- good than any $50 worth of doctoring I ever prised at its wonderful powers to cure the stom- aid in my life. I would are seen weakly perach and general nervous system. If everyone knew the value of this remedy as I do you would not be able to supply the demand.

This South American Nervine has been found by analysis to contain the

J. A. HARDEE, Ex-Treas. Montgomery Co.

A SWORN CURE FOR ST. VITAS' DANCE OR CHOREA. CRAWFORDSVILLE, IND., June 22, 1887. My daughter, eleven years old, was severely a dicted with St. Vitus' Dance or Chorea. We gave her three and one-half bottles of South American Nervine and she is completely restored. I believe it will cure every case of St. Vitus' Dance. I have kept it in my family for two years, and am sure it is the greatest remedy in the world for Indigestion and Dyspepsia, and for all forms of Nervous Disorders and Failing Health, from whatever cause. State of Indiana, Montgomery County, \} 88: Subscribed and sworn to before me this June 22, 1887.

CHAS. W. WRIGHT, Notary Pu' effect INDIGESTION AND DYSPEPS! A. The Great South American Nervine Tonic

Which we now offer you, is the only absolutely unfailing remedy ever discovered for the cure of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and the va st train of symptoms and horrors which are the result of disease and debility of the human stomach. No person can afford to pass by this jewel of incalculable value who is affected by disease of the stomach, because the experience and testimony of many go to prove that this is the one and ONLY ONE great cure in the world for this universal destroyer. There is no case of unmalignant disease of the stomach which can resist the wonderful curative powers of the South American Nervine Tonic.

HARRIET E. HALL, of Waynetown, Ind., says: | MRS. ELLA A. BRATTON, of New Ross, Indiana. HARRIET E. HALL, of Waynetown, Ind., says:
"I owe my life to the Great South American Nervine. I had been in bed for five months from the effects of an exhausted stomach, Indigestion, Nervous Prostration, and a general shattered condition of my whole system. Had given up all hopes of getting well. Had tried three doctors, with no relief. The first bottle of the Nervine Tonic improved me so much that I was able to can not recommend it too highly." lungs I have ever seen.' No remedy compares with South American Nervine as a cure for the Nerves. No remedy pares with South American Nervine as a wondrous cure for the Stomach. No remedy will at all compare with South American Nervine as a wondrous cure for the Stomach. No remedy will at all compare with South American Nervine as a cure for all forms of failing health. It never fails to cure Indigestion and Dyspepsia. It never fails to cure Chorea or St. Vitus' Dance. Its powers to build up the whole system are wonderful in the extreme. It cures the old, the young, and the middle aged. It is a great friend to the aged and infirm. Do not neglect to use this precious boon; if you do, you may neglect the only remedy which will restore you to health. South American Nervine is perfectly safe, and very pleasant to the taste. Delicate ladies, do not fail to use this great cure, because it will put the bloom of freshness and beauty upon your lips and in your cheeks and quickly drive away your disabilities and weaknesses.

Large 16 ounce Bottle, $1.00. EVERY BOTTLE WARRANTED. SOLD BY DR. J. PALLEN & SON

CHATHAM, N. B.

ine Tonic improved me so much that I was able to walk about, and a few bottles cured me entirely.

I believe it is the best medicine in the world. I began taking about six months, and am entirely cured. It is the grandest remedy for nerves, stomach and