Mr. Mitchell's Claim.

patch of 16th inst says:presence in Ottawa frequently of late had correspondents, and the most natural which must always be exercised in cases thing in the world was to say that Mr. of the kind. Mitchell was after an office. The warhorse of Northumberland was, however,

$10,000, and desired that sum to be to admit Mrs. Atkinson, if Sullivan de placed in the estimates to be brought sired to see her. This he accordingly did. Mr. Mitchell states that in the fall of 1895 Mr. Haggart, then Minister of should be admitted only if Sullivan Railways and Canals, made a proposition | wished it. He thought nothing more of to him to purchase a piece of property the matter until the glaring misrepresenadjoining the deep-water terminus of the tation of the Globe's correspondent re-Intercolonial Railway at Newcastle, called it to his attention. He then N. B., which Mr. Mitchell owned, for promptly sent the following telegram : the purpose of electing a freight station nearer the water than the present one. Mr. Haggart agreed to purchase the property for the sum, Mr. Mitchell says, of $10,000. In preparing the estimates for the session of January, 1896, Mr. Hag-gart inserted the sum of $7,000 for the property, which Mr. Mitchell says was a mistake. He spoke to Mr. Haggart about it, but with what result is not known very clearly. Last August Mr. Mitchell tried to get Mr. Blair to carry out Mr. Haggart's agreement with the price of $10,000, but Mr. Blair informed Mr. Mitchell that he would first have to be satisfied that the land was needed, and if so, that its value was as represented. Mr. Mitchell was not at all pleased at Mr. Blair's attitude, and it is said, told him so, but Mr. Blair firmly declined to treat the matter in any way except as stated. Mr. Mitchell claims that Mr. Haggart having made a bargain with him as Minister of Railways, his successor in office should carry it out.'

We understand that Mr. Haggart has plainly stated that his arrangement with Mr. Mitchell was for $7,000 and not $10,000. It is not, as a newspaper remarked the other day, the first time that Mr. Mitchell has seriously differed from former political friends as to understandings between himself and them. If Mr. Mitchell is not satisfied in reference to the value of the land in question, perhaps the dispute might be referred for settlement to the assessors of Newcastle. At all events, it seems very hard for Mr. Blair to please either Mr. Mitchell or his followers on the Miramichi in railway matters.

A Valuable Property in Dispute.

Ald. W. S. Loggie is, evidently, not one of those who believe that the C. P. R. will purchase the Canada Eastern. It has, for some time, been understood that in the event of the Dominion Government purchasing that Railway, its traffic requirements will need an up-town deep water wharf and passenger station to accommodate the proposed steamboat connection with Prince Edward Island. The scheme included the acquisition of the Muirhead estate wharf and old shipyard, and the filling up of the boom between the west side of the present wharf and the east side of the old upper Muirhead mill wharf, now under the control of Mr. Wm. Richards. All this would make an ample railway yard, station grounds and deep water wharf, and the Railway reported purchase of the Muirhead homestead, store and wharf property from Mrs. Letson by Ald. Loggie, whose confidential relationships with the Dominion Government here are well understood, indicated that he, at all events, realised some of the advantages that are to be anticipated from the expected acquisition of the Canada Eastern by the Government.

It was thought, on Friday last, that the purchase had been completed by Trade passing such a resolution as they Mr. Loggie, and some of the tenants had been notified by him to that effect. but on Monday it transpired that Mr leo J. Vaughan had arranged with Mrs. Letson, the present owner for the purchase of the property before Mr Loggie did and had given her a check to secure the transaction, learning which Mr. Loggie had appeared on the scene and mixed the matter up by handing Mrs. Letson another larger check to secure the property to himself. This reaching Mr. Vaughan's ears, he entered so vigorous a protest that Mrs. Letson referred the whole C. P. R. rather than trusting ourselves subject to her legal adviser, who succeeded in effecting a new arrangement by which each of the would-be purchasers has received his check back and the coveted property is to be sold by public auction for cash on Saturday next.

A Ghoul Under the Gallows

The fiendish ingenuity of the St. John Globe in pursning premier Mitchell and his colleagues in the government, is well worthy of that paper and its methods. The Globe, smarting under the defeat of our good. all its efforts to kill premier Mitchell. physically, before the late session of the legislature opened, as well as to do so. politically, during the session, appears to have hung around the gallows on which unhappy John E. Sollivan was executed at Dorchester to put in his mouth a falsehood which the dead man would not be in a position to contradict, and which, aimed as it was at Mr. Mitchell, who, it hoped, would not be in a position to prove its falsity, would injure him in public estimation. The statement of the Globe, which it put in the form of correspondence, was prepared with a regard to circumstances and particulars suggestive of the ingenuity which has always overreached itself in the editorial columns of that paper, and left Mr. Ellis in the position, morally and politically, in which those who know him well regret to be obliged to place him. Manly men and womanly women, who know premier Mitchell and sympathise with him in the present condition of his health, will be glad to find that Mr. Ellis' paper's new attempts to blacken his reputation at a Street, Chatham. Possession will be given at any time required to a suitable purchaser or tenant. If time when Mr. Elis believed he would be unable to nail the well-concected falsehood, has been frustrated, as the following leader in the "St. Croix Courier"

Mitchell was charged with issuing a telegraphic order authorizing a visit to be spiritual adviser, The act charged was so different from

Tuesday evening, to interview him with reference to the matter. Replying to the questions of the Courier representative. the premier stated that on the evening of March 8th he received a letter from Mr. Harvey Atkinson, of Monctor, saying The Toronto Globe's Ottawa des that both Mrs. Sullivan mother of the prisoner, and Sullivan himself. anxious to see Mrs. Atkinson, but that Quebec and the Maritime Provinces. His letter to the effect that the gaoler would a undoubtedly admit anyone whom Sullivan to be accounted for by the newspaper | wished to see, subject to the discretion

The following day Mr. Mitchell receiv ed a telegram from Mr. Atkinson on the after a totally different thing. He had subject, and replied that he would telea claim against the Government for graph the sheriff that it would be proper He was careful in his telegram, however, to name the condition that Mrs. Atkinson St Stephen. Those who know the premier best do not require any such answer, for they know that he would never interpose his authority to introduce a disturbing ele- completion of sixty years of your reign, ment into the life of anyone, much less of one awaiting death under the awfu shadow of the gallows. As everybody knows, the Globe's "correspondent" dodge is only a cover for the identity of the writer, who ought to be the last man in the province to use his paper to make attacks in which reputable women are involved. The Globe strains its opponents' forbearance very much, considering all things.

Our Opportunity

To the Editor of the Advance SIR :- I am sorry that there has not been a public meeting called to show that the majority of the people of Chatham disapprove of the action of our Board of did, favoring the transfer of the Canada Eastern to the C. P. R.

We are all well aware of the bitterly the resolution bears toward the Liberal government, but I am surprised that so many level-headed business men as were present should have allowed themselves to have been used as plastic material by a few opponents of the government who never lose an opportunity to abuse and vilify all the members of Hon. Mr. Laurier's cabinet-the hon. Minister of Railways in particular. We must indeed be very short-sighted to prefer having to place our interests in the hands of the for just and equitable treatment to the present government. One of the best signs that I. C. R. control would be the best for our town is to see such a man as Wm. Bichards advocating it. In having the assistance of Mr. Richards, we must naturally think that what he favors would be beneficial to Chatham, as his extensive business. so far as the cutting and shipping of deals is concerned, is conducted here-his interests are ours. What will result in gain to him will be equally conducive to

I do not wonder at some of the John papers opposing the transfer of the Canada Eastern to the I. C. R. Why Because they know if such takes place, Chatham will most likely receive the benefit of nearly all the lumber trade along the line, but should the C. P. R. get control they would seek their own good in diverting that trade from Chatham and directing it towards St. John, thereby securing the extra freight from Fredericton to St. John over their own

Apart from the advantages of increased freight business, I am certain that we would be greatly benefitted through increased tourist travel which must come this way, and which would result in great advantage to our town, especially to our merchants, hotel proprietors, liverystables and our local steamers. What a pleasant change to those pleasure-seekers, fleeing from the hot and crowded cities of the West, to find such grand opportunities for sport and enjoyment as our noble Miramichi river and bay afford! What a contrast between the hot and soltry nights spent in the city and the cool and balmy atmosphere with which Providence has surrounded us !

Again I would like to draw attention to John by one of the fine boats of the question. what Mr. Mitchell was likely to do under International line, thence by boat up the A stenographer being in attendance In the County of Gloucester, the circumstances stated, that the Courier | St. John River (the Rhine of America) throughout taking the evidence, a copy

Jonah and the Whale.

Jonah, who has always been considered the patron of anglers, whose stories are sometimes doubted, has been the cause of getting so eminent a theologian and preacher of Dr. Lyman Abbott-the successor of Rev. Henry Ward Beecherinto trouble. A despatch of 20th to the Boston Herald from Philadelphia says: "The Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott, of Brookwill not be allowed to lecture in the Young Men's Christian Association hall here, because of his recent utterances regarding Jonah and the whale. The hall was engaged by Dr. Abbott before he delivered his sermons, but when he advanced his theories about Jonah, the managers of the Young Men's Christian Association took steps to keep him away from their building on the ground that his teachings were not altogether desirable for such a place. They made a proposition to the committee which had Dr. Abbott in charge for his withdrawal, and the committee consented to cancel the engagement of the hall. Dr. Abboit will lecture in Horticultural Hall. An officer of the association explained that the character of the lectures and entertainments was always considered in renting the hall. The association in a measure considers itself responsible for what takes place in the building, and as the management is strictly orthodox it was not head, Jim says, oh! and laughs. Jim lands thought proper to take any chances on

Those who cannot understand what nade Jonah so important as to render it necessary for such a change in his chemical composition to take place as to enable him to resist the whale's assimilative machinery, and turn the poor fish sick after the prophet had enjoyed a three day's tenancy of its stomach, will wonder what the Philadelphia representatives of orthodoxy are afraid of in connection with Dr. Abbott's lecture. It is just possible that the three days analogy theory may be carried too far.

In the last edition of last week's ADVANCE we published the result of the prize-fight between Corbett and Fitzsimmons at Carson, Nevada, together with a description of the last round. A full account of the fight is as follows:- .

CARSON, March 17. Mrs. Fitzsimmons has just taken a seat in one of the boxes and is greeted with stage. hearty applanse. There are quite a number of ladies in the arena. "Here comes Fitz!" and the crowd cheers him lustily. He is bareheaded and attired in a Japenese bath robe.

"Here come Pompadour Jim!" and the vast multitude greets him with applause. Behind Corbett are Charlie White, De- blows are lacking in force, but he is fighting | Fitz's most effective attack was his semifake laney, Jeffreys,, McVey, Joe Corbett, Billy very cautiously. Fitz catches Corbett left swing, followed with a quick half arm Woods and Al. Hampton. In Fitzsimmons' corner are Martin Julian, Earnest Roeber, Stenzler and Hickey. Billy Madden is now announcing the time keepers. Fitz. is walking lessurely around the ring and chatting pleasantly with all the people

12.07-First round has been started. Fitzsimmons refused to shake hands, Sparring has commenced. Corbett looks easily fifteen pounds heavier and his skin as well as Fitz's looks like polished mahogany.

ROUND 2. Corbett advances to the centre, faces it and follows right at body. He tries a for a minute; a clinch, and no damage in knockout uppercut with right, but is a hair breakaway; Fitz short on swings; more clinching. Jim is very cautious and, looking for the

Corbett lands another left jab on the body and follows with right short on the ribs. Corbett lands right hard over the heart, Fitz mixes it up and puts the heel of his glove in Corbett's face in the clinch.

Jim keeps his right working like piston rod on Fitz's body. They clinch and Fitz roughs it in the breakaway. As the gong sounds Fitz seems anxious to continue, but Corbett laughingly sticks his right glove in Fitz's face and they go

IT WAS A CLEVER FIGHT.

CARSON, March 18.

The great contest was won in the simplest manner and the knockout was the result of one unwary move on the part of forces Corbett back, apparently being the Corbett. The defeat nearly drove Corbett wild. The fight was clean and speedy. It They mix it up and honors are about demonstrated two facts: that Corbett is the lands light left on Fitz's mouth; Corbett's and that Fitzsimmons is able to hit him. The first time he tried it, which was in the third round, Jim threw back his head from the fake, coming forward for A clinch. Corbett lands his right on the | counter when he thought Fitz's glove was comfortably past his jaw. Quick as a flash Bob doubled back and barely missed Jim's jaw with a hook. Corbett's smile died away for an instant and he took no more chances on countering on that particular form of lead afterwards. The battle was fought on purely scientific and almost new principles. Neither of the men took any hitting in clinches. Corbett made no attempt to bring around his right in breaking away, probably because Fitz had his elbows up too high. Jim's only effort in the way of a parting shot was a full right uppercut, which he brought around very clumsily and failed to land by at least a foot every time he tried. He did get in one good uppercut in the fourth round, splitting Bob's upper lip and starting blood in a thick stream. Several times the men clinched and parted with both hands up. Frequently Bob worked Jim into a corner and reached for him right and left with blows that would win any championship battle if they had landed. WHAT FITZSIMMONS SAYS. Fitz himself admits Corbett shuffled and side-stepped his way to safety in a manner which simply dazed him. "I never saw such a clever man in my life," said Fitzsimmons. "Fitz I knew to be a terrific puncher; I never calculated on his being able to reach me. If the sixth round had lasted ten seconds longer I would have landed him to a certainty. His nose was elogged with blood and his legs were wobbling. The gong sounded just as I was about to plug him with my right and end the battle. He recuperated wonderfully, and I stayed away from him until 1 thought he was about ripe for another drubbing at short range. My neglect in not standing off when he tapped me on the cheek in the heart punch simply choked me up. I could not breathe or move for fifteen seconds.
