

GROCERY DEPARTMENT. OULIVIES HUNGARIAN, DELIGHT, STAR, CORN MEAL, ROLLED OATMEAL, HEAVY FEED, P. K. L. BLACK OATS, P. K. L. WHITE OATS, PRESERVED BEAN.

BUILDERS DEPARTMENT. SHINGLES, HAIR, LIME, BRICK, PLASTERERS HAIR, LOCKS, NINGES, GREEN WIRE NETTING, WINDOW SCREENS, GLASS ALL SIZES, PLAIN AND FACED, CALCINED PLASTER.

W. S. LOGGIE COY., LIMITED.

Miramichi and the North Shore, etc.

RACE.—There is to be a yacht race to-day.

MONEY IN IT.—See Mr. Harris' announcement.

CAMPBELLTON is to have a big celebration on 22nd.

THE DOUGLASS BAND is to have a promenade concert in town some time this week.

FOR MURDER.—Wm. Curtis of Gray Rapids, has been committed for murder by Magistrate Nixon in connection with the shooting of young Garfield Astles.

THE ORANGE BAND of Newcastle paid Chatham a visit, and played in the streets yesterday in connection with the propaganda of the minstrel show which took place in Newcastle last evening.

NOT TRUE.—A report was afloat on Friday as coming from the Little Southwest, to the effect that a quarrel and fight between two women in that region had a fatal termination. There is no truth in the report.

HON. MR. BLAIR came from Ottawa in his official car, arriving at Newcastle on Monday and proceeding to Fredericton that afternoon. We understand that he returned and proceeded to Ottawa next day.

GOOD FISHING.—Mr. A. Chisholm Mitchell, of Messrs. Fishon & Mitchell, New Brunswick, who is fishing at the Restegouche, had great luck last week. His catch was nineteen fish, weighing in all 44 1/2 pounds, or an average of 2 1/2-3 pounds per fish.

AN ICE CREAM social is to be held on Monday evening, 27th inst., by the ladies of Loggieville Presbyterian Church Congregation in the Temperance Hall at that place. The opening will be about 7.30. Refreshments of different kinds will be sold during the evening and there will also be music.

DEATH OF EDWARD BURKE.—The death occurred at St. John on Friday last of Edward Burke, eldest son of Mr. T. Burke, Inspector of Island Revenue department. The deceased was a bright boy who had gone through the public schools with great credit and then entered the University of New Brunswick. He was beginning to distinguish himself in that institution as well when he was forced to suspend his studies owing to ill health. He has not been well for two years. Mr. and Mrs. Burke have very general sympathy in their sad bereavement as this is the fourth death which has occurred in the family within 16 months.

FOUR IN ONE DAY.—It is rather remarkable that four persons were killed on the Intercolonial Railway in one day last week. They were as follows:—

A man supposed to be a Norwegian, who left his ship at Dalhousie five days ago and had been around Bathurst looking for a chance on one of the streets, was run over and killed by the Maritime Express passing Bathurst about noon on Friday, at the east end of Big River bridge, about four miles from Bathurst.

An old man named Isaac Boutwell, who was struck by the Sydney Express, about 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, between West River and Riverview, N. S., and killed. He was walking on the track, when the train came upon him suddenly from around a bend.

Fred Eggett, a mill hand at Stowicks, was killed by the milk train on the same day.

The fourth was killed on the Drummond county extension.

PERSONAL.—Hon. Provincial Secretary Tweedie returned home on Saturday, after an absence of a week on official business in York, Ontario and elsewhere.

Mrs. Richard Hutchinson of Boston and Mrs. Stanley Murray of Scarborough, N. Y. are paying a visit to their Miramichi relatives. A host of old friends are delighted to welcome them.

Mr. D. T. Johnston's many friends here, as well as at Bathurst, regret to hear that he has been laid up with his old trouble, appendicitis. The reports of the last few days, however, show that his condition is improving.

We are glad to hear that Senator Adams is able to be about again, taking short walks and otherwise showing that his condition is more encouraging than it was a week or two ago.

Many friends of Rev. E. Wallace Wait and Mrs. Wait were glad to have the opportunity of welcoming them on the visit they are making to Chatham while Mr. Wait is temporarily officiating in St. Andrew's church. They are at Canada House.

Sergeant Donald Loggie of the Newcastle Field Battery left last night for Montreal, where he is to join the Canadian team for Bialy.

Successful Fish Catch at Camp Adams. Robert H. Armstrong and J. R. Lawlor had a most successful day's fishing at Camp Adams, Monday. They secured six large salmon and fifteen good sized trout. This is a record hard to beat considering the early season of the year and the short time the gentlemen were angling, and especially speaks well for the fishing advantages of that peculiar stream. The property belongs to Senator Adams and is indeed well stocked for fishing and probably in the whole province of New Brunswick a better place for salmon and trout cannot be found.—(Advocate.)

An Unlawful Capture. It is reported that some fishermen near Millers on the S. W. Miramichi, aided by the crew of the boom steamer, captured a bull pup which they found swimming in the river at an early hour on Tuesday morning, that after a struggle, they landed the animal and put him in the barn of J. A. Robinson, Esq., M. P., lessee of the boom, where he is at last occupants. The penalty for taking a moose out of season without a permit ranges from $50 to $200, and news of the capture having reached the Provincial General, he has directed the Surveyor-General to set for him in having information laid in the matter, which has been done.

Provincial Appointments. Charles R. Mitchell, of Medicine Hat, Northwest Territories, to be a commissioner for N. W. Territories, under chapter 36 of the Consolidated Statutes of this province.

Northumberland—Peter Vienneau to be an Alms-house commissioner for the parish of Regrville, in room of Ambrose Arsenes, deceased. Frank McCall, William Stone, Daniel McMillan, Stephen Dubois, Charles Reinborough and Charles S. Gunn to be Justices of the Peace. Richard Aitridge to be an Alms-house commissioner for Blaisfield, in room of Robert Swinn, deceased.

Kent—Lucas A. Gallant to be commissioner of the parish of Dundas Civil Court. William Morris to be a Justice of the Peace.

Restegouche—Maxwell M. Mowat to be a Justice of the Peace.

Glochester—Hubert Landry to be Labor Act Commissioner for New Brandon, in room of Severin Theriault, removed.

For Bathurst. Chatham Branch 202, C. M. B. A. is arranging for an excursion by railway to Bathurst on Dominion Day. A committee of the organization has the matter in hand and the expectation is that the excursionists will leave Chatham at 7 a. m. by the Miramichi and Nelson and, taking a special train at Newcastle, get away from that place about 8 a. m. standard time, arriving in Bathurst about 9.30. It is announced from Bathurst that the day is to be well observed there by the local C. M. B. A. and citizens generally; that the new iron bridge over the Nepisiguit will be opened by the lieutenant Governor and that premier Edmondson, Provincial Secretary Tweedie, Attorney General White and Commissioner of Agriculture LaBillette will also be present.

Business for Sale. W. T. Harris offers his large Grocery and Foot and Shoe business for sale. His stock is first class and in the finest stores in town, and best locality. Any person desirous of starting in business should not let this chance pass. Possession given at once. From now on a purchaser is found Mr. Harris will sell everything at wholesale prices for cash.

This is one chance in a lifetime for the public to get first class Groceries and Boots and Shoes cheap. All accounts will be closed and must be settled at once, either by cash or note. Everything will be sold strictly for cash. No credit will be given to anyone. Bargains for the public until some one buys the entire stock.

W. T. HARRIS.

Dominion Day Races. There will, doubtless, be a series of races well worth seeing on Chatham Driving Park on Dominion Day. As the Advance has already stated, there will be three trotting races and also a bicycle race. The purse for the trotters will aggregate $185. The green race purse will be $25; for the free-for-all, $60 and the free-for-all, $100. The green race will be half mile heats, the other two, mile heats. The bicycle prizes will be announced hereafter. Already, the driving Park has become quite attractive on fine evenings.

As the Advance has already stated, there is a steady going family nag up to the five that can do a 2.30 clip may be seen, from time to time, and every day adds to the number and quality of the turnout. Our reporter says that there are at least half a dozen speedy horses being fitted for the free-for-all on Dominion Day by way of making of the greater number of the day's events, and that some surprises are in store for even the knowing ones in the matter of horseflesh.

A Clergyman's Terrible Death. MONTREAL, June 10.—Rev. R. J. Grant, of Rivier, Que., was killed while crossing on Notre Dame street, near Chaboullier square, by an electric car. He had been attending the general assembly, and being a lover of bicycling went out for a ride with Rev. G. C. Robertson. The accident occurred about 7 o'clock, and was caused it is understood, by Mr. Grant trying to avoid running down a little girl. In doing so he fell off his wheel right in front of an approaching car, which passed over his body, tearing it terribly.

An ambulance was called but so terrible were the injuries that death must have been instantaneous and the only duty the ambulance could perform was to carry the mangled remains to the morgue.

Rev. Mr. Robertson at once informed the friends of the deceased of the terrible accident and of the close of the forensic misadventure of the assembly in the Knox church this evening. The news struck the members of the assembly very much affected and when Rev. E. Scott rose to announce the funeral arrangements he could scarcely speak from emotion. Principal Forrest spoke of the high character and ability of the deceased and referred to him as one of his best students. He stated that he had known him for about 20 years.

Steamer Arbelis Lost. The steamer Arbelis, which was loaded with deals at Chatham by Mr. Wm. Richards is ashore at Cape Pine, about 40 miles westward of Cape Race, Newfoundland. The Arbelis is owned by Wm. Thomson & Co. of St. John. She is a new steamer, the present being her second voyage.

Capt. Smith the commander of the stranded steamer telegraphed to the owners at St. John on Thursday last that he expected to get his ship off this night, and added that if he succeeded he would take her to St. John for a successful voyage.

An Associated Press despatch from St. John says:—

A steamer whose name is not given, bound for England, with a general cargo and a deck load of deals ran ashore during a dense fog at about 3.30 o'clock Friday morning at St. Shotts cove, on the south coast of Newfoundland, 100 miles from here. The messengers who carried the news to the St. Mary's light station did not remember the name of the vessel, but saw several women aboard her. It is believed all the crew and passengers are safely to be saved as the water was smooth when the steamer struck. The weather has since become rough, however, so it is probable the ship has been driven so heavily on the rocks that there is no likelihood of getting her off.

The unknown steamer mentioned in the Associated Press despatches is no doubt the Arbelis, as Miss Sadie Edmonds, of Barnes and Murray, St. John, and another lady were passengers on her and are probably the ladies referred to in the foregoing despatch.

Later advices indicate that the steamer will be a total loss.

Death of Mr. A. J. McKay in Boston. A correspondent writing from Jamaica Plain, Mass., on 13th inst., says:—

We regret to announce the death, in Boston, on 2nd inst. of the late Alex. J. McKay, formerly of Chatham, N. B., where he resided prior to taking up his residence in Boston.

Mr. McKay, by the accidental slipping of a ladder, on the 21st May, used in the erection of a new building, was precipitated from the third story of the building to the ground, and in his descent, received such severe internal injuries which resulted in his premature and untimely death.

He lived respected and beloved, and died regretted by all who knew him, and his memory will be held in regard by all with whom he was associated, for his sterling integrity, Christian bearing and fullness of heart.

Funeral services over the remains were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Hinkley, of Rollandale, at his late home, on Sunday 5th inst., and that Mr. McKay was beloved by hosts of friends and honored by the community was amply attested at his funeral.

The funeral offerings were beautiful. They completely covered the coffin. Noted among them was a splendid design in the form of an anchor, 3 1/2 ft. high, from the Ancient Order of United Workmen, of which the deceased was a member; also a beautiful pillow of choice white roses from his widow, and a wreath of choice white roses and lilies of the valley from his family. A deputation from the Ancient Order of United Workmen accompanied the remains to the grave.

A touching eulogy of the true Christian character of Mr. McKay was paid to his memory by the Rev. Mr. Hinkley, also a patriotic prayer was said at the grave by Mr. Christie, an old co-worker in the cause of Christianity.

The burial was at Cedar Grove Cemetery, Dorchester, beside the remains of his lately deceased daughter, Catherine Grace, and the community in the neighborhood. His last residence are announced that one so true and noble should be taken from their midst.

THE VOICE ABOVE. East on the drift, and where the full clouds flow, No star shines forth at all.

The snow in streaming plumes, And yawns the Gulf of the crevasse below, To a sulphureous glow.

Along the precipice there is no way That he may surely tread, Right is his foothold on the slippery stay, He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

Could he but hear some loving of the herd, No star shines forth at all, Some familiar sound or moment stirred To guide him lost in fear!

He dares not move, Some beckoning leading word, And chill and terrible the dying day, Falls fast about his head.

REPORTER AND CHINAMAN. The Newspaper Man was Very Tired when the Oriental Presented.

Numberless are the tricks which newspaper reporters play upon one another to relieve the squalid "grind" of their calling. Two young men employed on a morning paper in a large city were detailed one day to call upon the resident Chinaman and "interview" him respecting some immigration measure then pending in congress.

One of the reporters was a beginner, and the other a "veteran" man, naturally assumed the management of the assignment.

"Billings," he said after they had invaded several inns without any success on a morning paper in a large city were detailed one day to call upon the resident Chinaman and "interview" him respecting some immigration measure then pending in congress.

One of the reporters was a beginner, and the other a "veteran" man, naturally assumed the management of the assignment.

"Billings," he said after they had invaded several inns without any success on a morning paper in a large city were detailed one day to call upon the resident Chinaman and "interview" him respecting some immigration measure then pending in congress.

One of the reporters was a beginner, and the other a "veteran" man, naturally assumed the management of the assignment.

"Billings," he said after they had invaded several inns without any success on a morning paper in a large city were detailed one day to call upon the resident Chinaman and "interview" him respecting some immigration measure then pending in congress.

One of the reporters was a beginner, and the other a "veteran" man, naturally assumed the management of the assignment.

"Billings," he said after they had invaded several inns without any success on a morning paper in a large city were detailed one day to call upon the resident Chinaman and "interview" him respecting some immigration measure then pending in congress.

One of the reporters was a beginner, and the other a "veteran" man, naturally assumed the management of the assignment.

"Billings," he said after they had invaded several inns without any success on a morning paper in a large city were detailed one day to call upon the resident Chinaman and "interview" him respecting some immigration measure then pending in congress.

One of the reporters was a beginner, and the other a "veteran" man, naturally assumed the management of the assignment.

"Billings," he said after they had invaded several inns without any success on a morning paper in a large city were detailed one day to call upon the resident Chinaman and "interview" him respecting some immigration measure then pending in congress.

One of the reporters was a beginner, and the other a "veteran" man, naturally assumed the management of the assignment.

"Billings," he said after they had invaded several inns without any success on a morning paper in a large city were detailed one day to call upon the resident Chinaman and "interview" him respecting some immigration measure then pending in congress.

One of the reporters was a beginner, and the other a "veteran" man, naturally assumed the management of the assignment.

"Billings," he said after they had invaded several inns without any success on a morning paper in a large city were detailed one day to call upon the resident Chinaman and "interview" him respecting some immigration measure then pending in congress.

One of the reporters was a beginner, and the other a "veteran" man, naturally assumed the management of the assignment.

"Billings," he said after they had invaded several inns without any success on a morning paper in a large city were detailed one day to call upon the resident Chinaman and "interview" him respecting some immigration measure then pending in congress.

One of the reporters was a beginner, and the other a "veteran" man, naturally assumed the management of the assignment.

"Billings," he said after they had invaded several inns without any success on a morning paper in a large city were detailed one day to call upon the resident Chinaman and "interview" him respecting some immigration measure then pending in congress.

One of the reporters was a beginner, and the other a "veteran" man, naturally assumed the management of the assignment.

"Billings," he said after they had invaded several inns without any success on a morning paper in a large city were detailed one day to call upon the resident Chinaman and "interview" him respecting some immigration measure then pending in congress.

One of the reporters was a beginner, and the other a "veteran" man, naturally assumed the management of the assignment.

"Billings," he said after they had invaded several inns without any success on a morning paper in a large city were detailed one day to call upon the resident Chinaman and "interview" him respecting some immigration measure then pending in congress.

One of the reporters was a beginner, and the other a "veteran" man, naturally assumed the management of the assignment.

"Billings," he said after they had invaded several inns without any success on a morning paper in a large city were detailed one day to call upon the resident Chinaman and "interview" him respecting some immigration measure then pending in congress.

One of the reporters was a beginner, and the other a "veteran" man, naturally assumed the management of the assignment.

"Billings," he said after they had invaded several inns without any success on a morning paper in a large city were detailed one day to call upon the resident Chinaman and "interview" him respecting some immigration measure then pending in congress.

One of the reporters was a beginner, and the other a "veteran" man, naturally assumed the management of the assignment.

"Billings," he said after they had invaded several inns without any success on a morning paper in a large city were detailed one day to call upon the resident Chinaman and "interview" him respecting some immigration measure then pending in congress.

One of the reporters was a beginner, and the other a "veteran" man, naturally assumed the management of the assignment.

"Billings," he said after they had invaded several inns without any success on a morning paper in a large city were detailed one day to call upon the resident Chinaman and "interview" him respecting some immigration measure then pending in congress.

One of the reporters was a beginner, and the other a "veteran" man, naturally assumed the management of the assignment.

"Billings," he said after they had invaded several inns without any success on a morning paper in a large city were detailed one day to call upon the resident Chinaman and "interview" him respecting some immigration measure then pending in congress.

One of the reporters was a beginner, and the other a "veteran" man, naturally assumed the management of the assignment.

"Billings," he said after they had invaded several inns without any success on a morning paper in a large city were detailed one day to call upon the resident Chinaman and "interview" him respecting some immigration measure then pending in congress.

One of the reporters was a beginner, and the other a "veteran" man, naturally assumed the management of the assignment.

"Billings," he said after they had invaded several inns without any success on a morning paper in a large city were detailed one day to call upon the resident Chinaman and "interview" him respecting some immigration measure then pending in congress.

One of the reporters was a beginner, and the other a "veteran" man, naturally assumed the management of the assignment.

"Billings," he said after they had invaded several inns without any success on a morning paper in a large city were detailed one day to call upon the resident Chinaman and "interview" him respecting some immigration measure then pending in congress.

One of the reporters was a beginner, and the other a "veteran