In a scuffle which ensued Magee died very suddenly, a coroners jury has decided that the cause of the man's decease over exertion excitement while in ill health and they exonerated Gorman from blame.

THE FISHING INDUSTRY. which means nearly everything to a great number of our people, is very poor this season. At almost all the fishing places the fish are reported very scarce. This, with the very low price which is being offered this year, makes it exceedingly hard for our fishermen. The bait which has been so scarce all along is however becoming more plentiful and it is to be hoped that the fishing will improve. -North Sydney Hearld.

Obituary.

A very large number of citizens of all classes followed the remains of Dr. John Pallen to the grave, in Chatham, last Sunday afternoon. One of the regular programme races o the Miramichi Yacht Club-that for the J. L. Stewart pennant-took place on Monday. There was no wind up to noon and some of the members of the Regatta Committee favored a postponement. None of the yachts save Orianna and Commodore's Maude, which was in charge of Mr. James Miller, put in an appearance, and these two together with the outing boat Vis-a-Vis were towed to Black Brook by the steamer Laura, which happened to have some business to attend to in that locality and was temporarily used by the judges, Hon, L. Serious Accident to Mrs. Gab. Moff at.

Mrs. Moffat, wife of George Moffat, exwon success in hife, while we also know that M. P. for Restigouche, came very nearly being killed last Friday. She, with several bilities and inclination to "hustle," which others, went up to Campbellton in the arternoon on the steam tug Victor. After picnicing there a few hoars they started on the return trip to Dalhousie. When five miles down the stream, at Oak Bay, Mrs. Moffat was passing along the tug near the engine with ice cream. Her clothes caught in the shaft and were torn almost completely off. The engineer noticing the mishap quickly turned off the steam and just succeeded in stopping the engine when Mrs. Moffat was in greatest peril of her life. When the tug arrived at Dalhousie medical aid was summoned. It was found that no bones were broken, but she was badly bruised all over her body. Her nervous system was completely unstrung Her sister, Mrs. Burr, of Chatham, is with her, and although she is still very much prostrated and almost unable to move in consequence of the bruises she received it is thought she will fully recover.

Criminal Assault.

There has been no little excitement in

Chatham during the past week over criminal assault made by a married may named Charles Morris, a fireman in the Richards mill, upon a girl of about thirteen years old named Rosenberg, whose father is a pedler by occupation. Jardine continued to walk towards town and Morris went the other way-in the direction taken by the Rosenberg girl. Looking back Jardine observed that Morris had disappeared from the road and, soon after he heard screams. He was then near the Gordon road, almost a quarter of a mile from the place beyond the railway where the Rosenberg girl had turned off. Jardine hastened back and as he was nearly opposite the cover from which the screams came, and had continued from the time he heard them, he saw Morris come out to the road and run to and along the railway track westward. In a few seconds the girl appeared. She was in a very nervous and freightened condition and presented the appearance of one who had received rough usage. She charged that Morris had assaulted her with criminal intent and on being questioned by Mr. Jardine gave replies that showed she had had a desperate fight with the scoundrel who, with a knife in his hand, threatened to kill her unless she desisted from screaming. She had also pleaded to be let alone, offering Morris two dollars if he would desist from his purpose, which money he endeavored to get, but she said she would not give it only when he allowed her to go out again upon the public road, but this he refused to do. Fortunately the timely appearance of Mr. Jardine saved the girl and obliged the ruffian to flee with his purpose unaccomplished. Mr. Jardine accompanied the girl
