(Continued from 2nd page.) SATURDAY, 22nd. On Saturday forenoon when the committee of investigation met Dr. Jackson requested that it adjourn until four o'clock. Dr. Pughy assenting, the request was complied with. The committee met again at the appointed hour and adjourned until 8 o'clock Monday evening.

After routine in the legislature. Hon. Mr. Emmerson rose in his place and said: "I have had the honor to receive from the members of the house who were seriously inconvenienced by having to remain and try out the charges preferred by Mr. Jackson, a letter addressed to me by Mr. Jackson, in which he has expressed a desire that he be allowed to lie over until next session. Continuing, he said: 'There is one feature of the charges which affords me some ground for doubt, and that is the honorable leader of the opposition charges me with personal dishonesty in the discharge of my duty as chief commissioner, and I feel that such imputation should not rest upon me longer than the earliest possible moment when it can be investigated. Beyond that I fully appreciate the desire of honorable members to be released from the legislature, and would be willing to meet the views if it were possible to do so. In case the matter stands over the committee under the rules of the house, have to be discharged. I make this statement in view of intimations which have been made to me. (Applause.) Hon. Mr. Hazen rising, said, that intimations had been made to him respecting the personal inconvenience which the investigation would impose upon members, and he was willing to relieve them thereof by withdrawing the charges and allowing the whole matter to lie over until next year. He affirmed his belief that present or future current laws were paid for certain bridges, and continuing said: 'In the charges which I made to this house on the 18th of April instant, I did not intend to impugn personal dishonesty or corrupt motives in my honorable friend the premier and chief commissioner, and I would not wish to be construed as having any such meaning, which I do not think can fairly be done. I hereby withdraw them, at the same time reaffirming all that I said as to the price paid for the bridges being largely in excess of what I naturally think they would have been if the chief commissioner, instead of pursuing the policy which he had pursued, had used the methods which have been proper business methods. If this statement is satisfactory to my honorable friend, then in view of his statement, which seems to be the general desire on both sides of the house that the session may be prolonged as the business interests of my members would thereby be greatly benefited, I would, with the consent of the house, withdraw the whole of the charges, reserving, however, the right to such action as may be deemed proper by the legislature in respect to the construction of such bridges as I may be advised or think necessary in the public interests. (Applause.) I think the arrangement is one which is favorable to the chief commissioner and at the same time honorable to myself, and I would like to express the wish here that as my name is in the withdrawal of the matter from the committee, the chief commissioner is satisfied by exactly the same motives as I am, namely, a consideration of the public and personal interests of the members of this house, that the press favorable to the opposition in the province will make no reflection upon the chief commissioner on account of the course he had taken. (Applause.) After this Hon. Mr. Emmerson accepted Mr. Hazen's explanation and disallowed any intention to impute corrupt motives to him and hoped no political capital would be gained by the friends of the government out of Mr. Hazen's speech. Those already made by the Premier and Mr. Hazen were ordered to go upon the journals. This withdrawal of the charges was a relief to the Assembly Chamber, and the rejoiced speaker extended his hands over the scene, stating that he was glad to see his children's attitude, while silent tears of joy coursed down the cheeks of the member from Jemseg as he embraced the hon. member from Oromocto and said he would have to study Mr. Hazen's charge over again and study what he meant when he said: 'that with the knowledge of the said Honorable Henry R. Emmerson and through his said despatch of duty and his desire to aid his personal and political friends and to strengthen the government of which he is a member, the treasury of the province has been defrauded out of large sums of money.' 'I'm glad he says he didn't mean that, next the hon. member, and I guess he meant he meant all about it before next session.' Hon. Mr. Tweedie committed a bill relating to the making and testing of bridges by municipal and other incorporated bodies—Wells, chairman. Agreed to with amendments. Hon. Mr. Tweedie committed a bill in amendment of the act in relation to the incorporation act of 1896—Wells, chairman. Agreed to with amendments. Hon. Mr. Dunn committed a bill further amending the act in relation to the incorporation act of 1896—Wells, chairman. Agreed to with amendments. Hon. Mr. Tweedie committed a bill to authorize the town of Chatham to issue debentures for the purpose of providing a water supply system for said town. Whitehead chairman. Agreed to with amendments. MONDAY, 24th. Hon. Mr. Tweedie introduced a bill to aid towards holding provincial and county agricultural exhibitions throughout the province. Hon. Mr. Tweedie explained that the bill authorized the government to grant aid to exhibitions throughout the province to an amount not exceeding $5000 in any one year, subject to such conditions as the lieutenant-governor-in-council may impose. Hon. Mr. Dunn committed a bill respecting the fisheries of New Brunswick—Wells, chairman. Hon. Mr. White said that the report of the committee appointed to confer with the minister of fisheries upon the fishery question was laid upon the table early in the session, and it would appear from that report that there was some doubt as to the extent of the jurisdiction possessed by the government over certain fisheries in the Province and Dominion respectively possess these rights, one against the other, and how far fishing rights still remains in doubt. This doubt exists particularly with reference to those fisheries within the three mile limit, below low water mark. There may be some doubt as to the fisheries between low water and high water mark. It is very desirable to have a bill framed that will fully cover the fishing rights of the province, and it is readily understood that in the somewhat uncertain state of the law it is a matter of no small difficulty to frame a bill that will reach the fisheries we have power to regulate and at the same time will not transgress beyond the line to which we have power to act, and I therefore tender the bill. This bill was intended to overcome. Whether it would accomplish it or not would doubtless be ascertained hereafter. It is absolutely necessary, however, to provide for the regulation of fisheries; the matter could not be allowed to go by default. The bill followed the Ontario act, with some material modifications. The bill was also a consolidation of the provisions with reference to surface fly fishing, and all the other fishing laws of the province are without any change embodied in the bill. Power is given for the government to make almost any conceivable arrangement with the Dominion. It could not now be told just what some honorable members had expressed a fear that section 8 would take away proprietary rights in the fishery, as follows: The grant by patent, legal construction or implication of the bed of any navigable water, or of any lake or river, in New Brunswick, or of any such patent has been issued before or after the passing of this act shall not unless such exclusive right of fishing is expressly granted by such patent, be deemed to carry or include the exclusive right of fishing in or over the land so granted, any statute law, usage

An Immense Fortune for Former Douglastown People. A special despatch of 24th to the St. John Globe says:—The following advertisement appeared in a local paper on Friday: ONE MILLION POUNDS. If James Russell and wife, who being daughter of Robert T. Miller, and all of Douglastown, Miramichi, New Brunswick, will communicate in their own handwriting to John Spencer, sr., advocate, Royal Arms, London, England. The above amount is bequeathed to them and their only. No other correspondent taken notice of.

John Spencer, Sr., London, England. Half an hour after the paper had been on the street a man called at the newspaper office. He was James Russell. He produced his marriage certificate, showing he was married to Barbara Miller, daughter of Robert T. Miller, of Douglastown, N. B., in 1877, and a death notice of Robert T. Miller was also produced. Mr. Russell stated that the million pounds must have been left to him by a bachelor cousin living in London and at one time a Miramichi lumber king and reputed to have been immensely wealthy. Mr. and Mrs. Russell have been here six years. Russell is a machinist and has been living in humble circumstances.

Recent Deaths. The death of Mr. Jas. V. Benson, whose return home Chatham as an invalid, after a long residence in New York was reported in last week's ADVANCE, took place suddenly from heart disease at the residence of his brother, Dr. Jos. V. Benson. He visited several friends in town on Wednesday and Thursday and was up and about his brother's premises on Friday until about 5 p.m. when he entered the house and sat in his accustomed easy chair and appeared to be quietly resting. Those near suddenly heard one or two gasps and, hastening to his side, found that he was expiring. He leaves two sons J. F. and Wm. F., one daughter, Miss Sophie, four brothers and four sisters. The remains were interred in the family plot at St. Paul's churchyard Sunday afternoon, the funeral being very largely attended.

The sympathy of the community is with the parents of Melvin Baldwin, son of Mr. Daniel Baldwin of Nelson, who died of consumption on Thursday last at his home. He was a student of the University of New Brunswick and would have graduated this year. He stood well in his classes and was a favorite with the staff as well as with his fellow students. Amongst the floral tributes sent were a basket of flowers from classmates of U. N. B.; a cross from the U. N. B., Y. M. C. A.; a wreath from the Debating Society of the U. N. B.

The following telegrams of sympathy were received by Mr. Baldwin:— DANIEL BALDWIN:—University students express their deep sorrow at the death of their fellow student. Signed, W. H. CLAWSON. DANIEL BALDWIN, Esq.: Your boy was much beloved here, please accept earnest sympathy. Signed, DR. HARRISON. DANIEL BALDWIN, Esq.: The following resolution was passed by the U. N. B. Literary and Debating Society:—Whereas, we the members of the Literary and Debating Society of the University of New Brunswick have learned with deep regret of the death of our former fellow student Melvin Baldwin; and Whereas, we have ever realized his sterling worth of character, his earnestness in all he undertook and entertain the most pleasant recollections of our fellowship with him in student life; Therefore resolved that we, the members of this society, express our deep sorrow for his early death and we tender our heartfelt sympathy to his bereaved parents and other members of the family.

Signed on behalf of the students, J. H. CLAWSON, '99 W. H. CLAWSON, '00 T. M. EDDY, '01 Mr. James Mowatt of Chatham has received the following letter informing him of the death of one of his sons. TELEGRAPHIC CREEK, CASSIAR, B. C., 24th March, 1899. DEAR SIR: It is my painful duty to inform you that James Mowatt died on the 23rd inst. at the residence of his mother, at a point about 70 miles from this place. On the 20th inst. deceased, along with another man by the name of G. Boulter, failed to make the crossing at the relay station and they were obliged to pass the bitter cold night as they could. Mowatt got his feet badly frozen, and the night of exposure evidently had a hold of him, and he yielded to his fate on the date mentioned. I am having the remains brought to this place for burial. If you write I will give you full particulars in detail. Your obedient servant, JAMES PORTER, Government Agent.

Jas. Mowatt left Vancouver for the Klon-dyke in March of last year in company with Mr. Boulter, and returned from him since that time, and that he has done very well. The news of his death causes deep regret amongst his old friends here.

Suicide by Hanging. Last Friday morning the community of Chatham was startled by the announcement that Michael Conway, son of Mr. William Conway, St. John St., had hanged himself. He was about 22 years old and had been working in the woods a portion of the three months. His friends knew he was despondent and moody and it caused them some uneasiness. On Thursday night he was at home and parted with his sisters about ten o'clock, going at once to his room. The family missed him in the morning and about nine o'clock made a search for him. His youngest sister, Carrie, hunted for him in the bar and not finding him in any of the stalls looked up in the loft and there saw him hanging by the neck from one of the collar beams. She quickly gave the alarm to her father and sister and ran into Aid. Flanagan's store and told him. Mr. Flanagan hastened to the bar and raised the ladder so as to take the strain off the rope, but found that the poor fellow was quite dead and cold. When the Coroner arrived he cut the body down. Conway had used a piece of an almost new clothes line for his fatal purpose, and judging from the way in which remaining pieces of the line were knotted he had evidently tried several of them before getting the knot to suit him. When found his feet were within about two inches of the floor, and from the position of an old chair lying near them, it was evident that he had stood on it to adjust the noose about his neck and then kicked it from under him. His death was caused by strangulation.

Dr. McDonald, Coroner, held an inquest. The jury were, Jas. Dunn, foreman, Chas. Cassidy, Jr., J. Fleiger, J. J. Leggett, Joseph Steele, Ambrose Hay and J. Kennedy. The details of the foregoing facts were given in evidence, together with testimony showing that deceased was without doubt temporarily insane when he committed the rash act, and a verdict was rendered accordingly.

Sermon for Young Men. A correspondent writes:—An unusually large congregation, in which was represented all the churches in town, assembled in St. Andrew's church, last Sabbath evening to listen to the Rev. Mr. Henderson's monthly sermon to young men. Last Sabbath's sermon was addressed to young men just beginning life—"who have left or are about to leave home, to push their way in the world." The preacher called upon them to be always true to the home of their youth, to be actuated by a desire to give their parents reason to be proud of them, to stand by what would be noble, true and good and to be faithful to their employers. He cautioned young men, in telling phraseology, against allowing personal vanity to get the better of them. A young man was sent into the world to be a well dressed doll, but to be a worker—to be useful, rather than ornamental, tho' some seemed to think themselves exceptions to this rule. They seemed to think that they were born into this world to be an ornament to society, rather than to do some serious, solid work for themselves and others for Christ and the church. This was a huge mistake. Man was intended to be a laborer. Young men were warned against yielding to temptation. It was much easier to resist the first attack than, having yielded, to resist the second. Mr. Henderson feels satisfied that the young man who is dominated by a genuine religion is much more likely to be successful, even in this world, than the one who has neither religion nor Christian principles to trouble him. As a proof of his assertion he referred to the most brilliant statesmen and successful politicians in a long list of men at the head of the medical and legal professions, the most eminent journalists, bankers, merchants and government officials, who were men of deep religious convictions
