A terrible story is told in the Paris letter of the Daily Telegraph. An accident has disclosed to the authorities at Pont Anthon, Department of the Em, the emaciated form of a woman who had been kept confined by her parents in a cavern out of the reach of a ray of sunshine for nineteen years. When taken from her living grave she was in a deplorable condition, more like some unknown savage beast than a human being. The poor creature had lost the power of speech, and could only give expression to her anguish by agonising groans. Previous to opening an inquiry as to the circumstances under which this atrocious act of cruelty was perpetrated, precautions were taken to save the life of the solitary prisoner by accustoming her to a civilized mode of existence without a too violent change. During the nineteen years that she remained in her dark cell the unfortunate woman was fed upon herbs. The correspondent of the Toronto Globe says:-Lieut. Col. Dension, of Toronto, who spent most of the winter in St. Petersburg, where he was presented to the Czar and his family, and made the acquaintance of several leading statesmen and army "It's deuced hard," he said mourn- chiefs, is a candidate for the plize for the essay on cavalry as a military arm. Office of Davis & Haden, Wh'sale Liquor Dealers No. 9 Main-st., bet. First and Second. Messrs. Halls Safe and Lock Co., Louisville, Ky. Gentlemen, - The large number 13 Double Door Fire Proof Safe purchased from you in March, 1872 was in the disastrous fire, corner Eighth and Main streets, on the night of the 16th inst., when over a half million dollars of property was burned, and stood nobly one of the most severe tests possible falling into the cellar with the walls of the build ing, and several hundred barrels of whiskey stored in the upper stories poured their contents into the celler, keeping the safe literally boiling in burning whiskey for over forty hours. The bricks and stone were burned into ashes and lime, and it was the hottest fire ever known in Louisville. The safe was buried several feet under the bricks and ashes was opened, and we are proud to say the books and papers were found uninjured, not even discolored or scorehed. Several gold watches and some valuable jewellery were found untarnished. We wish you to deliver, to-day, a duplicate of the safe to our new store, No. 9 Main street, and we vill send you a check for the money. We want rother safe but a Halls.
