The "Monkey" Policy. Mr. C. W. Robinson, Mayor of the City of Moncton, was elected by acclamation on Saturday last to represent Westmorland in the legislature in the land in the Dominion election nearly a pretended supporter. Mr. Osman, the year ago, and in certain irresponsible candidate approved by the government, quarters it has been attempted to was elected. Last week, there was give a Dominion party complexion vacancy in Westmorland and, Newcastle Drug Store, fact, however, is that he was the government candidate was elected by

of Westmorland.

It has, we know, always been so in Ontario and Quebec, for that has been a part of their political system, and those of us who are familiar with the history of Quebec will not be enamoured of the results of the policy. Memories of the Mercier regime will lead us t pray that New Brunswick may escape from similar experiences. A few in terested, but irresponsible persons, wh furnish a considerable proportion of the noise, bitterness and narrow-minded and bigoted clamor which degrade party politics in New Brunswick, and whose capacity for surrounding themselves with the less informed and more blatant partizan elements takes the place of higher qualities in public affairs, are the men who are demanding that we shall, like a cage of monkeys, imitate what Quebec has done in this regard. We can, however, well afford to disregard such advice. The main consideration in connection with provincial affairs is to have then managed wisely and well, and whatever the few who are discontented with present conditions at Fredericton may wish, they will have to learn that they must submit to what the people of the province, through their leading public men, desire in this regard. We do not hear of any New Brunswick Liberal of the first rank favoring a change in the political complexion of the Local Government, Hon. A. G. Blair, who is and has long been the acknowledged Liberal leader of the Province, and Hon. H. R. Emmerson, who stands next to him as a leader, have always thought it an unwise thing to introduce federal issues, into provincial politics. What is right in their eyes ought to be good enough for those who profess to be in good standing in the jealous politicians of the agitator class, have conspired against the policy of their chiefs. The nonrealization of their ambition for leader-Complaints stronger men intellectually than those whose disappointed aspirations in that line find expression in this clamor for a political revolution on a small scale in New Brunswick.

> certainly not the Liberals. The great majority of them, as well as fully one half of the best men of the Conservative party in the province have always sustained the present government; and in this connection it may be well to refer to the fact that the public have been informed with an assumption of gravity calculated to put the owls to the blush, that when Mr. Blair ceased to be provincial premier it became the duty of Liberals to no longer support the mixed government at Fredericton, because it passed under the leadership of a Conservative. The people of the province have pretty well settled that question. They have realised, as Mr. Blair, Mr. Emmerson, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Tweedie and their associates did, that these gentlemen were not in office as either Liberals or Conservatives, but as capable administrators of provincial affairs, regardless of the questions which divide men in federal matters. The policy of the Blair government, in regard to its political composition, up to the time that gentleman left it to step into the higher position which the Globe and its associates did all in their power to prevent him from attaining, was one that met with constantly increasing support at the polls. When Mr. Blair ceased to be premier we were told that all this must be changed. But what has been the response to this demand? If it met with any degree of popular favor it would be manifested at the byeelections that have taken place. The record, however, shows that the people are satisfied, notwithstanding the 11.10 p.m. clamorings of the envious and treacher-

It is, we think, not difficult to perceive the real object of the agitation. The imitative faculty is very strongly It is well known that there are a good developed in a certain class of men, and many so-called Conservatives as well as the same may be said of monkeys. When one asks of those who would now have him and these papers and those who endorse other Liberal leaders turn upon these their sentiments what their reasons are friends and rend them. The scheme is for entertaining them, their reply is both too old and too thin to deceive that it is so in Ontario, Quebec and anyone, and the sooner its advocates Nova Scotia, etc., and it should be so abandon it, the better it will be for in New Brunswick, especially as the themselves. Steam Communication with P. E. I.

The council of Chatham Board Trade met on Friday evening last to further an effort that is being made to induce the Dominion Government to subsidise the steamer Monticillo to run between the Miramichi and Summerside, or some other point in Prince Edward Island. It was unanimously resolved to petition through the people or such subsidy, and President W. S. Loggie, vice-president R. Flanagan and secretary J. D. B. F. Mackenzie were appointed a committee to get up the petition, have it circulated for signatures and forward it to Ottawa.

An Unprecedented Log-Jam. There never was a season before when practically all the logs in Miramichi waters reached the booms in the month of May, which they have done the present season. Not only have the logs which were in the rivers, hung up from past seasons' operations come out, but also those of last winter's cut. They have come-to use a popular phrase—"as clean as a whistle," from the Railway's, the Companies', ordinary granted lands and Crown lands with a rush into the Southwest Miramichi Boom to the extent of about 90,000,000 feet. They are packed in solidly from side to side of the river for about three miles above Bryanton's, besides the quantity lying more loosely below Bryanton's, down to the rafting ground. People are crossing the river over them as if it were dry land. In some places in the three miles they are thrust up many feet above the surface of the river, and opposite Kelly's they are pressure behind them. Rafting is going party. There are thousand of lakes and trout streams in the Province, which the government has left open to the public, and every honest angler knows that he can get good fishing in them, if he has the time and means to reach them. A paragraph elsewhere refers to the large quantity of lumber to be shipped this season to Great Britain from a little port in Albert county. Previously, lumber from this region was brought to Saint John and transhipped. In recent years there has been a great expansion in the shipment of deals from West Bay, N. The Marine Report.

The Marine report of the Department of Marine and Fisheries up to January

1, 1897, has been printed. It contains the reports respecting steamboat inspection, examinations of masters and mates, inspection of live stock and other branches of the service. The amount voted by Parliament for marine was $835,640, and the expenditure for the fiscal year was $43,326 less than the amount voted. The number of persons employed by the marine branch of the department in the outside service is 1,736. The number of lights in the Dominion is 766, as against 625 ten years ago. The expenditure for maintenance and repairs of the Dominion steamers Newfield, Aberdeen, Stanley, Lansdowne, Quadre and Druid was $150, 599. The total number of wrecks and casualties during the year of British and Canadian seagoing vessels reported to the department was 273, with a loss of $1,266,761. The number of lives repor ed lost was 43. The registered merchant shipping on December 31, 1896, was 7.279 vessels measuring 789,299 tons, being an increase of 17 vessels and a decrease of 36,537 tons as compared with 1895. Canada's Fisheries.

The annual report of the fisheries branch of the Department of Marine and Fisheries for the year 1896 was laid or the table in the House of Commons early on Thursday last. While the salt-water inshore area, not including minor indentations, covers more than 1,500 square miles, the fresh-water area of that part of the great lakes belonging to Canada is computed at 72,700 square miles, not including the numerous lakes of Manitoba and the Territories, all stocked with excellent species of food fish. For the vear the value of the Canadian fisheries is computed at $20,199,338, being a decrease of over half a million dollars as compared with the previous year. This amount is subdivided by Provinces as Trout fishing commences on the Bartibog about the 15th of June, and continues until the last of September. Permits cost at the rate of $1.00 per rod per day.

Canada and Pulp Wood.

"Paper Making," a recognized organ of the trade in Great Britain, says :

'The question of greatest interest in Canada at the present moment amongst our friends in the pulp and paper trades woods. The new United States tariff in the increased rates does not forget to include Canadian pulps; and the feeling in the colony is to make the United States mill pay this duty on his wood if he prohibits Canadian pulp. The issue is a simple one and should hardly need a moment's consideration by the Federal Government, but for the fact that campaign prospects need to be thought of.

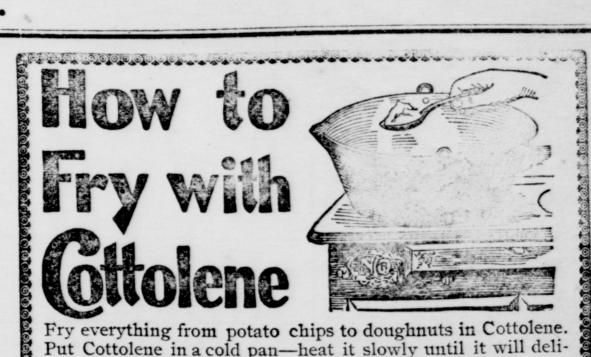

"If Canada is to have a tariff at alland we don't see how she can do without one for revenue purposes—the fairest tax she could adopt would be such a one as is proposed on the pulp woods. Timber, taking years to grow, passes to a country with an unfriendly tariff for a mean pittance and pays nothing to the colonial Government. In many cases even United States labor is taken across to cur it. Why should not Canada make ts own wood into pulp? If the States did not buy more than they could help, Great Britain could be found a useful customer.

"Much of the opposition, however, comes from sources which can hardly be described as unbiassed, - i.e., the newspaper proprietors. In Canada, as elsewhere, the power of the press, especially at election times, is out of all proportion to its merits. What should be a national ing an hour's journey from these stations industry must be sacrificed in order to which is hardly known save to the quiet | get paper at less than its value : that seems to be the policy of the Canadian newspaper proprietor, and it is from him that the export tax has most to fear.

Judging from following paragraph from a New York contemporary, the recommendation more personal than patriotic: 'There has been considerable manœuvring among paper manufacturers to get the business of one of the big Toronto dailies, namely The Globe.
