AN ALARM OF FIRE was caused on Tue:day afternoon by flooring in the Aber leen Hotel igniting from the haltway stove pipe. The new steam fire engine was brought out and was promptly ready for work, the firemen also being on hand and having the hose stretched. Fortunately, however, a few pails of water rendered their services unnecessary, which was just as well, as the thermometer indicated about 17 b:low zero, and a strong wind was blowing, which seemed to make it appear even much colder.

ST. LUKE'S SALE AND TEA in Masonic Hall last Thursday evening was a pronounced success. The different departments were well arranged and the decorations very tasteful. The music was good. The sales and refreshment tables were attractive. The tea tables were furnished in the most inviting fashion and the serving was prompt and adequate. There was a very gratifying absence of confusion and tumble-over-eachother, too often noticeable at such affairs, which showed that even in planning and conducting a tea meeting, there is a field for the exercise of good managing talent. The Art Gallery was quite a feature, and to the honest efforts of the junitress thereof to demonstrate that everything was just as represented, much of its success as a paying department was due. Under such control it would have been a great attraction, even without the curios. The net proceeds of the entertainment were quite satisfactory.
