TROUBLES THAT DO NOT COME.

'Neath which we bend and fall,

There's oil of comfort and cure,

But to phantoms of pain and woe

For troubles that do not come.

There's a song to lighten the toil,

And a staff for climbing the height

For the hills that are out of sight.

In the brimming cup of to-day,

From to-morrow's unknown way.

Then take the meal that is spread,

And let not the morrow shade

And go with a song on thy way,

The sunshine and joy of to-day.
