Parliament is dissolved and the writs issued for a general Dominion election. Nomination is fixed for Oct. 31st and polling day will be November 7th.

Dominion Elections.

So far as we can learn there does not appear to be any disposition for an election contest in Northumberland, Mr. Robinson being generally acceptable to electors of the different po-

Exit, Foster!

The Conservatives of St. John have. n a party convention, been induced to nominate Hon. Geo. E. Foster for the representation of that City in the House of Commons, and Dr. A. A. Stockton for the City and County. Both of these gentlemen are prominent members of their party and personally unobjectionable. They are ranked amongst the eloquent public men the country and, so far as that qualification goes, leave nothing to be desired nomination shows how utterly out of touch the Conservative managers in St. John are with the rank and fyle of the party in that constituency. There are scores of Conservatives there, any one of whom would command a larger following than either Mr. Foster or Dr. Stockton, because both demonstrated their incapacity political leaders, and have lost the confidence of the party by leading it to a leader, and the longer he is imposed

Dr. Stockton has never been able, tive head, the more rapid will be the notwithstanding his undeniably fair attainments along certain lines, to be a sufficient success in politics to command any influence, even when he was a supporter in the legislature of the government of the day. Mr. Foster, if he ever had any the last election. failed to exercise it for the benefit of of Fosterism in the coming federal his native province, or of either of those of its constituencies to which he was indebted for election. He was absolutely useless as a minister in doing anything for Kings or York Counties by which their people might be benefitted, while he ignored the many interests of St. John when he might have promoted them as Mr. Blair has Foster's first lieutenant in his political done during the four years he has been

Dominion Minister.

Mr. Foster and Dr. Stockton are. therefore, much in the minds of con servatives, not by reason of anything they have done for the party, but because they have led it to defeats. against Premier Bowell in February '96, which disgusted every honest and manly conservative in Canada, stamped him as a traitor and largely assisted in the defeat of the party a few months later. He induced Dr. Stockton to join with him in promoting Moncton Convention, which caused party so long as he was its recognised New Brunswick leader, put Dr. Stockton out of the legislature and left only "a corporal's guard" of Co servatives in it. He put up men like Fred. K. Sproul in Kings, the notorious firebrand, Hetherington, in Queens and the figurehead, Gross, in Albert wick. to oppose the Tweedie government candidate, with the result that the weakness of the Conservative party under his leadership was demonstrated on the eve of the pending Dominion election, by the overwhelming defeat of itself and others into the belief that it has his candidates. Yet with this humiliating record as a colossal political failure, his managers in St. John have imposed him as a candidate upon the party there. The ADVANCE, more than a year since, stated that Mr. Foster would not be able to find a constituency in New Brunswick that would elect him in the Federal contest that is now pending. udgment by accepting the St. John nomination the prediction is certain of fulfilment. Until the party relegates Mr. Foster to some position for which he is fitted, which must be one as remote as possible from any leadership or control in its affairs, the best and most independent New Brunswick Conservatives will stand aloof from its councils and record their votes against it. They would be willing, no doubt, to pay him ten dollars a night, as the Prohibitory Alliance did some years ago, for talking (followed, of course, by going back on them when the time for action came) but they do not care be responsible for his record mutipeer, or for the odium of his association with men of the "Kickappo"

Hetherington stamp. The party, at their late convention in St. John must have sunk pretty low when they had to import the two filled. There was no plum awaiting him defeated Foster candidates-Sproul of Kings and Hetherington of Queens -to make the speeches at their pow-wow in that city which nominated Messrs Foster and Stockton, and it is not matter of surprise that no prominent ing for the candidates was in progress. It is no wonder, therefore, that we hear of so many St. John Conservatives asking to be torgiven for their participation in the selection of Messrs. Foster and Stockton as the party's Victory No. 3. Following upon the decisive victories achieved by the Tweedie Government candidates in Kings and Queens is that gained in Albert County on Saturday, when a successor to ex-Premier Emmerson was chosen. It cannot be said that the new premier has shown any hesitation in bringing on the elections for the vacancies in the legislature, and he is to be congratulated on the hearty endorsement accorded in every instance to the government candidates by the people. Hon. Geo. E. Foster and his party in the Province openly espoused the cause of the opposition candidates in both Queens and Albert, and while they did not officially back Mr. Sproul in Kings, realising that he had no chance against Attorney-General Pugsley, they gave him all the assistance in their power. That they were beaten in every case by majorities larger than those of send him to Ottawa. It is safe to say, however, that their | the election of 1899 goes to show what a wreck Fosterism and Moncton Conventionism has made of the Conservative cause in New Brunswick. It must make it manifest to the Conservatives who still support Mr. Foster that they can never hope for another party success in the Province until they get rid of him in some way. He has alienated fully one half-and the best half-of the party by his blunders and incapacity as upon New Brunswick as its Conserva-> process of disintegration. The election in Albert took place on Saturday. The Sun and the lesser Foster organs predicted a victory for their candidate, Mr. Gross. Messrs. Emmerson and Tweedie and Mr. Robinson, M. P. P., assisted Mr Ryan, the government candidate, and they had against them such workers as Mr. Hazen, leader of the opposition, Humphrey, M. P. P., H. A. Powell, going gunning after Frenchmen, and 20 more than Mr. Emmerson had in These results in Kings, Queens and which he was a member, notoriously Albert indicate unmistakeably the fate elections in this province. It will be buried out of sight an I the best Conservatives in the country will be glad of it,

Last Ditch of t.e Sun-Foster-Hetherington Combination.

The San now denies that it boasted over a coming triumph in Queens County for the Mr. Hetherington who is Mr. warfare in New Brunswick. All who read the Sun before the Queens election know that its denial is not creditable to its sincerity, however much it may be to ita advantage or to that of Mr. Foster to repudiate Mr. Hetherington in certain quarters, while they utilise him in others. The San intimates that the ADVANCE Mr. Foster also led in the mutiny will be "tory" if the tories win in the coming federal elections. In regard to that we may say that if by "the tories" it means the faction in St. John headed by Mr. Foster, it is quite mistaken; if it means any party recognising Mr. Foster as its leader in New Brunswick, it is equally mistaken. It is, of course, absurd to think of Foster leadership connected with success in New Brunswick, for Mr. the best Conservatives of the Province Foster has, by his blundering, from a to renounce their allegiance to the party standpoint, united the Liberals and Conservatives of the coalition known as the local government party against him in federal politics, and forced many who opposed Sir Wilfrid Laurier in 1896 to oin with Mr. Blair, the Liberal, and Mr. Tweedie, the Conservative, who are the federal and provincial leaders respectively. in extinguishing Fosterism in New B. uas-

The Sun does not, perhaps, know it vet. but after Nov. 7th it will be brought to a clearer view of the fatu ty by which it has been made Mr. Foster's agent in deceiving authority to speak for the Conservatives of the Province. The San-Foster-Hetherington Tories, they are now in their last

The convention which nominated Mr. Emmerson was the largest and most enthusiastic ever held in Westmorland. After his nomination Mr. Emmerson was sent for and when he arrived and was informed of what had been done, his rising to acknowledge the honor was greeted with deafening applause which lasted for some time. A report says :-"When the pandemonium of enthusiasm subsided Mr. Emmerson in a straightforward and businesslike fashion told the convention he wanted to win Westmorland for Mr. Blair. He felt that in the interest of the entire province Mr. Blair should have the support of the county which was the centre of the government railway system. For that reason he accepted the nomination at some personal sacrifice for, in becoming the candidate for Westmorland, he had to refuse a Supreme Court judgeship, which had been offered him. His sacrifice was the measure of his determination for, when he decided to contest Westmorland, he made it a stipulation that the judgeship should be if defeated and he was determined to win. He had burned his bridges behind him and was out to conquer.' After the nomination proceedings and business connected with organization for the campaign were attended to, a mass meeting was held in the opera house

He has failed, after a long experience in both the local and Dominion legislatures, to be anything but a back-bancher, and is content to go from his county to Ottawa and back again to his county without accomplishing anything save the drawing of his travelling Unionist. expenses and sessional indemnity. In the interests of that important county he ought to give way to a man better equipped for the discharge of the duties of a representative. A good many of the electors of the county would like to have Mr. T. M. Burns as their Ottawa representative, while others favor Mr. Turgeon, We do not know what Mr. Burns' attitude is towards Mr. Foster, but if he is not committed to that alleged leader, Gloucester could not do better than to Political Notes.

Immediately following an article on the subject of perjury, the Moncton Times of last Friday had this item :-

"The Conservatives now have candidates a the field in every constituency in New Brunewick except Queens and Sunbury and York. The Liberals have yet to nominate Queens and Sunbury, Westmorland, Northumberland, Gloucester and St. John City and St. John County."

He referred to the old trials appropriate feature, and the fact that the and difficulties arising out of the former day was one of the finest and warmest of the whole season contributed in no small degree to promoting a large attendance and completing the favorable conditions. Besides the large assemblage of local people, there vere about a hundred of the visiting synod delegates present, and as many as possible of the more representative persons of both were occupants of seats upon a platform which had been erected for the purpose, and on which was the choir of St. Johu's church, assisted by those of St. Andrew's Presbyterian and St. Luke's Methodist churches. Immediately over the portion of the platform from which the stone-laying took place, a large Union Jack from the 6th ver., after which Mr. McLan Forbes said they were there to celebrate was stretched on four supports so as to form a canopy, and beneath this those who took the leading parts in the ceremony had seats. Rev. J. Morris Maclean, B. A., pastor of St. John's church, presided. REV. D. HENDERSON. The opening number was the Doxology, which was heartily sung to the familiar tune of "Old Hundred," and was followed by an appropriate prayer, which was offered by Rev. D. Henderson, B. Sc., Moderator of Mr. Foster has ceased, for good, to be a the Presbytery of Miramichi and pastor of St. Audrew's church, Chatham.

REV. J. M. MACLEAN. Rev. Mr. Maclean said the occasion was an important one to the people of St. John's church as well as to himself. It was not a large congregation, but God had put it into their hearts to build the new church, a cut of which was to be seen on the printed programmes. The estimated cost was between $10,000 and $11,000, which included provisions for heating and lighting. Provision was now made for about $8,000 of this amount and in four years the congregation would owe a balance of about $3,000. He did not feel that any credit was due to him for the work, as the foundation for it was 1-id by his predecessors in the pastorate of the church. Of these he mentioned Rev. Dr. McCurdy who was the first minister of St. John's, who had spent all his days here in building up this his first congregation, and it was appropriate that the corner-stone of the naw church should be laid by his daughter. Mrs. Anderson. Referring to his immediate predecessor, Rev. Dr. Neil McKay. he said he was known and beloved in all the maritime provinces and the synode, and he had given the last years of his life to th building up of St. John's congregation. [At this point the speaker said he observ ed Rev. J. M. Allen-a former pastor of St.

welcomed him to the platform.] MAYOR LOGGIE. His Worship, Mayor W. S. Loggie, was introduced by Mr. Maclean and made excellent, though brief address. He attributed his prominence on the programme not to his position as a merchant or citizen. but to the fact that he was Mayor of the town, in which he had lived so long. He felt honored by having a place assigned to him in the ceremonies of this important occasion in the history of St. John's church. Chatham had been making decided progress in population, caused by her expanding industries, and this demanded church enlargement. It was a pleasure to him, therefore, its Christian enterprise in keeping pace with St. John Conservative so far forgot which was crowded to the doors. Turning to America he said that years ago, and said the old dividing lines were nearly all happily obliterated, and old contentions forgotten in the general desire of all to carry forward the church's work. He sincerely congratulated the pastor and people of St. John's church on this manifestation of their prosperity, zeal and progress, and wished them the fullest measure of success in their praiseworthy undertaking.

was an object of great interest to many present, and Mrs. Anderson had to part with it for a time as it passed from hand to hand. It was inscribed as follows:

JUDGE FORBES Judge Forbes, the principal speaker, followed Dr. Pollek. They would realise that the Presbyterian Church, in whose communion they were. was no mean body, that 25,000,000 of the people of the christian world belonged to it. were proud to stand on the rock, the corner stone, the foundation of that great and historic chu ch. So long as they thus stood their position was unassailable, for its tenets and principles were based on divine authority and handed or pastors and claimed it to be the tue apostolic church ; that the Lord Jesus Christ is the king and head of the church : they hold as scriptural their form of worship and church government, democratic in principle, with its charch government by session, presbytery, synod and assembly: they hold man to be a free agent and the Bible as God's inspired voice to man and that it is the in-Hon Geo. E. Foster hesitates in accepting fallible rule of faith and life, and they deny the right of the clergy to come between them and the Bible; they hold God's holy Sabbath a day of rest and worship, and hence regard any encroachment on it as a breach of God's law; they deny that ignorance is the mother of devotion but claim rather that it is intelligence and education. The church may safely be judged by her work and record. One quarter of the ordained protestant missionaries of the world to-day are sent out by the Presbyterian church. It was fitting that the church's people should equip themselves for God's work and full participation in establishing His Kingdom. Electric force had revolutionised the transmission of intelligence over the world and the ocean cables united continents. It took three days in the early part of the century for the news of Waterloo to reach London, but, three hours after the battle of Paardeberg, flags were flying here in celebration of the victory. So with the advancement of the Presbyterian church. It had kept pace with the world's development. This stone, laid to-day, was once buried the darkness of the earth, a shapless, dull and unattractive mass of mean, rude, negative strength. Dug out from the gloom of its surroundings and worked on by the chisel and mallet, it had been shaped and beautified and was now the chief cornerstone of the House of God; so it was the privilege of God's people to go forth to mould and improve and enlighten those around them; and as one imperfect piece of work would mar the beauty and the character of the whole edifice, so was it the duty of all to be careful that they realised their responsibilities and saw to it that by their good works and the harmony of their action they should promote the glory of God and present themselves and those within their influence blameless and acceptable Referring to what presbyteranism had done for the world, he said eighty three per cent of the people of Scotland belonged to the presbyterian faith. To rightly judge of its influence on character he would take the great leader, John Knox, who had planted her foundations well and deep. He went at some length and in eloquent language, into the history of the movement headed by Knox and said that reformer planted the school house side by side with the church, which had withstood all the fury and bloody persecutions of her enemies. Her sons led in almost every enterprise which benefited humanity. He cited such names as Brougham, Erskine, Aberdeen, and Balfour, and said she could spare to the English church a Tait and a McLaggan. Norman Macleod, Chalmers galaxy. It was Presbyterians that saved Scotland from being engulfed and it was presbyterianism that gave England the foundation and stamina resist the encroachments of state the Puritans and Huegenots, driven out of their own lands by the bitter hand of persecution, had laid the foundation of liberty and true freedom to worship God in accordance with the dictates of conscience.

It was said that a Scotchman is brought up or oatmeal and The Shorter Catechism. Then thank God for the Shorter Chatechism -a compendium of theology unrivaled for conciseness, force and its presentation of gospel truth and faith.

After dwelling further on this theme, Judge an epoch of unusual interest in the history of St. John's Church. He bade them to go forth in God's name, one in interest with the whole body of the church, to spread the cement and the placing of a sealed tin box gospel of Jesus Christ. Forty-two years yonder, and there were then indentified with pre-bsterianism on the Miramichi such honored names as Rankin, Gilmour, Henderson and others, and they had with them here to-day a daughter of the Rev. Mr. Archibald who, in those days, held up in Chatham the banner of the Presbyterian church. The work done before that and after by Rev. Dr. McCurdy had borne good fruit, and he would say to this congregation to go or honoring his example. He hoped their lives would reflect his zeal and industry in promoting God's glory and honoring His word, which was able to make them wise unto salvation.

THE CITIZENS' BAND. which had taken up a position on the stree as near the corner stone as possible, played a suitable air and when its music ceased the choir led in singing a selection.

The closing prayer was offered by Dr. Gordon, who also pronounced th benediction, after which the Citizens' hand played "God Save the Queen", in which the assemblage joined their voices, and the service ended. THE CONTRIBUTIONS.

Presbyterian Synod of the Maritime Provinces.

The proceedings of the Presbyterian Synod of the Maritime Provinces were continued on Wednesday afternoon of last week. The remit of the General Assembly on proposed Sabbath School and Field Secretary, and motion made by Rev. D. Stiles Fraser, seconded by Rev. Principal Pollok approving of the appointment of a S. S. and Field Secretary for each Synod, which were under discussion in the forenoon, were further considered. Mr. Fraser, who was the convener of the Synod's committee, had explained that the general assembly has discussed a scheme of appointing men in each synod with special training to care for the Sabbath school work and to direct it. The matter had been sent down to the synod that they might express their opinion on the general principle, the details being left for later consideration The general assembly's report showed serious decrease in the Sabbath School department. The scholars were fewer, and the schools even were decreasing. Much of the work was very ineffice it. The cause of the trouble really lay with the teachers, who are often incapable of interesting and instructing the restless minds of the young It is necessary to undertake some syst work in the way of training teachers, and a man with proper training should be chosen in each synod to organize the work. Similar lines had been followed by the Presbyterian churches of the states with great success. The financial support would be found in the co:lections of Children's day.

Prof. Falconer said that even the students eatering the ministry needed training in Sabbath school work, and the college would be glad to have a specialist give them a month of his time. In opposition Principal Pollok claimed that one man with but 52 hours in which to inspect the schools of 21 congregations could Mr. Dustan was afraid that the secretary would come in between the minister and his

Rev. H. R. Grant said that the training of teachers should be done by the pastor. Rev. Mr. Wright thought it should be done by the presbyterial conventions. Mr. Fotheringham replied that the sec retary would gather the teachers into one body, organize them into associations and institutes and give the present system unity and strength. Mr. Fraser, replying, said the pastors and associations would work as usual, but the secretary would give system and inspec-

After a long discussion the synod approv ed of the scheme by 60 against 28. An arrangement was made to secure the assent of assembly to synod's consolidating all its funds. The idea is that at present the several funds do their own investing and take risks of loss which they would have to bear individually. At the suggestion of the finance committee all the funds will invest in a consolidated thus will share alike in losses and gains. This will increase security and further enable small sums from the different funds to be gathered together to make one large

In connection with the college it was printed out by Dr. Sedgewick, convener of the board, that there is fear of a dearth of men, A large class of 16 will graduate next year. But the two following years will have but five graduates each. There have been many fields vacant this summer for lack of men, and if they are not found things will be in a sorry plight.

Principal Poliok pointed out that the arts classes in Dalhousie were by larger than ever, and urged ministers to press upon young men the needs of the church and their native land. Synod accordingly "instructs ministers to keep the young men and to seek candidates for the

The new library building remains with a debt of less than $4,000, of which $1,500 is covered by subscriptions, leaving but $2,500 to be yet found, all of which is a remarkably good showing. Prof. Gordon gave in the report on relig-ous instruction in the public schools. He said that in New Brunswick the law was that teachers might, when it was agreeable to trustees, read the Bible without comment and lead the children in the Lord's prayer or teach the texts. He said that the schools in the city of St. John largely availed themselves of the liberty given but in Miramichi presbytery the country parts only did so. The law was generous, but the people either did know their privileges or did not care to exercise them. Synod agreed to urge the people as far as practicable to secure the egal amount of religious instruction, and to instruct ministers to further the matter by consulting with the ministers of the othe denominations.

It was agreed that the next synod should be held in St. John and in St. Andrew's church there.

The evening session was given up to home and foreign missions. Rev. Thos. Stuart of Dartmouth, the new convener of home missions, made an intensely interesting report. He emphasized the misfortune threatened through the lack of men to man the fields. The gener osity of the church towards home missions has grown steadily. In 1876, 29 cents per family were given; in 1890, 49 cents per family; in 1900, 54 cepts per family.

Rev. James Ross said St. John presbytery employed in the home mission field 13 ordained missionaries, 10 catechists and colporteurs-in all 25 men. Two new fields had been occupied this summer in places where no other churches had services, and one of them, on Lake Temiscouata, had already given $100 to the century fund. Mr. Greenless of Belle Island, Newfoundland, in a capital speech told of his going to the iron mines there in connection with Sydney. When he landed, the Roman Catholic priest entertained him for the night, and leat his hall for services. At the first meeting 38 Presbyterians were present. The collection was $14. During the summer a church had been built for $1,100 : $500 were given in St. John's, Newfoundland, the rest was raised on the field. The month is guaranteed for stipend. Thus at one leap the church has become self-susta ning.

In connection with foreign missions, Dr. Falconer, the convener, announced that Rev. Geo A. Sutherland had accepted the call of the church to mission work in Demerara in the place of Mr. Cropper. Mr. Cropper is combining mission work with government work, and thus they had three missionaries in the field. Also, Miss Mc. Calley of Truro, recently a missionary in China, is to go to labor in Corea, her friends still supporting her as of old.
