LES CUSTOMER WORK—The World endeavors to stir up bad feeling over the appointments to the Chatham and Newcastle post offices. It falsely states that postmaster Wilson is a conservative, although it will know that he strongly supported Mr. Mitchell in all his elections, and was his representative at one of the Chatham polls in the last two elections, at least. Mr. Mitchell says he was never a conservative. Postmaster Herriman of Newcastle was not Mr. Robinson's agent in the last election, but was understood to be a supporter of Mr. Morray. It is not creditable to the conservatives that their organ in Northumberland finds it necessary to publish the grossest misstatements in order to prejudice their opponents. Since the editor of the World was prevented from getting the Chatham postmastership, over a year ago, it has seemed impossible for him to speak truthfully of other candidates for the office. He even goes so far as to refer to Mr. Watt as having done great service to the Liberal party, when it is well known that he was never a liberal, and that the decline of the Liberal party in Northumberland is largely due to the attempts of Mr. Watt and others of Mr. Mitchell's friends to take charge of that party.

Cleveland, formerly of Albert county, has a large dairy, and a Mr. Bishop, from the same place, is a carpenter and builder. Mr. Demille, a cousin of the author of the Dodge Club, is ranching on the plains. A large fruit business is done by Warden Brown, formerly of St. John River.

The largest congregation in the town is that of which meets in the Presbyterian church of which J. C. Herdman of Pictou is the pastor. Mr. Herdman came to Calgary from Canada, N. B., 14 years ago, and is probably the senior clergyman of the place. Mrs. Herdman is a sister of Provincial Secretary Tweedie. [She is a sister of Mrs. Tweedie.—Ed.]

Mr. R. B. Bennett, of the law firm of Longhead & Bennett, is a native of Albert county, who formerly practiced in Chatham, N. B. The firm does a rushing law business.

One of the eastern men doing business in this neighborhood is J. S. Haggart, formerly of Butterfield Ridge, H. Graves of Albert county, who have cattle ranching; John Hamilton, stock dealer from St. John river, and John Creighton, a builder who came from Chatham.

A Very Large Frog.

Mr. Fred Coleman of the Barker House, Fredericton, has a large frog which, it is said, was sent to him by Mr. John Coleman of Berthoud, who captured it in the famous "walking frog" pond on the Berthoud Road beyond Greytown Brook. Someone appears to have promoted the idea that the frog, which Mr. Coleman says weighed over 50 lbs. when he took it to Fredericton, was captured at Killarney Lake in York County, and we happen to know that it was not. It is of interest, however, to know that the fame of the amphibian has gone abroad as the frog living from the Fredericton Herald shows.

Miss host Coleman of the Barker House, while on a visit to St. John, was bitten at Killarney, a short time since, is said to have captured a marvellous curiosity in the shape of a man-of-war frog. It is a particularly well developed specimen, and according to Mr. Coleman, will weigh at least twenty pounds. Mr. Coleman told of his discovery to some American tourists, and in the city, who, when they returned home, repeated the story to their friends. It appears that some of the latter are inclined to doubt the truth of the statement, and according to the existence of the alleged mighty amphibian, as the following communication received yesterday by Mr. Coleman will show.

PROFESSOR BARKER HOUSE, Fredericton, N. B. Dear Sir:—Two weeks ago I was at your house for a short stay, with a friend, W. B. Currier, and had with me a very large frog. I have told you and your reputation for veracity is well known. I was told that you had a very large frog, and that you had a photograph of it. I was told that you had a photograph of it. I was told that you had a photograph of it.

It would appear from the above, that Mr. Pope and his friends entertain a slight suspicion that Mr. Coleman would suffer somewhat from the truth of the statement, and according to the request for a photograph, and wishing to preserve his own reputation for veracity, as well as that of his friends, has employed Mr. Berthoud to photograph the frog. It is, however, as we understand, being done this afternoon, and one of the pictures will be forwarded to Mr. Pope. Mr. Coleman has been offered $2,500 for the frog, but so far has refused to sell.

Of interest to the Blind. SCHOOL FOR THE BLIND, Halifax, Aug. 11th 1897. Editor Miramichi Advance: A few weeks since when visiting the eastern portions of the province of Nova Scotia, I heard of a man who was deprived of sight and being in search of all cases of partial or total blindness made arrangements to meet him with a view to seeing whether the School for the Blind could in any way be of service to him. I found that the man was 35 years of age, that he had accidentally lost the sight of both eyes when he was 15 years old and that for twenty three years he had been struggling all day long, the monotony of his life being broken only by eating and sleeping. Physically and mentally and I might say spiritually, the man had become a complete wreck. Ambition and hope for the future and even the power of enjoyment of the present had vanished out of his life and I found that it had come to him too late and that his destiny on earth at least was simply a dull monotonous existence.

Mr. S. D. Scott, editor of the St. John Sun, writing from Calgary to that journal, speaking of Provincialists in that section, says: One of the leading lumber dealers is I. S. G. Vanwart, formerly of Woodstock, who is a manufacturer as well as a dealer.

Wendell McLean, son of the Rev. Dr. McLean of Pictou, owns a fine stone block in the best part of a town and carries on a large dry goods business.

In the neighborhood of Calgary Mr.

dose without effort upon your part. Unknown to you, there may be a blind child in the chimney corner of a neighbor's house within a stone's throw of your own home. Blind children are as a rule hidden away or kept in the background out of sight and it is only by careful and persistent inquiry that their whereabouts can be ascertained.

Trusting, Mr. Editor, that I may count upon the hearty cooperation of your readers, I remain, Yours Faithfully, C. F. FRASER, Supt.

TWO DROWNED!

A Sailing Fatality near Kouchibouguac Beaches.

Seven Persons Attempt to Cross from the Beach to the Mainland.

Their Boat is upset and Fredk Williams and Hugh Stewart drowned.

On Saturday last, the W. S. Loggie Company's fish-collecting boat—a slooped, centre-board craft—lately Kouchibouguac beach, at the gully in charge of Hugh Stewart, bringing on board seven persons, as follows:

Phineas Anderson, of Chatham. Eddie Danville, do. Hugh Stewart, Kouchibouguac. Alex. Stewart, do. Danl. Stewart, do. Frederick Williams, do.

Phineas Anderson and Eddie Danville who are about 13 years old, had been having a holiday outing at the beaches and were in charge of Mr. Phineas Anderson. Hugh and Daniel Stewart had been "drifting" the night before, and Alex. Stewart, who had been working for the Loggie company all summer, had terminated his engagement a week before and visited the beaches on this occasion in company with Fredk. Williams for the purpose of soliciting subscriptions for the fishermen in aid of an approaching picnic. The last named party had secured a passage with the party having the collecting boat, Mr. Anderson and the two boys being

BOUND FOR CHATHAM and the Stewarts going home to spend Sunday. The boat, with the seven persons named on board, left the beach at the gully just before eleven o'clock on Saturday forenoon and went along heaving against a strong westerly wind, the intention being to land at Mr. Donald Stewart's about two miles from the place of starting. Hugh Stewart appeared to know the distance, with Hugh at the helm, a small boat struck them and so careened the slooper that the ballast shifted and it filled and sank. Fortunately, however, the water was not more than seven or eight feet deep—enough to drown a man but not enough to let the bow of the boat sink beyond reach of those who had occupied her.

THE UPSET WAS SEEN from the distant shore by Frank Beaulieu, and rescuers started out, but, meantime, there were sad happenings at the scene of the disaster. Young Clarence Anderson says:—

"When the boat was sinking Mr. Williams, who was in the stern, climbed over me and made for the bow, which was higher and broke the string that held my straw hat, and I lost it. He got on the mast and asked Stewart where the flats were and Stewart told him, when he struck out for them, before he reached them he began to cry out, and then he

SANK AND DROVE AWAY AGAIN. Hugh Stewart appeared to make away from the boat in a helpless kind of way as soon as it sank, and his brother, Daniel, seeing him back, but he was not again, heaving unable to cling to the rigging, and Dan again brought him back, but the third time, he was out of Dan's reach and he couldn't catch him. He went down and came up, and down again and again came up. Then he

WEST DOWN AGAIN. When the boat went over, Sandy Stewart and Phin. Anderson got on the mast, the top of which was above water and Stewart said he was sinking, for the mast was going under with their weight. Phin. Anderson then hauled the Stewart up and shoved an oar to him to help keep him afloat, while he himself let go and tried to swim to the flats, but the tide was very strong and instead of making the flats he

WAS BEING CARRIED DOWN the channel and eddies almost drowned when Robert Richardson, John Kelly and Dan Stewart, who CAME OFF IN A GANOE. The men in the canoe next went to Sandy Stewart and got him and then to Dan Stewart who was keeping himself up by standing on the bow-spring of the sunken boat, although he was a dangerous position, he came to Sandy first as his position was the most dangerous. Then, they came and took off Eddie Danville and me from where we were keeping ourselves afloat supported by the jib and jibstay.

EDDIE DANVILLE WAS UNDER WATER when the boat went over and sank, and Dan Stewart crawled over and got him to a safe place forward. When we were rescued we were taken BACK TO THE BEACH. Eddie was so chilled that he had to be put to bed. I got a dry suit of clothes and was not so bad, although I lay down on the shore as soon as we landed, I was so tired."

THE BODIES RECOVERED. The bodies of Frederick Williams, and Hugh Stewart were searched for at once by their neighbors and fellow fishermen, including Messrs. Patrick, Fiel, John and George Ryan, Alex. and Robert Loban, Geo. McLeod and others, and recovered between 11 and 12 o'clock on Sunday. An inquest was held by Coroner Clifford Atkinson of Kouchibouguac, and a verdict of accidental drowning returned. The funerals took place on Monday afternoon and were very largely attended. Williams, who was very highly esteemed, was a married man and leaves a widow and family of 5 young children. Stewart was also a promising young man and unmarried.

Mrs. Peter Brown and Her Brown Dress.

Mrs. Peter Brown was a worthy and thrifty housewife, and though proud of her brown family she got tired of browns—we refer to brown colors.

Now, Mrs. Brown had a brown cashmere dress that she had donned on Sundays for fully three years. Going to church in sun, rain, sleet and snow for such a length of time had discolored and faded Mrs. Brown's dress. The material still good gave Mrs. Brown hope that the brown dress could be changed in color and made to do service until times were better and money more plentiful with her.

Mrs. Peter Brown had heard of the marvellous Diamond Fast Black for Wool, and decided to experiment in the work of home dyeing. The dye was purchased from her druggist, and the operation conducted as per directions on the envelope, and what a transformation resulted! A deep, rich and pure black, equal to the finest blacks produced by French professional dyers—a new dress at a cost of about thirty cents.

Mrs. Peter Brown's experience is just the experience of thousands of economizing women in Canada today. They find the Diamond Dye so indispensable that home would be robbed of half its pleasures if they could not procure these great money-savers.

"North Pole Andre" Heard From. CHRISTIANA, Aug. 17.—Information brought here confirms the story published in a despatch from Hammerfest, Norway, saying that one of the searchers for Herr Andre met the sealing vessel Alken about July 22 and was informed by her captain that one of her crew had shot a carrier pigeon between North Cape and Seven Islands on the north coast of L'land bearing a message from the explorer addressed to the Albatross, of Stockholm, as follows: "Eighty-two degrees pass, good journey northward, Andre." The date of the message was illegible. The pigeon also carried a letter addressed to the Albatross, but the captain declined to surrender either the despatch or the pigeon, and continued his voyage northward. The captain is familiar with Andre's plans, and is greatly interested in them. The news arrived here very indirectly. The captain of the Alken communicated the information referred to the commander of the ship Ikeberg, of Tromsø, the latter transmitted the news to the commander of the steamer Express upon which the Lomer polar expedition was coming home, and the Express finally passed the news along to the steamer Lofen, which brought it here.

St. John Letter. At the Cook Co. hospital the other day, says the Chicago Times-Herald, "with an ordinary pruning knife an incision was made in the left of patients and a fungus growth of 256 impostors was removed from the institution," thus saving $3000 a month in current expenses. Of these 256 people who, suffering from no disease, were fed and cared for at the public expense, one had been in the institution ten years, twenty, seven years, thirty had been there six years; forty, five years; fifty, four years; fifty-five, three years; and sixty, two years. All were admitted in the regular way, "found in wind and limb," the Times-Herald asserts and now, without the slightest compunction they are turned out into the cold and cruel world. It may be that this raid on the Cook Co. hospital suggested to Mr. Mulock the reforms which he is effecting in the post office department, or it may be that the hospital authorities are following in his lead. It is noticeable that in public offices, as well as hospitals, a good many people are supported by the taxpayers who ought to be compelled to support themselves.

The Telegraph says "Two young lads, aged about 21 years respectively, hired bicycles at the Sibley rink last Monday evening and rode off with them. It is expected that when they are caught they will be spanked severely.
