CHATHAM, N. B., Oct. 7. Editor Star, Montreal: I do not approve of sending a Canadian contingent immediately. When our government, loyal to the Empire, calls Canadians to arms in its defence, all will respond. WARREN C. WINSLOW, Mayor.

Yacht Race.

Last Thursday's yacht-race off Newcastle was a very closely contested and exciting one. There was a puffy northwest wind which compelled both Maude and Oriana to sail under reefs going up from Chatham to Newcastle. The start was to have been at two o'clock, but as the wind had abated somewhat at that hour reefs were taken out, and topsails sent up and jibs set. Just as the boats were man œuvring for a start a wicked squall came and gave warning of more to follow. The course was from an imaginary line ranging from the upper side of Call's wharf to the lower side of the Ferry wharf, up river to a turning-buoy off the lower end of Beaubair's Island in the mouth of the Northwest Miramichi, down river around the Canadian Marsh buoy and to place of beginning-this sailed over twice. distance about nine miles. On the second round, as Maude was leadlost and the crippled yacht was again headrounded half a minute in advance of Oriana and with the "well side to windward" the old favorite went bowling down the course under short sail. Meantime boatswain Crosby went aloft and made fast a temporary stay at the hounds and before the lower turn was reached it was secured to the starboard belaying rack. Oriana had now come up pretty well on her crippled ten second, lead. On the last run up from Canadian Marsh the wind was strong and away from Oriana in good shape. The latter was obliged to have it held down by one of the crew. This was a partial compensation for Maude's crippled condition and the latter crossed the home line 56 seconds ahead of Oriana, winner by one second, after makthe start. The official time was as follows :
