A HARD EXPERIENCE:-- On Friday night 23rd ult. Mr. Edward Bateman, an old hunter of about seventy years, was huntin, in the woods about eight miles from Bathurs on the Miramichi road. It being very cold Mr. Bateman went to chop enough wood to de him for the night, but when he was in th act, broke his axe-handle. He, howevegathered some, made a small fire and lay down beside it, where he fell as eap. When he awoke he found that part of his clothing had burned and both feet wer frozen. He nearly died from exposure beforgetting to the nearest house, three and half miles distant. At last account he wa in Bathurst in a very critical condition His feet were so badly frozen it was feared am putation would be necessary.

On the "Rampage" at Doaktown.

Two returned exodians named Magnus Betts and George Beek made things very lively at Swim's new hotel, Doaktown, on Sunday 25th ult. A young man who ough to behave differently has the blame of bringing some Fredericton "fire water" to that usually quiet and temperate village, and sharing it with the young men in question, who, as soon as they got under its influence, took charge of Swims hotel, and by cursing and shouting in the fashion which they thought would impress their old friends with the accomplishments they had acquired in their travels, smashing the plastering with their fists and doing other damage in the hotel, terrified theirmates and others. All things have an end, however, and their tron ports ended when constable Wm. Mitchell, acting on a warrant issued on the complaint of Mr. Henry Swim arrested them the next day. They were taken before justices Burk Arichibald and Thomas Parker, who fined them a sum sufficient to pay for all the whiskey they drank and the fun they had

Obsequies of the Late Rev. Father Pannon.

After the demise of the late Rev. T. F. Bannon, Roman Catholic Rector of Chatham and Chancellor of the diocese, which briefly reported last week, as soon as the day, hour and other detais of the obsequies were determined, intimation was given to the enquiring press reporters and a telegram sent by the Bishop to each of the priests in the diocese of Chatham, and outside of the diocese to the two venerated prelates. Archbishop O'Brien of Halifax and Bishop Sweeney of St. John. who had more frequent, y met Father Bannon and had occasion to know him more intimately. To other reverend friends outside the diocese, through motives of delicacy. on account of their increased occupations in mid-lent, and the severe winter season increasing the risk and inconvenience of travelling, should they undertake to come to the obsequies, the above telegram was not sent : those distant confreres would learn the sad news through the press or otherwise. On Wednesday afternoon the body of the deceased pastor was borne by the friends who carried the coffin, accompanied by Father Joyner and Father Edward Bannon, from the Hotel Dieu to the residence of the Bishop, who met it at the door, and escort ed the cortege to the large parlor which had been prepared and draped in a solemn and tasteful manner as a temporary mortuary chapel, under the direction of Mr. Patrick Connors and several ladies of the congrega tion A small table with crucifix and holy water vase stood at the head, while several lighted tapers in tall candlesticks surrounded the corpse Through the glass in the lid of the coffin the face and body could be viewed, the body being robed in sacerdotal violet vestments such as worn by a priest celebrating mass. By raising the windows due ventilation was always effected. In this wake-room it remained, constantly visited by groups of mourning and praying friends until the time of its removal to the church for the funeral mass on Friday morning. Two or more gentleman and as many ladies

When the time appointed for commencing the obsequies arrived on Friday, the clergy robed in soutan and surplice, and the altar boys, preceded by the processional cross and holy water vase and sprinkle, went to take up the body from its position in the wake room and bring it to the church, while they chanted solemnly in chorus the prescribed psalms. The Rev. Henry Meahan R. His brother, Rev. Edward J. Bannon, being ordained priest at the Grand Seminary Montreal, in December, 1873 was stationed with he pastor of St. Margaret's, first a Vicar, then as successor in 1874 when the elder brother was promoted as Rector of the pro-cathedral at Chatham. During all the period of Father Bannon's preparatory studies at St. Michael's Colleg , Father Morriscy was as ociated with him, either as Professor or senior student; while Father Dixon commencing in Sept 1864, after his arrival from St. Javlath's College, Tuam, Ireland, was Professor of Greek and Latin, and hadFather T. Bannor as di ciple in his class until both men in 1868, in company with Father Stanislaus J. Doucet (and Hon F.J. McManus of Bathurst) as fellow students went to pursue their theological studies at the Grand Seminary of Montreal. Rev Father Casey was invited to be the preacher because he was sent by Bishop Sweeney, and fills, in the cathedral of St. ohn, the same office as Rector which Father Bannon filled in Chatham. The motive of his invitation was as a mark of filial love and respect for Bishop Sweeney. He was sent by Bishop Dollard (the former beloved R C. pastor of Miramichi) when stil a young priest (or ained in Sept. 1844) to succeed Father John Shanahan, the first stationed as resident R. C. priest in Chatham. Father Thomas Bannon, born on the 31st October, 1845, was baptized on the 9th November by Father Shanahan The young Father Sween. ey came to take charge of the church and dependent missions of Chatham in Jan. 1846 and remained till the autumn of 1849 Thus. on the arrival of Father Sweeney, the fu ure Father Thomas Pannon was not three months old. During the past rship of Father Sweeney in Chatham, the intelligent zeal pastoral solicitude and apostolic charity of the young pastor was often and conspicuously called into requisition. It was in these years that the immigrant ship lear relatives called upon to mourn his loss, fever visited the port of Miramichi, as well nd earnestly pray that God may give them as to a greater extent the larger sea ports all along the Atlantic coast. Father Sweeney by his prompt intelligent co-operation with the health and medical officers, as well as in discharging his clerical duties at the quarantine station, saved many a life and restored to health and usefulness many of those languishing. The leprosy hospital was also organized on Sheldrake is and at that time and within his pastorate the small pox broke out among the Indians of Burnt Church. As a "good shepherd" exposing his life for his sheep, the future Bishop Sweeney was active and strong as a lion, though modest, amiable sooth ng and consoling in all his visits. In material increase and development Father Sweeney also left monuments of his active zeal. The first presbytery (or pastoral residence) was built in Chatham, the R. C. school house at Douglastown intended to serve also as a chapel, for which use it is still employed, the erection of the present church of St. Margaret's (for which Father Shanahan had prepared the frame) and the St. Patrick's (now sometimes called St. Michael s) Temperance hall in Chatham, were all the work of Father Sweeney's pastorate. His memory is cherished by the old people, for many of whom (like Mrs Moses Connors and her sister, Mrs. Patrick Connors, aunts o Father Bannon) he pronounced their nuptial

Father Casey at first modestly declined the honor of preaching, saying that at such short notice he could not do justice to the occasion. But when the argument was used that as he was sent by and represented his Bishop whose pastorate in Chatham had been so fruitful of good he might be sure that the Hely Ghost would put the right words in his mouth to edify the flock whom Bishop Sweeney had loved and benefited, he kindly onsented. The universal satisfaction which this forecast was fully realized,

JOHN MCMILLAN.

Mr. J. L. Stewart seems to think that it is no harm to deal in slander and untrue statements affecting the buisness standing of Mr. Smith, and professes to be particularly offended because we intimated that he had written what was untrue respecting his experiences on the Telegraph. We have known him, within two years, to d worse than that-to wit when he made a bogus transfer of his property to the late Mr. John Sadler and then soleumly declared he was penniless in order to escape Rev. John Carter, R. C. pastor at Petit a legal liability. A man who can do that ought not to pretend to be sensitive when his veracity is doubted. It would, have been better, perhaps, we had allowed him to advertise himsetf as he pleased in connection with Mr. Livingston's death, but the errois and misstatements of the self-landatory article he published were so glaring that the duty of correcting what might cause errors when the history of New Bruuswick journalism is written, made us forget that we were dealing with a person of very uncanny | Street, Chatham, qualities, fit only to be handled with very thick gloves, or tongs. We are aware that the discussion of such matters as these between editors is ingvery bad taste and we owe an apology to our readers for returning to this subject. We would not have done so but for the attack made upon the credit to John Stothart by the Trustees of Sr. of Mr Smith at the time he left St. John, Andrews Church Chatham and was contwenty years ago, and which Mr. Stewart. in his worthlessness, thought he could misrepresent with impunity.

A Great Opportunity. Ruptured and Deformed.

The success in relieving or overcoming the above, is in knowing the differences between the various cases and in adjusting a suitable nstrument to each. Charles Cluthe, of Toronto, has been established for 22 years and has invented 27 patented improvements in this line in use to-day. Tens of thousands of his trusses have been sold, and their praise of curing Rupture entirely is echoing from ocean to ocean. The rare adaptability of Mr. Cluthe in the mechanical field t relieve any deformity has also been well tested and proved in innumerable cases, made under his superintendence in his own factory. People rupture, and deformed, such as white swelling, club feet, spinal Physicians' instructions will be honored. To have such an experienced and responsible man as Mr. Cluthe coming so near us is of great importance and his judgement in your case should be sought for, which requires personal examination and measurements for the proper article.
