THE DEGRACE HEIRS:-The Bathurst Courier ridicules the claims of the Grass family of Waasis, recently discovered by the Gleaner, to the Count DeGrace fortune. They are not, it says, descendants of Antoine DeGrace, who married, lived and died at Bathurst, leaving thirteen children. They may, as their name indicates, be descended from Nebuchaduezzar, but not from Antoine DeGrace !

THE DEATH OF MR. JOHN CURRIE, an old, well know and respected resident of the county, took place on Thursday last at his residence, Church Street, Chatham. He was about town a day or two before in apparantly good health, having just returned from Tracadie, where he was superintending extensive alterations in the bridge over that river, for the Board of Works. He was, however, stricken with paralysis of the brain, of which he died. He leaves one son and three daughters. The funeral, which took place on Saturday was largely attended. The interment was at Moorfields, opposite Chatham,
