On Thursday morning a large and enthusiastic public meeting was held in the Y. C. A Hall at which Sir. Hugh Allan and other prominent men went over the same points discussed in the previous meeting with the deputation.

J. S. Maclean Esq., in moving a vote of thanks to Sir Hugh Allan, summed up Sir Hugh's offer to them. BOIESTOWN Nov. 24th 1877. To the Editor of the Miramichi Advance. DEAR SIR :- In your last issue I see a report of the Dutcher Temperance Association in Chatham and the great reformation they have accomplished in your town. We have also an Association in Boiestown which has made a great reformation. They have named themselves the Young Men's Temperance Association of Boiestown. Their form of procedure constitution and Bye-Laws are altogether different from the Dutcher Association'; they allow our lady rumsellers to get the victim ling bees. drunk and then if he is caught in the limits of the town they use the paint brush and shears on him to perfection. Their first victim was a man named

Dudley, found by the vigilance committee drunk on the street. They immediately took charge of him, placed him in the proper position and went to work on him, and as paint was scarce they took coal-tar and daubed him well with it, which had the effect of converting him into a real African and when he got sober he did not know himself. Of course soap and water were brought into requisition, but it failed to restore him to his natural colour. When it did come off it brought the skin with it and it has had a salutary effect on him as he has never been seen drunk since. The next convert was a man named them from sending along their favors. We want
