The Lumber Outlook.

The British Board of Trade returns of the timber imports for nine months of the year, compared with those of last year, show an increase in quantities for this season. Of hewn and sawn, the aggregate for 9 months of 1898 was 6,395,580 loads and for 1899, 6,896,-857 loads. There were, however, 200, 000 loads of sawn less this year than last. Spruce deals are bringing from £7 to £7 15s. per standard, but freights he established here some thirty-five years and insurance are correspondingly high, so that shippers seem satisfied if they can realise old prices at the ship's side in the producing ports. The London Timber Trades Journal of 28th Oct.

says :-

"We quite believe that goods have nearly reached their highest point, and had trade not been undergoing an abnormal period of activity, the prices would never have advanced as they have done. The present solidity of trade is only equalled by its apathy; both, under existing circumstances, are remarkable. The very fact of commodities being so costly would in the ordinary way lead to insecurity, but it seems the reverse is the case, and the large number of building failures arising out of the dearness of material is in some quarters looked upon as a sort of relief, as purifying the atmosphere by weeding out a lot of people who had not money enough at their backs to stand the increased cost.

A FRIDAY CLUB :- A political organization under the name of the Sir Charles Tupper Club was organized at Moncton last Friday night. Those who wanted to call it the Young Conservative Club are saying that Friday isn't a lucky day.

The Great Loyalty Issue.

Our friends whose noses are out o joint just now in Dominion politics are making themselves pretty cheap by endeavoring to show to everybody that the country. They are keeping up a din over the matter and appear to assume that the noise they are making will distract the people's attention from the facts as they exist. Even outsiders, however, who, probably, take only an occasional glimpse at our political affairs, see the game that is being play- is forming at De Aar Junction for the ed and judge one of our great parties accordingly. The Boston Herald sizes Fusiliers, the 2nd Berkshires and half of up the situation as follows :--

"The Conservatives, being entirely irresponsible, and, thinking to gain popularity by effusive demonstrations of loyalty to the British empire, were, no doubt, more demonstrative in what they said than were many of their countrymen who were members of the ed the regiment and sent it out; they did all that a Conservative government would have done in this respect, and it is the soldiers that are sent which constitute the aid given, and not the shouting and hurrahing which accompanied their enlistment. Clearly, the Conservative leaders are greatly reduced to take up such an attenuated device spared to help Kimberley.

Yet it is a fact that some Conservative leaders, who are otherwise levelheaded, are declaring that the capital they are making out of the war will win them thousands of votes-that it is the greatest bonanza they have had since Sir John's time. There is a shallowness about this that is truly Fosterian.

I have not the slightest doubt that if the merchants of Philadelphia, for example, should begin at once to do as Jesus would do in busines, the immediate result would be bankruptcy for very manyperhaps for the majority; if not bankruptcy, then enormous losses would follow. This fact would not prove that Christianity cannot be applied to modern business; it would simply prove that modern business does not square with the eachings of Christianity. That this is so business men themselves frankly confess. The statement so often made, that the Golden Rule cannot be made to work in business, is not a confession of the foolishness of the Golden Rule, but the selfishness of the business world."

The idea suggests itself on reading the foregoing that Mr. Sheldon may not have an entirely correct conception of what Jesus would do in business, as He was not a business man, but a teacher. It is also observed that even the most sincere Christians differ very hold our own so far. widely in reference to many things on which Jesus is set down in the New Testament as having expressed himself quite plainly. This war is not a war of conquest, of subjugation. It is not to oppress the race whose courage we adm're, but it is to put an end to the oppression imposed upon subjects of Her Majesty in South Africa by a tyrannical people. The object is not to crush out the Datch population, but to establish in that land, of which Her Majesty is suzerain, British sovereign law, to assure to all men of that country an equal share of liberty.'

Commenting on the foregoing, the 'Times' says it would be impossible to put the case more tersely, more clearly, or more justly.

It has a number of tarium, a public library containing one of the best collection of books in South Africa, a club, a Musonic temple, a park, with cricket and football fields; Anglican, Wesleyan, Presbyterian and Roman Catholic churches; trams, cabs, and couple of daily newspapers. A short distance away is Beaconsfield, practically a suburb, with a population of 10,000, half whites, around the mines of Du Toit's Pan and Bullfontein. At Kimberley the diamond mines and De Beers' offices would offer an irresistible temptation to the Boers, but, not withstanding the action of the Cape Government in recalling the civil servants in the volunteer force there, Kimberley will doubtless prove a hard nut for the Boers to crack. REINFORCEMENTS AT THE CAPE. The arrival at the Cape of the Terrible with the relief crews for China and other available men must have placed in the neighborhood of 3,000 more men at the service of the military authorities.

GENERAL WHITE STILL "IN GOOD FETTLE." The fact that Gen. White was enabled "Kimberley, 647 miles from Cape to undertake a series of successful reconnai sances as indicated by the fighting indication that the grip of the Boer investment has been relaxed by the withdrawal of a portion of Gen. Joubert's forces southwards. While, however, the anxiety in regard to the immediate stress of Ladysmith is alleviated, there is a widespread fear that the main expedition will prove too weak to complete its task with safety and despatch.

GREAT BRITISH VICTORIES! The latest news from the seat of war shows that the British are more than defending Ladysmith, for General White has done great damage to the Boer forces at Bester's, where he captured their camp, equipment, and general supplies.

Encouraged by this success Gen. White decided to risk an even more important engagement on the following day, which was again justified by success. Lady. smith had been isolated and a Boer force had intercepted the railway between Ladysmith and Colenso. This force on Friday had descended upon Colenso and, as shown from the despatches from Estcourt, compelled a hurried abandonment of Colenso and a retirement of the British to Estcourt.

Gen. White had ascertained that the Boers were attacking Colenso, but he had not heard of the British retirement. General White's division caught the Boers in the rear, and after the hills had been shelled the British infantry stormed the position. Meanwhile the British cavalry swept round the hills, and, as the retreating enemy descended into the plain, with British bayonets behind them, and the river in front of them, they were charged by the cavalry and seemed to have perished almost to a man.

More Canadian Troops Offered.

An Ottawa despatch of last Friday says: "The Dominion government has offered a second contingent to the Imperial authorities to assist Her Majesty's forces in South Africa. This action has been taken on account of the disaster at Ladysmith. "When Sir Wilfrid Laurier returned from Quebec, where along with some other ministers he was seeing the transport Sardinian off, he held a meeting with some of his colleagues, and it was decided to cable at once an offer of further assistance. "The premier made the offer through the governor-general in the usual way. As to the manner of raising the contingent and what it will comprise the Canadian government will be guided by what Lord Lansdowne and the war office may determine. "There will be no difficulty in Canada in raising another thousand soldiers, and they can be equipped and outfitted, as already has been demonstrated, in very short order. 'Those who were disappointed in not going with the last contingent may yet have an opportunity of going to the front."

Presbyterians begin Million-Dollar Campaign.

A Presbyterian Century Fund was decided upon at the last meeting of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church. One million dollars in two years was the goal put before the churches, and it was resolved to inaugurate the twentieth century with the greatest advance-movement ever attempted. There are 1000 pastoral charges in the Presbyterian church in Canada, 212,000 members and 700,000 adherents. Out of this constituency the million dollars is to be raised. Last Sunday, says the Halifax Herald, was Century Fund day in the Halifax Presbyterian churches, and the lead, according to the Herald, in definite action was taken by Coburg Road church, of which Rev. J. D. MacKay, nephew of the late Rev. Dr. MacKay, of Chatham,

The membership of the church is the smallest in the city, numbering only 25 families. But they are, it seems, a plucky people, for last Sunday they contributed over $700.00 to the Century Fund. Fort Massey, the congregation which leads all the others in the maritime provinces in beneticence, aims at $10,000. No official action has yet been taken in the matter, but that is the goal which Rev. Mr. Gaudier, the Pastor of Fort Massey, hopes his people will reach.

The ministers of the Maritime Provinces aim at raising $10,000 out of their own pockets, and they have already raised $8,000 of this amount. The following subscriptions are publicly acknowledged from ministers in the Presbytery of Mira-

Rev. D. Henderson, Chatham, $150 00 Rev. J. M. MacLeod, New Mills, 100 00 Rev. J. D. Murray, Redbank, Rev. J. M. Robinson, Moncton, Rev. A. F. Carr, Campbellton, Rev. J. M. McLean, Chatham.

Presbyterian church, in Toronto, has subscribed $5,000.

These are days of Century Funds on every hand; the Presbyterians have a high aim, and a campaign of hard work ahead of them, but they are confident of success, and success they will undoubtedly have if the congregations follow, proportionately, the example of the ministers of their church.

We have not heard of any action having been taken, as yet, by the Presbyterian churches in Chatham.

South Africa Nomenclature, etc.

The London, Eog., Mail says :- Possibly the best quoted word just now of Dutch-South Africa origin is Uitlander, sometimes written "Outlander." "Newcomer" or outsider," is perhaps the nearest that can be got to this in translation; and the word is pronounced as nearly as possible like eight lander. The name of the president of the Transvaal Republic is written Kruger (more properly Kroge:), but it is neither sounded as Krooger nor Krowger, but-as near as can be indicated Kree-er. The word 4,000 Transvaal is, literally, "across the yellow, (or yellowish-brown) river. Rand, short for Witwaters and, is pronounced as if spelt rant. The word veld-the final "t'is sometimes added-means field or common. and is pronounced "relt."

Kopje-a hillock, or piece of rising ground -is neither kop jay nor kop jee, but koppy. Dr. Leyds's patronymic is pronounced Lides. The Boer Parliament house is called the Raadzaal and the parliament the Volksraad, the "v" being sounded like "f." Berg is mountain, the plural being formed by the addition of "en" after the "g." A drift is a ford, and a dorp a town, or village. Thus we have Krugersdorp, Leydsdorp, &c.

Stad also means town; and winkel-pronounced Vinkle-a store, where almost everything is sold. Fontein, as the name implies, means spring; and krantz, a cliff or precipice. Boschveld (pronounced bushfelt) is an open plain covered with bush. To trek is to travel; voortrekkers meaning

A vlei (flay) is a pool of water, mostly ormed in the rainly season. Rooinek is the term of contempt applied to Britishers, and means "red-neck"; it is not infrequently prefixed by the adjective "verdomde" (ferdomdy.) Rooibaatjes is Cape Dutch for "Tommy Aitkins," or redcoats. A stoep (pronounced stoop) is a raised platform in front of a house-something like a verandah -on which the Boer loves to take his weed.

ON THE WAR IN S. AFRICA. Britain! thou, now, a war art waging With foe thou would'st have rather gained By reacful bearing, than by conques thee submission have obtained Alas! the time of peace is o'er, Thrown down the gauntlet has the Boer.

Crime, insult, perfidy have roused thee And roused thy race O! Motherland The loyal sons of "the Dominion" And an Australian, hearty band In Britain's warfare are com bined.

O! Lord of hosts, in battle mighty, Do thou those from destruction free Whose lives are risked in the dire contest, For law, and right, and liberty. O'erthrow these who, from seltishness And pride, and hate, kill and oppress.

God speed the right; and send the glad time When war's dread woes and ruins cease And all shall brothers be -unitea In Him the gloriou Prince of peace. God bless the Queen! the Empire bless With wisdom, peace and righteousness. Black River, Miramichi, Nov. 1899.
