ELECTRIC SPARKS.
Incandescent lamps now sell for twenty-five cents apiece.
Magneto and automatic telephones are now coming to the front.
Italian fire engines are supplied with hose fitted with electric wires, so that the firemen handling the hose can communicate with those already at the scene.
On January 26, we are told, the Heilmann electric locomotive was tried between Havre and Paris, drawing thirteen cars at a speed of seventy-five miles an hour.
Electric headlights for railway locomotives are coming into general use. The Southern Pacific railway has already equipped many of its engines with the new headlight.
It is reported that the Thomson-Houston company is in negotiations with the Belgian inventors (Messrs. Lagrange and Hobo) of an electric welding process for the purchase of the patent rights of France.
There are now in the United States more than three hundred mining companies making use of electricity for light and power. About one-third of the gross amount of copper refined in this country is now treated by electrolytic processes.
St. Mary's falls, Michigan, is now being utilized for electric power production, the power being transmitted to the Sanit by wire. A new flouring mill will be run by electricity, and it is contemplated to use electric power in the iron mines.

THE FINANCIAL WORLD.
The Canadian Pacific railway report for 1893 shows that the net earnings were $7,948,000, a decrease of $878,000.
Bethlehem Iron Company has increased its capital from $3,000,000 to $10,000,000 to provide for extensions of plant.
Reports from United States consuls at various foreign ports show an increasing demand for American flour and wheat abroad.
The number of furnaces in blast in Belgium at the commencement of January, 1894, was 26, while there were 16 furnaces out of blast at the same date.
American Tobacco Company reports for the year 1893 net earnings $4,334,467, against $4,739,301 in 1892, and surplus after dividends $1,912,007, against $1,612,501.
Mobile reports the export lumber trade here is increasing, and that mills working are having all that they can do to supply the demand, vessels often having to wait for cargoes.
The Metropolitan Telephone Company, of New York City, who are licensed under the Bell Telephone Company, are now offering the genuine Bell Telephone instruments for sale at $1.25 each.

NAMES FOR GIRL BABIES.
Susan is Hebrew, a lily.
Alma is Latin, the kindly.
Rachel is Hebrew, the lamb.
Margaret is Greek, the pearl.
Clara is Latin, the bright one.
Adeline is German, the princess.
Eunice is Greek, the fair victory.
Minnie is a diminutive of Margaret.
Ruth is Hebrew, and means beauty.
Sophia is Greek, and means wisdom.
Florence is Latin, the blooming one.
Agatha is a Greek name, the good one.
Arabella is Latin, the beautiful lady.
Rosamond is Saxon, the rose of France.
Lucy is the feminine of the Latin Lucius.
Edith and Editha are Saxon, happiness.
Luisa is German, the feminine of Louis.
Esther is a Hebrew word, meaning secret.
Sarah, the Hebrew name, means princess.

HORSE NOTES.
Too much coarse food has made thousands of horses unsound.
Trotting through sandy or muddy places and on rising grades exhausts a horse rapidly. In such places go slowly.
Horses were never so cheap as now, quality considered, and yet the best authorities all agree that with proper care and discrimination there is still good money in the business.
Senator Mitchell, well-known as a breeder of trotters, has introduced a bill in the United States Senate prohibiting racing in the District of Columbia from December 1 to April 1.
Until a young horse reaches maturity his circulation is not so strong as it afterwards becomes; consequently he is more subject to the ill effects of jarring from fast work and tension from heavy drawing, which shows itself in connection with the fetlock joints by swellings of various kinds.
MISSING LINKS.
The word apostrophe, so often used in the Bible, simply means officer.
Greek sculptors often used eyes of glass or crystal in the faces of their statues.
The "Georgia" jumper grasshopper has a wing spread equal to that of a robin.
Rothschild required of his cook a different kind of soup for every day in the year.
American pumps are known in China and Japan as well as in all parts of Europe.
Moscow is said to have 1,706 "big bells," the smallest of which weighs 5,000 pounds, and the largest 447,772.
An English woman has employed thirty-five poor Irish women since 1855 in making a copy of an old piece of Bayeux tapestry.

SHORT BUT ELOQUENT.
A good appetite is no proof of a clear conscience.
If you are not made better by giving, double your gift.
A man is never eloquent when people do not believe in him.
Some can ride a hobby with as much cruelty of spirit as others mount a war horse.
No field of wheat ever ripens that does not have a good deal of straw and chaff in it.
If all the words wasted on the weather were planks every cabin in the world could be weather-boarded.—Ran's Horn.
FROM MANY SOURCES.
Americans are the best penmen in the world and the British come next.
Wild tobacco, said to be equal to the real Havana, has been found growing in Texas.
In proportion to their size spiders are seven times stronger than lions.
A Yankee's expectation of life is generally greater than a German's or an Englishman's.
The part of the human body least susceptible to touch is between the shoulder blades just above the hips.
PEOPLE OF NOTE.
Granville S. Belmont, of San Francisco, has just taken second rank at the famous Paris academy of art in Paris. Belmont, who is only twenty-two years of age, is a deaf mute.
Mrs. Anston, a sister of Cardinal Manning, and a great favorite with him, died in England recently at the age of ninety-three. She was a devoted adherent of the Anglican church.
Mr. William Durant was treasurer of the Boston Transcript for six years. Although now in his seventy-eighth year he is still to be found at his post in the counting room early and late.
Miss Louise Imogen Guiney, author of "A Riddle of Haps," in giving the date of her birth for a biographical note recently, wrote playfully: "I am the only lady with a permanent date attached."
William Rufus was conspicuous for his red head. He had no special love for the color and once had his stock of hair dyed, but the result was so unsatisfactory that he never repeated the experiment.

Reynolds was often annoyed by being requested to paint the portraits of ugly women of quality. He said: "If I paint them as they are they will hate me; if I don't paint them as they are I shall hate myself."
Miss Ellen Terry makes the "autograph hand" useful by requiring every one who wants her autograph to contribute something toward the support of the hospital in which she is especially interested.
ODDS AND ENDS.
Violets for outdoor wear and sweet peas for indoors are the accepted floral adornments.
The stationers are selling to young women who know no better than to buy it vivid heliotrope and eye-distracting gay ties, with the assurance that those are "the novelties."
Salad bowls, water pitchers and all sorts of table appointments come in cut glass and silver. The glass is so brilliant that it is often difficult to tell where one begins and the other ends.
Indian brass is among the recent importations. It has a copper tinge, which makes it warmer looking than Bronzes. Bowls, trays and candlesticks elaborately chased come in this ware, and some of the most beautiful pieces are decorated in response and silver work.
The ribbon bound tiaras, with pearl little bows in front, which have adorned the winter girl's locks have given place to lace. A web of lace or white lace binds the wire round which forms the foundation of the ornament, and two airy little butterflies take the place of the bow.
FOREIGN NOTES.
The system of numbering the hours of the day from one to twenty-four has been adopted by the Italian railroads, and is in use for all time schedules.
The King of Portugal has just effected an insurance on his life of forty thousand pounds with an English office, the risk being estimated at 40,000; Great Britain, 28,920; and Russia, 17,326.
Dr. Granger, of Chester, who was called to London to advise Mr. Gladstone concerning his sight, says: "I did not find anything in the matter of Mr. Gladstone's eyesight to prevent his remaining in office. I found that his general health was exceedingly good."
A noble illustration of the depreciation in recent years in the value of English estates is in the fact that the estate of Gledon, the seat of the late Maharajah Gulab Singh, which was offered for sale in 1870, and an offer of five hundred thousand pounds for it refused, was sold a few days since for one hundred and fifty thousand pounds.
PRETTY FEMINE CONCEITS.
One of the pretty conceits of the day is a bouffant made entirely of white fur. Very large white fur rugs are also greatly in vogue, and are not expensive, three good-sized goat skins sewn together making a reasonably large rug.
A handsome cover for a piano can be made by using a square of plain satin, with border twelve or fifteen inches wide of gold or silver wrought satin. A centre of padding with border of still paler gray, or a plain silver centre, with gold wrought border, is very effective.
The elaborate millinery lamp shades have over-shadowed the mark and are no longer considered in the way of taste by people with pretensions to refined artistic taste in such matters. The softly tinted, fluted porcelain shades or the plain ground glass globes toned down by a simple little silk shade, are always pleasing.
A bamboo lounge gives one cold chills, but it can be transformed into a thing of beauty with small expense. Get golden brown or dark red corduroy and make thick tufted cushions for the seat and back. They may be made in sections and tied to the lounge; then have three or four big down pillows covered with India silk to scatter over it.
FORLORN MOMENTS.
The star sapphire shows in its depths a white star with five rays.
The finest sea mirage is the Fata Morgana, in the straits of Messina.
A landing shark, a very rare species, was recently captured at Monterey, Cal.
It costs four mills per pound to transport pork from Chicago to Liverpool.
Naturalists assert that a healthy swallow will devour six thousand flies every day.
The public baths in Boston were used over one million times during the three summer months.
It is said that people eat twenty per cent more bread when the weather is cold than when it is mild.
To win a wager George A. Lee, of Litchfield, Minn., smoked fifty cigars in eleven hours. One of the cigars he consumed in six minutes.
MANY AFFLICTIONS.
Henry VII was miserably penurious. His parsimony was a matter of ridicule among his people, but no amount of scoffing could ever compel him to open his coffers and spend his money.
Buckle planned work for a half-dozen life-times, and was miserable because he knew he could not finish it. When attacked by his fatal illness he exclaimed: "What will become of my book?"
Tops was made miserable all his life by the criticism of men whom he knew to be unworthy to judge his poetry. He knew their ignorance and prejudice, but could not endure their criticism.
Hands and Hands.
Syms—I held a beautiful hand last night.
Syms—How dare you! Tell me at once who he is and don't flatter it.
Syms—My dear I am only attracted to four ears.
Forlorn Expressions.
Hills—I'm not-rat-and that Miss Gush is quite an emotional young woman.
Hull—Yes, but she is not in it with her father.
He expresses his emotions and I feel them.
Rapid Transit.
Syms—I got ahead of Brown the other day.
Syms—Borrow money?
Syms—No, he took a trolley car and I walked.—Pen and Scissors.
Self-Devotion.
Jack Ash—I love you madly; can you say as much for yourself?
Ethel Knox—Yes; I think my devotion to myself is something out of the ordinary.
