In 1874, updriven round the east point of that harbor on his retirement from the Grand Trunk. during a gale, and when noticed it was Mr. Brydges was the recipient of a most substantial testimonial from the citizens of Montreal, in the shape of a costly casket difficulty and taken to St. John's, where containing ten thousand dollars. This noteworthy presentation was illustrated in the Canadian Illustrated News of September 26th, 1874. At the same epoch, Mr. Brydges was also presented with $1,-Star. "The animal is forty feet six inches 000 by some friends in Quebec, and subsequently with $7,554 by the G. T. R. employees. When the construction of the Intercolonial Railway was decided upon, Mr. Brydges was appointed one of the four Commissioners to superintend the work, and the present Administration named him Superintendent not only of that line but of the other Government
