Miramichi Advance. CHATHAM, N. B., OCTOBER 1, 1896. The "Globe's" Triple Alliance. Between such papers as the Chatham Liberal Herald, the Fredericton Gleaner and the St. John Globe—to say nothing of Mr. Pitts' paper, the Reporter—the Local Government, as a body, and its members, individually, are pretty constantly represented as doing everything but that which they should do and doing those things which they should leave undone.

day last the total had exceeded that of last year's show at the corresponding date last year. The exhibits from the North Shore are not numerous, but the few sent are amongst the best in their classes. Mr. Geo. P. Searle is awarded first prize for the percheron horse Zephyr, while Prefere another percheron, formerly owned by Mr. R. Plamondon, takes second. Rev. M. F. Richard of Rogersville is a prize-winner with a fine carriage horse although he was subjected to competition that was hardly fair, through favoritism to another exhibitor who was allowed to infringe the rules as to entries. Michael Searle's Shetland pony and cart captured first prize. Miss Bessie A. Dickson of the Central Farm Napan was a diploma for an embroidered centre piece. The St. Louis, Kent, creamery takes two first prizes, also and a second for butter. Mr. D. G. Smith exhibits a fly or mosquito-proof sleeping tent of his own invention and make, which is much appreciated by anglers and others, who know what it is to be kept awake at night for the want of such protection as it affords.

A large number of North Shore people have been and are amongst the visitors to St. John during last and the present week and the attendance from all parts of the province is very good. Miramichi, and indeed all North Shore visitors to the Exhibition, were much gratified over the evidences of general appreciation of their leading representative man, Hon. L. J. Tweedie, shown by those most interested in the success of the undertaking. His opening address, which was delivered in his capacity of a substitute for His Honor the Lieutenant Governor and Premier Mitchell—both of whom were incapacitated by illness for the discharge of the duty—was highly spoken of. The Gazette, for instance, said: "To-day one of the grand events in the history of St. John was formally given to the people of the city and her visitors. The international exhibition of manufactures and agriculture is, or will be, probably one of the best that has ever been shown in Canada. In lieu of the Governor of the Province and the Attorney General—both of whom were unable to attend, through illness—the Provincial Secretary, Hon. Mr. Tweedie, made some very appropriate and timely remarks in connection with the ceremonial. The patriotic sentiments expressed by our Lieutenant Provincial Secretary are heartily endorsed by the Gazette."

The interest shown in the Exhibition by the government as a whole, was marked. In addition to the Premier and Provincial Secretary, the Chief Commissioner of Public Works, the Surveyor General, the Solicitor General and Hon. Messrs. Labliss and Farris were present, and it was a matter of favorable comment that it was the only occasion of the kind in the Province on which every member of the government was in attendance.

VERY HUNGRY.—The Liberal Herald, of Chatham, cries vociferously for the blood of Dominion office-holders in Northumberland. It appears that the recently warring factions calling themselves Liberals have patched up a truce for the purpose of threatening Mr. Laurier that they will become Tories, or do some similar congenial act, unless offices are made vacant for them. All this is in accordance with their training under Mr. P. Mitchell. He brought these mercenaries over with him from the Tory Liberal ranks and, now, they wish the leaders at Ottawa, whom they used to abuse, to turn many of their leader's old appointees out to make room for themselves. The few years they have spent in the Liberal fold do not seem to have eradicated in them the old instincts of the Tory wolf.

WHERE'S THAT BOX?—More than a month ago, the street box for drop-letters, which had, for some years, been at the Mackenzie Drug store, was removed, the postal authorities promising that a more convenient one was to be placed at the post office, in which letters might be dropped between the close of the office at 8 p.m. and train-time, and which would be conveyed, without being unlocked, to the train postal clerk at the Junction—an arrangement which would be a convenience even greater than the box which was once at Ullock's stable. Pursuant to this proposed arrangement the post office people caused all our facilities for having letters despatched after 8 p.m. to be discontinued, but, up to the present time, the promised box has not materialized at the post office and much inconvenience is the result. It used to be almost like taking one's life in his hand to complain of deficiencies in our postal service, but we hope we may refer to this matter and still be permitted to live.

Ottawa Notes. Lord and Lady Aberdeen intend visiting British Columbia, leaving Ottawa about October 10th. Sir Charles and Lady Tupper will celebrate their golden wedding on the 8th of October. The Premier told the House on Monday in answer to a question by Sir Charles Tupper, that the government hoped to prorogue on Saturday next. Hon. Edward Blake, M. P. for Longford, Ireland, in the Imperial Parliament, lunched with the Speaker of the House of Commons on Monday and afterwards occupied a seat on the floor for an hour or so. Mr. Blake is looking extremely well and was warmly welcomed by his old friends on both sides of the House. Senator Ferguson gave notice on Friday last that he would ask the leader of the Senate if the language used by the Hon. A. G. Blair in the House of Commons a few days ago on the subject of dismissals in the Department of Railways fairly expresses the policy of the government on that subject. The Premier, replying to a question by Mr. McAllister, in which he asked the correctness of an extract from a speech made by Mr. Laurier at Dalhousie, N.B., in favor of negotiating for reciprocity with the United States, said that this was one of the many extracts from his speeches which he could not remember, but the sentiments in the passage were highly commendable. The Senate committee of the restaurant had under consideration the other day the knotty question regarding the sale of liquor which has sprung up since the house of commons adopted the prohibition principle. After a lengthy discussion the committee decided to report that the restaurant was necessary for the con-

On Tuesday Messrs. H. R. Fiset, J.A. Gouffron and J. O. Belland were appointed by the Debates Committee translators to fill the vacancies caused by the dismissal of Messrs. Vanasse, McLeod and Bouchard.

GENERAL NEWS NOTES.—THE MARKETS, ETC. Moses B. Handy writes from Chicago that in certain communities in the west it is almost as much as a man's life is worth to let it be known that he is not a follower of the free silver crusade, or, if not a question of life and death, it is certainly one of being allowed to live in peace and carry on a lawful business. This free silver madness is one of the wonders of the century. That men outside of a lunatic asylum should contend that eight dollar's worth of silver, by the government's fiat could be made to pass current in the markets of the world for sixteen dollars surpasses belief. Where those who seek to force upon the country a spurious currency are strong enough they will probably attempt to prevent the friends of sound money from going to the polls. Anarchy will be the result. The paintings in the so-called art gallery at the exhibition are works of art. It seems as if the committees had endeavored to collect all the stuff in the province and had succeeded, for it forms a wonderful collection. Hanging side by side are old masters and young masters and no masters at all; copies claiming to be original, cheap engravings, china, hand painted screens, and stuff that seems to have been painted by the mill and cut to suit purchasers. If we are to have an art exhibition let us have a dozen good works rather than a room full of the effusions of diseased minds. Most of these pictures would have an appropriate place in a Chamber of Horrors.

The attendance at the exhibition is large, and the show of cattle, fruit and farm produce generally is highly creditable to our agricultural community. A gentleman from Massachusetts tells me that no finer show of the products of the farm has ever been made in New England than is to be seen here. Messrs. George S. DeForest & Sons report a better feeling in the market. Manitoba flour has met with a sharp advance of 20 cents per barrel while Ontario wheat products are 10 cents higher, and millers are asking an advance of 5 cents on oatmeal. Pork is also firmer and packers are asking an advance of 25 cents on short cut beef. Beef is very low and markets remain unchanged. Fruit of all kinds is arriving in large quantities and most lines are being slaughtered at auction sales where No. 1 gravitaines are selling in lots at $1.25 to $1.35 per barrel and soft fruit are being sold as low as 40 to 60 cents per barrel. Grapes are being sold from 20 to 30 cents per basket and plums at 25 cents per box. There is a limited supply of choice butter which is finding a ready sale at 17 cents while ordinary grades are a drag at 10 cents. Eggs are in fair demand at 9 cents. Through a misunderstanding on the part of the directors of the exhibition, Messrs. DeForest were virtually crowded out; they had arranged for one of the finest exhibits that has ever been shown in Saint John, and are very much disappointed at being compelled to withdraw their exhibit after having built their booth and imported several lines of goods from China and other foreign countries for decorating purposes. Their many patrons will miss their hospitable treatment but owing to the blunder on the part of the exhibition committee it seemed unavoidable. A city six per cent. bond due in 1915 was sold on Saturday for 27 1/2 per cent. premium. The maritime board of trade meets here next Wednesday. U. S. Consul Derby is enjoying a well merited vacation in Maine. There were 13 deaths in the city last week; three from consumption and two from cholera infantum. H. G. Burton, representing B. F. Collier, the New York publisher, has left the city. He is said to be $2000 short in his accounts. John A. Chesley is happy in the position of immigration agent, vice Samuel Gardner, superannuated. Mr. Gladstone and the Armenian Liverpools, Sept. 24.—At a mass meeting to protest against the Armenian atrocities, Mr. Gladstone said the Turkish government in 1878 denied that massacres had occurred, but those massacres had since passed into history as facts. The same system of denial is practiced now and will be practiced as long as the powers of Europe shall tolerate it. It is to be hoped, Mr. Gladstone declared, the weakness of diplomacy will be strengthened by this strong nation's voice. The diplomatic representatives in Constantinople of the six great powers, after the massacres in the Turkish capital, brought their outrage to the sticking point and addressed a note to the Sultan informing his majesty that the atrocities must cease, otherwise a prosecution would be created against the Turkish government. "I," continued Mr. Gladstone, "ask what would the guarantee of these massacres want more than to confine the matter to a paper war?" (Loud cheers.) The ex-priest proceeded to instance occasions when England had acted outside of concert with the European powers. He had seen, he said, the liberation of 15 to 20 millions of people from the dominion of Turkey. "How," he asked, "had this liberation been effected in the case of the Balkan Bulgars? Not by a concert of Europe, for the several great powers looked askance at our action. What it is worth to pay in order to obtain a concert of Europe?" Mr. Gladstone expressed the opinion that the time had arrived to strengthen the hands of the executive branches of the government by an expression of the national will. This declaration was received with cheers. The ex-priest said the six great powers of Europe represented by the Turkish cabinet failed to make the Sultan fulfil his treaty obligations. The continuation of diplomatic relations with the Sultan had not prevented the terrible massacres at Constantinople; it had permitted the Sultan to remain the recognized ally of England. "The resolution I have proposed," said he, "observes the rules of prudence, and does not require, even for the sake of the great end, that we put ourselves in a state of war with the united Europe."

Continuing, he ridiculed the idea that a state of war would be the result or be the consequence of England's acting alone in giving an ultimatum to the Porte. He would not be one to plunge England into war. England would not make of herself a slave to be dragged by the chariot wheels of the other powers of Europe. (Cheers.) "England," he said, "had a just right to recall Turkey and the first step must be the exercise of our ambassador from Constantinople and the consequent dismissal of the Turkish ambassador in London. (Loud and prolonged cheers.) That would not cause a European war. England could then tell the Porte that she meant to consider means of enforcing her own just demands. We should declare we would not turn an enquiring war to our own advantage."

Mr. Gladstone, in the course of his peroration, said: "Let us extract ourselves from our present ambivalent position. Let us renounce our neutrality. Let us by openly recognizing her majesty's ministers our ungrudging and enthusiastic support induce them by word and deed to show their detestation of acts which may even yet come to such depth of atrocity as has never been recorded in the deplorable history of human crime." (Loud and prolonged cheers.) Mr. Gladstone spoke an hour and a quarter, his voice remaining strong and clear to the end. The resolutions offered by the ex-priest were adopted unanimously.

Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Chase's Pills have gained popularity because they are a specific for the uric acid condition, prevent Bright's disease, cure Rheumatism and all Catarrhal conditions of the Kidneys and Bladder. They do this because they possess remarkable alterative, tonic and diuretic properties, exerting a wonderfully soothing influence on irritated or inflamed mucous membranes of the kidneys or bladder. One pill a dose, 25 a box. The cheapest medicine in the world.

The Voyage of the 'Fram'. THE LONELINESS OF THE POLAR SEA. Some interesting details of their life in the Polar regions have been obtained from the members of the Nansen expedition on board the 'Fram'. The men, one and all, dwell on the feelings of delight which they experienced in once more meeting other human beings. So tired did they become of seeing the same faces and hearing the same voices day after day in the course of the slow drift northwards that in the end a feeling of irritation was produced. At times this irritability became almost insupportable. Finding it almost impossible to endure the sight of one another they would often go for long walks over the ice, each man by himself. It was an astonishing thing, one man said, to see his comrades striding away from the ice from the ship, each in a different direction and carefully avoiding his fellows. Their description of the terrible depression which affected them throughout the long months of perpetual darkness was pathetic in the extreme. When spring came in their spirits rose, but the cheerfulness was of short duration, for the constant daylight soon became as oppressive as the winter darkness had been. For fourteen months not a single living thing was seen, not even a sea bird or a Polar bear. Various schemes were devised to while away the time. The sewing machine in the saloon was in particular in constant use, and tailoring became a favorite pursuit. The suits of clothes which the members of the expedition wore when they reached Norway were made by themselves. Without a moment's hesitation Dr. Nansen sprang into the ice-cold water with the intention of recovering the canoes. He reached one of the kayaks with difficulty, his strength being almost getting on a last effort he succeeded in getting on board. It was an easy matter to secure the other kayak, and he brought them both safely ashore.

It Saved Our Child. "My little daughter, three and a half years old, suffered three years with Eczema. Her little body was covered with the itching rash, and doctors did me good. Four boxes of Chase's Ointment have entirely cured and saved our child. Her skin is clear and not a sign of rash is to be seen." Andrew Aiton, Hartland, N. B. Mr. Aiton is one of thousands benefited by this unflinching cure for piles and skin diseases.

Liut Nansen's Return. A North Sydney, N. S. despatch of last Sunday says: The Peary, Cornell University and Massachusetts Institute of Technology expedition steamer 'Hope,' Captain John Bartlett, which left St. John's, Newfoundland, on July 10, last, touched at Halifax on July 16, and later left this place on her way north with Lieut. Peary, Professors Alfred Burton and George P. Barton, and A. G. Gill and others on board, bound on a northern exploring trip, arrived here at eleven o'clock on Saturday morning. Captain Bartlett reported all went on board; but it was added, that the main object of the expedition, that of bringing to the United States the forty-ton meteorite, discovered by Lieut. Peary at Cape York upon the occasion of his last stay north, had not been accomplished. The meteorite was found as indicated by Lieut. Peary, and every effort was made to ship it on board the 'Hope' it was found, however, that the derricks which could be rigged from the 'Hope' and the gear which that steamer could furnish were not of sufficient power to enable the meteorite to be hoisted, and it was reluctantly left behind. In spite of this, all the scientists on board have obtained great results from their voyage, having collected large numbers of animate and inanimate objects, which will add to the riches of several museums, as well as considerably increasing the scientific and philosophical records of Arctic research.

Jako Gaudaur's Reception. Jako Gaudaur was given a royal reception at Toronto Tuesday. After the procession and presentation by the mayor there were cries for Gaudaur, and the champion stood up under the glare of the electric lights. "I am not much of a speech maker," began Gaudaur, when the cheering had subsided somewhat, "but I feel proud that I have brought the championship to Canada, where it belongs. I hope when I lay down the sculls that there will be a brother Canadian take them up, and I will do all I can to encourage him. I thank you all heartily for the kind reception you have given me, and I will now give Mr. Hanlan a chance to say a few words."

Monster Belt. A Chicago company is constructing a monster belt, the dimensions being as follows: Length, 150 feet; width, 7 feet; weight, 3200 pounds; thickness, 7.8-inch. In its construction the selected portions of 450 oak-tanned hides, picked from over 5000 skins were used. The belt is to be used in the engine room of the Louisiana Electric Light Company, at New Orleans, where it will be attached to the 28-foot driving wheel of a great Allis-Corlis engine. A Chicago exchange says that this is confidently stated to be the largest belt ever constructed.

Soars Far Above all Competitors. Marvellous Results Have Brought It Fame and Renown. Paine's Celery Compound the Choice of the Ablest Physicians. It is well that every one should know that Paine's Celery Compound is not an ordinary patent medicine such as the nervines, sarsaparillas, bitters and other liquid concoctions now so extensively advertised in every direction. Paine's Celery Compound is far beyond these common preparations as the diamond is superior to cheap glass. Paine's Celery Compound possesses extraordinary virtues and powers for health giving and life lengthening. It is as harmless as it is good, and is the only medicine that the best medical men recommend with confidence. Professor Edward E. Phelps, M. D., its discoverer, gave this marvelous medicine to his profession as a positive cure for sleeplessness, nervousness, wasting strength, dyspepsia, biliousness, liver complaint, neuralgia, rheumatism, and kidney troubles; and since its introduction to the public, hundreds of thousands on this continent have been raised from sickness to the enjoyment of perfect health. No other medicine in the world was ever so highly honored and recommended, because none ever accomplished so much.

Singular Deathbed Scene. Truth is not only stranger than fiction, but occasionally more humorous than the jests of the humorist. Writing of Elizabeth Fry, the philanthropist and quaker minister, Mr. Hare, in his biography of 'The Gurney of Earham,' tells an almost incredible incident. During her frequent visits to Norfolk, Mrs. Fry by no means ceased from her ministrations, but even in her family she often had to treat her bed by every stony ground. It is recalled with amusement how, when she was summoned to the death-bed of a Norfolk squire who was nearly related to her, he received her with this greeting: "I am glad to see thee, Elizabeth, and shall be very glad to talk with thee, but these must wait till these have done." On the other side of the bed were two cocks fighting.

It is as harmless as it is good, and is the only medicine that the best medical men recommend with confidence. Professor Edward E. Phelps, M. D., its discoverer, gave this marvelous medicine to his profession as a positive cure for sleeplessness, nervousness, wasting strength, dyspepsia, biliousness, liver complaint, neuralgia, rheumatism, and kidney troubles; and since its introduction to the public, hundreds of thousands on this continent have been raised from sickness to the enjoyment of perfect health. No other medicine in the world was ever so highly honored and recommended, because none ever accomplished so much.

Singular Deathbed Scene. Truth is not only stranger than fiction, but occasionally more humorous than the jests of the humorist. Writing of Elizabeth Fry, the philanthropist and quaker minister, Mr. Hare, in his biography of 'The Gurney of Earham,' tells an almost incredible incident. During her frequent visits to Norfolk, Mrs. Fry by no means ceased from her ministrations, but even in her family she often had to treat her bed by every stony ground. It is recalled with amusement how, when she was summoned to the death-bed of a Norfolk squire who was nearly related to her, he received her with this greeting: "I am glad to see thee, Elizabeth, and shall be very glad to talk with thee, but these must wait till these have done." On the other side of the bed were two cocks fighting.

That occurred in England 64 years ago, and the man was one of the landed gentry. The world moves. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, sending the brain pure blood, makes sound both mind and body.
