

GUATEMALA'S BLUFF.

THE LITTLE CENTRAL AMERICAN REPUBLIC THAT DEFIED MEXICO.

President Barrios Played a Desperate Game But Finally Consented to Eat Humble Pie—The Possible Formation of a Permanent Central American Union.

Ever there was a country fertilized with the blood of revolutionists it is Central America. It is a very quiet week, indeed, which does not witness an uprising of some kind or other.

Founded, and remained the center of Spanish-American culture until 1773, when it was wiped out by an earthquake. The town of Antigua, a prosperous municipality of 4,000 people, now occupies the site of the ancient Central American metropolis.

Among the other Central American republics Nicaragua is best known in this country, owing to the projected Nicaragua ship canal. It has an area of about 40,000 square miles and a population of 300,000.

Costa Rica is the southernmost of the five republics. Its area is estimated at 21,000 square miles, on which it supports a population of 240,000.

Honduras contains 46,400 square miles and a population of 280,000. Together the five republics have a population of about 3,225,000 souls, fully 55 per cent of whom are Indians.

The pure whites constitute scarcely 12 per cent of the population, the other 23 per cent being half-breeds.

Should the Central American republics have concluded to fight Mexico, their union would have proved permanent, provided the allied governments had succeeded in defeating their powerful antagonist.

Had, on the other hand, Mexico been the victor, President Diaz would, no doubt, have graffed his army and people by annexing the richest and most fertile states of Central America.

But, war or no war, it is reasonable to hope that the Guatemalan agitation will lead to the formation of a confederation of states, which would be able to hold their own against the dictators, at whose head stands the ambitious Barrios.

Solar Energy. The planet Earth is best known in this country, owing to the projected Nicaragua ship canal.

Everybody knows that among the ambitious and proud nations of the Spanish-American stands at the head. With his insatiable ambition he couples commercial ignorance as far as knowledge of the political progress of the Americas is concerned.

He considers his own little nation the most perfect government on earth. He has no good quality, like the average Britisher, he never knows when he is whipped.

The only foreign power for which the people of Central America have any consideration is Great Britain, which, many years ago, obtained landed possession in that part of the world, among them British Honduras, which adjoins Guatemala on the east.

Another peculiarity of the Central American is that he is never so happy as when quarreling with his high caste descendants of the conquistadores. He never looks at the high caste descendants of the conquistadores.

They devote themselves to running the government, and let the half-breeds and Indians do the work. Occasionally they get tired of doing absolutely nothing, and then they "work up" a revolution.

Like the barons of old they rather about them their robes and steal whatever they can lay hands on. If they succeed in stealing enough they usually oust the president, the republic and become dictators on their own account.

Not that they run away to some foreign land where they live in affluence on the proceeds of their military and political campaigns. Their robes are not only executed by the powers that be, but they are also made to order.

Once in a while the "soldier statesman" of Central America attempts to bring down a bigger game than is found within their own limits, but their game of bluff never frightens the parties assailed.

THE MIKADO'S LIFE.

He Works Hard, But is Fond of Meats and Hunting.

The emperor of Japan, according to the people most closely connected with him at Tokio, has by no means an easy office to fill.

He probably more resembled O'Connell in scope than any other harranger of the century, except that he had none of the great Celtic humor.

His dinner is served in table d'hôte style, and with all the European accompaniments. Contrary to the regular practice in Japanese families, his wife often sits down at the table with him, and also the crown prince.

His wife, however, receives his ministrations and discusses matters of state. After this he takes his lunch, and then spends a little time in reading newspapers.

He keeps track of current public opinion, and I venture, changes his actions somewhat to suit the popular feeling. He is very fond of him, and the papers are looked over for him, and the passages which are liable to be thrown into prison.

He has also the leading foreign newspapers translated for him, and he keeps track of public opinion all over the world. He takes our illustrated papers, and reads them with interest.

He does a great deal of work in the afternoon, but towards evening goes out for exercise. He is a good horseback rider and is fond of fine horses.

He has about 300 in his stables, and those are of all kinds, including a number of hunters. He and he large game reserves, where he goes to hunt and to visit his estates.

There are plenty of pheasants, and his majesty is said to be a good shot. He has also a large number of deer, and he keeps a good many of them in his parks.

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN NERVE TONIC

AND Stomach and Liver Cure

The Most Astonishing Medical Discovery of the Last One Hundred Years.

It is Pleasant to the Taste as the Sweetest Nectar. It is Safe and Harmless as the Purest Milk.

This wonderful Nerve Tonic has only recently been introduced into this country by the proprietors and manufacturers of the Great South American Nerve Tonic, and yet its great value as a curative agent has long been known by a few of the most learned physicians, who have not brought its merits and value to the knowledge of the general public.

This medicine has completely solved the problem of the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia, and diseases of the general nervous system. It is also of great value in the cure of all forms of failing health from whatever cause. It reforms this by the great nerve tonic qualities which it possesses, and by its great curative powers upon the digestive organs, the stomach, the liver and the bowels. No remedy compares with this wonderfully valuable Nerve Tonic as a builder and strengthener of the life forces of the human body, and as a great renewer of a broken-down constitution. It is also of more permanent value in the treatment of all forms of disease of the lungs than any consumption remedy ever used on this continent. It is a marvellous cure for nervousness of females of all ages. Ladies who are approaching the critical period known as change in life, should not fail to use this great Nerve Tonic, almost constantly, for the space of two or three years. It will carry them safely over the danger. This great strengthener and curative is of inestimable value to the aged and infirm, because its great energizing properties will give them a new hold on life. It will add ten or fifteen years to the lives of many of those who will use a half dozen bottles of the remedy each year.

IT IS A GREAT REMEDY FOR THE CURE OF Broken Constitution, Debility of Old Age, Indigestion and Dyspepsia, Heartburn and Sour Stomach, Weight and Tenderness in Stomach, Loss of Appetite, Frightful Dreams, Dizziness and Ringing in the Ears, Weakness of Extremities and Fainting, Impure and Impoverished Blood, Boils and Carbuncles, Scrofula, Scrofulous Swellings and Ulcers, Consumption of the Lungs, Catarrh of the Lungs, Bronchitis and Chronic Cough, Pains in the Heart, Pain in the Back, Falling Hair, Summer Complaint of Infants.

All these and many other complaints cured by this wonderful Nerve Tonic.

As a cure for every class of Nervous Diseases, no remedy has been able to compare with the Nerve Tonic, which is very pleasant and harmless in all its effects upon the youngest child or the oldest and most delicate individual. Nine-tenths of all the ailments to which the human family is heir are dependent on nervous exhaustion and impaired digestion. When there is an insufficient supply of nerve food in the blood, a general state of debility of the brain, spinal marrow, and nerves is the result. Starved nerves, like starved muscles, become strong when the right kind of food is supplied; and a thousand weaknesses and ailments disappear as the nerves recover. As the nervous system must supply all the power by which the vital forces of the body are carried on, it is the first to suffer for want of perfect nutrition. Ordinary food does not contain a sufficient quantity of the kind of nutriment necessary to repair the wear our present mode of living and labor imposes upon the nerves. For this reason it becomes necessary that a nerve food be supplied. This South American Nerve has been found by analysis to contain the essential elements out of which nerve tissue is formed. This accounts for its universal adaptability to the cure of all forms of nervous derangement.

FRANCIS WILKINSON, of Brownsville, Ind., says: "I had been in a distressed condition for three years from Nervousness, Weakness of the Stomach, Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, until my Nerve Tonic was given to me. I had been doctoring constantly, with no relief. I bought one bottle of South American Nerve Tonic, which does me more good than any other medicine I have ever used in my life. I would not be able to supply the demand for this medicine if it were not for the fact that I have been able to supply the demand for it."
