To Our Readers.

The ADVANCE will be obliged to its numerous readers if they will enable us to make reference in our local columns to matters and events in which they are interested, or may think their friends may be. This they can do by giving the information in person at the office, or writing to us about it. Many things proper to be noticed in the ADVANCE's columns do not appear therein, simply because our attention is not called to them by those who would like to see reference to them in the paper, but have omitted to do their part in making them known. Come, therefore, or write and tell us your local news.

Christmas Services in S. Mary's and S. Paul's.

The Christmas services in S. Mary's and S. Paul's churches were of the usual appropriate character and were well attended notwithstanding the unpleasant weather which prevailed during a considerable part of Christmas day.

The first Evensong of the Festival was said in S. Mary's, which was handsomely decorated, at 6.30 p.m. on X'mas Eve, and began with the Processional Hymn "While Shepherds Watched, &c." The other Christmas hymns were Nos. 482, 484, and 60 H. A. & M., the latter being the Recessional. In St. Andrew's church, last Sabbath, the The Psalter and Canticles were well sung by the choir. After Evening Prayer the Rector addressed the congregation on the

After reviving him with warm drinks and rubbing, the boy, who is about 12 years of age, said he left Mr. Alexander Storey's, being terrified by threats of beating, and wandered in the night to where he was found, being afraid to seek shelter at any house lest he would be taken back to where he left. Everything was done to relieve the poor lad. Next day he was sent to the hospital at Fredericton. It is thought he may lose one or both feet. Public opinion censures the Storey family. An Awful Calamity.

ROME, Dec. 22 .- A terrible disaster took place this afternoon at Amalfi, the popular tourist resort on the Gulf of Salerno. About 2 o'clock an enormous rock, upon which stood the Cappceini hotel, slid bodily into the sea with a deafening roar and without a moment's warning, carrying with it the hotel, the old Cappuchin monastery below the hotel Santa Salerno and several villas.

Many people were burried in the which crushed four vessels to the bottom of the sea, destroying their crews. The mass of earth which slipped was about 50,000 cubic yards

The population is in a state of terror, fearing fresh calamities. The troops have arrived upon the scene and begun rescue

It is believed that the loss of life will be heavy, including a number of monks and the occupants of the hotel. As yet it is impossible to ascertain the exact number. Amalfi is a town of 7,000 inhabitants, situated at the entrance of a deep ravine, surrounded by imposing mountains and picturesque rocks. The Cappuchin monastery was founded in 1212 by Cardinal Pietro Capuano for the Clatercians, but came into possession of Cappuchine in 1583.

The building, which stood in the hollow of the great rock that rose abruptly from the sea to the height of 230 feet, contained fine cloisters and a charming veranda, and offered magnificent points of view:

In the twelfth century the sea began gradually to undermine the lower portions of the town and a terrible inundation in 1343 proved still more disastrous.

BRUSSELS, Dec. 22.—Upwards of forty school children were drowned this afternoon in an ice accident at Frelinghem, near th French frontier. The school children of the district had been given a holiday with permission to play on the frozen river Lys.

When the merriment was at full height the ice broke suddenly, and the children disappeared. A few were rescued half drowned, but the majority were drowned. Thirty-six bodies have been recovered, but others are still missing. The catastrophe spread consternation through the town, where nearly every family suffered loss.

Sir Richard Cartwright has received eport from the government agent at Trinidad uggesting that the present is a fitting time to enter into a preferential trade arrangement between Canada and that colony, owing to the failure of Trinidad to accept the proposed treaty with the United States. Canada would of course share in any tariff advantages which would have been given to the United States, but Trinidad could give a trade preference to Canada which the United States would not obtain. This matter is now under consideration. The agent also reports that the prospect of better trade between Canada and Trinidad next summer is bright, owing to improved steamship

Hon. Mr. Tarte, addressing a Liberal meeting at Montreal the other night. emphatically denied the report that he intended to resign from the government because ha differed from his colleagues over the sending of a second contingent to South Africa. Mr. Tarte said there was not a word of truth in it. The reason he did not attend the cabinet meeting was because he was ordered by his physician to remain in bed and it was against his doctor's orders that he was now out of his house. Mr. Tarte said he entirely agreed with the government's enforced action as to the sending of second contingent. It would be under the same conditions as the first and Canada would not sacrifice any of its liberties. When parliament was called the question would be fully discussed. Mr. Tarte also denounced the attempts being made to impute disloyalty to French Canadians.
