DOCTOR JACK.

By St. George Rathborne. Continued from 1st page.

CHAPTER VII. Jack has heard about this "den" before, and is a little curious to see it. He believes the eagernes of Don Carlos to have him smoke arises from his desire to show his snug bachelor quarters, of which he has spoken more than once when they camped in the Pyrenees. The snuggery is on the ground floor, and looks out upon the gardens. Through an open window steals a sweet perfume from the night blooming flowers, soon to be deadened by a stronger odour from the noxious Around the walls of the room are hung a thousand and one thingsmementoes of the chase, pipes from all nations, and many articles in the line of bric-a-brac which a rich bachelor with a leaning toward a sportsman's life might pick up in his travels. Queer things there are, too, but Jack has even a much finer collection himself. He has no time now to do them justice. "The first chance I get, Don Carlos, I mean to spend half a day with you. It will give me pleasure to look over these things," he remarks, taking out a cigar, and rolling it between his fingers, an action the other sees with considerable apprehension.

What if the American insists upor smoking his own particular brand of tobacco? He had known smokers to have that habit, and the other has already in more ways than one proven that he can be a very stubborn man when he makes his mind up. "Notice the rug at your feet, Senon

"Ah! yes, the bear we killed up it the mountains together. He was about as tough a customer as I care to see, but the old rascal serves good purpose at last."

Doctor Jack takes a taper from rack, and is about to hold it in the blaze of the wall lamp near by when a hand touches his arm. Looking around, he sees the senor's face close to him, and his yellow fingers hold a "Pardon, Doctor Jack, but in my That is etiquette with us Spanish gentlemen, you know," showing his teeth beneath the black moustache as he smiles in the American's face.

"I beg your pardon, Don Carlos. I should have known better." and instantly he slips his own cigar into his vest pocket, accepting that of the Spaniard, whose eves fairly scintillate

As a cat watches a mouse, so he keeps his black orbs on Doctor Jack until the latter has applied the lighted taper to his cigar and given a few puffs, when, with an inaudible sigh of relief, the Don proceeds to put fire to his own weed. While his back is turned an expression of amazement creeps ever Jack's at the Don, shaking his head dubiously, the sinner, as though there is something about the weed he fails to appreciate, and yet dares not offend his host by throwing it away. To himself he mutters :-

"If this is his much vaunted brand, bless my soul what a perverted taste these Spaniards have, and here I always believed they beat the world at growing and using tobacco, especially in Cuba. I wonder-" he does not finish the sentence, but a suggestive smile that flits across his face takes its place announcing that Doctor Jack has conceived a little scheme to at least save himself a headache.

"Don, would you mind getting my light outer coat. There is something in the pocket I wanted you to have to remember me when I am far away. My friends are too few to allow them to forget me when I am away. brought this from Paris with me." Don Carlos' eyes sparkle with plea-

"No hurry," calls Jack after him,

of his vest, and out comes a cigar- after nearly breaking his valuable the one he had been about to smoke | neck over some obstacle which in New the fine flavour of this, and can vouch

Quickly he bites off the end, then He looks at it with a shudder, is about he is correspondingly thankful. to cast it away, becomes seized with an idea, and hastily deposits the sus- now, and when he reaches a light that good way to get rid of the obnoxious | ceeding from a shop, Jack takes a noweed, and gives a chance for future | tion to see what time remains. So,

coat over his arm hardly a minute has | eight. He discovers Doctor Jack leaning back on a divan, holding the cigar between his fingers, and looking at the smoke curling upward with an expression of ecstatic bliss seen only upon a smoker's face—the gnawing has Don Carlos grins, and mutters "Carajo! the drug is already having an efhas possession. Then he admires the dlamond pin Jack hands him-a decided beauty-and is loud in thanks.

They sit here for some little time indulging, Jack smoking furiously in order to use his cigar up as speedily as possible, and the Spaniard watching him out of the corner of his eye while he talks.

To his surprise shows no signs of giving way to the somnolent god. Something is undoutedly wrong; either the drug has lost its power or else-Won Carlos hardly dares conjecture the other possibility.

He grinds his teeth in secret rage, and yet feels compelled to act pleasant, but the task is such a hard one that Doctor Jack perceives he is trou-

At length the American athlete tosses the butt of his cigar into the receptacle near by, and rises to his feet, donning his light ovrcoat as he does In vain the other begs him to re-He might as well talk to a stone wall, and secretly curses at the misfortune that has beaten him so neatly at his own game. He does not understand it now, but perhaps he may when he gets a chance to examine that cigar stump still smoldering in the cuspidor. So Doctor Jack takes his hat, bids his host "buenos noches," and passes out of the door. There is a little garden in front, and a couple of lamps nasging from trees show the path to is otherwise as dark as Egypt, and as the door closes behind him Jack makes a bee line for the exit. which he has no trouble in passing, though generally doors and gates are well barried in Madrid after nightfall, as thieves abound in the strange old Spanish city.

Once upon the street he looks around for his vehicle, and of course fails to find it, since Don Carlos was so kind as to countermand his order hours

Doctor Jack mutters a malediction fields of labour—the lighted squares, upon the stupidity of Jehus in general where cafes glitter and money and Spanish ones in particular. He abounds. is also put out because he stayed so late, as this must of necessity keep tor Jack realizes that his enemies have late, as this must of necessity keep tor Jack realizes that his enemies have him from fulfilling his engagement at crept closer, and are about ready to HAY AND OATS, the Fonda Peninsular to the letter, and spring upon him, . The prospect of a in his eyes it is very important that he give Avis no cause for complaint luring one to this man of the world, who in times past has always made it who in times past has always made it

Such a man, however, is not at a an object to keep his face toward the loss for means to carry him through. enemy, be it lion, panther, jackal, or Since the vehicle has failed him he has | mad bull in the arena. his own powers of locomotion, and Consequently he believes the time selecting his course, starts off with a has come to turn, and, wheeling half swinging stride down the driving around in the way he faced the furious avenue at a pace that promises to mob in the streets of Barcelona at the bring him to the plaza in the heart of time his treacherous guide, Francisco the city within half an hour's time, Marti, betrayed him. provided no accident befalls him while The movement must have been in-

There are lights here and there upon the Calle del Prado, and these help the stranger in a degree. Time was, and not so very long ago, when the honest citizen of this burgh desiring to go out at night had to take a guard along with him, and unless the moon shone, have a link-boy run ahead to light up the way. The Madrid of today has made giant strides, however, though far in the rear of such a briiliant city as Paris. The street is not deserted, though its life is nothing compared with the heart of the city in the plaza known as the Puerta del Sol. where the pulse of the populace beats, and all gay sights are concentrated.

and with such evident menace in their manner that, considering the circumstances surrounding him, the American may well be pardoned for holding himself in readiness to do battle. He is the worst man in Madrid for such footpads to tackle, as they may find out to their cost.

The hourses become more numerous, and he sees more signs of life. Soon he will have to leave this lighed thoroughfare, and plunge into a narrow street that by devious turnings will, if take him to the public square.

If danger is to descend upon him will probably be at such a time, but there is really no way to avoid the disagreeable task.

Music greets his ear. Beyond a wall the hero of the bull-ring, about whom comes the seranade song of some dark-eyed senorita enjoying the cool air of the evening in the midst of her friends, perhaps with a stalwart and gallant lover seated at her side. Over the way the music is more weird. A gipsy bolero, as the fandango is called at times, is getting under way, and although matters are tame enough at this early stage, Jack shudders as he remembers the wild orgy upon which he gazed while in the company of Don

Carlos on the previous evening. Passing on he enters among a more animated scene, and finally is filled with joy to actually discover an alquazil, to whom he puts a question and hands a piece of silver, whereupon the guardian of the peace tells him in Spanish that if he enters the first calle on the right, and follows it pertinacicusly, he will at length reach the point he is struggling for. covering the ground much after the style of a prize pedestrian on a spurt. Slow going Spaniards look after him in wonder, and shrug their shoulders as they mutter something about the crazy heretics who get loose upon the streets of their wonderful city.

Jack has already found it warm work, and removing the light overcoat. carries it upon his left arm. Later on he has cause to rejcice that it was not hanging from the other, or, worse still, on his back.

Coming to the narrow calle he glances down it in dismay, looks around with a last forlorn hope that there may be some vehicle in sight he can engage or buy, and discovering none makes the plunge with a groan. It is terribly dark here after coming from the broad and lighted Del Prado until Jack's eyes become accustomed to the gloom he can see absolutely nothing, and in consequence the very first thing he does is to come in contact with some unknown person travelling slowly the other way.

apologizes, and goes on, leaving his victim almost stupefied with astonish-Progress is being made, though of a somewhat costly nature, but this man never yet conceived a project that he was not ready to devote all his enersies to in order to excute, and he will reach the grand central plaza if he has

In his best Spanish he hurriedly to walk over the half of Madrid's population first. Such a man is Doctor Jack. No wonder fortune smiled upon him in the old Mexican mines. The earth is bound to open its treasure caves before the knock of a man who possesses the obstinacy of a mule addsure. He says he will be back with ed to the courage of a lion and the

it in a minute, and hastens from the shrewdness of a fox. At the same time Jack is muttering little anathemas concerning the poverty stricken nature of the metropolis The game is won. Hardly has Don | that cannot afford to light all her

Gradually, however, he grows into a better frame of mind. His eyes are bethe lighted weed is held close to the | coming more accustomed to the gloom, new one, a few puffs and the thing is and he can see—to a limited extent, it done, after which Jack manages to is true, but enough to avoid any fur- known her but six hours instead of extinguish the fire from the gift cigar. ther collisions, for which small favour that many years.

All goes as merry as a marriage bell picious affair in his pocket, which is a cuts the blackness of the calle, prowhen Don Carlos returns with the and finds that it lacks ten minutes of BOOTS!

This is encouraging—if it does not change he will be almost on time. He takes out his handkerchief, and wipes his face, for such rapid walking has heated his blood. Then he again treaks away, and moves rapidly along. Before twenty seconds have passed he makes a discovery that hardly First pleases him. By chance he turns his fect," but in this he deceives himself, head to learn what distance he has for it is only the smoker's content that put between himself and the area of light from the shop window, when he sees several dark figures stealing af-

There are three of them in all, and it does not need their skulking manner to tell the American that they are not honest men. These footpads infest all large cities, not so much in our country as abroad, and yet there are scores of streets in New York, near the rivers, perhaps, where a respectable man takes his life in his hands if he saunters along at night. Here is a contingency which Jack does not exactly relish. In the first place these chaps will not fight like brave men, and this places him at a double disadvantage. Then again he must only use the revolver he carries as a dernier resort, for it is an easy thing to get mixed up in a scrape with the authorities in a Continental city, and the burden of sympathy is always against the foreigner, who is looked upon as a crow, to be universally plucked by inn-keeper and footpad alike, so long as his money is kept in There are two things Jack can de under this streess of circumstances, and, after all, it is but a choice of evils-he may start on a run down the street, with these fellows after him. or else continue his rapid walk, and meet their attack when it comes. The first of these he is averse to doing under any and all circumstances. for he looks upon such rascals as vermin; hence, he concludes to go right along and meet danger as it flies. At any moment the assault may come, and he places his revolver in his left hand, where it is hidden by the folds of the coat he carries, and yet ready for instantaneous use. Instead of the calle growing lighter, he now reaches what appears to be the city is not wrapped in silence by any means, but over this place, perhaps the abode of vice and sin, the gloom of a church-yard seems to rest. as though its inhabitants had temporarily forsaken it for more profitable Footsteps sound behind him. Docspired by his good angel, for his life. Just as he turns, something strikes him a severe blow-it is a knif that had been meant for his hear through his back. Now it cuts into his coat-a terrible gash that ruins the garment, as the blade passes through many folds, and just draws blood from

Thus the little affair in the Calle San Pablo is commenced. Doctor Jack is a fair and square man-he does no like to have the favours all on onside. Tit for tat is a good motto under the circumstances.

Accordingly that terrible right arm of his, so admired by the observing Don Carlos, shoots forward with un-Doctor Jack meets several slouching erring impetus. There is heard upon fellows, who look at him inquisitively, the night air a hollow thud, like the stroke of a trip hammer, and th stricken wreth measures his length upon the cobble stones five feet away. By this time the other two hav reached the spot. They either do no realize what has hapened to their companion, on account of the dark ness, or else have determined avenge his fall, for they come at th American at bay with the impetus o twin cyclones.

He is ready to meet all comers, and so long as that superb arm fails bin he have rare good luck, eventually not, can render a good account of his stewardship. It is all over in almost a wink. The three ruffians have struck a snag when they attack the wayfarer. Had they known that their intended victim was > all Madrid is talking, money could never have hired them to attempt ar Every one of them has had a bitte experience with the muscle-knotte arm of the athlete-the first still lie where he fell, and the other two ar > groaning as they attempt to crawl or stagger away. As for Doctor Jack, he has no complaint to make, but resumes his jour ney toward the plaza, which will soon loom up before him bright with light > and gay with people, a tremendoucontrast to the avenue which he ha used in order to reach it. The last man who leaped for hir came near seizing his throat between his teeth, for he sprang at Jack it. the manner of a bull-dog, but the othe gave him such a shaking, and hurled nerve tonic. Price, 25 cents. him against the wall with such ; iganbe of the opinion that he is a second Don Quizote, and the person whom he meant to attack a vengeful

It is to be hoped this will end the matter, Jack thinks. Surely none of these discomfited Spanish footpads will dare follow him, but there may be others just as bad, and quite a little space remains to be traversed ere he reaches his Eden.

He keeps himself in readiness for such an emergency, but breathes a sigh of relief when, ahead, he sights the glowing plaza, and realizes that in all probability his adventures of the night are over, for, although such a remarkable adept in the use of his powers at a boxer, a fencer, and marksman, Doctor Jack Evans always feels a reluctance about turning his forms for Winter and Spring business. gifts to account against any fellow human being, however vile.

Presently he debouches from the dark calle into the plaza. It is little trouble now to find dozens of carriages when he does not want them-half an hour back he would have paid fifty dollars, or pesos, for a vehicle. The Hotel Peninsular is not far away, being one of the best caravansaries in the city of Madrid, and consequently adjoining the throbbing heart of the city, as the ever-lively Puerto del Sol is called.

the door of this building beyond all doubt, safe in body and limb, he again consults his faithful timepiece, and a grim smile of satisfaction wreathes his face as he sees that it still lacks two minutes to eight. He has won against all obstacles. "Just a breathing spell to wash my

So he finds his way to the wash-

When Doctor Jack finds himself at room of the hotel-he has seen better, but never mind, many hotels on the Continent have none, so he feels he has reason for congratulation. Carlos vanished from view than Jack's streets, while he gathers neck over soe the skin on his knuckles a trifle hand slips again to the upper pocket streets, while he gathers himself up scratched where it came in contact with the cranium of the first land pirate, runs a comb he takes from a when his host interrupted. He knows York he would have believed must be pocket through his curly locks and moustache, then once more seats himself in a stuffy little parlour, dimly lighted, waiting to be shown into the presence of the girl who has already entered into his life, though he has

[To be Continued.]

SHOES

Class Article made to Order come to the shop of Samael Johnson.

The driving-boots that all the Lumbermen are looking for are made at this establishment, and a stock of them is now on hand.

All Hand-made work and Warranted, Repairs made promptly.

Prices reasonable all round.

SAMUEL JUHNSON. Building adjoining the Post Office, Chatham,

Dwelling House and connected premises on King Street, Chatham. Possession will be given at any time required to a suitable purchaser or tenant. It rented it can be let furnished.

ANGUS MCEACHERAN,

PIANO FOR SALE.

Very superior new Gerhard Heintzman piano for W, R, GOULD, Jeweller.

DEPOT.

the worst part of it. At this hour At The Old Stand Cunard Stre t.

BRAN.

CORNMEAL. CRACKED FEED,

For Sale-Cheap. A Two-wheeled driving Cart. F. E. NEALE. 12-31-9

Munyon's HOMEOPATHIC REMEDIES.

Endorsed by Press and Public. Convincing Statement from Persons who Declare They have been Completely Cured.

YOUR NEIGHBORS TESTIFY IF YOU ARE SICK ASK YOUR NEAREST DRUG-GIST FOR A 25-CENT VIAL OF MUNYON'S REMEDIES AND

DOCTOR YOURSELF Mr. F. B. Godin, bailiff, 208 St. Charles Borromeo Street, Montreal, says: "My wife suffered for five years with rheumatism, I secured a bot'le of Munyon's Rheumatism Cure, and I must admit the change these little pellets have wrought, is most marvelous. I have resolved to keep them in the house in a case of emergency." Munyon's Rheumatism Cure seldom fails to relieve in one to three hours, and cures in a few days. Price 25c. Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure positively cures all torms of indigestion and stomach trouble. Price, 25 cents. Munyon's Cold Cure prevents pneumonia and breaks up a cold in a few hours. Price > Munyon's Cough Cure stops coughs, night sweats, allays soreness, and speedily heals the lungs. Price, 25 cents. Munyou's Kidney Cure speedily cures pains in the back, loins or groins and all forms of kidney disease. Price, 25 cents. Munyon's Headache Cure stops headache in three minutes. Price, 25c. Munyou's Pile Ointment positively cures all torms of piles. Price, 25c. Munyon's Blood Cure eradicates all impurities of the blood. Price, 25c.

to all women. Munyon's Asthma Remedies relieve in 3 minutes and cure permanently. Price, $1. Munyon's Catarrh Remedies never fail. The Catarrh Cure-price 25c.-eradicates the disease from the system, and the Catarrh Tablets-price 25c.-cleanse and heal Munyon's Nerve Cure is a wonderful

Munyon's Female Remedies are a boom

Munyon's Vitalizer restores lost vigor. A separate cure for each disease. At all druggists, mostly 25 cents a vial. Personal letters to Prot. Munyon, 11 & 13 Albert St., Toronto, answered with free medical advice for any disease.

BUSINESS

Is Now Rushing!

Now is the time to order your printed

-FOR YOUR-

LETTER HEADS, NOTE HEADS. BILL HEADS, CARDS. RAILWAY RECEIPTS,

SHIPPING RECEIPTS. ENVELOPES, TAGS, ETC. A full stock of paper, envelopes, tags and printers stationery on hand. Come or THE LEADING JOB-PRINTING OFFICE. hands and brush my hair," he muses. D G. SMITH; CHATHAM.

Here he performs his ablutions, finds International S. S. Co.

BOSTON

ST. CROIX will leave St. John every THURS DAY MORNING at 8 o'clock standard, for Eastport Lubec, Portland and Boston. Returning, will leave Boston MONDAY at 8 a, m Freight received daily up to 5 p. m.
C. E. La ECHLER, Agent.

FURNACES FURNACES, WOOD OR COAL WHICH I CAN FURNISH AT

REASONABLE PRICES. STOVES COOKING, HALL AND PARLOR STOVES

AT LOW PRICES PUMPS, PUMPS,

also Japanned stamped and plain tinware in end-less variety, all of the best stock which I will sell low for cash A.C. McLean Chatham

INSURANCE.

The Insurance business heretofore carried on by the late Thomas F. Gillespie, deceased is continued by the undersigned who represents the following SCOTTISH UNION AND

> LONDON, & LANCASHIRE, ÆTNA, HARTFORD, NORWICH UNION ALLIANCE, PHENIX OF LONDON,

FRANCES A. GILLESPIE

CITATION.

NEW BRUNSWICK. COUNTY OF NORTHUMBERLAND S.S. any constable within the said County, Greeting. Whereas Alexander Campbell and David M. Savoy executors of the last will and testament of William County of Northumberland, deceased, have prayed that the accounts filed by them of their adminis tration of the said estate may be passed and allowed and that the said estate may be closed. You are therefore required to cite the heirs, next of kin, legatees and all others interested to appear before me at a Court of Propate to be held at the office of the Judge of Propates in and for the said County of Northumberland at Newcastle in the said County on Monday the fourth day of January next at ten thirty o'clock in the forenoon to attend the passing and allowing of the said accounts and the closing up of the said estate. Given under my hand and the seal of the said Court this eighth day of December in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety (Sgd.) SAM THOMSON. Judge of Probates, in and for the County of Northumberland.

(Sgd) G. B. FRASER

Registrar of Probates in and for said County.

2 Orders prices honest

5 receive 0 0 W 800 O C 00 00

attentior to d STOCCIAL STOCCIAL

200

MILLERS' FOUNDRY AND MACHINE WORKS,

RITCHIE WHARF, CHATHAM. N. B.

Successors to Gillespie Foundry.

Established 1852

Mill, Railway, and Machine Work, Marine Engines, Boiler repairing.

Our Brass and Composition Castings are worthy a trial, being

Miramichi Advance,

CHATHAM. N. B.

TERMS ONE DOLLAR A YEAR PAYABLE IN ADVANCE.

D. G. SMITH. EDITOR & PROPRIETOR

JOB PRINTING

ALWAYS ON HAND:-

SCHOOL DISTRICT SECRETBRYS BILLS FOR RATEPAYERS,

THREE MACHINE PRESSES

and other requisite plant constantly running Equipment equal to that of any Job-Printing office in

The only Job-Printing office outside of St. John that was awarded

MEDAL AND DIPLOMA

-AT THE-

DOMINION AND CENTENNIAL EXHIBITION

AT ST JOHN IN 1883

Orders by Mail promptly filled & Satisfaction Guaranteed.

The undermentioned advantages are claimed for MacKenzie's

1st -That from the peculiar construction of the glasses they Assist

2nd-That they confer a brilliancy and distinctness of vision, with

3rd-That the material from which the Lenses are ground is manufactured especially for optic purposes, by Dr. Charles Bardou's amproved patent method, and is PURE, HARD AND BRILLIANT and not

4th-That the frames in which they are set, whether in Gold, Silver or Steel, are of the finest quality and finish, and guaranteed perfect in

The long evenings are here and you will want a pair of good glass

MONARCH

THEY NEVER LET GO.

AND TAKE NO OTHERS.

N. B.- IN STOCK AND TO ARRIVE 100 DOZEN K. & R. AXES.

Orders filled at Factory Price, and a Freight Allowance made on

KERR & ROBERTSON,

so come to the Medical Hall and be properly fitted or no charge.

an amount of Ease and Comfort not hitherto enjoyed by spectacle and PRESERVE the sight, rendering frequent changes unnecessary.

TEACHERS' AGREEMENTS WITH TRUSTEES,-

PRICES AND THE SHORTEST NOTICE

CUSTOM HOUSE FORMS,

BILLS OF EXCHANGE,

NOTES OF HAND,

JOINT NOTES.

DRAFTS,

JAS. G. MILLER.

PRINTED

EVERY WEDNESDAY

EVENING.

All work personally supervised. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Mill Supplies, Fittings, Pipe, etc. in stock and to order.

Send for estimates before ordering elsewhere.

noted throughout the country.

THE LEADING

NORTH SHORE

NEWSPAPER.

RAILWAY BILLS,

FISH INVOICES,

the Province.

both spectacles.

liable to become scratched.

Chatham N. B., Sept. 24, 1895.

ASK FOR

MAGISTRATES' BLANKS,

. MORTGAGES & DEEDS,

BILLS OF SALE

DISTRICT ASSESSMENT LISTS.

ल

lots of 10 kegs and upwards at one shipment.

3

Established 1866. Dunlap Bros. & Co., Dunlap, McKim & Downs, his establishment has a superior tone and finish. All inspection of the samples w he prices are right.

AMHERST, N. S. WALLACE, N. S. DUNLAP, COOKE & CO., AMHERST, N. S.

DUNLAP COOKE & CO. MERCHANT TAILORS, -AND-GENTLEMEN'S OUTFITTERS

SAINT JOHN, N. B.

J. D. B. F. MACKENZIE.

AMHERST. N. S. This firm carries one of the finest selections of Cloths including all the different makes suitable for fine tra e. Their custers and staff of workmen employed are the best obtainable, and the clothing from

NOTICE. All persons having claims against the estate of William Copping late of Chatham, deceased, are Chatham Sept, 1, 1896.

FOR SALE.

50 Barrels Goodridges Seed Potatoes

required to file the same duly attested with the from one of best Farmers in the place; estate are required to make immediate payment to MRS. WM, COPPING.

Good Seed Potatoes

W. S. L GI Co. Ltde