The Plot Has Failed.

The Liberal-Conservatives in New Brunswick and, for that throughout the Dominion, are realising the big blunder made last summer by Hen. G. E. Foster in attempting, by means of an alleged convention of their party at Moncton, to introduce Dominion politics into the management of provincial affairs. . The outcome has proved that Mr. Foster has, mischievously and unnecessarily, brought the cdium of a failure upon his party through his ill-advised step, the consequences of which will be the alienation of many who, heretofore, were good party men. It was well known at the time he caused the so called convention to be held, that scores of prominent men in the party were not consulted as to the advisability of the step contemplated, which, it turns out, was conceived in treachery to men who had fought party battles and led in winning Conservative victories when Mr. Foster was absolutely unknown in the politics of the country. Mr. Foster, by the jugglery to which he resorted, succeeded in having a few leading Conservatives who were less astute than himself, commit themselves against the government of the Province, which they had always supported, thus stultifying their record and proving that they were of the impressionable class who do not think for themselves, or care for the interests they are elected to represent, but can be so dominated by the plausa bilities of the professional politician as

Mr. Foster once more demonstrates the fact that he is unsafe as a leader. It will not be forgotten that sent to the Town authorities, as the law CUARNTEE his conspiracy with six other members requires. He now knows, doubtless, that of the late Dominion government against Premier Sir Mackenzie Bowell was not the first collossal party blunder of his record, and although he led his deluded associates back again to beg Guarantee Bonds and Accident Policies. the old statesman's pardon and ask to be reinstated in the cabinet, the act of Mr. McCulley may have been successful treachery they committed invited and deserved the execration of both Liberals and Conservatives and went far in contributing to the Conservative party's defeat in June 1896.

This they will find in the interview which a representative of the St. John Telegraph has had with Hon. John Costigan, whose experience in politics, integrity, and fidelity to the country and his party during an uninterrupted enjoyment of the support of his constituency for thirty-eight years, comuniversal confidence in and respect for his utterances. Like a loyal party man, as he ever was, he says nothing about the fact that Mr. Foster's Moncton convention move in the name of the Liberal-Conservative party, was made without consultation with him who has been his colleague in the party and in the late government, nor does he complain of the disintegrating effect which the movement has had BARGAINS upon the party in the Province. He simply stands consistently where he bas ever been: on the side of those Conservative as well as Liberal friends in provincial politics who foresee that

An Official Wrong-Doer.

Mr. S. U. McCulley writes to the World in his capacity of "Late Police Magistrate" on the subject of his condemnation by Chatham Town Council about a year ago because, as interim police magistrate at that time, he witheld from that council moneys which he should have paid over to it, but which he sent. instead, to the Treasurer of the Municipality of Northumberland. He intimates that the object of his letter is to show that because Mayor Winslow stated at the late meeting of the Town Council that the Town was required by law to pay a portion of the Scott Act inspector's salary, therefore he was justified, as police magistrate, in disposing as he did of the money referred to. He indulges in reflections on the Town Council, which he connec's with "launching the infamous conspiracy which eventually culminated in his dismissal from his position of police magistrate" etc., and evidently wishes people to sympathise with him as an injured innocent and to forget the circumstances of the time, which left an ugly impression on the mind of the ratepayers of Chatham that it was through a conspiracy, in which he was a pliant instrument, that he was induced to send the money belonging to the Town, not where it would be legitimately used for the purpose of enforcing the Scott Act, but to swell the fund upon which his fellow conspirators subsist. He innocently says :-"The head and front of my offence, as alleged by the Town Council, was that I had made my returns to the Clerk of the Peace as commanded by the law of our province, instead of disobeving that law, as requested to do by Mayor Winslow." It would be better for Mr. McCulley. who was once honored by holding the office of police magistrate, if he were able w that he was capable of discerning the difference between making his returns to the Clerk of the Peace and sending that officer money which he should have he was induced to do wrong at the time he was making his returns, but he i chiefly concerned in keeping alive the fast-fading delusion which he has been propagating for a year, that he acted right ly. The position of the matter has been stated by us before, but assuming that in misleading someone who doesn' understand it, we will briefly recall it :-

The fines for violations of the Scott Act originally belonged to the Crown and went into the consolidated revenue of Canada. Under the provisions of Act 49 The manly sentiment of the Province Vic., Chap. 48, by order of the Governor-"collected within any city or county, or incorporated town separated for municipal purposes from the county," etc., "be paid to the Treasurer of the city, incorporated town or county, as the case may be, for the purposes of the said act."

The incorporated Town of Chatham is separated for municipal purposes from the County of Northumberland, and Deputy Minister of Justice Newcombe writing from Ottawa in May last said :-

"With reference to fines imposed in "the Minister of Justice to state that if "the town is separated for municipal pur- friends to support the government, "land it was and is since the order in "council of November 15th 1886 entitled "to receive all fines, penalties and for-"feitures recovered or enforced under the "Canada Temperance Act within the "Town limits."

It is not creditable to Mr. McCulley, who was the paid police magistrate of the Town of Chatham, and ought to have been able to understand so simple a matter as the Order in Council referred to, that he took a course directly contrary to the day on which control of the affairs | it, and sought to justify himself because, of New Brunswick passes to the respecas a magistrate having jurisdiction over a part of the parish of Chatham outside of the Town, he was required by law to make returns to the county. He did right in making such returns, but he did wrong in sending to others outside of the Town, money which he was required by law to pay to the Treasurer of the Town. against his course, but equity and justice also. The Town of Chatham was providing the machinery for enforcing the law its policemen were assisting the inspector in laying informations and obtaining proofs leading to convictions, and its people were paying about thirty per cent. of the inspector's salary, through the county assessment, yet Mr. McCulley was moneys he collected in connection with convictions made in the Town court. He went further still, for he refused to even send to the Town Treasurer the moneys recovered from Town violaters of the act.

OTTAWA, Jan 13-In view of the rumors which have appeared in the upper province papers recently as to the probability of a provincial election in New Brunswick, in the near future, your correspondent took advantage of the presence in Ottawa of the Hon. John Costi-

The honerable gentleman received your correspondent with every courtesy and very kindly accorded him the following interview :--

Reporter-Having just returned from New Brunswick, I suppose, Mr. Costigan, you can give me some idea as to when the provincial elections are likely to be held.

Mr. Costigan-No, I cannot. As you probably know, there is some talk as to the house being dissolved before another session of the legislature, in which case they would be held in a few weeks, whil if a session intervenes, I presume there would be no election until next summer. I have no inside information on the sub-

Reperter-What in your opinion wi be the effect of the Moncton convention and of the effort there made to run pro vincial politics on dominion party lines? Mr. Costigan-My opinion is that the resolutions passed at the Moncton convention will have very little effect. The convention did not attack the policy of to interview the minister when he visits government either in whole part, but indicated a desire simply to turn it out in order to run local politics on dominion party lines. So far as have been able to observe, the feeling among the masses of the people is that it is not desirable to introduce dominio party politics into provincial affairs where the aim should rather be to get the best men to unite together in favor of honest government and the progressive, and at the same time economical, adalso instructed to write to Hon. Mr. Costigan-I feel quite sure of it Reporter-Do you intend personally, to give to Mr. Emmerson's government the benefit of your support in the coming elections !

I have for many years been in accord with the coalition party in local politics, and I see no reason now to differ with them or withdraw my friendship and support My idea is that where a government proves itself capable and sincerely desirous of intelligently and honestly ad ministering public affairs it has a fair right to claim the continued support of those whose confidence it has enjoyed. That is exactly my position with reference to the present government. My attitude towards it and my reasons for such attitude may be summed up in a few words. It is composed of able, intelligent men, whose policy, in my opinion, is in the best interests of the province. I have given it my confidence in the past, and seeing no reason for withdrawing that
