Oxford Wins Again.

The annual rowing contest between the Oxford and Cambridge university eights took olace over the course from Putney to Mortlake on Saturday in the presence of the usual crowd of Londoners and prodence. vincial. The weather was extremely disagreeable, but this fact had a very slight deterrent effect upon the thousands euthusiasts who line the banks of Thames and crowd the decks of pleasure steamers each year to cheer themselves hoarse in encouragement of their respective crews. The Oxfor 1 bost finished a winner by a quarter of a length. Time 20,01. The course was four and a quarter miles. This is the seventh consecutive victory for Oxford.

Don't You Ramember Long Ago.

As the years roll on we more and more recall the events of the past. School days with their tasks and chores come back again to us in memory, but with the glamour and enhantment of distant views. The old chool and church, the boys and girls we comped with, father's voice, and mother's mile, the joy of the holiday -no pleasures of the present can compare with those on the wharf, four in the offices and fifteen enjoyed in the days now locked up in the at his residence. He has taken the safe eternity of the past. In a singular way we recall the old time tested friend of the past -Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor-that ample power and the most efficient never failed us then and is just as sure machinery and appliances, he will doubtless to serve us now. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor is sure, safe, and painless. Use no other.
