CHATHAM, THURSDAY, JANUARY 4, 1877.

THE NEW BRUNSWICK UNIVERSITY CAL-ENDAR for 1877 has reached us. It contains a large amount of information requisite for intending students and not uninteresting to others. The commencement day of the Lent term is Jan. 5th.

More About that O'Keefe Estate.

Homer, who resides in Halifax, N. S., and St. Clair Observer. is already very wealthy. The fifth, also a daughter, is married and living in Windsor, N. S. -Portland Me., Press.

From the Frozen North.

Fragment by fragment is the story of the death of Sir John Franklin being built up. Almost every expedition to the North has returned with some news unfortunate explorer's sad fate. Now the East Aberdeenshire Observer states that Capt. Salmon, of the whale-ship "Jan Mayen," of Peterhead, when at Cumberland Gulf, had an interview with an Esquimaux, named Tyson, by whom he was informed that a tribe living much further north had massacred a white man named Crozier and five others because they would not deliver up their guns and ammunition. Crozier was the second in command of the Franklin Arctic Expedition. Ship, Ahoy, the chief of the tribe, and Chaham and Newcastle, respectively, at 11.20, reach St. John at 8.20 same evening. and Halifax, (taking 11.50 Night Express from Moncton) at 9.15 Nobody can deny the fact that Messrs Orr & Barker know how to run a hotel. Perhaps no firm in this city ever held so much poultry at one time as the proprietors of the Barker House have at present in their mammoth pantry. A wink from Mr. Orr brought us to the door of this great storehouse, where we saw a stack of the handsomest turkeys ever seen in Fredericton, piled up in the shape of a load of hay, and weighing 5,000 lbs. They also have in the same place hundreds of geese. ducks, partridges and chickens. These gentlemen have a particular method in saving their poultry, so that their guests can have a turkey as sweet and delicious in June or July as during the Christmas season. This is doubtless one of the secrets of the popularity of the Barker House, known to travelers all over America. - F'ton Reporter.

The Man who tried to make love by Proxy. Some of the Boston papers are discussing the interesting question whether or not Miles Standish, the famous Puritan Captain, was a Catholic. Heretofore Miles has been regarded as a kind of "Protestant hero," but it is now claimed that he maintained a secret connection all his life with the Catholic Church and died a member of it. A great deal of antiquarian research is now being made for facts to justify the Catholic theory, and a great deal of antiquarian lore is quoted to sustain it. It is even advanced that when in the Low countries he was soldier on the Catholic side, and not upon the Protestant as is generally maintained. The main ground for the belief is based on the fact that the Standish family was a Catholic one. If Standish was a Catholic it is clear that he did a tree amount of hard work to sustain a Protestant community in New England .- St.
