PENDLETON'S PANAGEA?

Halifax N. S. Aug. 1895.

I wish to give you a few words in praise of your Panacea. I was a victim of Cholera for some two or three weeks, during which time I consulted different doctors, and tried different patents, but seemed to get no relief, until I commenced using Pendleton's panacea, which very shortly cured my complaint Trusting this will be a service to you.

Yours sincerely

To-Morrow is Christmas.

To-morrow is Christmas Day-the most highly prized and generally observed of all our holidays. Its annual recurrence, instead of diminishing our interest in and celebration of it, finds us ready to enjoy it with ever fresh zest, for it brings with it happy memories that go back along the years to the time of our earliest recollection, opens our hearts with the desire to have others share with us in the general joy of the season and leads our thoughts away to a future lighted with faith and hope, which illumine the pathway of even the poor and the outcast. The season thus brings its joys and blessings, but let us not forget that it also brings its duties. These are great in proportion to the opportunity of each of us to exercise them. If we would be happy, let us not forget to do our duty in contributing to the happiness of others, or if there are some to whom neither we nor any other earthly friend can impart happiness, let us assist in soothing their sorrows or alleviating their troubles. In proportion as we endeavor to follow the directions of the Teacher in whose honor we celebrate the great Christmas festival, we shall have reason to look back upon it with satisfaction and be glad of the opportunities it has afforded | trifle. - [Chronicle. us for doing good and honoring Him. In reference to the criticism of local paper against the public funeral of the late Lieutenant-Governor Fraser, we are authorised by prevailing public feeling to say that the sentiments expressed therein are generally deprecated, especially on the Miramichi. where Mr. Fraser was born, lived for many years and was held in esteem and honor. The carping cynicism with which the Government's course on the sad occasion was assailed would, perhaps, have appeared less ungracious if the public honors bestowed had been something new-if the Government had established a precedent by its course. It is well known, however, that it is the custom not only in this, but also in other countries for the State to bury its governors, as well as other distinguished public men. We are not aware of a single instance in which a governor of either New Brunswick or Nova Scotia died and was not buried | bacteriological research. under government auspices. It was so even before confederation, as in the in dynamics, mechanics, hydrostatics, case of Sir John Harvey in Nova Scotia, and those of Hon. Joseph Howe studying, handling and judging live stock, and Sir O'Grady Haley, in the same province since confederation. Similar honor was done to the remains of the late Lieutenant-Governor Boyd of New Brunswick. The article referred to, therefore, entitled "Spectacular Funerals" appearing in a paper in the late Governor Fraser's native county, and reflecting with offensive and cold blooded sneering upon the honors in which the whole province shared, on the day after they were paid, was a manifestation of most wretched taste. The attack may, in the mind of its writer, have

The Meeting of Parliament.

The Ottawa Free Press says: "From what can be gathered in official circles, it is the intention of the government to summon parliament to meet at the earliest possible moment, which probably be the first week in March. is also the purpose of the government to go on next session with a new franchise bill, a civil service act and a new superannuation bill. In accordance with the promises made steps will be taken to provide the necessary legislation for carrying out the prohibition plebiscite."

One is that ex-Alderman Joseph Robert, who assigned to-day with liabil ties exceeding $140 000. J. Penfeld, manager of the Bank of British North America, has been appointed provisional guardian. Patrick Donnelly assigned with liabilities in the vicinity of $100,000. The creditors are many, but for small sums."

THE BAIE DES CHALEURS RAILWAY Your correspondent is authorized to state that so far from the government having decided to purchase the Baie des Chaleurs railway, such a proposal has not even been made. As I have already stated, the proposal is that the railway department should keep the road open for the winter only, the cost of which would be

There is a decline of dutiable goods imported and an increase of free goods. Nevertheless, the November imports are nearly a million and a half greater in value than those of November, 1894.

> [St. John Telegraph.] Agricultural Education.

The December number of Farming, an agricultural magazine published in Toronto, contains several articles on the Ontario Agricultural College, an institution which has become a highly important and useful auxiliary to the farming interests of Canada: This college has been in operation for more than 20 years, but it is 109,976 tons, including three, of 1,858 only within a comparatively recent period that the institution has fully realized the The distribution of the trans-Atlantic expectations of those who founded it. The above is a much more complete equipment than any agricultural college that we might establish in this province would likely at first to obtain, yet it is worthy of being studied as an illustration of what BIG LUMBER FAILURES :- An Ottawa should be the aim of an agricultural college even if it was not possible to realise it immediately. It is clear that any student who took a three years' course at this college, whether he intended to be a farmer or not, would be in a much better position to begin the battle of life than most graduates from the colleges which claim to be the true exponents of the higher education.

One advantage which an agricultural college possesses over the ordinary kind, is that the students are required to do certain amount of work. The parent wh sends his son to an agricultural college need be under no apprehension that he wil return to him so great a gentleman as t despise all manual labor and those wh engage in it. This is a painful experience for many a fond parent who finds, when it is too late to remedy it, that the means he prosperity have gone far to ruin him. college has is that it is economical. Mr. Edward Island, one of the few maritime the trustees' apparent indifference. province youths who have attended the Outsrio college, relates his experience of in the December Farming. He tock the two years' course, and his net expenses for tation fee, board and washing, etc., were for the first year $112.97, and for the second year $80. In explaining these figures M: The value of imports entered for home | Clark says : "The total cost to me in cash consumption was $50,668,000, compared for the two years' course was $192.97; and with $48,883,000 in 1895, or an increase had I been an Ontario student it would have cost me $30 a year less, or a total of $132.97 for the two years, i. e., $66.49 a against $8,508,000 in 1895, a decrease of year, which would be about the average yearly expense of an Ontario boy who remained one summer term (July and August). If he remained both summer terms the expenses would be less than $50 a year for the two years' course." If we had such an agricultural college in this province it certainly might be made as economical to the students as the Ontario college, and thus our young farmers could obtain a first class education for a merely | work nominal sum. OTTAWA, Dec. 21.—The result of the election in Cornwall Saturday was a surprise to everyone. It had been generally expected that Snetsinger, the Liberal can didate, would win, but no one looked for such a majority. The returns are all in, except from two polling places and so far Snetsinger's majority is 467, which will be increased by these two places to probably

The importance of this victory and the significant bearing the result is likely to have on other bye-elections, will warrant a few remarks by way of comparison with the result of the election in Cornwall on June 23 last when three candidates, a Patron, Ceuservative and Liberal (Snetsinger) ran. At the June election the total vote polled in Roxborough Township was 840, of which Snetsinger only had 191 per cent. Fiftythree per cent of this vote was Catholic. His majority there Saturday was 72 with one poll to hear from. The next strongest Catholic district is Finch township, where the Catholic vote is 55 per cent of the total. The total vote in this division was 653 in June, of which Snetsinger had 121 per cent. He now gets 107 majority in this township, The Catholic vote in Cornwall township is 351 of the total. The total vote in June was 1,129 of which Snetsinger received 82 per cent. Yesterday he had a majority of 202 in this division with one polling place to hear from. In Osnabruck township the Catholic vote was only 71 per cent of the total. The total vote polled in June was 1,025, of which Snetsinger secured 29 per cent.
