ten to-morrow.

Ald. Robinson said he had an engagement | ends of the circuit as near the station. The for to-morrow which would prevent him change involved a good deal of expense, as from giving any attention to the matter. It the wires must be placed higher. He exwas time they got to work. They were in plained the cost at some length and said as good a position to act now as they would | the $150 asked for installation would pay be to-morrow. It was desirable to have a for the labor only and not for the poles and coal furnace for they wanted to keep fire wire necessary to extend the service to going a sight.

Ald. Coleman said he understood that the Street. man in the Newcastle post office made his fire at 10 o'clock at night and didn't need to attend it again until morning, while the furnace of the Chatham post office had to be attended every hour. He thought the matter should be dealt with at once.

The question was now put on the amend ment, alde. Groat and Fianagan only voting for it. Ald. Neale's motion was then carried, the same two voting against it. sentces were alds. Loggie and The MeIntoin.

The Mayor referred to the subject of a water system for the town, explaining the legislation on the subject and showing that volved large expense last year and they the authority of the town to proceed with the construction of water works would cease on the expiration of two years from March 1897. After that it would be open to a company now incorporated to proceed with the work. Unless a ratepayers' meeting was called and the matter taken up so that authority for raising the necessary money was given at the approaching session of the legislature, the town would forfeit its Miramichi and the North rights.

Ald. Neale said the Council should take action in the near future to have surveys made and their charter preserved. The Mayor also referred to the necessity for having an engineer and janitor for the new public building. Alt. Pobinson said that Calvin Craig had informed him that if it was not the intention to make him janitor in addition to his present position as engineer of the steam fire engine he would like to be relieved of the latter post, as he would be obliged to seek work out of town. It was desirable to have one man who would be fire engineer. janitor, street commissioner, caretaker of the tanks, etc. A good man-Mr. A. Alcorn-could have been had by the late council, but they also wanted him to police work, which he would not undertake. Mr. Alcorn had told him that he would

Ald. Maher said he did not could how one man attend to the duties indicated by ald. Robinson.

Ald. Robinson said they would get one man's whole time instead of a part of two men's time as at present. There would be a saving to the town also, for men had to specially paid now to look after tank work.

Ald. Coleman said the old council thought the responsibility would be too great for one man. Mr. Alcorn was asked to act as Marshall and declined to accept. If $100 could be saved it should be done.

Ald. Flanagan moved, seconded by Ald. Neale, that tenders be invited from persons willing to act as fire engineer, street commissioner, janitor, etc., applicants to offer for the whole or any separate service, the tenders to be called for by the Town Clerk, subject to the direction of the Public Works and Fire committees. The Brown-Sumner Case.

The case of James Brown, of Harcourt, vs. Messrs. Sumner & Co., Moncton, was before Judge Barker at St. John on Friday. The case arose out of some lumbering operations at Meadow Brook, near Kent Junction. Brown claimed he engaged Sumper as agent to carry on the operations and that he wanted an accounting of the profits. The Messrs. Sumner claimed they carried on the operations and that anything Brown did was as their agent: that Brown was in. solvent and had no means to enable him to lumber, and being heavily indebted to Sum ners they undertook to carry on the open ations Brown had previously planned, agree ing to credit any profits to Brown's indebtedness. Sumner credited Brown with $520 profits, and Brown claimed there were more. Summers were willing to account if any-had been presented to him from the police magistrate-s quarter's salary. His Worship read from the Towns Incorporation Act of 1896 to show that police magistrate McCulley held his office only under the same tenure and general conditions as he did before the act was passed, and was not police magistrate of the town in the same sense as if he had been appointed under the Towns Incorporation Act He said that until the Governor-in-Council appointed a Police Magistrate as provided in the Act. the Mayor had no power to pay Police Magistrate McCulley a salary, as he was only acting until a regular appointment was made. The present magistrate had the some powers that he had before the Towns Incorporation Act was passed, but no more. The Council should see that a police magistrate was duly appointed and until that was done he had no right to pay anything to Mr. McCulley.

Ald. Flanagan said he always understood that the matter stood as the Mayor had explained it and he was surprised that the bill had been presented.

Ald. Maher, as a member of the lat conncil, said that the understanding was that Mr. McCulley was to be paid at the rate of $300 a year until his anccessor was appointed.

Ald Neale referred to an offer to the late Council from the Chatham Electric Light Company, in which they proposed to give 14 lights more than now furnished to the town and increase the candle-power of all from 20 to 25 for $1,320 or $160 more than they were now paid. They also askel the town to pay $150 towards the extra wiring of Tracadie. Mr. Flett went down to needed.
