ODD AND CURIOUS.

The horn of the rhinoceros is not joined to the bone of the head, but grows on the skin like a wart or corn.
The Megalodon, fossil lizard, is estimated from the size of its bones to have been not less than fifty feet in length.
The young of several species of serpents retreat down the throat of the mother when pressed by sudden danger.
A microscopic examination of a hair will detect the size of the bones to have been not less than fifty feet in length.

GOODS OF THE ANCIENTS.

It was said of both Athens and Rome that so numerous were the temples and statues of gods it was easier to find a god than a man.
All youths and maidens worshipped Venus or Aphrodite, offering to her all sorts of flowers, but particularly the rose and myrtle.
The parks and gardens in Athens had protecting deities who, it is to be presumed, enforced attention to the sign: "Keep off the grass."
When a Roman tramp set out in the morning for a day's business, he prayed to Themis to teach all housewives the value of hospitality.
Every ancient man had his attending genius, every woman her Juno. Sacrifices to these guardian spirits were always made on birthdays.
The Hindoo god of marriage is represented with a human body and elephant's head, seated on a throne resting on a circle of human skulls.

MILITARY MATTERS.

A retired French naval officer has invented a rifle which is capable of firing two kinds of explosive bullets at once.
There are now seventy-four survivors of the famous Balaklava charge, so far as the British army authorities have trace.
A number of interpreters, intended for war service, are to be appointed to serve in the German army. They are especially required to be proficient in Russian and French.
Bayonets were invented by a Basque regiment during a battle near Bayonne. Their ammunition had given out, and in despair they fixed their knives on the ends of their guns to resist a charge.
Even Bulgaria, with her one hundred or less miles of coast line on a small inland sea, has caught the naval fever, and the government has just voted a sum equal to about five million dollars, for the establishment of a navy.

SUMMER FANCIES.

Flower embroidery, flower figure pieces of modest size.
Capes, peleries, basques, long jackets and short ones, but never so short as last year.
Paste diamonds and false pearls and small jet pieces in ornaments of buckles, clasps.
Embroideries, polka dots, fleur de lis figures, arabesques, netted lace used in applique designs.
Moire and onduline and glass effects in ribbons; enormous bows of moire with long dangling ends.
Picture hats with large ribbons; sailor hats with pale buff bristles tickling the sky; tiny, butterfly bonnets.
Low shoes in an increasing variety of shades, worn with wicked-looking white or creamy silk stockings.—Ellen Osborn.

HARD TIME DELICACIES.

Rice Waffles.—Separate the whites and yolks of two eggs and beat light. Sift a pint or more of flour in a bowl, add salt to taste, two teaspoonfuls of yeast powder, enough milk to make a good batter, and then put in the half cupful of cold rice, the yolks, and lastly the whites, well beaten. Bake in hot water.
Hot Water Cake.—Two cupfuls of sugar, two cupfuls of flour, two teaspoonfuls of yeast powder, four eggs, three-fourths of a cupful of boiling water. Break eggs (whites and yolks) in sugar and beat well. Sift in the flour, then the yeast powder, and last of all the boiling water. Bake whole or in layers. A caramel filling converts it into a delicious cake.
Cornmeal Pudding.—Put one cupful of milk on to boil, with a few bits of cinnamon. Mix one teaspoonful of cornmeal with one cupful of cold milk and add, with a pinch of salt, to the boiling milk. Cook thoroughly, stirring all the time. When nearly done add a half cupful of sugar and one spoonful of butter. Cook a few minutes longer, and then pour into a shallow dish. Dust with cinnamon and serve hot or cold.

Mold of Cornmeal.—Take two cupfuls of coarse cornmeal and cook for twenty minutes with one pint of water, three cloves and a few bits of cinnamon. Add, little at a time, two cupfuls of milk, stirring constantly; then add two tablespoonfuls of lard and two of butter, and one teaspoonful of salt. Cook for one hour, then add a half-pint of brown sugar and pour into two one-quart bowls. On each press a tin plate, which must be filled with red hot coals, and leave until brown on top. Serve at once.—Good Housekeeping.
