Shanty, Camp and Boat Stove.

[From Miramichi Advance of Oct 11.] Mr George Marquis of Chatham will be looked upon as a benefactor of smelt fishermen, sportsmen and others who may have the good fortune to procure stoves of the new pattern designed by him the first sample of which was put together at his well known shop at Chatham on Tuesday afternoon and shipped yesterday to Neguac It is to be used in a goose-shooter's camp at Tabusintac and for that purpose as well as for heating and cooking in smelt-fishermen's shanties it is just the thing It is about 20 inches long, 14 inches from front to back and the same from bottom to top The bottom, top, door and dampers, etc are of cast iron and the top, door and dampers, etc are of cast iron and the sides and ends are composed of a sheet of 16 gange sheet steel It will hold nearly twice as much wood as a star stove while owing to a new and peculiar form adopted in the bottom, it will burn either a small or large quantity of fuel, as may be desired It may also be fitted to burn coal There is a draft for forcing the tire and a damper for lessening the heat at will The top has two pot-holes and these may, by the removal of the dividing centre-piece, which is of the usual form which is of the usual form, be converted into an oblong hole for a big boiler or oblong pan Altogether, the new shanty-stove seems to meet a requirement that is more than local, and the cost, $5, places it within almost everbody's ability to buy Mr Marquis has just begun to fill orders, and i will be well for those who intend to fish smelt during the coming winter, as well as sportsine and gunners who want to be comfortable and, at the same time, have a stove on which they can do quite a range of cooking to place their orders with him, as early as possible.

Miramichi Advance.

A New Aspect of affairs for Northum-berland.

The newspapers have given to the public a rumor that has been current for some time in political circles, to the effect that Hon. Mr. Adams, the present representative of Northumberland in the House of Commons, is to be appointed to the Senate when the vacancy created by the death of the late Senator Burns is filled. The question naturally suggested by this rumor is answered by the further rumor that Hon. L. J. Tweedie, the present Surveyor-General of New Brunswick, is to resign that office and his seat in the Assembly, and enter the field as Northumberland's Liberal-Conservative candidate for the Commons in the next Dominion election.

There is a further rumor abroad similar to the others, which gives the vacant North Shore senatorship to Mr. McAllister, M. P. for Restigouche, and makes Mr. Mott, M. P. P. for that county its next House of Commons candidate.

further surmises connect names in Gloucester county with the Senate vacancy, but they are not sufficiently definite to warrant specific

It seems that the elevation of Mr. Adams to the Senate is the thing most probable, although one never can tellsince Sir John A. Macdonald's time This railway was incorporated at the last -how long cur ruling friends at Ottawa may hold to a purpose in such matters. The appointment of a prominent Orangeman to the Senate Minister Costigan's county-Victoriastrongly reinforces the claim put forward by those who think such considerations important, that Mr. Burns' successor, should be of his religious faith, and it is claimed that Mr. Adams meets that requirement. It might, therefore, be assumed that Mr. Adams would feel it his duty to accept the position were it offered to him; and that it has been or will be so offered is said to be beyond the region of doubt.

The important question for North- of the country. imberland, of who will succeed Mr. Adams as the Government candidate for the House of Commons, arises, and Mr. Tweedie's name naturally presents itself. There appear to be a number of considerations which suggest that he would be successful in carrying the Call, Patrick Hennessey and 900 others, would hardly be possible for Mr. Adams to do-and that he would also be an effective representative in the larger arena, but, in view of existing conditions, a very large number of his best friends would hesitate before from Black Brook to Bay du Vin. This advising him to take the step which, template. He is doing excellent service to the County in the position he now holds as a provincial crown minister. He is admittedly the leader, not only of the representative contingent from Northumberland in the Assembly. but of that from the northern counties. The representation of Northumberland works smoothly and harmoniously in provincial matters, to the advantage of ought not to be changed without weighty reasons. From a personal point of view there does not appear to be any reasonable ground for believing that Mr. Tweedie would not lose by the change. His best friends, therefore, would hardly take the responsibilty of asking him to make the sacrifice which seems to be involved-in the immediate future at themselves under the assumptionwhich we think quite safe -that Mr Tweedie would be sure of his return to the House of Commons, and the other assumption-which is admittedly not so safe—that the Liberal-Conservatives will have a majority after the next election. If, however, the unexpected should happen, and the Liberals win. both Northumberland and Mr. Tweedie would be decided losers by his exchanging his present position for that of an Ottawa representative, for a gentlemen who would be neither a representative nor a resident of the County would control its affairs at

-and we think it is his duty to do so if he can get it-it ought not to happen that the strong men of Northumberland -political as well as commercial industrial and professional-will refrain from earnestly considering the subject and taking united and practical action for the purpose of selecting and supporting a candidate who will be at once efficient from the standpoint of general knowledge and training in legislative work. and also sufficiently well known and possessing the confidence of the constituency to make his election safe. If the choice of these representative men of a House of Commons candidate should be Mr. Tweedie, or any SHAVING PARLOR other of the present Assembly representatives, they should see to it that his successor in the Assembly should be selected from amongst the best equipped men at their command for and that not in its best or most

Twenty miles of this road is subsidized the local government and seven by th dominion. Mr. Adams makes application for an additional fifteen, which would carry it to Burnt Church at present. He made an argument in favor of this project that no portion of this country had rail way facilities; that the whole district through which same traversed was popu lated; goods farms, a large lumbering and fishing district; that certain saw mills would be benefited; that the fishing establishments would be materially ac comodated, and the whole people who are now isolated would be placed in easy communication with the business centre

Bad Financial Showing in the U.

A Washington despatch of 30th says The United Treasury deficit for the fiscal year just closed is approximately $43, the constituency, and its personnel 250,000. This added to last year's deficit of nearly seventy million dollars makes the excess of expenditure over receipts of the government for the fiscal year, exclusive of postal account amount to nearly $313,000,000 and the expenditures $356,250,000, of which pensions took $141 391,623. Last year the aggregated receipts of postal revenues were $297,722, 019 and the expenditures $367,525,279 The receipts this year, therefore, were $15,276,000 greater than last, and the expenditures about $1,275,000 less. postal service deficit is about $11,000,000 These considerations all suggest which is considerably in excess of that of any recent year.

St. John Letter.

St. John, July 1, 1895. If there is anything tangible in the theory of ghosts becoming restless on account of their graves being disturbed Vican Avenue and the neighborhood about the exhibition building ought to be a pretty lively spot on dark nights. Apparently the last resting place of some early settlers lies under the ground on which stands Waring White & Co's. machine shop and the Kingsley boiler works. While levelling off the soft earth next to the foundry Messrs. Waring White & Cos. employees unearthed nine Ottawa under our pernicious party pine coffins. This ghostly discovery was rather alarming and it was no wonder If Mr. Adams accepts a senatorship that the men showed a reluctance to continue the work of excavating. It is said they even "shooed" the hens away fearing they would scratch up more coffins. The question arises "How came the bodies there?" No one has any recollection any graveyard being there and the appearance of the coffins and skeletons indicate that they were buried long years ago. The coffins are of pine constructed very rudely but are in an excellent state of preservation. The skeletons were in most cases crumbled, only a few bones remaining intact and there was nothing to throw any light on the history of those buried there. In one coffin eight or nine buttons were found. When cleaned they proved to be French military buttons made of copper with the Fleur de Lis upon the say the end is not yet. face of them. In song and in story the virtue of the old fashioned fire place with its great back log and its crane and pot hooks have been set forth until I sometimes think that those who lived when it was in vogue are to be envied. These fire places were certainly more cheerful than any stove I ever saw and physicians tell us they were far more healthy and point out that all bad gases floated up the chimney and left the air of the rooms pure and healthy. The deluded mortal who nowadays heats his house with hot water or a stove and does not possess an open fire place to make it cheery is frequently found and the worst of it is he often thinks he is doing just right, whereas if he only knew the ill effects that result silently and impercep tibly upon his family's health he would to my mind at once make provision for an open fire place of some character whether of the old or new fashioned sort.

While on this subject I am reminded of a recent visit I paid to one of our most interesting establishments, that Emmerson and F.sher, whose names as manufacturers and importers of stoves mantel pieces and hardware are well known throughout the length and breadth of the province.

During the call one of the firm kindly took me over their extensive premises and what particularly attracted my attention was their fine stock of mantel pieces in wood and slate fitted with fire places of every description for coal, wood or gas urning. The variety and extent of their display in this line was a source of both surprise and pleasure and I took fresh courage in the thought that after all there are many wise men left who appreciate the utility as well as the beauty of the open fire place. What comfort in the thought of stretching one's weary legs in front of a glowing fire and allowing the mind to ruminate over bygone days. Enough on this subject or you will consider me a crank on fresh air and ventilation. This much, however, I will say that when my ship comes home and I build a quiet rest for myself, every living room will have an open grate fire

In the meantime I would suggest to any of those who read these lines that on their next visit to St. John they drop in and inspect for themselves the attractive display in this line made by Messrs. Emerson & Fisher.
