Christmas and New Year.

If it is worth while for local storekeepers to make special importations of stock for Christmas and New Year holidays, it is important that they should let the public know they are doing so. To this end, they should not only adout printed circulars and distribute presses will do this work expeditiously and at holiday rates.

On the 19th there will be an entertainment given by a few of the boarders when they will perform their calisthenic drill, which, of itself, is well worth the price of admission. The Sisters should have a large patronage, as they are worthy of it because of the good work they are engaged in. # Week of Fasting and Prayer.

The Salvation Army is preparing for their Annual Self-Denial Week, which will be celebrated throughout the Dominion of Canada, from December 1st to 8th, inclusive. The proceeds which have been raised in other years through this concentrated effort, has been a remarkable testimony to the Army's development and activity. Every member of the Army, as well as the numerous friends of its institutions, are asked to abstain from some or all luxuries, and in some cases, officers and soldiers have determined to do without even such expenditure as is ordinarily considered necessary, in order to raise funds to support the Salvation Army in its many different branches. The Social operations, especially, have been greatly developed during the last twelve months, and, as a natural consequence, the demands upon the funds of the Army have increased, which will require greater efforts to raise an increased amount during this Self-Denial Week. The total amount aimed for is $23,000.

Sudden Death of Mr. Robert Godfrey.

On Saturday last as Messrs. Geo, Murdock and Alex McLean were passing along the road near the McDougall & Russell mill, Black Brook, they met Mr. Robert Godfrey vertise in the ADVANCE but get of Black River, who was driving towards Chatham. The men greeted each other, and them liberally. The ADVANCE job Mr. Godfrey seemed to be in good health and there was no indication so far as either Murdock or McLean observed of anything amiss with him. One of them, however happened to look around after the teams had passed each other and saw Godfrey fall forward in his wagon. They went back his assistance and found him speechless and evidently dying and in a minute or two he was dead. Dr. J. S. Benson, coroner, was called and enquired into the case, but did not think an inquest necessary as apoplexy was evidently the cause of death. Mr

Passenger Car Burnei.

A very fine first-class combination car, built by the Laconia Company, which was standing on the track of the Canada Eastern Railway at Chatham station on Tuesday night, was discovered, about midnight, to be on fire. The flames had pretty full possession of it when discovered and must have been under way for some time, and they were not subdued until all he body of the car, excepting a portion of the baggage end, was destroyed. It may be said that only the trucks were stove used to heat the car: was worth about $3,000 and its loss is all the more unfortunate, just at this time, when Mr. Gibson is making such praisworthy effort s to extend and improve the road and its accommodation of the public.

He was always a prominent man in the city of his birth-a leading figure in its social life, always in a responsible civic position. a chief amongst its military men, high in Masonic circles and a model awyer and judge. In his younger days he was idolised as the commanding officer of the crack artillery Battery of Canada and the best young men of the city who served under him would follow his ead with the guns or in the carrying out of any undertaking he might direct. He was judge of the city court and clerk of the common council, afterwards he became police magistrate as well as common clerk and on the death of the late judge Watters, he was made county court judge. He brought to all the offices he held rare ability and invariably discharged his duties with precision and dignity. He was grand master of Freemasons from the rection of the New Branswick Grand Lodge in 1867 until 1870 when he declined fourth term. He also commanded the irst Canadian Wimbledon team. All who knew him will regret his death.

New Steamer.

Senator Snowball is building a steampoat on the public wharf, Chatham, which will be different in nearly all its main features from any owned by him, or anyone else in the province. The new vessel is intended for service between Chatham and Tracadie and will probably be engaged chiefly at Tracadie in towing and other work connected with Mr. Snowball's large and ncreasing lumber operations in Lower Gloucester, Tabusintac, etc. Her principal dimensions are, length 101 feet, beam 22 feet, depth 6 feet. The keel is of birch, and the bottom planking of the same wood; the frame of hacmatac and spruce. The bottom is very flat, as the boat is designed to draw about 20 inches or less of water when fully equipped for running, there being only about two feet over a large area of the Tracadie where he work is to be done. She will of course be paddle-wheeler, Mr. James Desmond of Chatham, oue of the most experienced master-builders of the province, is in charge of the work, the original model having been made by Mr. David Lynch of St. John, who, n a visit to the building yard last week found his design somewhat changed, but in all cases improved upon. The new boat will be a valuable addition to the already large Miramichi steam fleet,

The New Public Building.

Under the heading-"Found fault with the plumbing" the World of last Saturday said :- "Mr. Adams, of the Public Works Department, inspected the new Dominion building on Friday, to see if the contract had been completed, and passed the masonry, wood work and plastering as up to the mark. But he objected to the plumbing and heating apparatus as insufficient. Both had been approved by the building inspector, Mr. Treen says, and the contractor had settled with the plumber on the strength of the inspector's certificate. Mr. Adams claims that the plumbing is not according to specifications, and Mr. Treen will have to make the required changes at his own expense. Mr. Campbell of St. John, who put in the heating apparatus, will be required to remove the registers in the corridor of the pest office and put in the steam pipes called for by the specifications.'

Mr. Adams of the Public Works department informed our reporter on Saturday after carefully reading the foregoing-that there was no truth in it, excepting in so far as it related to the masonry and plastering of the new public building.

Characteristic Tactics.

It is an easy matter for unprincipled people to start a falsehood and have it utilised for disreputable purposes, especially when they can find publishers to assist them in their designs. Some of Hon. Mr. Adams' "friends" appear to be anxious that an impression should go abroad that the ADVANCE desires to treat him unfairly, and it has been pointed out that in its report of the late proposed Black Brook ferry-meeting held at Bartibog, it suppressed the alleged fact that a letter was read from Mr. Adams, explaining why he was not present, etc. The World said that the chairman had such a letter, and its reference to it was put in such a way that the casual reader would infer it was read or mentioned. To strengthen the charge of alleged omission against the ADVANCE the following is quoted from the St. John Telegraph's Chatham correspondent's reference to the ferry meeting :-

"A letter was read from Hon. M. Adams regretting his inability to be present, and assuring the good people of Black Brook that he would do all he could for them at Ottawa to assist the object of the meeting.' Those who have had the ADVANCE's alleged suppression of Mr. Adams' name whispered to them and the fiendish object of the editor dilated upon will, perhaps, be surprised to learn that no letter from Mr. Adams was read or even referred to by anyone at the meeting. The reporter the ADVANCE was present before the meeting opened, during all the time it was in session and was one of the last to leave the building after it adjourned, He was the only reporter present, and the ADVANCE was th only paper to publish an accurate report of what was said by the different speakers. It could not and did not report what did not take place. If any one at the meeting had the letter stated by the World and Telegraph he should, in justice to Mr. Adams, have read it to the meeting, or stated its tenor, but it is a contemptible thing for anybody to falsely report such reading, when it did not take place and then make use of the report to the prejudice of others. Those concerned can hardly expect to make an honest gain by such tactics.

It has not been possible, at this early date, to ascertain the extent of the failure, but the general belief seems to be that it will have a disastrous effect. The St. Lawrence Lumber company have extensive properties at Bersimis, Quebec, and also in Gloucester, N. B. The last named property was formerly owned by Senator K. F. Burns, who is said to be the company's heaviest stocknolder, and who has been its manager since its inception some four or five years ago. A full account of this company's operaions in New Brunswick recently appeared n the Sun. Its average annual cut in this province is not less than 10,000,000 feet. Its operations in Quebec are somewhat more

The company was organized with a capital tock of £50,000, but only about $37,000 was subscribed, This of course very greatly hampered it. The first two years work are said to have been fairly good, but in improving the properties nearly all the available funds were expended, and it has been laboring under difficulties ever since. The lecline in the shipping and lumber business luring the past year or two had a very bad effect upon the company's interests, and it is understood it went behind over $60,000 in two years. However, the high standing of the firm of Novelli & Co., kept it going and it was hoped that with the revival of better times the company would pull through without any difficulty. But the failure of Messrs. Novelli & Co, has brought affairs to

The Canadian stockholders are Hon. Mr. Burns, Hon. Peter White, W. H. Thorne, to be notified and an order from Judge Tuck J. J. McGaffigan and the J. M. Humphrey estate. The two former held the largest shares. It is stated that Mr. Burns holds half the subscribed stock.

liquidator. Before the company was compelled suspend payment, steps had been taken t carry on the winter's lumbering operations as usual. Supplies had been purchased and the men sent into the woods. At the meeting of the stockholders held here it was decided if possible the operations should be continued. It was pointed out that their abandonment would mean the loss of a large sum of money. It is probable that Hon. Mr. Burns will superintend the winter's operations as soon as he is appointed liquidator. The stockholders will be the heaviest osers. Those who have furnished supplies will suffer to some extent. It is thought that $12,000 or $14,000 will cover their loss. About $6,000 is owed in Quebec. Mr. Hazen asked for delay till he had time to examine the papers. He had only been retained last evening and had not yet seen them. His instructions had been by cable and were necessarily mesgre, but they were to at present, oppose all windingup proceedings and under all circumstonces to oppose the appointment of Senator occurring many times. It is essentially Burns as liquidator. He urged delay and said the great bulk of the creditors, including many of the shareholders, had not been notified of the proceedings.

Mr. Pugsley said that the English people Mr. Hazen read a telegram from Hon. Peter White, a heavy creditor, declaring he did not know and had not been consulted about any liquidation proceedings. Continuing, Mr. Hazen urged not only that all parties should have full opportunity to be heard, but that as a matter of courtesy until to morrow morning. Attorney General Blair said many strong reasons existed for going on. He declared all parties knew of every step that had n the Sun that Novelli & Co., the great been taken, and said the interests were so great that it was desirable that immediate action be taken to guard them by the appointment of a receiver. He declared that he would be out of town The Canadian stockholders are few, but it to-morrow, and Mr. Pugsley said he would

Mr. Hazen next urged that, as the great nterests at stake had got along for several days without any special supervision, they could surely survive for another twentyfour hours. He argued that proceedings having been taken in England to wind up the company any order made here could only be ancillary and subordinate to it The haste which was being displayed seemed to him like an effort on behalf of a particular individual. He urged that delay be made until the liquidator could come out from England. Judge Tuck said he could not do that, but he suggested an adjournment until 3 o'clock.

After further discussion. Messrs. Hazen. Allen and Angers retired and, returning in a few minutes, proposed to Mr. Pugsley and the other lawyers present that they would consent to liquidation on the understanding that somebody other than Senator Burns was appointed liquidator. This was not acceptable and then Mr. Hazen asked for adjournment until 3 o'clock, which was granted.

[Globe of Tuesday, 27th.] This morning the order was made by Judge Tuck for the liquidation of the Canadian business of the St. Lawrence Lumber Company, and Senator K. F. Burns, the late manager, was appointed provisional liquidator. Mr. Ernest Cooper, who has been appointed liquidator by the English courts, is now on his way out from England and as soon as he arrives will be appointed joint liquidator with Mr. Burns. Until his arrival Mr. Burns can only carry on the ordinary business of the concern. If any special action is necessary Messrs. Hazen & Allen, solicitors for Mr. Cooper, will have

It is likely arrangements will be made to continue the lumber operations and other business of the company for the present at least. This course is considered necessary to protect the property. When the appointment of a permanent liquidator is being considered a hot fight will likely be made. The English influence is against Senator Burns, but the Canadian creditors seem to be in his favor and he has a strong personal interest. The impression prevails that the English people will gobble up the property and leave nothing for the Canadians, and it is thought Senator Burns would best protect their interests. It is likely an attempt will be made to secure the appointment of some practical Canadian lumberman.

The religious work committee have under consideration a suggestion, recently made, that the Y. M. C. A. have a short 'song service' on Sunday evenings, after the close of the church services. The request | children, young and old, to have such meetings comes from some who claim that they cannot get out in the afternoon, but would attend a meeting in the TEA, evening. The association's one desire is to serve the public in any possible, helpful way. This is a question for careful consideration, and such it will receive.

Mr. J. H. Crocker, of St. Stephen, N. B. has taken the general secretaryship of the Amherst, N. S., Y. M. C. A. Mr. Crocker has a more than local reputation as an athlete and gymnast, and has been a very active and successful worker in the association at St. Sephen. St. Stephen has another young man at the Springfield training school preparing for the physical directorship.

The parlor of our association is receiving ome ornamental additions. A mantel shelf and drapery, a corner shelf, a handsome everlasting boquet and other small articles recently added all contribute to make the rooms attractive and home-like, A mantel clock is the most urgent need now. ### Ormskirk. Away from the noise of the city,

I wander through meadows green The fitful sun is shining But dimly across the scene; Until as it nears its setting

It pierces through clouds that lower, And the gray old town is transfigured, And the church with its spire and tower. A moment the glory lingers-

Then goes as a tale that is told; And the Wheatsheaf Inn I enter From the outer darkness and cold. And while I sit through the evening

By the warmth of the glowing fire,

The hostess tells me the story-The tradition of tower and spire. "Here once there dwelt two sisters, Unmarried and growing old,

Who would not leave to a stranger To inherit their lands and gold. "So they built a church with their riches, But whether that church should be Adorned with a tower or spire Was where they could not agree. 'So each one did as pleased her; (Their name they say was Orm; And the tower and spire together

Are standing through time and storm." I sit by the fire and ponder How centuries long have flown While the quarrel of those old spinsters

Is fixed in enduring stone, And I think of the many builders. Each one with his private plan, Who have toiled through the weary ages, On the temple which Christ began.

But I know that the great Designer, Will harmonise all at length, The Catholic spire of beauty, The Protestant tower of strength. And when shall shine forth the glory

And know that our work is one. One Lord hath given His children One Faith on His name to call, One Baptism into His kingdom, One Church for the prayers of all.

We shall see the temple transfigured,

Of Christ, the Unsetting Sun,

Though each from his neighbor differs And a tower by a steeple stands, We have all together been builders Of a house not made with hands.
