GEORGE CHESTER'S MISTAKE It is too hard."

"Charity, kind sir!" my poor children are starving!" The speaker was a thinly clad woman, who shivered in the wintry blast, for it was December, and the keen, frosty air penetrated even the warm garments of the rich. The gentleman addressed was a man of perhaps thirty-five, a rich and prosperous man, who hoped soon to become still more rich and prosperous through an alliance with the fair girl at his side.

"Poor woman!" said Edith Mortimer, compassionately. "I have left my purse at home. George, I am sure you will relieve her dis-

"Of course I will, my darling. Here, poor woman, take that, and may it do you good!"

As he spoke he drew from his vest pocket a two dollar bill, and put it into the extended hand of the applicant. The poor woman's heart bounded with joy, for she had hoped for but twenty-five cents at the best, and two dollars seemed to her positive wealth.

"Heaven bless your generous heart," she exciaimed, with heartfelt gratitude.

"Thank you said George Chester, graciously. Edith Mortimer awarded him with a beaming smile. "I am glad you gave the poor creature so much," she said. "I like generosity. I don't think I could rospect or esteem a mean Edith.

"I love you all the better for that dear George," she said in a low "On the whole," thought Chester, "my two dollars are a good investment, though I can thelp grudging it to the beggar. When Edith becomes Mrs. Chester, and I get hold of her hundred thousand dollars, she shan't give many two dollar bills to beggars. For the present it's policy to be generous. Of course Edith could not read the thoughts of the man at her side. She believed him to be a genuine philanthropist, while in reality, he was a mean, selfish, hard hearted man, yet with tact enough to overcome these traits for the sake of making a fvaorable impression upon the heart of the Edith Mortimer was an orphan, and the absolute mistress of a hundred thousand dollars; no small fortune for a girl of nineteen. But her fortune was by no means her only attraction. She was beautiful sweet tempered, accomplished and her heart was animated by the most generous charity. She had a regular list of pensioners and would have found it impossible to refuse an applicant who was in need. Doubtless she had often given to unworthy objects, but such mistakes redound to the credit of those who make them.

As Edith said, she would have found it impossible to respect and esteem a mean man. Thus far George Chester had succeeded in concealing his real character from her, but the time was coming when it would be revealed. Whenever he was with her he gave liberally to anyone that asked for charity, but at his store he would have repulsed them with hard and bitter words. He kept a large clothing store in one of the principle streets in Boston, but Edith who lived on Mount Vernon street had hever been there and knew absolutely nothing of him in his business relations.

Of course, there were many who courted the favor of the young and beautiful heiress, but there was only one who came near being the rival of the successful suitor. This was Doctor Goodwin, a young physician, who had recently established himself in the city, and was having a hard struggle to get into a lucrative practice, being poor and without powerful friends. But he was essentially noble, of good figure, with a frank, open face, and unusually able and intelligent. Success with him was only a matter of time.

When he saw the rich trader preferred to him, he quietly withdrew, disappointed, but too honorable to attempt to reverse Edith's decision now that it appeared to be not exactly a woman hater, but a duly made.

"Are you not well," she asked, in a low, sympathetic voice. The girl, who was very thinly and poorly clad, looked up. "Yes," answered the girl, despondently.

"Will you tell me what it is? Perhaps it is something which I can remedy. Don't think me in- chief, quisitive, but I really want to help you if you will let me."

The girl answered gratefully. "Thank you for your kindness. It does me good for I stand in need of kind words.

Stomach Liver Cure The Most Astonishing Medical Discovery of the Last One Hundred Years.

It is Pleasant to the Taste as the Sweetest Nectar. It is Safe and Harmless as the Purest Milk. This wonderful Nervine Tonic has only recently been introduced into this country by the proprietors and manufacturers of the Great South American Nervine Tonic, and yet its great value as a curative agent has long been known by a few of the most learned physicians, who have not brought its merits and value to the knowledge of the This medicine has completely solved the problem of the cure of indigestion dyspepsia, and diseases of the general nervous system. It is also of the greatest value in the cure of all forms of failing health from whatever cause. It performs this by the great nervine tonic qualities which it possesses, and by its great curative powers upon the digestive organs, the stomach, the liver and the bowels. No remedy compares with this wonderfully valuable Nervine Tonic as a builder and strengthener of the life forces of the human body, and as a great renewer of a broken-down constitution. It is also of more real permanent value in the treatment and cure of diseases of the lungs than any consumption. remedy ever used on this continent. It is a marvelous cure for nervousness of females of all ages. Ladies who are approaching the critical period known as change in life, should not fail to use this great Nervine Tonic, almost constantly, for the space of two or three years. It will carry them safely over the danger. This great strengthener and curetive is of inestimable value to the aged and infirm, because its great energizing properties will give them a new hold on life. It will add ten or fifteen years to the lives of many of those who will use a half dozen bottles of the remedy each year.

Nervine Tonic. NERVOUS DISEASES.

As a cure for every class of Nervous Diseases, no remedy has been able to compare with the Nervine Tonic, which is very pleasant and harmless in all its effects upon the youngest child or the oidest and most delicate individual. Nine-tenths of all the ailments to which the human family is heir are dependent on nervous exhaustion and impaired digestion. When there is an insufficient supply of nerve food in the blood, a. general state of debility of the brain, spinal marrow, and nerves is the result. Starved nerves, like starved muscles, become strong when the right kind of food is supplied; and a thousand weaknesses and ailments disappear as the nerves recover. As the nervous system must supply all the power by which the vital forces of the body are carried on, it is the first to suffer for want of perfect nutrition. Ordinary food does not contain a sufficient quantity of the kind of nutriment necessary to repair the wear our present mode of living and labor imposes upon the nerves. For this reason it becomes necessary that a nerve food be supplied. This South American Nervine has been found by analysis to contain the essential elements out of which nerve tissue is formed. This accounts for its universal adaptability to the cure of all forms of nervous derangement. CRAWFORDSVILLE. IND., Aug. 20, '86. REBECCA WILKINSON, of Brownsvalley, Ind.,

A SWORM CURE FOR ST. VITAS' DANCE OR CHOREA. CRAWFORDSVILLE, IND., June 22, 1887. My daughter, eleven years old, was severely a nicted with St. Vitus' Dance or Chorea. We gave her three and one-half bottles of South American Nervine and she is completely restored. I believe it will cure every case of St. Vitus' Dance. I have kept it in my family for two years, and am sure it is the greatest remedy in the world for Indigestion and Dyspepsia, and for all forms of Nervous Disorders and Failing Health, from whatever cause. JOHN T. MISH.

State of Indiana, Montgomery County, \} ss: Subscribed and sworn to before me this June 22, 1887. CHAS. W. WRIGHT, Notary Public, INDIGESTION AND DYSPEPSIA.

The Great South American Nervine Tonic Which we now offer you, is the only absolutely unfailing remedy ever discovered for the cure of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and the vast train of symptoms and horrors which are the result of disease and debility of the human stomach. No person can afford to pass by this jewel of incalculable value who is affected by disease of the stomach, because the experience and testimony of many go to prove that this is the one and ONLY ONE great cure in the world for this universal destroyer. There is no case of unmalignant disease of the stomach which can resist the wonderful curative powers of the South American Nervine Tonic. HARRIET E. HALL, of Waynetown, Ind., says: | Mrs. Ella A. Bratton, of New Ross, Indiana,

HARRIET E. HALL, of Waynetown, Ind., says:

"I owe my life to the Great South American Nervine. I had been in bed for five months from the effects of an exhausted stomach, Indigestion, Nervous Prostration, and a general shattered condition of my whole system. Had given up all hopes of getting well. Had tried three doctors, with no relief. The first bottle of the Nervine Tonic improved me so much that I was able to walk about, and a few bottles cured me entirely. I believe it is the best medicine in the world. I can not recommend it too highly."

MRS. ELLA A. Bratton, of New Ross, Indianal says: "I eannot express how much I owe to the Nervine Tonic. My system was completely shattered, appetite gone, was coughing and spitting up blood; am sure I was in the first stages of consumption, an inheritance handed down through several generations. I began taking about six months, and am entirely cured. It is the grandest remedy for nerves, stomach and lungs I have ever seen."

No remedy compares with South American Nervine as a cure for the Nerves. No remedy compares with South American Nervine as a wondrous cure for the Stomach. No remedy will at all cure Indigestion and Dyspepsia. It never fails to cure Chorea or St. Vitus' Dance. Its powers to build up the whole system are wonderful in the extreme. It cures the old, the young, and the middle aged. It is a great friend to the aged and infirm. Do not neglect to use this precious boon; Nervine is perfectly safe, and very pleasant to the taste. Delicate ladies, do not fail to use this great cure, because it will put the bloom of freshness and beauty upon your lips and in your cheeks, and quickly drive away your disabilities and weaknesses.
